The estimate also disregards fraternities—which affect about a fifth of the campus, married men or veterans. A course in dentistry or medicine is also higher than the estimate—there are added costs for tuition, books, equipment and laboratory fees.

An array of grants and scholarships from the University, government and home-town organizations provide some assistance. The university estimates that one of every 10 students at U. of T. receive such help. Grants range from $25 to $2,500; most are given for high scholastic standing; many are given by the university on the basis of necessity to students who pass exams with fairly good marks.

Varsity students have one consolation. McGill tuition costs are $100 higher in every course, and across the line it costs about $2,000 a year to send a girl to Bryn Mawr, about $5,000 to send a boy to Yale and $4,800 to Harvard.

'Copter Finds Escapee

BRIDGETOWN, N.S. — (CP) — An R.C.A.F. helicopter found a female patient who escaped from a mental institution here. After two fruitless searches by ground parties, the helicopter was called out.

LEONARD BACON CLARK, 42-year-old socially prominent New York lawyer, is photographed in Felony Court building in New York City recently for arraignment on a charge of grand larceny involving $1,362,000 from the estate of his father, Eleazar W. Clark, a wealthy shipping figure who died in 1936. He was arrested after his discharge from a hospital to which he had been committed following a suicide attempt at the home of his mother, Mrs. Eda E. Clark, in Bridgton, Me., last month.

U.S. DELEGATE Warren R. Austin raises his gavel as he opened the present session of the United Nations Security Council in Paris, France. Immediately after opening the session, he stepped down from the council presidency in favor of Argentine Foreign Minister Juan Atilio Bramuglia. Later Mr. Austin firmly supported Gen. A. G. L. MacNaughton's stand on the control of the atom.

Bake in greased pan, 9 x 4 x 3 inches, in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 1 hour. Or bake in two greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven, (350 deg. F.) about 30 minutes. Errol Flynn Reflects About Life

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 7—(AP).—Like a mellowing sea lion, Errol Flynn has grown reflective about his life and career.

Hollywood's noted cain-raiser is making another Western, "Montana." Between shots he relaxes on the set and talks. Some of his subjects:

His career: "As an actor, I am beginning to do what I want this year. I have really been trying for the first time. I want to please people. 'Robin Hood' was my favorite picture because I feel when audiences left the theatre they were surprised by the real world."

His rols: "The heroes I generally play are idiots. You can't get away from them. You spend your time trying to think of ways to stay out of scenes."

His studio: "One of the silly things about them is front-office secrecy. They never consult a star about a story until it is bought and a lot of money is put in it. It would seem more sensible to see if the star is going to like it or not. Still, I have never been suspended by Warners. We disagree a lot, but we compromise."

Television: "I have just discovered it. I am intriguer. Television is fighting for its freedom years ago."

His writing: "I write for relaxation. Right now I am writing a screen play called 'The Last Buccaneer,' about a bunch of fellows bemoaning the old days when pirates were heroes, not criminals. I also re-wrote my last picture, 'Don Juan,' every night after shooting. That went on until I finally broke down. I'll never work that hard again."

PHOSPHORUS AIDS BRAIN

Phosphorus is essential to the functioning of the brain. Because fish is rich in the mineral it is popularly called brain food.

WHAM!—A swirl of smoke clouds the barrel of the harpoon gun and 140-fathoms of hemp rope uncoils quickly as Erling Nelson, gunner on the whaling ship Nahmint squeezes the trigger after tense minutes of jockeying the gun into position and sends dynamite death winging toward a 50-foot 50-ton humpback whale off the port bow. This picture was taken by National Film Board off the B.C. coast.

Weather Balks Whalers In Northern BC Waters

VANCOUVER, Oct. 7 (CP). — The first whaling season in British Columbia's northern waters since 1943 has about run its course after a catch of about 160, mostly humpbacks.

Officials of Western Whaling Corporation, which fitted out three ships in May to harvest the floating oil say that operating costs will have to be cut drastically if the venture is to be resumed next year.

The little vessels, the Nahmint, the James Carruthers, and the Saanich, cut through the cold North Pacific waters in fine fettle this spring, ready to pit their skill against a quarry only very slightly smaller than themselves.

The blubber-bearers were towed into Coal Harbor, on northwest Vancouver Island, where their carcasses were stripped down to produce fertilizers, bone meal and commercial oils.

Weather Against Them

But weather conditions were against them. Furious storms turned the ocean into a devouring demon, and for days the tiny hunters huddled in the lee of the sheltering inlets.

On the other end of the industry, the corporation's officials say the market for oil and whale meat has dropped. Vancouver butchers will not handle it, although many consumers claim it is as succulent as beef.

Overtime and Sunday work has caused the payroll to skyrocket. Other costs, too, are far above the old 1943 scale.

The season did produce one for Mr. Ripley.

Operating off the Island's west coast, a whaler harpooned a big one. The missile did not go all the way in and the whale turned about, headed for the ship. It rammed the vessel, shoving the exposed end of the harpoon through her hull.

Liquor Sale Judgment Is Reserved

Magistrate Philip Wednesday reserved judgment on the charge against John Loucks, 301 Townsend St., of selling liquor illegally. The magistrate heard the closing arguments presented by Crown Attorney McElderry for the prosecution and W. J. A. Fair for the defence, and then said he would give his decision on October 15.

Key witness for the prosecution was Harvey Coones, Hunter St., who is at present serving a sentence in the county pail for theft. At the time of his arrest for theft Coones was in possession of two cases of beer which he later told police had been purchased from Loucks on Sunday morning, Sept. 26, for $16.50.

City police obtained a search warrant and entered Loucks' home where they seized several cases of beer, some of which had been drunk, a bottle of gin, several large-sized bottles of Scotch whisky and two 13-ounce bottles of rye.

PC Claire McGillen said he found Mr. and Mrs. Loucks there and two men who Loucks identified: one a relative and the other a boarder. He said there were a couple of half empty bottles of beer in the house.

When cross examined by Mr. Fair, Coones said he had phoned to Loucks to send up two cases (48 pints) of beer to an Edinburgh St. address. He said Loucks was agreeable and drove up with the two cases in a car and delivered them.

After paying for the beer, Coones said he drank one at the home of his Gilchrist St. acquaintance, then called a cab and took the two cases to the home of another acquaintance on Gilchrist St. Here he said he drank "about 12 pints of beer."

Had Extra Bottle

Mr. Fair observed that when taken into custody by police after this alleged drinking, Coones had obtained at least some of the beer in the opened case from one of his two friends. Mr. Fair pointed out that the beer in the opened case was of two different brands and there was an extra bottle laid in the case as well.

Coones denied that he had got anything to drink from either of his two friends.

Crown Attorney McElderry claimed that Loucks was on his second book for the year and that he was not in good health at the moment and only doing part-time work, he could not have afforded the large purchases of liquor.

Loucks said he had lost his previous liquor book and that he had reserved funds. The liquor found at his place on September 26 did not all belong to him, he said.

Some of the beer belonged to his relative and to the boarder at his place, he contended. He said he had made unusually large purchases of spirits because he was going away on a combination visit and duck hunt at the beginning of the week.

Old Mounty Recalls Days Of Notorious Gambler In Yukon

EDMONTON, Oct. 7 — (CP)— The days when Soapy Smith, notorious gambler, ruled Skagway, are gone for ever, but they linger in the memory of Col. F. L. Cartwright, who served as an inspector in the North-West Mounted Police and saw the famous outlaw four days before he was shot.

Col. Cartwright, retired at 73, is on his way back to his old beat at White Pass Summit where he administered law and kept order among a none-too-willing settlement of gold seekers.

Son of Sir Richard Cartwright, Minister of Trade and Commerce in Sir Wilfrid Laurier' Cabinet, Col. Cartwright joined the Force in 1897 and was sent with a group of 20 men to the Yukon. Their duties ranged from collecting customs, banking gold dust, keeping law and even burying those unfortunates not fast enough on the draw.

"In fact, we did everything except marry people," the veteran police officer said.

It was in 1898 that Canada was trying to protect her claims to the Yukon and Col. Cartwright served as practically every department of government.

Soapy Smih was one of the tougher probems of the outpost settlement and when he appeared in White Pass Summit one day, Col. Cartwright warned him to leave. Four days later the gambler met the fate of so many of his kind—he found that a bullet beat a royal flush.

Commissioner S. T. Wood, present Chief of the RCMP, has made it possible for Col. Cartwright, who has been living in England, to make a trip to Dawson City with RCMP officials.

Commissioner Wood's name is not unfamiliar to Col. Cartwright. He served with the Commissioner's father before leaving the Force in 1904.

During the Boer War, Col. Cartwright got leave to go overseas with Sir Sam Steel in the Lord Strathcona Horse. Sir Sam, too, was a good friend of Col. Cartwright, who knew him as Col. Steele, senior NWMP officer in the Yukon.

Need More Box Cars

LETHMRIDGE, Alta., Oct. 7.—(CP)—Huge piles of wheat worth an estimated $10,000,000 were scattered over Southern Alberta wheat fields Wednesday and farmers said a shortage of boxcars was responsible. Agriculture officials said several million bushels of the 45,000,000-bushel wheat crop in the Lethbridge area were piled on farmers' fields awaiting shipment. The wheat was reported thoroughly dry and stacked so moisture would drain away without soaking the grain.

Prowler Incident

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—A prowler caused an international incident in Washington Sunday, it was disclosed Wednesday. He allegedly broke into the Hungarian legation, firing one shot after a woman sitting in the dark saw him and screamed. Then he fled. Hungary filed a formal protest, saying it was "extraordinarily regrettable" that the United States "does not care properly for the extra-territorial character and security of the Hungarian legation."

Canadian Gives To Ethiopia New Educational System

By W. J. HURLOW
Ottawa Evening Citizen Staff Writer.

Sacred history records that Philip once interviewed a man carrying credentials from the Queen of Ethiopia. Their conversation took place in a chariot—and in a desert. The other day, a representative of The Evening Citizen interviewed a man from Ethiopia who bore with him a letter personally addressed to the Canadian Department of External Affairs by Haile Selassie, Emperor of Ethiopia.

Our interview took place not in an empty wilderness, but on the populous steps of the Chateau Laurier; not in an imperial chariot, but by the door of a taxi waiting to take passengers to the Uplands Airport.

The departing visitor was Dr. Robert N. Thompson, "director of provincial education for the Ministry of Education, Imperial Ethiopian Government." Dr. Thompson had only been in Ottawa a matter of hours, but although he was preening his wings for the flight westward, he kindly took time to give us an account of his experiences in Ethiopia, the present state of that country, and his mission in Canada at this time.

We learned that he was here to confer with the Department of External Affairs, the Canadian Council of Reconstruction through UNESCO, and officials of various educational bodies.

Native of West

A comparatively young man with a pleasing personality and the breeziness and bonhomie of the West in his manner, for Dr. Thompson was born in Innisfail, Alberta, he went to Ethiopia in 1943 as a teacher. That was a critical period in the history of the country for the Italian occupation forces had only just left and the Emperor faced the task of rebuilding a ravaged and desolate country.

The doctor's story of his journey through submarine-infested seas sounded like an adventure story. He and his wife and children (two little girls then. They have two little boys as well now, born in Ethiopia), sailed to Portugal, travelled overland through the Iberian Peninsula and finally reached Addis Ababa by way of Cairo, Egypt. That Odyssey took two months and two weeks.

Dr. Thompson says that he was a little surprised to find that the Italians had pursued the same policy as the Germans in liquidating the intellectual leaders of the county. Only a few of these were left and they had been hiding in regions never conquered, down near Kenya, or in the company of their ruler in England.

He speaks modestly of his own work but it is evident from the facts we ascertained that this young Canadian enthusiast quickly won the confidence of influential men for his first position was that of headmaster of Haile Selassie School No. 1, a school personally sponsored by the Emperor. Within a year or two, he was appointed a provincial education director. And now he is director of Education for Ethiopia's twelve provinces.

Asked as to the present state of reconstruction here, Dr. Thompson replied that "It is proceeding in a conservative, cautious but vigorous way, with special attention being paid by the government to education.

Throughout the provinces, five or six thousand classrooms are in operation, with 40 Canadians teaching in them. The people of Canada's don't know that, and they should," he added.

He thinks the Western democracies today know altogether too little of Ethiopia. "Our needs have not been put before UNESCO as those of other war-devastated countries have." These needs, we were given to understand, had not come to the notice of UNESCO until Dr. Thompson himself explained the situation this week.

That organization is sending to Europe 20,000 boxes of school supplies, each box containing enough to equip a whole classroom, and as the result of Dr. Thompson's appeal, it has been decided to forward 500 to Ethiopia. Owing to the scarcity of books, especially textbooks, English has been adopted as the medium of instruction in all classes above the fifth grade.

On his tour, he plans to recruit teachers for the work in Ethiopia where, he tells his friends, "In September, 1948, we plan to begin university work at Haile Selassie School No. 1, providing that we are able to obtain science equipment, text and library books. We have already half the staff required and at the present time I am endeavoring to obtain Canadians for the staff."

His face lit up as he mentioned the fact that eighteen Ethiopians are now studying in Canadian universities and schools and spoke of his hope that room will be made for more. Last year, there were 20 in the U.S.A. and 40 are expected this year. Others are taking education in England.

Dr. Thompson expressed a very high opinion of the Emperor as a man, whose command of knowledge he described as really astonishing and his human and personal qualities admirable. One of the things this Canadian educational pioneer hopes to do is "to publish a collection of the Emperor's speeches and writings from League of Nations days onward. Not for sensational reasons but because of their real value."

In response to an inquiry as to the climate, Dr. Thompson stated that it is not tropical, as many people think. Addis Ababa is 8,000 feet above sea level and there is sometimes frost but never snow. Food is sufficient, with citrus fruits abounding, and the current price of meat averaging 20 cents per pound.

He left by plane for a tour of the West and expects to be back in Ottawa again in October.

City Offered $35,000 Swimming Pool

Lions Club are offering the city a swimming pool for seniors and wading pool for children at Riverside Park, costing approximately $35,000.

The club's proposal was outlined to the parks committee of the council Monday night by four of its members: Doug Anderson, George Hildenbrand, Tom Doughty and Fred Jennings. The location they prefer is on the middle terrace, between the softball diamond and treed park.

An alternative site mentioned in the discussion was to the south side of the Bowl, extending westerly from Burnham St.

The next step in negotiations will be the preparation of an exact plan of the park, showing its dimensions, as the basis of eventual placing of the swimming pool. Ald. Herbert Young, chairman of the committee, presided.

Lions Club has been operating for five years a wading pool enclosed by a cement wall and breakwater in the river. It was designed especially for children, and was part of the club's equipment of the park as a playground. Experience has demonstrated to the club that the wading pool in the river cannot be made permanent. They found it impossible to obtain a contractor willing to undertaken the complete job, and give the Lions any guarantee of permanence. Estimates of cost might reach $20,000 "without any assurance the structure would stand up."

Change Plans

For that and other reasons the Lions decided to discontinue operations in the river bed.

Dimensions of the proposed swimming pool would be 50 feet by 100 feet, with a 20-foot catwalk, nine foot steico fence, and a building of about 76 ft. by 36 ft. for dressing rooms and showers. Its basement would house a filtration and chlorination plant to keep clean and pure the water flowing into the pool.

The wading pool for small children would be 20 or 30 feet by 40 feet, supplied with filtered water from the big pool. The project might be completed by July 1 next year.

Shotgun Blast Rips Two Fingers Of Hunter Trying To Adjust Sights In Lurching Boat

Joseph Glass, Monaghan Rd., is resting at his home today after being released from Civic Hospital on Wednesday. Mr. Glass, an experienced hunter, had the first two joints of the first finger on his left arm badly shattered when his shotgun accidentally discharged.

The accident took place on Saturday, opening day of the duck hunting season. He left late on Friday night with several companions and early in the morning they pushed out by boat into the Otonabee about 18 miles below Peterborough.

He was engaged in changing the sights on his gun while the little boat rocked heavily in the waves. He lowered the gun on to the bottom of the boat when suddenly the little craft gave a lurch and the gun discharged.

Before the boat could be beached and medical attention received the injured man had lost a large amount of blood. He was rushed to Civic Hospital and remained there until Wednesday. Dr. C. W. Scott was the attending physician.

Mr. Glass is still under the doctor's care, and the bone in the upper part of the finger is so badly shattered that it is still not known definitely whether an amputation will be necessary.

Hundreds To Head North On Thanksgiving Week-end

Autumn is flaunting its colorful banners across the Highlands of Haliburton. This week the tapestry of beauty was at its height but Thanksgiving week-end, barring rain and strong winds, should still have much to offer the traveller who revel in nature at her prettiest.

The summer dress of green has given way to crimsons, reds, browns, golds and yellows, and the towering hills present a mosaic of breath-taking beauty. This fabulous county where nature has been so lavish runs the gamut of all the softwoods and the hardwoods from the lowly ubiquitous poplar to the stately sugar maple. Along the creek beds, the delicate-leaved willows are turning yellow. Along the bases of the hills, the poplars and cedars give a pattern of color extremes, flanked by flaming sumacs, while further away the straight tall spruce adds a sombre touch to the scene, as if trying to give more variety to a picture already beautiful.

Between Minden and Haliburton, a black mulch highway snakes its way in graceful curves over a 15-mile stretch, where the motorist will stop to gaze in rapture at the panorama of color. Hill after hill stretches to the horizon, one more beautiful than the other, fading in the autumn haze as if to depict the scene in pastels. All the time the sun slanting strongly from the west adds new life to the startling array of lively shades. It's a land to gladden the heart of an artist, a place where he will halt with brush and easel trying to capture the kaleidoscope of vivid hues.

Natives were hoping that the Thanksgiving week-end would present the peak of autumn coloring, but alas it came last Sunday. All this week new crowds motored north to absorb this breath-taking beauty. Along the Apsley-Banecroft road it was the same, and north from Bobcaygeon to Kinmount provided another avenue for the weary city people to escape and revel in this autumn pageantry. The road from Haliburton to Wilberforce with its towering hills was described by many people as being the prettiest of all.

This Sunday it should still be good, both for the artist and the sight-seer. Several lodges are still open where meals can be had, to break the trip before one starts for home. In late afternoon if the day is sunny, the most startling effects are obtained.

Rolling hills, a riot of color, placid lakes mirroring the beauty, and perfect roads to carry the motorists. Truly this Ontario is a paradise in autumn.

Charges Police Beat Him Up

Vernon J. Neary, 3 Edgewater Blvd., told Magistrate Philp in court today that he was refused the services of a doctor and that city police had "beat me up." Neary was charged today with causing a disturbance on Edgewater Boulevard.

Asking for a week's adjournment, the accused made his complaint to the magistrate, adding, "I just wanted to let you know."

Magistrate Philp, granting the adjournment, said: "You have a week to see a doctor and a lawyer now, if you want. We'll hear the charge then."

Truck Carries Half Million Gals. From River

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 7—(Staff)—This summer's extended dry period has created the most acute water shortage in this village for at least the last 10 years. More than half a million gallons of water have been brought into Lakefield by truck and barrel since June.

Stanley Richardson, Lakefield trucker, who hauls water for most of the water-shy residents, has been carrying nearly 50,000 gallons a week to replenish the dry cisterns and wells of the village, which does not have a waterworks system.

Besides Mr. Richardson's service to private residences, about a dozen farmers of the area have found it necessary to bring in water for their stock by barrels.

About 50 households — close to 20 per cent of the village's population—have had to purchase additional water this summer.

Worse This Year

The water shortage in Lakefield is an annual event. Some families have to purchase extra water almost the full year around. Many are accustomed to buying it through the late summer, the fall and part of the winter.

This summer, however, the weather has been unusually dry and rain has been scarce at the times when the drain on cisterns and wells is heaviest. Mr. Richardson, who has been hauling water since 1937, terms it "the worst since I've been doing this work."

Mentioning that there was a rather severe dry spell last fall about this time, he said that he did not believe that the summer of 1947 was as arid as this year.

This year the requirements for water shipments have been steady since June. Last year, the demand rose and fell in spurts.

Private Waterworks

Another factor which Mr. Richardson believes effects the situation is that more villagers are installing private waterworks systems in their homes. The systems are hooked up for supply on the standard type cistern common to the village. Average size is about 2,000 gallons, although they vary from 500 to 5,000 in capacity.

With the convenience of their newly - installed pumping, the users in many cases fail to realize the heavy drain which such a system makes on the water in the cisterns. At least six families who have put in private system since last summer have been caught short in this manner. Three more households are building similar installations at the moment.

Some of Lakefield's wells are also being brought to dangerously low levels by the later-summer and autumn draught recently and have been replenished by the water-truck.

Fire Protection Safe

Besides the Otonabee River and Katchewanooka Lake, from which water can be drawn for some fires in Lakefield, the village has four separate wells throughout its area for use of the fire department.

Fire Chief Allan Clark has inspected the wells and reports that the drop in level, although noticeable, is not dangerous and that there is adequate supplies for fire purposes. He attributes this to the fact that the four wells are not used for consumers, but are kept for the one use.

BURNING LEAVES AGAIN

One of the sure signs of autumn is the heaps of fallen leaves lying in the parks and by the tree-lined roadside. This week has seen a major fall of leaves and they are cluttering up the gutter, making street cleaning more difficult. Early today the caretaker at St. John's Anglican Church was busily engaged in the annual rite of burning a long pile that had been raked from the well-tended lawn.

Invite Anglers Hunters To Meet Oct. 26

The Peterborough Fish and Game Association has been approached by the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters with a view to eventual affiliation. The aim of the Federation is to try to link all conservation-minded bodies in Ontario so that they can speak with one united voice.

To advocate this point of view the local Association has asked Blake Uren, Orillia, zone chairman of the Ontario Federation to address a general meeting in PCVS auditorium on October 26, at 8 p.m. Mr. Uren is expected to speak on the benefits which might accrue to those interested in wild life and conservation generally, if affiliation were established with the Federation.

The Association has written to the Hon. Harold Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests, advocating the Buckley Lake area as the ideal spot for the prospective reforestation project.

Included in the letter was a request that the Department make a survey to determine what trees would be most suitable for that particular area. It is understood that when the results of this survey are made known, the Association will send in a requisition for these recommended variety of trees.

Buckhorn Lake region was chosen, it was explained by Association officials, because it was accessible from the city and was open to the use of members whe they wanted it.

Owners of the property before receiving trees must first agree that none of the timber will later be cut for commercial purposes.

Two other passengers, Howie Dalton and Thomas Walton, both of Keene, were uninjured.

Damage to the car was estimated at $200.

Provincial Constable George Henderson investigated.

A TALL TALE

There's a fox in the north country minus its tail, but whether the fox is alive or dead is a mystery. It appears that Norm Elliott and Lorne Bateman went to Stony lake to close a cottage for the winter. When they left the boathouse to go to Juniper Island, Mrs. Bateman asked her husband to get a groundhog tail for the daughter so she could display it on her bicycle. When they returned they had the fox tail. If anyone asks a question, the pair claim that Elliott cornered the fox in a boathouse, and pulled the tail off the fox as it attempted to escape. Tsk, tsk, —perhaps the truth will never be known.

Turner Funeral On Saturday In St. Andrew's

Funeral service of William Rutherford (Ford) Turner, who died at Civic Hospital Wednesday, will take place Saturday at 2 p.m. at St. Andrew's Church. Meanwhile the body is resting at the family residence, 800 Water St., until 1 p.m. Saturday.

Mr. Turner had been seriously ill less than two weeks, and the news of his death Wednesday afternoon was a shock to his many friends in Peterborough. He was born here, son of William R Turner and his wife, Margaret Crowe, and was a graduate of Peterborough Collegiate Institute. In the later years of the principalship of Cortez Fessenden, Mr. Turner was an excellent student especially in mathematics.

Draftsman at CGE

From school he went to the draughting department of the Canadian General Electric Company, became assistant chief draughtsman, then went to St. Catharines as head of the draughting department with Crocker-Wheeler Co. now the English Electric Company.

In 1920 Mr. Turner returned to Peterborough and joined his father, the late W. R. Turner, in the heating and plumbing business that has been in the family name here for many years. Mr. E. Melville Turner, brother, also was a member of the partnership which became known as W. R. Turner & Sons, Simcoe St.

W. R. Turner and his sons were a family of civic interests In a practically way they tried to contribute to the promotion of Peterborough, and both sons at different times took part in several branches of the city's administration.

On School Board

Ford Turner was elected to the Board of Education and shared in the responsibility of the planning and building of the Vocational School at the Collegiate Institute. He was for years on the Nicholls Hospital board of trustees as the representative of St. Andrew's Church, and was appointed from the board as one of its representatives in the preliminaries of the planning for the new hospital. He was also a director of the Little Lake Cemetery, a member of the Fortnightly Club, and a member of St. Andrew's United Church.

Mr. Turner was a past master of Peterborough Lodge, AF & AM and past preceptor of Moore Preceptory, Knights Templar. He leaves his wife, the former Lillie E. Garbutt; daughter, Miss Catherine Turner, Toronto; his sons. William and Peter, of this city; his brothers, E. Melville, of this city, and Roy Turner, of Appleton, Wis.

His life time of about 60 years in Peterborough had won for Ford Turner wide respect and friendship, attracted and held by a kindly, cheerful personality. His untimely death will be deeply regretted by all those who knew him.

Smith Shows Population Gain Of 158

A gain of 159 in population and an increase of $104,295 are shown in Smith township's 1949 assessment roll which the clerk and treasurer, Mr. A. I. Edmison, recently received. The assessor is Mr. William Telford.

Total population of the township is 3,011, insofar as the assessor was able to make the count. Much of this growth is along the Lakefield and Chemong Roads, an overflow from the city. Some new building has been completed in Bridgenorth this year, and the village has been gradually filling up. Other people have become permanent residents of Chemong Park. They are obliged to comply with the building bylaw of the township.

Mr. Telford's compilation of municipal facts for Smith is summarized as follows:

Assessment of resident land	$1,119,225
Assessment of resident buildings	598,083
Non-resident land	179,395
Non-resident buildings	342,775
Total assessment of land	1,298,620
Total assessment of buildings	940,858
Business assessment	10,325
Total taxable assessment	2,249,803

The first sitting of the court of revision will be held Nov. 1 at 2 p.m.

Smith is discarding the innovation of advanced dates in elections, and the reversion is taking place this year.

Municipal nominations at the end of November with elections on the first Monday in December afforded no observable advantage to the council, the ratepayers or anybody else. One year of that switch was enough.

Nominations for 1949 will be on the last Monday of December, and election, if necessary, on the first Monday in January.

Peace Preferable To War, But More Difficult IODE Told

Editor Says Peace Must Be Made More Attractive, Now Too Dull, Colorless

Mr. T. J. Allen, MA (Oxon) spoke Wednesday evening, after dinner with IODE members and delegates to the semi-annual meeting of the Provincial Chapter of Ontario, being held in the Empress Hotel, his subject "The Decade of Oxford and Munich." He was introduced by Mrs. A. W. Turner, regent of Municipal Chapter, IODE, of Peterborough, who outlined his educational background and experience until taking his present position as assistant editor of the Peterborough Examiner.

As an IODE Overseas Scholar for the Province in the years 1938-40 he took the occasion to pay tribute to the war memorial scholarships; stressed their great value not only to the graduate students who were awarded scholarships and thus had the opportunity to study in the great seats of learning in the British Isles, but also to the benefit to Canada. The scholars returned to this country enriched by their experience in Britain and qualified to serve more amply their native land which is now called upon to play such an important part in Europe and in Anglo-American relations.

The IODE scholarships have special value as balancing agents to the post-graduate studies in the United States which so many of our University graduates undertake. "If it were not for scholarships such as the IODE, most of our graduate students would be habit of research and thought," he said.

Mr. Allen had noted that it was just ten years since Munich and ten years to the day since he entered Oxford and so took the decade since those events as the theme of an out-spoken and particularly outstanding address. "These two events typify for me two irreconcilable themes of the fateful decade since then. The one running from Munich week, the outbreak of war and the uncertain peace following it has the character of uncertainty, of tempestuousness and tumult and overwhelming pressure of a flagellating present moment. The other—Oxford with its timeless quiet, historic beauty, dignity and grace—bespeaks peace of mind, perspective in events and abiding human values." The speaker has found these two themes have been repeated cntrapuntally thtroughout the decade and gave instances of this in his own experience.

"Tonight I ask myself: What does it all mean? Is there any meaning. What has the decade revealed?" Answering the questions he thought that he could say no more than that there are a few things about which he could attempt an assessment, and one or two lessons the decade has taught him.

Mr. Allen stated he feels that Canada is not the most wonderful country in the world. "It is one of the more wonderful." Continuing, he said "It has many lacks, as those know who have lived in the English countryside seen the beauties of Florence and Ravenna, the cathedral of Chartres, the architecture of Sweden and the homes of Holland." He remarked on the appalling emphasis on material things in Canada," and his dismay at Canada's sectionalism.

"I think that Canadians like Canada and are proud of it, even if they have no tender affection for it. This country is too young, too crude, too vast, to win one's tender regard. It has the blemishes of adolescence and no one but a mother takes kindly to an adolescent child. They are too pimply, unlovely, awkward, animalistic, and perhaps too strong. But the mother is devoted to the child and I think Canadians are devoted to this country and will serve it, given the chance. We do not want to go to the United States and as much as many of us have come to admire and even love England, we have come back here—and not merely because the food is better and the girls prettier."

The latter part of Mr. Allen's address centred on the themes that peace is preferable to war, and that peace is more difficult than war. A dozen searching questions put to the audience showed that people do not want peace sufficiently:

No Unemployment

"Is it not true that there is never unemployment in wartime, that there is money galore, that profits are good if not grandiose, that civilians and soldiers alike find war a release from the boredom of peace? Is it not true that people at home who have lost a loved one overseas are as proud and exalted as they are grieved? Has Canada not come out of every war more wealthy, more vigorous and with greater potentials than when she entered it? Did not most service people overseas have a fairly happy time? Does not time quickly adjust memory so that the good times are remembered and the bad ones forgotten? Do not the men who returned say in their hearts of those who did not return—

'One crowded hour of glorious life
Is worth an age without a name'."

The speaker expressed the thought that in this country and the United States there is not a desire for war but there is not a really deep desire for peace. "It is a dangerous condition of our society. We cry Peace, Peace. Do we really crave peace?"

He said that two things must be burnt into the consciousness of the people. First, that war destroys and does not create, second that war looks completely different if its is lost. He spoke only briefly on the theme that peace is more difficult than war, feeling that his audience had learned in the past three years the difficulties of peace.

"In order to counteract the false thought deep impression we in this country have about war we must do two things" Mr. Ellen stated.

"We have to want peace with a fierce, militant desire, a desire so strong that we will even go to war to secure what we mean by peace. Secondly we have to make peace more attractive." He said He said that in peacetime Canada is "so dull, colorless and spiritually empty that I am ready to believe that the devil invented peace." "Peach," he urged, "must be made as noble as war, as exciting, and it must be made beautiful and joyous." He pleaded for the kind of sicial security that service men had, for amenities like art galleries, parks, music, to lighten the dulness of Canada at peace. "Material goods we need, and already have in good abundance, but it is the heart and spirit of the people which must be provided for."

In thanking the speaker, Mrs. L. L. Skuce of Milton, Educational secretary, said she was now convinced the experience made possible for these scholars by her department of the IODE had certainly not harmed them physically or mentally, and in the case of Mr. Allen, had been a great benefit to Ontario and particularly to the benefactors themselves. "I hope" she said "that our mental 'frying pans' are large enough to accommodate the meat he has given us, and ample enough to turn it over and cook well."

GAS TRUCK BURNS—Consternation reigned in Montreal when a huge gasoline truck caught fire. Less than 15 minutes after flames started shooting out of the rear of the truck, 10 police cars were on the scene chasing away curious people lest an explosion occur. The truck, carrying 1,500 gallons of gas, was driven from the gas station to the middle of the street by the quick-thinking driver. Photo shows a fireman putting the finishing touches to flames.

Promised In '45 By-Election Soon—Maybe

LONDON, Oct. 7 — (CP). — L. Gander Dower whose short parliamentary career has been more distracted than most, has forced political parties again to consider the far northern constituency of Caithness and Sutherland.

Dower has been the target of much publicity—most of it unkind—because during his 1945 election campaign he said he would resign, if elected, when the Japanese war ended and face a by-election.

The Japanese war did end a few weeks after the election, but in spite of uick reminders from the Labor and Liberal parties, Dower continued to sit as Conservative member for Caithness and Sutherland.

In December ,1946, he said that private business made it necessary he retire, but in February, 1947, he appeared in hte Commons and announced he had changed his mind.

There the matter rested until recently when Dower announced he had asked his constituency Conservative associations for permission to resign and fight a by-election. The central party executive, meeting in Helmsdale, Sutherland-shire, promptly said it didn't want a by-election and if one were fought it would not support Dower.

Dower said the present situation was embarrassing to fellow members and the party.

His last word was that if a by-election was not approved, or support denied him in the general election, he would become an independent Conservative and fight the election as such.

House D-4 Totals 1328 Points To Win Collegiate Meet As Record Number Competes

Compiling a total of 1,328 points in Morrow Park on Wednesday afternoon, House D-4 won the PCVS track and field meet. Sponsored by the Cadet Corps, Boys' and Girls' Athletic Associations, the meet was staged as a six-event decathalon, the Collegiate being divided into four "houses" with five age groups in each with a 5-3-1 system of points in each event.

A record number of competitors greeted the revival, after an absence of 10 years, of the big school athletic event. An estimated 450 took part, about 250 of them girls, with the staff conducting the competitions. Ideal weather prevailed, though a poor track hampered times in the races. Several hundred spectators sat in the stand. As an added attraction, the lady teachers took part in a sprint with Miss Marion Bell the victor.

Combine Totals

Following House D-4 total of 1328 for school honors, was House C-3 with 1266, then House B-2 with 1240 and House A-1 with 1208 points. These were the combined totals of boys and girls. The meet emphasized team work, discoutning individual efforts as such.

Honorary judges were Mr. C. S. Browne and Mrs. K. S. Wightman, with chief judges being Miss D. Fenner and Mr. H. A. Craig. Girls' officials were: Misses Bailey, Lancaster, Park, Thompson, Gerrard, Overend, Fowler, Bell, Hicks, Moore, Burgess, White, McIntosh, Lees, McGregor, MacVannel, Rahmel and Macdougall.

Boys' officials included: Messrs. McNabb, Henry, Goulding, Richardson, Switzer, Rutherford, Beals, Edwards, Charlebois, Gough, Noftall, Londry, R. D. Brown, David, Downes, Jackson, Choate, Curtis, F. Green, Patton, Londerville, Holman, W. Brown, Collingwoood, McGill, Hale, Ray, Weames, Corneil, Sisson, Bedford, Toole, Moebus, Graham, Fanjoy, Bigelow and R. Green.

Led the Girls

In the girls' competitions as teams, House A was high with 670 points, House D having 663, House B totalling 641, and House C 615. Top scorers for House A—13 years and under—were: Lucille Brooks and Lucille Colley; for age 14, Margaret Crumb; age 15, Marie Adamson; age 16, Mary Craw; age 17, Mary Braund.

In the same age for House B, leading scorers were: Shirley Peryer and Diane Miller (tied), Betty Crowe and Gail Koster (tied), Ann LaPointe, Lois Hutchinson and Normat Harrison.

House C saw Mary Raddon lead for 13 and under, Helen Ward for 14, Pat Nixon for 15, Kay Grier 16, and Marney Hollingsworth and Pam Humphrey tie for the 17-year-olds.

Elaine Rutledge led the 13-year class in House D, Roselyn McInroy the 14, Betty Welchorek the 15, Mary Walton and Barb Reid tie for the 16-year-olds, and Shirley Orde best for 17 years

In boys' teams, House D led the way with 665 points, followed by House C with 651, House B 599, and House A with 538. The individual totals were compiled following the meet, so top scorers were not known. However, this work will be done by teachers today and the leading scorers listed among boys within a day or two.

Declares Clerk Killed Man In Self-Defence

TORONTO, Oct. 7 — (CP). — A jury today will decide the fate of Harry Springall, 66-year-old hotel clerk, on trial for the murder of Alexander Douglas McLaren, wealthy man-about-town.

The jury will retire after hearing a summation of the evidence and receiving its instructions from Mr. Justice G. A. Urquhart of the Ontario Supreme Court.

Defence Counsel C. L. Dubin Wednesday told the jury that shooting of McLaren, in the lobby of the swank apartment hotel, was justifiable.

Springall testified he shot McLaren accidentally Aug. 19 after McLaren took "three terrific swings" at him.

McLaren had been drinking and "had the look of a killer on his face," he said.

On Third Visit

Evidence showed that McLaren was intoxicated the night he visited the hotel where his mother lived. He was twice ejected by the manager. The shooting took place on his third visit.

Crown Counsel W. O. Gibson said Springall got the gun after McLaren had been ejected for the second time and "the circumstances are highly suspicious. The law says that force used in self-defence should be equal and proportionate to the inciting attack."

The former night clerk at the hotel said he had trouble with McLaren before.

"He used to come in and insult me because I wouldn't let his drinking companions in," he said.

Mr. Dubin said the accused "has lived an exemplary life" and added he know of no murder case where so many character references had been given an accused man.

Tag Saturday To Raise Funds For Huge Pool

Earlier this month the Peterborough Lions Club announced plans for the erection of an inland wading and swimming pool in Lions-Riverside Park. Full cost of this project is tentatively estimated at $35,000. To offset the cost of this and similar expenses incurred in carrying out the club's active welfare work, a peanut-tag day will be held on Friday night and all day Saturday.

Instead of receiving a cardboard tag the donor will be presented with a bag of peanuts. It is expected that the entire memberships of the club will be on the main streets of Peterborough handing out peanuts to those who wish to make a contribution to the Lions welfare fund.

But the Lions won't be the only ones tagging. With their eyes glued on the eventual goal of a regulation-sized swimming pool in Peterborough. Coach Pansy Forbes and her Ornamental Swimming Club will be out in force. These girls who have built up an international reputation for their aquatic prowess have promised to match club members dollar for dollar during the canvass.

With each donation the citizen will receive not only a bag of peanuts but also a slip on which he can write his guess of the number of peanuts on the huge float which will be paraded through the streets. The float will have the Queen of Peanut Day sitting on her throne and it will play recorded music as an added attraction.

Prizes for those guessing nearest to the correct number will be awarded on Saturday night.

Vernon Rose and his committee have split the city up into sections to be covered by teams of peanut-taggers and they anticipate that this novel means of raising funds will be an overwhelming success.

CCF Demands Legislature Meet

TORONTO, Oct. 7 —(CP)—A C.C.F. caucus said Wednesday the Hydro shortage and the shortage of housing accommodation were reasons why a fall session of the Ontario Legislature should be called.

In a statement issued at the conclusion of its meeting, the C.C.F. members said that while they "urge public co-operation with the Ontario Hydro Commission and with local commissions to save power in every possible way, the government cannot be absolved of its responsibility for the shortage."

The statement continued: "Since at least one provincial by-election must be held soon, out-of-date election laws should be amended in order to prevent a repetition of the errors and confusion which deprived many thousands of people of their right to vote at the general election.

"We would also remind the government that during the election campaign a provincial-municipal conference to discuss financial and other problems of the municipalities was promised, to be called as soon as the election was over.

"There can be no excuse for further delays in calling the conference, whose decisions will be of vital importance to every Ontario municipality."

Hunger Worse Than A-Bomb

SMITHS FALLS, Oct. 7 — (CP). — Rt. Rev. C. Ritchie Bell of Montreal, retiring moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, Wednesday night told a public meeting of the Synod of Montreal and Ottawa that "our chief concern is not the atomic bomb but the morning breakfast."

Speaking of the distress and hunger he saw on a recent trip to Europe, Mr. Bell asked "where is the choice between being blown to pieces in one fateful moment of agony and dying slowly by inches for lack of food?"

"Communism fattens upon distress," he said. "The more miserable the people, the more hopeless their prospects for the future, the more likely they are to turn to violent methods of reform."

Reporting on the 16th general council of the Presbyterian Alliance held in Geneva in August, Mr. Bell announced that a world conference of Presbyterian youth will be held in August, 1949.

Following the meeting, Rev. Donald B. Mackay, of Quebec, newly-elected moderator, adjourned the court to meet next fall within the bounds of the presbytery of Montreal.

Traffic Declines

OTTAWA, Oct. 7 — (CP). — Highway traffic between Canada and the United States during August was one per cent lower in volume than in the same period last year, the Bureau of Statistics reported Wednesday. The decline was less than one per cent in American traffic entering Canada, and five per cent in Canadian traffic returning from the United States.

Junior, Grand Championships Taken By Joseph T. Tully At Lakefield Black And White

Thirteen of Peterborough's Holstein breeders showing at the Lakefield fair last Saturday made the county "Black and White Day" another notable success.

Only twelve males were exhibited in the six classes of that section, and most of them were in the junior division. Some speculation was expressed as to whether artificial breeding might be having some effect in the reduction of senior bulls. There was only one entry in the senior yearling class, and the two and three year classes drew blanks. No senior championship was awarded, possibly a significant indication of fewer bulls in the Holstein herds of the county.

Junior and grand championship ribbons were taken by Joseph T. Tully of Otonabee with his senior bull calf "Otonabee Pabst Prospect," a year old in September. The reserve championship went to Earl Doris of Otonabee on "Paul Corvette Burke," second in the senior calf class.

In the female division, senior and grand championships were awarded to Stewart Nelson of Keene on his entry 'Keendale Lodge Pietje Lass,' first in the class of ten of dry cows of four years and up. The reserve ribbons were taken by Norman McConkey with his three-year heifer "Twin Elm Pontiac."

22 Entries

There were 22 entries in the junior heifer calf class, ten in each of several other classes in the female division. The judge was H. J. Fawcett of Winchester, and Roy Ormiston of Brooklin, fieldman, directed the show. The exhibitors were: Ed. A. Bulmer, Coughlin Bros., Earl Doris, Elmhurst Bros., N. W. McConkey, Chas. E. MAN-MADE CANYON—Some idea of the magnitude of the open pit operations of the International Nickel Company of Canada in the area around Sudbury can be seen in this picture taken from the rim of the Stobie section of the Frood-Stobie open pit, a few miles north of the Nickel City. It was taken as directors of the company from Canada, Great Britain and the U.S. were making a tour of the workings. They can be seen emerging from their bus away down in the pit. Ninety per cent of the world's nickel comes from the Sudbury basin, partly from open pit and partly from standard underground shaft mining.

Standardization Talks

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—(AP).—Representatives of Britain, Canada and the United States will meet within the next three months to standardize nuts, bolts and screw threads for their industries, the State Department announced Wednesday night. Official delegations from governments and industries will seek to 'finalize" a tentative agreement reached recently after more than 30 years of efforts to come to such an understanding.

No Church Union For Long Time Kingston Says

HALIFAX, Oct. 7 — (CP). — Most Rev. G. F. Kingston, Anglican primate of all Canada, said Wednesday that discussions at the recent world council of churches made it evident there would be no world union of Protestant churches for "a long time."

The primate returned home Tuesday after an absence of three months in Europe and other parts of Canada. He attended the Lambeth conference in London and the world council of churches conference in Amsterdam.

Referring to the world council as "a most significant gathering," Archbishop Kingston said: "We hope it is very significant for the future, as it enabled a very large part of christendom to speak with a united voice on many world issues.

"There was a very candid discussion of the differences which separate the various denominations and the discussions made it clear that it will take a long time to accomplish church union.

"Meanwhile, we hope that the denominations will co-operate in dealing with important problems before humanity."

The primate said the Lambeth conference accomplished much in fostering "the development of fellowship of the Anglican communion throughout the world."

He said the "overwhelming" friendliness of the people of the Netherlands toward Canadians attending the world council was "a wonderful tribute to our boys who fought to free the Tetherlands."

Viscountess Honored

MONTREAL, Oct. 7. (CP) — Viscountess Alexander and three prominent Canadians received honorary doctorates Wednesday by McGill University's Founder's Day Convocation. Also honored were Premier Maurice Duplessis of Quebec, Dr. Sidney Smith, President of the University of Manitoba.

Object To Phrase

PARIS, Oct. 7.—(AP) — South Africa objected Wednesday to a proposed United Nations declaration that 'all human beings are born free and equal in dignity and rights."- Delegate Charles Tewater proposed deletion of the phrase "dignity and rights" and substitution of the statement that all are born equal "in fundamental human freedoms."

With The Canadian Legion

By The SECRETARY

In my last article I promised to secure information regarding the early days of Branch No. 52 Peterborough) of the Canadian Legion. Today I find I am completely successful, having found a copy of the Peterborough Examiner of Thursday, June 2, 1927. Apparently at that time the first Provincial Convention, after the formation of the Canadian Legion, was being held in Peterborough and four full pages were used in expressing the splendid sentiments of the citizens and the council of the city in their warm welcomes.

I shall therefore copy my article verbatim from the Peterborough Examiner of Thursday, June 2, 1927.

"There have been three distinct periods in the growth of the Peterborough Branch, hosts at this first Annual Convention of the Canadian Legion. Every period has shown an increase in interest and power over its predecessor, and today the local organization is alive, effective and respected."

"The first association of returned men in Peterborough was known as "The Returned Soldiers' Club," formed under the presidency of Sergeant P. Victor (2nd Battalion) on November 6, 1916. R. H. ('Bobby') Muir was first vice-president, and T. R. Cooper was first secretary. Lieut.-Col. C. H. Ackerman, the first president of the Legion here, put the original organization on its feet by obtaining rooms in Victoria Hall and assisting financially."

"Otonabee Chapter, IODE, was instrumental in securing the interest of Thomas Barrie, who loaned two rooms in the building which bears his name, and the veterans entered their new quarters on March 12, 1917. Soon afterwards, they linked up with the Great War Veterans' Association, and entered upon the second stage of their development. The officers of the local branch were: president, P. Victor; vice-president, R. H. Muir; secretary, T. R. Cooper; financial secretary, O. White. In September, 1917, H. J. Staunton was elected president, and in 1919, R. H. Muir succeeded him. Then Harvey Staunton was again elected in 1921, 1922 and 1923, being succeeded for part of 1923 by Dr. N. H. Sutton, who also served in 1924. In 1925, Capt. R. E. Layfield was president, and Major G G. Winterbottom was the last president of the GWVA before amalgamation in 1926.

"A move to large quarters was necessitated in 1916, and the ladies' auxiliary secured a room on George street that comfortably housed the two hundred members until demobilization swelled the ranks. Then, in 1919, a committee secured a grant of $10,000 from the city council as the beginning of a building fund. Another $10,000 was raised by public subscription, and the present splendid building was secured, second to none in the province, and a lasting memorial to the wonderful efforts of R. E. Layfield who worked indefatigably in suring funds and supervising the construction. In 1920 the annual convention of the Ontario Command, GWVA was held in the hall, the first time that a convention had been held in a building owned and controlled by a local branch."

"The ladies' auxiliary to the GWVA, formed in 1917, has been foremost in all work pertaining to the welfare of the ex-servicemen who make the building their hom. The members have assisted families of soldiers when in need, visited sick comrades in hospital, and are helping in large measure towards the success of the convention."

"On the organization last year (1926) of the Canadian Legion, Peterborough, ex-service men took their third step, advancing with the remainder of Canada into unity. The membership of the Branch swelled immediately after the union was consummated, and a steady growth has continued. There has not been any canvass for new members, the officers believing that natural and unforced growth makes for strength and vitality."

"Among the activities of the Peterborough Branch are the annual church parade and decoration parades. The former is held on the Sunday nearest to the anniversary of the Second Battle of Ypres, in which many Peterborough boys gave up their lives. The latter are held on suitable Sundays in early summer to the Protestant and Roman Catholic Cemeteries, when flowers and flags are placed on the graves of ex-service mn."

"Scores of veterans have been assisted through the Branch to obtain pensions and adjustments that without this influence would undoubtedly have been lost. The expert knowledge of the secretary makes him particularly valuable in this connection, and ready assistance has always been obtained from Hon. G. N. Gordon, KC, ex-minister of Immigration, who has been a real friend to returned men. Assistance has also been given members and non-affiliated returned soldiers without discrimination when they were in need through illness or lack of employment."

Lack Of Ministers Concerns Synod Meet

SMITHS FALLS, Ont., Oct. 7 (CP)—Concern over lack of recruits for the ministry of the Presbyterian Church was expressed at the synod of Montreal and Ottawa today.

Reporting for the committee on recruits for active service, Rev. W. C. McBride of Howick, Que., said 40 pastoral charges in Canada are vacant, and that seven mission fields were without student missionaries last summer.

"The rate of pay for students on mission fields should be raised, and room and board in our colleges kept at a minimum," said Rev. Henry Cousens of Brockville. He warned against making easy loans.

Synod appointed a committee to approach other religious bodies in the province of Quebec and the provincial government concerning restoration of derelict cemeteries.

4,000 Delegates At Conservative Meet

LLANDUDNO, Wales, Oct. 7 — (Reuters). — Four thousand delegates opened the annual conference of the Conservative party Wednesday night with a discussion of ways to democratize the party's selection of parliamentary candidates.

Before the conference was an interim report of a commission on party organization containing recommendations on the financial arrangements of candidates.

Candid Discussion

At one time Conservative candidates were often expected to make generous annual subscriptions to the funds of the local Conservative party. A body of opinion in the party has opposed the practice in recent years on the grounds it was restricted the opportunities of men and women suitable for parliamentary duties but without large financial resources.

Baby Band Meets

Mark Street Baby Band Mothers' Auxiliary was held on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. H. Guppy. Mrs. K. Ferguson, president, opened with a reading entitled "We Thank Thee, God, for Everything." The devotional period was in charge of Mrs. Southby and the Scripture was read by Mrs. K. Hopcroft. A reading on Thanksgiving was given by Mrs. W. Begs and Mrs. Pomeroy read a poem entitled "A Smile."

Of Interest to Women

Lasting Qualities Essential In Choice of Life Mate

A correspondent asks: "Why it is that in their courting days young people ever ask each other: "Do you love me intelligently, with your mind and with your common sense?" For intelligent love is the only love that brings any peace and happiness with it. It is the only love that is not a curse to its recipient. And it is the only love that lasts.

Dorothy Dix

To begin with, the man and woman who love intelligently have used some discretion in what they set their affections upon. They are not enamoured of a beautiful face or an athletic figure that have nothing behind them. Nor are they swept off their feet by the thin veneer of the surface attraction of an agreeable personality which is apt to crack in the arid atmosphere of domesticity.

On the contrary, those who love intelligently use their brains as well as their hearts. They know why they love and what qualities in a man or woman appeal to them. They love not only youth and beauty in women and men, but the things that stay when youth and beauty have fled—intelligence, wit, charm, sweetness, sympathy and understanding.

Demand Impossible Perfection

It is the lack of intelligence in love that precipitates the domestic tragedies that bring about so much misery, all the heartburnings and jealousy are because most people love stupidly. They love senselessly. That is why they demand the impossible of each other. That is why they expect to take the place of her husband of his mother and father and sisters and brothers and all of his old friends and acquaintances, and to furnish his every amusement and interest in life. The husband expects the same thing of his wife, and it simply can't be done. Well all have a thousand needs and it takes a thousand different people with different characteristics to supply them.

The man and woman who loves intelligently know this. They know that there are many varieties of affection and that one does not interfere with the other. They know that the love that we give our patients and our families and that which we give our mates are not the same kind of effection. They know that a man can admire a pretty girl and still think his wife the greatest woman in the world. They know that a woman can enjoy an evening spent with a playboy and then come home and get down on her knees and thank God for her good prosaic husband.

People who love intelligently do not make the mistake of thinking that love is some mysteriously indestructible thing that nothing they can do will hurt, and that once a man or woman care for you they are bound to go on adoring you to the end of the chapter because they can't help themselves. Far from it.

Those who love wisely know that if you keep love alive you have to cherish it They know that if you neglect it, it will inevitably die. They know that it can be chocked to death for lack of liberty. That it can be crushed by tyranny. That it can perish for lack of warmth. That it can be wornout by nagging and that it withers under perpetual fault-finding.

Sensible love is what we should pray god for, instead of wasting our prayers in asking for mad, wild, passionate, romantic love. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

TAILORED BEAUTY — The understated beauty and well-defined elegance of the single, uncluttered line, is only too often obscured by a welter of fluffy ruffles and lavish lace trim. This is especially so with lingerie. For a refreshing reminder of finely handled tailored beauty here is a striking gown. The long sleeves are tightly cuffed at the wrist with pearl buttons. A graceful collar and diagonal bands of hand drawn work on the bodice lend beautiful detail to this handsome gown, which is of soft crepe.

Children Need Extra Supply Of Vitamin D

By KAY REX.

OTTAWA, Oct. 7. — (CP). — Vitamin D may be the "sunshine" vitamin, but that does not mean the youngsters can get all the D they need just by sitting in the sun.

In a pamphlet entitled "Points About Vitamin D," the Nutrition Division, Health and Welfare Department, says it is not possible to get an adequate supply from the sun.

The ultra-violet rays which make Vitamin D cannot penetrate smoke, fog and dust and the rays cannot get through a tanned skin.

Every child needs 400 International Units a day. This can be bought in drops, liquid, tablets or capsule form, for "less than two cents a day."

While some mothers may think their children should get enough of the vitamin in their food, the Department says "No."

Useful amounts of Vitamin D are present in such foods as irradiated evaporated milk, sardines, salmon, but not in adequate supply for growing children.

The vitamin is so important mainly because it provides protection against rickets.

High Percentage

"Probably one Canadian child out of eight has or has had rickets in mild or serious form. Every year some 30 Canadian children die of rickets...." says the Department. "Those who live will be disfigured and weakened when they are exposed to disease in later life."

In addition the body must have Vitamin D for tall, well-developed bodies, straight bones, and good health.

On the subject of teeth the Department warns that while mother may not always realize it, her child's "baby" teeth are his most precious possessions.

If they are not properly cared for, the youngster's mouth may not develop properly. This often can result in poor adult eating habits, speech difficulties, and a great deal of pain and discomfort in later life.

Watch Furnaces

Health Hints: Most persons are checking their furnaces in preparation for the winter months. They should also make sure that ventilating equipment and humidity control mechanisms are operating properly. Health Department officials warn that in winter adequate fresh air and proper humidity are necessary to guard against respiratory diseases.

Lukewarm foods please the palate of the young child whose mouth and throat are sensitive. As his sense of smell and taste are acute, he also prefers mild flavors and odors. Sticky, dry, tough or stringy foods generally do not appeal to him.

AN AURA OF ELEGANCE — Fine fabric, deftly designed on simple, uncluttered lines with a well defined silhouette is a fashion formula that always attracts the elegant woman. This tried and true fashion is stressed in a gala afternoon dress of gunmetal changeable silk taffeta. The moulded bodice is ultra simple with no extraneous touches to mar the beautiful fabric and cut. Around the bottom of the skirt there is a deep band of black velvet.

For Friday, October 8

Opportunity aspects are found to be uppermost in this day's astrological map. This promises widened scope, fresh openings, new fields of operation, with encouragement to exploit and expand along unusual lines. This with the connivance and substantial support of those in influential positions. Steady effort, determination and industry, with a long view the goal, is sure to find assistance for security and solid groundwork. The personality and cultural as well as social influence should reflect in final progress and reward. Charm, magnetism, entertainment, may be telling factors in success

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may work for long-range goals, with fundamental security, increased possessions and solid rewards for industry, intelligence and persistency, as well as talents out of the ordinary. While there may be disruption and difficulties on the way, substantial endeavors meet exceptional recognition in the long run. The purely personal aspect is to charm, and cultural qualities are accented and should be prudently exercised for the purpose of attainment of worthy ends.

A child born on this day is well endowed with those talents, skills and aspirations for a successful and happy life. Industry and diligence against obstruction find rewards, with the personality of legitimate charm and exploitation.

Use Striking Plant Blooms In IODE Tea Room Sitting

Peterborough Chapters of the IODE entertained more than 350 members and delegates to the semi-annual meeting of Provincial Chapter of Ontario at the tea hour Wednesday. On adjournment of the afternoon session local members escorted the out-of-towners to the YWCA where relaxation was delightful in the atmosphere of soft candlelight and artistic flower arrangements. Most striking of the latter were three varieties of tuberous begonia flowers in many sizes and goreous shades, deeply outlined against clear crystal, and the only decoration on a small table. The mantel was festooned with trailing vines and orange nasturiums and colorful bouquets of autumn flowers highlighted each corner.

The tea tables bespoke Thanksgiving, their centres laden with luscious fruits of this season. From the midst rose tiered antique cut glass candle holders, dripping with bronze baby 'mums. The handsome appointments were cutwork and filet lace cloths with silver services and plates. Presiding at the tea urns were Mrs. C. M. Scott, Mrs. A. R. McWilliams, Mrs. G. H. Cutmore and Mrs. Harold Baker.

Those serving were Mrs. Frank Buckland, Mrs. G. W. Fitzgerald, Mrs. C. B. Muir, Mrs. C. L. Upper, Mrs. Leslie Dyer, Mrs. John McMillan, Mrs. Donald Anderson, Miss Jean Dorris, Mrs. P. Scottish Rally to Pipers' First Annual Tartan Ball

Tartan headline style news as the "rage" this fall, but the "Tartan Ball" will be the "rage" in Peterborough for many years to come. At their first annual formal dance Wednesday evening the CGE Pipe Band entertained nearly 250 couples in Club Aragon. Entering to the tune of "The Dandy Ninth" the Pipers marched to the centre of the floor and were introduced by Mr. A. Jackson, master of ceremonies. Among those present were a few persons who would not admit to "loving the skirl of the bagpipes"—that is until they heard their hosts play and felt the thrill that traditionally "enthralls" listeners. As the band retired to "Bonnie Dundee" and pipers started the grand march with Mr. and Mrs. Ian McRae and Mayor Wm. Ovens and Mrs. Ovens in the lead, they were loud in their praise.

And who could resist boasting of their Scottish ancestors, no matter how far back, when Mrs. Jessie Spencely sang "Toorie on his bonnett" and "Road to the Isles" with a truly Highland flavor. For her skillful interpretation of the "Sword Dance" Miss Edith Miller was accompanied by Pipe Major Alex Milne. A rollicking "eightsome reel" concluded the piper's floor show.

In tribute to Mr. Ian McRae, general maneger of the CGE and sponsor of the band, the McRae Tartan was adopted by the band members for their kilt and plaid. A piece of the cloth covered the stage backdrop, centred with crossed swords beneath the coat of arms of Clan McRae, flanked by the band's shields. Tartans of various other clans were draped on either side and were contributed for the evening by Mr. Chas. Saunders.

Winning ticket for the ladies' door prize was drawn by Mr. McRae and Miss Jean Graham held the lucky stub. Spot dance prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. McFadden, Miss Teresa Ayotte and Mr. Corey Barnes and Mr. and Mrs. J. Young.

A tartan covered guest book, with jolly Scotsmen painted on the upper corner of each page, was attended by piper's wives, Mrs. G. Braund, Mrs. R. Menzies, Mrs. Ed. Young and Mrs. Jim Young. The guests were shown to their tables by band members.

All the ladies attending were given a tiny pipes and drum souvenir.

Patronizing the dance were Mayor Wm. Ovens and Mrs. Ovens, Mr. and Mrs. Ian McRae, Pipe Major Alex. Milne and Mrs. Milne, Pipe Sgt. Angus Munro and Mrs. Munro and Drum Corporal D. Taylor and Mrs. Taylor.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Roger Allchin, Mr. and Mrs. C. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Al Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Take Advantage of Grapes Bumper Crop This Season

By MARY MOORE

After canning 71 20-oz. tin cans of Marigold peaches; and 14 glass quarts of some special Niagara peaches—halves of which were too big to go into the jars; and eating peaches for breakfast and dinner almost every day for two months—while I feel peachy I also feel satiated.

So now I am in the apple and grape business, and Pete slyly said: "If she could make grapes into a pie she'd do that too." He didn't say the half of it. I not only made grape pie, but grape sponge, grape jelly—and for the jam cellar, grape jam, jelly and juice. My hands are a sort of gray-blue, but I'm working on them with lemon and am gradually bleaching out.

If you have not made a grape pie yet, do not miss it again this year. It is a nice change—even if you do not want it for a steady diet.

Concord Grape Pie

(Double-crust or Lattice)

Wash seven cups steamed Concord grapes. Slip skins from the pulp, putting pulp containing the seeds in saucepan (but reserving the skins), and boil pulp 5 minutes, then rub through sieve and discard seeds. Mix 3 tablespoons cornstarch with 1¼ cups sugar, ¾ teaspoon salt and 3 tablespoons grated orange rind and the grape pulp. Stir this over low heat until thickened; add the grape skins and cool it. Pour into pastry lined pie plate, put on top crust or lattice-work pastry, brush with milk, and bake at 450 deg. Fahr. for 10 minutes, reducing heat to 350 deg. Fahr. for 25 minutes longer.

Grape Tapioca Sponge

Wash, stem and boil 3 cups Concord grapes with ½ cup water until soft enough to force through sieve—about 10 minutes. You need 1 cup of this strained grape pulp and juice. Put in top of double boiler ¼ cup quick-cooking tapioca, ¼ cup sugar, 1 cup grape juice, 1-3 cup cold water and shake of salt. Cook over hot water, stirring frequently, for about 10 minutes or until thick. Add 1 tablespoon lemon juice, and let cool until it is quite thick. Beat 1 egg white until stiff and beat it into the grape mixture. Turn into individual serving dishes, chill and serve with cream.

Grape Jam

To prepare fruit, slip skins from 6 lbs. fully ripe washed Concord grapes. Simmer the pulp containing the seeds for about 5 minutes or until seeds rise to top. Remove seeds by forcing pulp through sieve. Put skins through food chopper and add to sieved pulp. Measure 14 cups sugar and add to the grape pulp and skins, mix well and bring to a hard boil over high heat, stirring. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from heat, stir in 8 oz. bottled commercial pectin. Pour into sterile jars immediately, and cover at once with a layer of hot paraffin, adding a second coating when cold.

Grape Jelly

Wash and stem 10 lbs. very ripe Concord grapes and crush them with potato masher. Add 1 cup water, and simmer 5 minutes, stirring until plenty of juice forms. Strain through double layer of cheesecloth. You need 8 cups strained juice. Measure 15 cups sugar, add to juice, and bring to boil stirring over high heat; immediately add 8 oz. bottled liquid commercial pectin, stirring. Bring to har dboil and boil ½ minute. Remove from heat, skim, and pour at once into clean hot jelly glasses, covering at once with layer of paraffin, and adding a second coating when cold.

THE SMALL OFF-SET CLOCHE—The neat, small hat as is appears above is the basic new look for your heads this season. Wonders have been performed with lines within this confined fashion notion, which to the amateur would seem to be automatically reduced to pillboxes and such. Here the bell shape of bronze green velours is curved away and out from brows and cheeks, snugging the back of the head, but cropped off to accommodate the high collars of winter coats. Two quills and an ostrich feather trim this clever chapeau.

IODE to Raise $50,000 For War Memorial Fund

General discussions of the Order's work during Wednesday sessions of the Provincial Chapter's semi-annual meeting in Peterborough were led by officers and conveners and open to comment and question from all members.

Dealing with "Organization, Mrs. M. S. Somers, Tillsonburg, advised that lost charters can be duplicated through her office if applications list ten names, including the present officers of the chapter. The fee for same is sent directly to the provincial secretary. Nine duties of membership conveners in keeping touch and following up members who are not active were listed and copies are to be sent to each chapter shortly. Methods of making way for new members were discussed.

Post War Service convener Mrs. J. B. Smart of Waterdown brought in the following resolution: "To stimulate interest in the collection of good used clothing for Overseas that each member of the Order in Ontario be asked to donate one good used garment in the month of November." Since there are 15,000 members this should be a very worthwhile effort.

Reporting on the War Memorial Endowment Fund Mrs. W. N. Smith of Sudbury advised that $50,000 must be raised by 1950 to reach the goal of $200,000, and methods of doing this were discussed at length.

The regulations set out for Displaced Persons who wish to come to Canada and the requirements for citizenship here were fully outlined and explained by Mrs. G. L. Hamilton of Windsor, convener of Immigration and Canadianization. Urging that the Order do as much as possible to help them, she said "It is our job to see that these people are made aware of Canadian ideals of 215,000 newcomers to Canada since the war, 100,000 are in Ontario. For three years the IODE conducted educational classes for these people and the workers now taken over by the Department of Education.

The finest film library in Ontario is located right here in Peterborough" Mrs. D. W. McGibbon of Toronto told the members and delegates. In the past year 88,000 people saw films from this library in the city alone, and a half million in the district, many in somewhat isolated areas. Films of the "Royal Tour" and "The Royal Wedding" were purchased by the IODE and are still on circuit, being shown under the Order's crest. The convener asked for cooperation in getting theatre managers to show adult pictures at Saturday matinees and the problem of children's shows was discussed. She announced the National Film Board is presently preparing a children's library which will be made available for children soon.

The IODE considers Empire Study has never been more important than now and convener of this branch, Mrs. W. C. Vaughan of St. Catharines, listed helpful books on the subject and gave addresses where to obtain them. A questionnaire on "Communism" is to appear in the next Echoes and an informative booklet is also available.

Ten per cent of each chapter's funds is budgeted for Child and Family Welfare. Mrs. T. E. Briant of Welland explained that the IODE is not a charity organization but it is a "stop gap." The Order has been asked to work for the blind in the community, acquainting them with benefits of the CNIB, taking them out and perhaps writing letters for them. Some chapters are sponoring Teen Towns and find a considerable decrease in juvenile delinquency. Others work for the aged, making visits and sending cards of greeting. The convener urged that the Order be represented on local Welfare Council of a similar organization.

The Order's Empire Work in India was outlined by Mrs. C. F. Washington of Walkerton. With one per cent of available funds support is given the Canada Mission Hospital at Nasik and the St. Helena's School at Poona. Echoes convener Mrs. Henry T. Ross Jr. of Sarnia said a junior page is to be included in the magazine. She announced the Echoes literature honorary award for this year went to W. O. Mitchell, author of "Who Has Seen the Wind."

Provincial Chapter's Standard Bearer, Mrs. R. E. Clarke of Peterborough explained the underlying principles of carrying and placing the flag and gave detailed instructions for proper handling.

6—In Memoriams

CARNOCHAN, Ida—In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, who passed away October 7, 1947.

The depths of sorrow we cannot tell
Of the loss of one we loved so well,
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep
Her memory we shall always keep.

—Ever remembered by husband, two daughters Audrey and Blanche and son-in-law Alex.

LAWS—In sad and loving memory of my dear wife, Harriet Bessie, who died October 7, 1946.

We built our love of beautiful things
Tender and golden rememberings,
We built it with simple joys that last,
Pleasures and sorrows present and past,
We made it a cloak for when cold winds blow
Lighting the dark with a lantern glow
And I'll hold it as sacred true and fine
This beautiful gift that is yours and mine.

—Ever remembered by her husband.

ROBERTSON—In loving memory of our little playmate, Gale, who passed away October 8, 1947.

Oft we think of you dear Sissy,
And our hearts are filled with pain
Oh this earth would be a heaven
Could we hear your voice again.

—Phyllis, Jerry, Darlene, Stanley and Patsy.

REYNOLDS — In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Bert, who passed away October 7, 1945.

If all the world were ours to give,
We'd give it yes, and more
To hear your voice, to see your face
Come smiling through the door.

—Ever remembered by mother, father, sisters and brothers.

News .... In Brief ..

By The Canadian Press

TOKYO. — A Japanese researcher claimed he had succeeded in growing leprosy germs in test tubes—a goal long sought in the fight against the disease. He is Dr. Keizo Nakamura, of the Preventive Medicine Research Institute. He used mucin, a substance prepared from a gland from a cow's jaw. To this substance he added a compound which he did not name.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

BIG CARDS CAN SHRINK

IF YOUR SIDE holds a goodly amount of total strength, it is much more valuable when divided rather evenly between your hand and your partner's than when it is bunched in one hand or the other. Nothing is more disconcerting than to have a terrific bunch of strength with no chance to lead toward it from the opposite holding, and no chance to get over there and make use of what little assets it may afford. In such a situation, your big cards can shrink painfully as you have to lead away from them.

2. 1♠	Pass	Pass	Dbl

3. 1♠	Pass	Pass	3 NT

Of the three South players covered by those bidding sequences in a big tournament, only one took proper cognizance of the fact that his big hand might prove not so hot unless his partner could show some vestige of strength. The fellow who rebid at only 2-No Trumps after doubling and hearing his partner's club response, made his contract right on the head, and so did one other declarer who, when West's 1-Spade reached him, bid 2-No Trumps at once, his partner passing.

Where the No. 1 declarer sat, West led his spade 8, the J winning. The club A and K were cashed, declarer hoping that some miracle might enable him to use the dummy's Q later, a vain ambition. After that he gave up his diamond K to the A, won the returned heart 6 with the A and gave up the diamond J to the Q. East sent the heart J to the K, whereupon South raked in three diamonds. Now down to three spades, he led the 6, which West got with the Q, the A coming next. South hoped West had preserved another spade, since he had not watched the discards on his diamonds, but West had the heart Q and took it, holding the declarer to exactly eight tricks. Play went about the same at the other tables.

Lives Of Nazis Spared By U.S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—A special United States army commission has recommended sparing the lives of a limited number of 139 Nazis sentenced to die for war crimes, Army Secretary Royall said Tuesday.

Army officials refused to say how many commutations have been recommended to Gen. Luciuus Clay, United States military governor in Germany.

Among the 139 given a stay of execution last spring following the Dachau trials were 17 men convicted of killing unarmed American prisoners at Malmedy, Belgium, during the Battle of the Bulge.

It could not be learned if any of the Malmedy criminals are on the secret list of commutations sent for Clay's consideration.

The special commission also recommended that a "permanent clemency program" be set up for all the Dachau prisoners.

Chiang Gives Up Changchun City

PEIPING, Oct. 7 — (AP) — Pro-government reports said today National troops had abandoned Changchun, capital of Manchuria, and fled toward Mukden.

The starving garrison, reports said, managed to get through tight Red lines. Previously reports had said that 200 or more a day were dying of starvation in Changchun, which is about 400 miles south of the Siberian border.

Orders for the withdrawal from Changchun were said to have been given by Chiang Kai-Shek on his flight to North China.

At least 100,000 men in Changchun were believed here to have moved southward through Szepingkai, half way between Changchun and Mukden and reached Tiehling, 40 miles northeast of Mukden.

Nationalist headquarters here professed t ohave no knowledge of the slip-through.

Bible Society Work Outlined

MILLBROOK, Oct. 7 ENS)—Rev. Edgerton Young, field secretary for the Bible Society, gave an excellent address at the annual meeting, in the Anglican parish hall, Monday evening. He congratulated the local branch on its fine contribution of more than $140 last year, the largest in its history, and mentioning that there are 525 branches in Central and Northern Ontario.

Over and above the amount required to carry on the work of the Auxiliary last year a total of $110,000 was given, and from the whole of Canada, $300,000 remitted to the parent society in England.

"There are 42 languages, other than English, spoken in Ontario, and the scriptures are given them all in their own tongue by the Bible Society. We have increased our services by printing in Canada portions of the Bible in other languages; Greek, for instance, most of these going to supply the army in Greece. 'Send us Bibles' is the cry constantly coming to the United Bible Societies of the world, and the need cannot be met, though the budget runs into he millions." Twenty million are required for Europe alone, and in Germany 85 per cent of the young people, brought up under Nazism and candidates now for church membership, are without the Word of God.

Thanks to Dr. Laubach, 'the apostle of literacy,' 200 million more people have learned to read in the last 25 years, and 300 million more will learn in the next 25, he said.

The one thing that links all nations, and races, and creeds, is the love of Jesus Christ, revealed in the Word of God.

A film on "India In Profile," and "India Full Face," describing the life and work of a converted low-caste Indian, was shown.

G. E. Burnham was re-elected president, and Mrs. A. E. Chevis secretary-treasurer. The collectors Mrs W. Patterson, Mrs. Irwin Hatherly, and Miss Anna Fair will carry on for another year. Mr. Burnhm was authorized to appoint other collectors for Fallis Line, Carmel, and possibly adjacent areas, if these are not covered. Votes of thanks to Rev. Mr. Young, and to the rector and wardens of the church, were passed. Rev. Mr. MacLean also addressed the meeting.

$100,000 Fire At Cobourg Destroys Foundry, Flames Seen Nine Miles

Phone, Telegraph Communications Cut Off; Port Hope Sends Firemen To Help Protect Near-By Dwellings

COBOURG, Oct. 8 — (ENS). — Fire which broke out in a corner of a wooden shed at the northwest end of the plant, destroyed about one-third of the Dominion Wheel and Foundry Thursday night. Damage is more than $100,000. Cobourg and Port Hope fire departments, aided by an east wind, were able to get the fire under control inside of an hour after it broke out and kept it from the pattern storehouse and office buildings to the east.

It started around 6.30 or 7 o'clock. Cause of the fire has not been learned although it has been suggested that it might have originated in a spark from the cupola or from a passing railway yard engine. The fire was noticed in the northwest corner of a shed by a member of a train crew passing through, who notified the night watchman, Henry Gordon. Mr. Gordon notified the fire department and plant officials.

Port Hope firemen joined the Cobourg department to fight the blaze, which sent flames shooting high into the air. At 9 o'clock the fire was still visible from Port Hope, nine miles away, although firemen said the main battle was over by that time.

The fire apparently started in a shed section, and, fanned by an east wind, spread rapidly into the main building. Had the wind been from any other direction the fire might have hit dwellings and a near-by tannery, but the breeze from the east kept it confined to the plant.

Wooden sheds north of the brick building, as dry as tinder, spread the fire at great speed and it ate its way inside the milling room, soft iron shop and into the north east end of the shipping room.

The heat was terrific and kept spectators a considerable distance back. A wild story originating in Port Hope and despatched to Toronto said that the district had been rocked by a violent explosion and that firemen were injured. However there was no explosion and nobody was hurt. The

Saunders Gets Caught

TORONTO, Oct. 8 (CP).— Robert H. Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro Commission, puffed his way up seven floors today when he was caught in a scheduled power cutoff. The elevator got him up eight floors but when the switches were pulled as a conservation measure he walked up the rest of the way to his office. When he got to the top he issued a statement that today's rain was not falling in the right place to do Hydro any good. Northern Ontario rivers and streams are still short of needed water to Hydro generators.

Loot Police Gun Room; Grab $3,200

Carry Off Big Safe On Waiting Truck; Township Records Gone

WHITBY, Oct. 8—(CP).—Provincial Police are searching the central Ontario area for a gang of thugs who stole $1,200 in cash and $2,000 in cheques from a safe in East Whitby township municipal offices and armed themselves with the entire arsenal of the Provincial Police office in the building.

The money was taken from a 450-pound safe, which was wheeled out of the office and loaded onto a waiting truck or car. The safe also contained township records, Fred Wilson, township clerk, said.

Taken from the police office were a 12-gauge sawed-off shotgun, a .22 calibre rifle, a .32 calibre revolver, a .45 calibre Colt revolver and a .38 calibre police special revolver. Also missing are several hundred rounds of ammunition for the weapons.

Police believe the robbers are experienced, and wore gloves, since no fingerprints can be found. They are checking tire marks outside the building, believed made by the get-away vehicle. Police in Toronto are checking on all vehicles entering the city.

Entry was made by climbing to a shed at the rear of the building, and opened a side door to roll out the safe. The break-in was discovered by municipal employees.

W. Thompson Injured In Car Smash

Last Seen Near Farm In Dazed Condition; Pupils Join Search

MILLBROOK, Oct. 8. — (By Staff Reporter). — Missing for more than 30 hours, 16-year-old William ("Bill") Thompson is still being sought throughout the area. The search for the youth is is being carried on today by his anxious father, James Thompson, Millborok school principal, and his 15-year-old brother Robert. Former Millbrook Reeve Harold Bigelow is assisting. The youth is believed to be wandering around in the swampy, wooded area of Millbrook following an automobile accident Thursday morning in which two cars were badly smashed. Thompson had been driving one of the cars.

While the mother of the missing youth waits impatiently at home for some word, the father and brother and reeve have been making a search of the whole district. They have made contacts at Cobourg and Port Hope, so far without success. The youth has not been reported seen since noon Thursday.

The parents have "no idea" where Bill could be, they said. They have no relatives in this area closer than Stirling and the family has been here only a few months.

It is believed that the youth may have become frightened of the consequences and run away. There is anxiety also felt as to his condition, as details of the injuries he received are lacking.

A search party of provincial police, Millbrook residents and school children, took part in Thursday's hunt. Thompson was last reported seen about noon Thursday near Willis Woods' farm on the concession south-west of Bailieboro. Mrs. Woods was speaking to him for a few moments and she said his speech was incoherent.

The accident which resulted in Thompson's disappearance happened a mile and a half east of Millbrook on the Milbrook Rd., about two miles west of No. 28

General Electric Convicted Of Monopoly

NEW YORK, Oct. 8—(AP)—The General Electric Company today was convicted of conspiring between 1927 and 1940 to monopolize trade in hard metal compositions and products in the United States and abroad.

Also convicted in federal court were two affiliate companies and three oficials.

The defendants were accused in a 1941 indictment of violating the Sherman Anti-Trust and Wilson Tariff acts.

The corporate defendants are subject to possible fines aggregating $25,000 each, the individuals to similar fines and possible imprisonment of five years each.

Those convicted besides General Electric are the International General Electric Company of New York; the Carboloy Company of Detroit; Walter G. Robbins of Detroit, president of Carboloy; Zay Jeffries of Cleveland, Ohio, chairman of the Board of Carboloy; and Walter M. Stearns, of Schenectady, N.Y., former manager of Trade Relations and Special Contracts of General Electric.

The defendants waived a trial by jury and the case was heard by Judge John C. Knox in January and July last year.

Judge Knox fixed no date for sentencing after rendering his verdict.

The government charged a conspiracy to monopolize production and control prices of carbide hard metal compositions through an international cartel.

Hit On Highway Woman Killed

COBOURG, Oct. 8 (ENS). — Mary Gray, 30, address unknown, was killed Thursday night when struck by a car near Newcastle. Police said Duncan Ferguson of Cobourg, was the driver of the car.

The woman was hit as she walked along the highway. Only identification was a card bearing the name which was found in her purse. A discharge certificate, bearing the name Hugh Logan, Toronto, was also found in the purse.

Bad Storm In BC Cuts Wires With East

VANCOUVER, Oct. 8.—(CP).—Strong winds and lashing rains Thursday disrupted telegraph and telephone communications with eastern Canada.

Both Canadian National and Canadian Pacific telegraphs reported lines down, snapped by falling trees. Most of the mainline trouble was east of Hope, B.C., 100 miles from Vancouver.

Northern British Columbia was also cut-off with Prince George and Prince Rupert isolated.

Full weight of the storm was felt in the B.C. interior, but winds which reached 36 miles an hour in gusts during the night flooded hundreds of basements here.

Cleveland Takes 3rd Game 2-0 To Lead Series

MUNICIPAL STADIUM, Cleveland, Oct. 8—(CP)—Cleveland Indians went a game up in the world series, downing Boston Braves 2-0 in the third game of the seven-game contest. Boston won the first 1-0 and Cleveland won yesterday's 4-1.

It was a shutout for lefthanded Gene Bearden who gave up five hits.

Making his third start within a seven-day period, the 18-year-old Bearden baffled the Braves with his dipping knuckler.

It was a heart-warming victory for the loyal Cleveland fans who were watching their first series game since 1920.

Bearden, winner of 20 games in the regular season, including the important tie-playoff Monday with Boston Red Sox, gave his own cause a tremendous lift with two hits, one a double, off loser Vern Bickford. Both starters were rookies finishing their first years in the big show.

The game, wrapped up in jig time, required only one hour and 36 minutes. It was all over in the third, as it turned out. After the Indians went out front they refused to give any ground.

Bearden's double over Tommy Holmes' head against the wire fence in right field started Bickford's downfall. A costly error by Al Dark gave him another pushtoward the Braves' second loss of the series.

The starting lineup:

Boston: Holmes, rf; Dark, ss; M. McCormick, lf; Elliott, 3b; F. McCormick, 1b; Conatser, cf; Masi, c; Stanky, 2b; Bickford (11-5) p.

Cleveland: Mitchell, lf; Doby, cf; Boudreau, ss; Gordon, 2b; Keltner, 3b; Judnich, rf; Robinson, 1b; Hegan, c; Bearden (20-7) p.

First Inning

BRAVES: Holmes smacked Bearden's first pitch on one bounce to Boudreau who threw him out. Dark went down swinging on a two and two pitch. Mike McCormick swung and missed three knucklers to be Bearden's second strikeout victim.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Delay Judgment On Oleo Ban

OTTAWA, Oct. 8 — (CP). — The Supreme Court of Canada today reserved judgment in the reference testing the validity of the Federal ban on the importation, manufacture and sale of margarine in Canada.

The decision is expected to be handed down sometime next week.

The 3½-day hearing came to an end after Margaret Hyndman, K.C., of Toronto, representing the Canadian Association of Consumers, argued that the legislation was denying Canadian women their "legal right" to buy a nutritous food and article of trade.

She said Canadian women, of whom she represented 30,000 through the Consumers Association, saw a "crisis" in their homes when butter went up to 75 cents a pound.

Corpse Left On Floor Vanishes From Station

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 8 (CP). — This story might be termed the "Little Man Who Wasn't There."

It's about an unidentified man who tried to hang himself and then disappeared after he was cut down and left for dead.

Shortly after midnight the baggageman at the Canadian National Railways station entered the men's public washroom and was horrified to see a man hanging from a ceiling fixture. He cut the man down and after a brief examination left him on the floor for dead as he went to telephone police.

But when the police arrived on the scene the washroom was empty, the would-be suicide apparently having regained consciousness and walked away.

Man And Niece Found Gassed, $16,000 Nearby

MONTREAL, Oct. 8—(CP)—An elderly man and a young woman found unconscious in a squalid, gas-choked flat in Montreal's east end with a fortune in crumpled bills nearby today were believed to have been accident victims.

The pair, identified as Aline Belanger, 25, and her 64-year-old uncle, Napoleon Belanger, wealthy property owner, were said by hospital authorities today to be in "grave" condition. They had not recovered consciousness since they were found Thursday in the bedroom of the three-room flat while gas poured from three taps on a gas stove.

Police said it was possible the gas jets had been turned on accidentally because a detective, investigating the case, unwittingly turned on the jets himself as he moved about the cramped little kitchen.

The case proved a mystery to Montreal police who discovered $16,000 in the apartment after the two had been removed to hospital. Relatives told detectives that the girl had been missing since she disappeared five years ago from a convent where she had been a member of a religious order.

The emergency squad broke into the trash-littered, three-room flat after neighbors had complained of a "strong odor of gas." They found the man and woman unconscious in the bedroom. In a strong-box nearby were thousands of dollars in small bills. More thousands were found in tin cans stuffed into nooks and crannies of other rooms.

As a further Macabre touch, police said they found a large, savage German shepherd dog guarding stacks of discarded articles and trash barrels in the buildings' cellar.

Double Power Saving

TORONTO, Oct. 8—(CP).—The Ontario Cabinet has passed an Order-in-Council requiring business establishments to save twice as much Hydro-Electric power as they have been doing since present power-saving regulations went into effect last Sept. 14, it was announced today. The regulations are expected to come into effect next week.

Fear Ship Lost

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 8 — (CP).—The 112-foot motorship Malibu Inez, out of Princess Louisa Inlet, BC, with 12 persons aboard, is feared lost today in the wake of a tropical storm off the tip of Cape San Lucas 800 miles south of here.

Big Scandal Involving Highly-Placed UK Officials

LONDON, Oct. 8—(CP).—Newspapers simmered Thursday with reports of a big scandal involving some highly placed civil servants and linked with the irregular issue of permits and licenses. There was no official comment, but it is known Scotland Yard is completing certain investigations and will report soon to Viscount Jowitt, the lord chancellor. Fear of Britain's strict libel laws keeps the lid on speculation, but the papers are unanimous in hinting that inquiries have reached into high places.

World's Press News, a weekly publication, said the Daily Graphic's feat in breaking the story "may prove to be one of the biggest 'scandal' scoops of this century."

J. W. Belcher, parliamentary secretary to the board of trade, said at Dundee: "A great deal of fuss has been made about it (Scotland Yard inquiry), but the least said the soonest mended."

The papers said inquiries had been in progress on a widening scale for months. They are said to involve such things as suspected black market deals in paper in South Wales, favoritism in granting export and import licenses, and illegal diversion of goods from export to home markets.

One commonly cited example of this diversion related to alleged release of large quantities of lace for domestic consumption.

There are few phases of business in post-war British life which can be conducted without official approval. Frequently they require permits.

The Daily Herald today says that if investigations indicate there have been direct breaches of the law, proceedings will be taken through the director of public prosecutions.

Seven Injured In Road Crash

Seven persons were brought to St. Joseph's Hospital early this afternoon, injured in a car collision five miles from Peterborough on the Port Hope highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCamus and baby of Cavan were among those taken to the hospital. The mother and baby were admitted, but Mr. McCamus did not require medical attention.

The other care was driven by Fred Woermke, 53, of Pembroke, bound for Toronto.

Some of the seven are seriously hurt, but at press time it was impossible to get details because of the rush to give patients proper treatment before obtaining complete information. Those in hospital besides a small boy named Mellis from Toronto, and the McCamus child, are Miss Edna Wyisc, Miss Margaret Woerrmke, Mrs. Ida Mellish and Miss Doreen Mellish, all of Toronto. Mrs. McCamus and her child completes the roundup.

A second accident about the same time occurred at the function of No. 28 highway and 7-A, west of Kawartha Golf Club. Alton Grady of Rock Island, Que., was travelling west, and Earl Burwick, who has just joined the Provincial Police was coming into the city. Their cars did not meet, but it was reported that Burwick was forced into the ditch on the north side of No. 28 highway. The left side of his car was crushed in when it struck against a post. Mr. Burwick received light facial cuts.

May Get More Food

BERLIN, Oct. 8 — (CP). — The American military governor in Germany has announced that western Berliners may get a small increase in their food rations soon. General Lucius Clay adds that every Berliner also will have some coal if the present good flying weather keeps up.

General Clay has also noted that the three western powers are footing the entire bill for the airlift into Berlin, now well into its fourth month. However, German workers who unload the American and British cargo planes are paid by the German government.

Clay says that after a while, the Germans will have to pay for the food, too.

No More Drawings

OTTAWA, Oct. 8—(CP).—Finance Minister Abbott announced today that Canada will make no more drawings on the $300,000,000 credit obtained last autumn from the export-import bank operated by the United States government.

Soviet Holds Up Return Of Ships

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8—(AP). —Russia is holding up return of 12 warships to Britain and the United States until Italy hands over the Soviet share of the Italian fleet.

Government officials who said this Thursday added that Russia legally can continue using these vessels, loaned her in 1944, until Italy has complied with peace treaty provisions.

Eleven of the warships are British. The other is the 25-year-old United States cruiser Milwaukee. The British vessels include the battleship Royal Sovereign, seven destroyers and three submarines.

Ontario CCF Convention Ratifies Carlin Expulsion

TORONTO, Oct. 8 (CP) — A unanimous vote of the Ontario CCF convention yesterday ratified the expulsion of Robert Carlin, former CCF member of the provincial legislature for Sudbury riding.

After rejecting a resolution to discuss his expulsion behind closed doors, the party's 15th annual convention approved its provincial executive's action in expelling him.

Mr. Carlin, an official of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelters Workers (CIO) and former CCF member for Sudbury, was successful as an Independent-CCF candidate in the June 5 provincial election. He was expelled for running against the official party candidate.

The party withdrew its backing from Mr. Carlin because of his support of international officers of the union who were accused of Communist activities.

Provincial Leader E. B. Jolliffe told the convention it must study seriously such matters "as health services, forestry and hydro" to be ready to "undertake comprehensive social and economic planning the moment you accept the responsibilities of government."

He said Ontario's present hydro shortage resulted from the fact that "there was no basic research, there was no social and economic planning for the future" when the government of Premier George Drew took office in 1943.

Provincial president F. Andrew Brewin warned delegates against complacency despite the gains in the June election.

"It is fatal to be complacent in the face of apparent success," he said. "We must not forget that we owe our advance to the blunders of the new National leader of the Progressive Conservative party (Premier Drew) and the feebleness of the Ontario Liberals.

Oshawa Union Demands Legislature Discuss Power

TORONTO, Oct. 8 (CP)— An Oshawa Labor Union said today it "demands" an immediate session of the legislature to deal with Ontario's hydro-electric power shortage.

Local 1817 of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO) said in a resolution submitted to the Steelworkers' annual policy conference that the shortage is "due to the negligence of the Drew government."

The resolution, if adopted by the conference, also will put Canada's 40,000 steelworkers on record with regard to Saturday, Sunday and night work during the shortage.

It refers to Hydro Chairman Robert H. Saunders' proposal that labor work nights and weekends without overtime pay. The conference is asked to resolve that:

"This union takes the view that unless Labor is called into conference by Hydro and shown that other groups are doing their share in conserving power, we do not agree to work Saturdays, Sundays and nights without overtime premiums."

The policy conference is closed to the press. Its decision on the Oshawa resolution likely will be announced tonight.

Local 1817 includes employees of two Oshawa companies—Fittings Ltd. and Ontario Malleable Iron.

A report by Cleve Kidd, Union research director, says the 8.8-per-cent rise in the cost-of-living index since December, 1947, would boost the welfare council figure to $48.36, "calling for an increase of $3.36 (a week) in our minimum wage objective."

Mr. Kidd said the Union should also keep in mind the possibility of government moves such as removal of rent control. That would create a "serious situation."

Canada Now Strengthens Her Defences

Claxton Says War Becomes Possibility; Must Be Prepared

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—(CP).—Defence Minister Claxton disclosed Thursday night that Canada is preparing to defend herself against the possibility of war.

"We have got to defend ourselves."

With this in mind, Canada is giving consideration to the stockpiling of strategic war materials, the defense minister added.

The Dominion was in great supply of some strategic materials but short of natural rubber.

Giving answers to 16 vital defence questions, he disclosed the nature of defense planning, the role of the industrial defense board, the need for greater supplies of steel, standardization of equipment, co-operation with American defense planning and the nature of the development of new defense weapons in Canada.

Mr. Claxton said:

". . . The Soviet's manifest intention to carry on the aggressive promotion of communism everywhere, by all means short of immediate war, has challenged every sensible people who want to stay free to look to their defenses.

Pool Strengths

'Canada, like the United States, is vitally interested that likeminded nations pool their strengths as the best way to prevent and, if necessary, to stop aggression."

The defense minister believed that 'as Western Union becomes stronger, any chance that there might be of the Soviet Union winning an aggressive war will become less."

However, he pointed out that the Soviet Union "has pressed her efforts to drive the United States, Britain and France out of Berlin."

"It is this effort and the willingness to run the risks which it involves that has added tension to the present situation," Mr. Claxton said.

"I don't believe that the Russian people, or even the Soviet leaders, want war to-day; but their intransigent attitude has increased its possibility.

Even if the situation in Berlin should improve, there will be other points of tension. This will continue on, said the minister, "until the Russians begin to seek the welfare of their people rather than the extension of their power."

"War is not inevitable — of course it isn't — but neither is peace inevitable. Until the chances of peace improve, we have got to prepare to defend ourselves."

Discloses Schedules

On procurement, Mr. Claxton disclosed that schedules of what the Navy, the Army and the Air Force will need in the first year of an emergency already have been drawn up.

"These schedules have been prepared in complete detail down to the number of every articl of every type of equipment and spare part."

"Planning can't be done in a vacuum and planning which is unrealistic is dangerous," he said.

"We decided that what was needed was first of all an indication of the size and composition of the forces that would be employed during the first year after the outbreak of war or after the start of a full all-out effort after a state of emergency had been declared."

The schedules drawn show that the total number of items required during the first year of an emergency will be 171,381,981, not including spare parts.

"Of these we have on issue or in mobilization stores 62,045,595. The proportions show strikingly the size of the job but the proportion we have on hand is not in itself significant because we might have (or be short) all the tanks and heavy guns and be short (or have) all the handkerchiefs or shirts. Some of these 'phantom' or 'shadow' orders have already been delivered and the rest are on the way to our purchasing agent, the Canadian Commercial Corporation."

highway. The youth was driving the car of his father, James Thompson, who is principal of the Millbrook Continuation school.

About 10 a.m., the car was in collision with the car of Lloyd Byam, Millbrook garage operator. It is reported that while passing Byam's car, the Thompson vehicle struck its fender, sending Byman into the north ditch and Thompson into the south ditch. Both were badly smashed. Thompson's car come to a halt against a large rock. Both drivers were alone in the cars.

Talking to Thompson after the accident, the other driver said he noted what appeared to be "a slight scratch" on the youth's head. Thompson also had face cuts and cuts on his hand.

May Have Struck Head

Investigators noted that the windshield of the Thompson car had a bad dent in it, and it is thought possible that the driver may have struck his head on it, driven forward by the force of the impact.

Shortly after the collision, Thompson walked to the side of the road and climbed over a fence. He did not return to the scene.

Under Provincial Corporal Lloyd McClure, Prov. Constables Keith O'Shaughnessy and Gordon Langton and Millbrook Police Chief A. J. Kellett, a posse hunted without success throughout the day. Three carloads of Millbrook people took part. They were joined in the afternoon by students of the school where the missing lad's father is principal. Nearly a dozen residents continued the search until close to midnight Thursday, and are continuing to comb the district today.

Only other place where it has been reported the youth was seen was in the Allie Fallis farm on the 4th Line. He was running at the time, which was before he had his brief talk to Mrs. Woods.

Bill Thompson was described as of strong build with a slight scar on his left cheek. He has brown, close-cut curly hair, is about 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighs 185 pounds. He has blue eyes.

At the time of disappearing, he was wearing a plaid shirt, dark work pants and dark work boots.

$100,000 Fire

fire burned down nearby poles bearing the CPR telegraph line and disrupted communications for several hours.

83 On Roll

At the time of the fire, 83 men were on the roll and it is expected that some of them will be out of work until production can be resumed. Robert Holland, plant superintendent, said last night that at least one-third of the plant will be effected by the fire. Firemen rendered a great service when they managed to keep the fire away from the building where very valuable patterns are stored. The new office building also escaped. The part that was burned consisted of a long low brick building with wooden sheds to the north. It had a wooden roof and the entire fire-gutted structure was more than 200 feet long and about 25 yards wide.

Late Thursday night firemen were still at the scene trying to put out the embers and keep the fire from spreading should the wind change.

Several CNR freight cars, on the siding near the plant, were damaged and telegraph service was disrupted for some time. Even telephone communication was difficult, since numerous calls were being placed. For part of the evening Cobourg was practically isolated.

There were no employees in the plant which is on George St. at the CNR main line.

At one time the foundry was the Crossen railway car works but in 1917 during the First World War, it was taken over by the Dominion Wheel and Foundry for the manufacture of cast iron reinforced steel back, brakeshoes for use by the railways. In addition the foundry makes brake shoes for city and inter-urban tramway systems.

It was Cobourg's worst fire since the fire which destroyed the Presbyterian Church in 1937.

Pelham Edgar Author Dies Near Pt. Hope

PORT HOPE, Oct. 8 — (CP).—Pelham Edgar, 78, Canadian author, literary critic and university professor, died last night at his home at nearby Canton after an illness of several months.

The tall professor emeritus of the University of Toronto's Victoria College earned international fame as an accomplished and graceful writer. One of his books, "The Art of the Novel," published in 1933, continues to be widely used by students of writing technique.

For 50 years Prof. Edgar's bright eyes, thatched with heavy brows, twinkled at class after class of students. He joined Victoria College as a lecturer in French language and literature and later became professor of English literature, a position he held 36 years.

He retired from the chair of English in 1939 but as professor emeritus taught at Victoria College during the 1947-48 term.

For three years starting in 1942, he was attached to the postal censorship section in Ottawa as a censor of German correspondence.

Prof. Edgar's knowledge of German also enabled him to render special service to Canada during the First World War. Having attained a captaincy with the Royal Grenadiers, he spent four months of two consecutive years at Kapuskasing, where German prisoners of war were interned.

Liaison Officer

He acted as liaison officer between the Germans and the camp commandant. He also took charge of labor gangs which spoke only German and directed them in land-clearing operations.

Perhaps the best known of Prof. Edgar's lectures were "Shelley's Debt to 18th Century Thought" and "Nationalism In Poetry and Canadian Poets."

He founded the Pelham Edgar prize in French composition at the University of Toronto. In 1908-09 he was president of the modern languages section of the Ontario Education Association.

The award to Prof. Edgar in 1936 of the Lorne Pierce gold medal for distinguished service to Canadian literature came as a climax to his career as a writer. Besides his study of the novel, he wrote "Henry James, Man and Author" and contributed scholarly articles and reviews to Canadian, American and English magazines. Prof. Edgar edited editions of Francis Parkman's "The Struggle for a Continent" and "The Romance of Canadian History." He was one of the editors of the series, "The Makers of Canada."

Prices Sag Slightly On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Oct. 8 — (CP). — Prices sagged slightly as trading deceased to-day on the Toronto Stock Exchange. Industrials mixed gains and losses about equally with a narrower range of stocks showing changes. Golds and base metals were a lpittle weaker and a handful of western oils held steady.

The Exchange's noon index showed industrials down .25 at 178.69, golds down .24 at 89.05, base metals down .19 at 104.33, western oils down .11 at 43.37. Volume for the first three hours was 364,000 shares, about 194,000 shares less than yesterday.

Base metals lagged despite Thursday's powerful advance when it climbed on the Exchange index to the highest figure since February, 1946. Noranda, Quemont, Hudson Bay were down fractionally. Pend Oreille, Waite Amulet, Sherritt, and Gulf Lead weakened 3 to 5 cents.

James Y. Murdoch, president of Noranda, confirmed the purchase of an interest in Mining Corporation by Waite Amulet and Noranda.

Golds moved quietly in a narrow range. Dome and Teck-Hughes gained in the seniors, while Wright-Hargreaves and Kerr Addison were easier.

HOG PRICES.

TORONTO, Oct. 8 —(CP)— Hog prices at Stratford this morning were up slightly. Grade A delivered were $32.60 to farmers and $32.75 to truckers.

Power Off 45 Mins. In Toronto Area

Peterborough's electric power record Thursday was 256,000 kilowatt-hours. That was 8,000 kwh higher than Wednesday and 16,000 above the 240,000 quota.

Comment was brief in Utilities quarters. Plans and advice have been offered to the public. Voluntary compliance with the Hydro orders is still asked of all power users in the city. The urgency for saving electricity is a day to day obligation on the community if Peterborough is to escape Hydro ultimatum to pull switches.

Rain today held some promise locally of improving water volume, but it is only a small item in power production.

Cuba replaces Colombia, Norway will take the seat now held by Belgium and Egypt takes over from Syria under the Council's geographical representation system.

Norway and Cuba were elected on the first ballot, while four ballots were necessary to decide between Egypt and Turkey. The final vote was Egypt 36, Turkey 19.

Cuba was elected unanimously. Norway received 44 votes. Elected countries were required to poll a two-thirds majority vote.

The coming term will be the second for Egypt. She was elected to a one-year term at the first UN Assembly session in London in 1946.

Airplane Crashes In Backyard At Perth Two Smiths Falls Men Die In Flames

PERTH, Oct. 8 — Two Smiths Falls men were killed Thursday afternoon when their Tiger Moth plane crashed in a backyard here, hitting several trees and bursting into flames.

Killed were: Lawrence Rathwell, 29, and Percy Moore, 30.

Little was known of the crash, since the plane apparently plunged suddenly into the backyard, with no previous indication that it was in difficulty. The two men were so badly burned they had to be identified by watches and other possessions found in the wreckage.

They had left Smiths Falls earlier, police said, and had flown to Carp, 15 miles west of Ottawa, where they picked up fuel. When they crashed they were on their way to McDonald's Corners, in the Perth district.

The plane went over Perth at a low altitude and some residents said they thought there was smoke coming from the engine. It nicked a tree at the rear of St. John's Church, then smashed into the backyard of George Fleming, a member of the Perth council.

Mrs. Lorne Fagan saw the craft hit the tree, flying sideways at the time. She thought it struck on its side then rolled over.

It was reported Moore's car was still sitting at the Smiths Falls' airport, while investigation continued and officials notified relatives of the crash.

Dancer To Stand Trial On Drugs

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8 —(AP) —Vickie Evans, 25-year-old dancer failed to prove county grand jury's evidence was insufficient to sustain an indictment charging her with violation of the state narcotics act.

Miss Evans was arrested Aug. 31 with actor Robert Mitchum and two others.

Her lawyers told Superior Judge Thomas L. Ambrose, the raiding officers' testimony indicated they did not find any marijuana cigarettes on Miss Evans and did not see her smoking.

Adolph Alexander, is successfully resisting the dismissal petition, said the officers testified that Miss Evans said: "Oh, this tastes funny. What it it knocks me out?" and that Mitchum replied: "Oh, Daddy!"

The court ruled it considered the evidence strong enough to place the case before a jury. It ordered Miss Evans to join Mitchum, actress Lila Leeds and Robin Ford, real estate agent, on trial Nov. 22.

Psychopathic Hospital Aim For Veterans

VICTORIA, Oct. 8.—(CP).—Establishment of suitable psychopathic hospitals for Canadian war veterans suffering mental illness caused by war was urged today on the Dominion government by the 19th national convention of the Army, Navy and Air Force veterans in Canada.

The 300 delegates, representing 70,000 Canadian veterans, passed a resolution vigorously critcizing the Dominion government's attitude towards mental disease. The attitude placed Canada far behind Britain and the United States in its treatment, the resolution said.

The resolution charged that Dr. J. S. Cathcart, chief neuro-psychiatrist of the Department of Veterans' Affairs, believes mental upsets do not result from war. The resolution said the world's leading experts on mental disease believe, emphatically, that it does.

"Such views have resulted in the Dominion government denying responsibility for the mental and neurological casualties of war," the resolutionn added.

Hoping For Showers To End Bush Fires

WINNIPEG, Oct. 8.—(CP). — Weary Manitoba fire fighters today hoped for more rain to extinguish smouldering bush lands throughout the province.

However, the prospect is not bright as weather forecasters indicated no rain can be expected today at least. They predicted a wind shift to the northwest but forestry men said "we want no east or west winds."

S. W. Schortinghuis, Manitoba director of forestry protection, expressed hope that seasonal weather would prevail. If this occurs, no further trouble would be experienced from the fires.

Senior forest ranger G. H. Patterson at Lac Du Bonnet reported that Thursday was that region's 42nd day without rain, and fires still burned furiously five or six miles from the town.

Re-Armament

Three years after the Second World War, the world is re-arming. In 1945 there was a flurry of disarming the defeated nations and the victorious states reduced their forces. Now even Germany seems to be re-arming, if we can believe the American report that the Russians have recruited a force of 400,000 Germans. This German corps of "militia" and "workers' guard" is supposed to be merely a protective organization to maintain order and good government in eastern Germany. The kind of order and government it is called on to enforce is Communistic.

• • •

The United States has now compulsory military service. Britain has postponed releasing men from the army, is re-commissioning ships and augmenting the air force. Britain's re-armament program includes an increase of not less than 100,000 men and women for the Territorials (the British equivalent of our Reserve Army), 60,000 extra men for the R.A.F., 7,500 additional ratings for the Royal Navy. Canada is in the midst of a recruiting campaign. Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxemburg have agreed to joint military effort, under the generalship of Field Marshal the Viscount Montgomery.

• • •

Russia has organized a German corps. She has untold numbers of men under arms within her own borders and in satellite countries. She has closed off her territories from foreign observers, even diplomatic officials (who must restrict their jaunts to a radius of fifty miles of Moscow). This Russia is still preaching disarmament to U.N. at Paris. She is understandably worried about the American stock-pile of atomic bombs, which must now be rather large and potent.

• • •

Before the western democracies can agree to any kind of disarmament, they require iron-proof guarantees that Russia will disarm. Mr. Hector McNeil, the British Minister of State at the U.N. Assembly, made this plain on Wednesday to the committee which is debating the atomic energy problem. He told them that the western world is too afraid of Russia to disarm itself of its one apparent advantage, the atomic bomb. Heavy armament programs are costly and foreboding. However, it is better to be armed and safe than disarmed and sorry.

Is Investment Lowering Our Standard Of Living?

In our leading article yesterday we commented on the present extraordinarily high level of investment in Canada and suggested that the current level is too high or that the investment being undertaken is of the wrong type. There is much to be said in support of both these criticisms.

The fact that so much of our output is being invested (2.7 billion dollars or 17 per cent. of the total output) means that there is less to be consumed and the Canadian standard of living is therefore lower than it might otherwise be at present. One cannot have one's cake and eat it. If much of our production goes into making other things for greater production later, we cannot have all our present production for present use. The diversion of manpower and materials into investment is meeting a good deal of resistance from consumers who are also bidding vigorously for them. This competition of investors and consumers for scarce resources is undoubtedly one of the main causes of recent increases in the Canadian price level.

If it had been desired to prevent the rise in Canadian prices it would very likely have been necessary to reduce the volume of investment. One means of doing so would have been to increase taxes, particularly those on business profits.

In support of the other criticism that investment now being undertaken is of the wrong type it might be said that we are getting too many theatres, bowling alleys, store fronts and the like, and not enough factories and houses. That is very likely true, but it is not at all clear what should or can be done about it. Probably the only effective action would be the establishment of some sort of selective construction control. The problems of operating such a control would be so difficult that it is not surprising that nothing has been done. It is likely, too, that any such control measure would be politically difficult. Businessmen, like other people, have voices, and theirs are strong.

Water Street Preens Herself

The section of Water Street between Charlotte and Hunter is sprucing up. The old lady still looks a bit seedy in spots and of course is still under the thumb of the Police Court on one side and the Peterborough Club on the other, but her new hair-do (a neon sign—not illuminated now, alas), the face lifting she has had (new shops fronts) and the new dress (fresh paint) have worked wonders. It is like having a second childhood.

She used to be the belle of the town. That was in Peterborough's button-boots, lumber-jack and mud bottom days when Water Street was our main street. Then she grew old. Young George and Charlotte put her into the back room with the side windows of chartered banks and front windows of dim lawyers' offices. Eventually few people even looked in on the old dame, unless they wanted to buy eggs at the market, a chick from the hatchery or to sing a gospel hymn or get another gospel from the Examiner's bulletin board. Now she is frisky again.

There are reasons. There always are when a frowsy old dame begins to frip. One is that George Street is being crowded out and people are using the back room again. Another is that rents are lower where the old lady is. A third is the power of a single sign. The sign is on Charlotte Street at George. It says: "No Left Turn". Traffic is therefore moving straight through to Water Street. Traffic brings business. Good luck to the old dame, we say. Long may she preen.

La Belle Langue

Canada has the rich endowment of two official languages. It is deplorable that so few English-speaking Canadians of those who profess to be educated should be unable to enjoy and use the endowment of French which is theirs for little effort. It is a useful language abroad for diplomats and travellers, useful at home in commerce and politics. It is also a beautiful language, particularly on the tongue of a beautiful woman.

Mrs. Drew, the wife of the new Conservative leader, spoke to the Convention after her husband had given his acceptance speech. She spoke in English and then—with the phrase "et maintenant"—turned to French. It was the beginning of a few minutes of real delight for the ears, thrill for the heart and rapture for the politicians both English and French Canadian whom she addressed. French from an exquisite and light feminine tongue is a more potent attraction to men even than the ability to bake apple pie. Our advice to all young ladies who wish to win husbands and influence politicians is—learn French. You can pick up an apple-dumpling technique later. Your French would have this use, too. While the dumpling is cooking you can enjoy the thrill of reading a spicy French novel. That is how Victorian ladies enjoyed leisure snatched between kitchen and crib.

The Validity Of The Ban On Margarine

The Supreme Court of Canada is now hearing the arguments for and against the validity of the margarine ban. It is being argued on a constitutional basis. The deputy minister of justice, Mr. Fred P. Varcoe, who has the duty of defending the government legislation, is arguing that the federal parliament has full authority to enact and continue the ban. The counsel briefed to present the case against the constitutionality of the ban are arguing that that trade in margarine is a civil right and therefore exclusively a subject for the provinces, not for the Federal authority.

If the federal ban is found by the Court to be invalid, then contention by Mr. Varcoe will have special importance. In presenting his case he argues that the provinces have no right to bar the importation nor to prohibit the manufacture of margarine except where it is intended for local sale. If this contention is upheld, it would seem that no provincial legislation can suppress margarine.

Television has created a new problem: viewers can lip-read the remarks which are made by the participants in athletic contests. This, of course, threatens the whole carefully built up legend of "good clean sport".

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column, particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

DEAR Sir: Is it true that former Mayor Hamilton promised that the wartime houses in the Park Hill district would be removed six months following the cessation of hostilities?

ANSWER: No such official promise was made. Perhaps you are confusing your districts. When the first group of wartime houses was put up on Burnham Point (East City South) there was fear lest a slum area would develop. The council was assured that after the war the matter would be in the hands of the council. Now the Peterborough Lumber Company, from which the property was leased, has acquired the houses in blocks, and they are being made permanent dwellings (for instance, cement foundations are being put under them). The wartime houses on the Hatton property north-west of Charlotte street, are for rental only. There is an agreement in writing that when the Council asks that these houses be removed, they will be removed. The houses in the Park Hill area will be more or less permanent, since they are now up for sale.

IN your column last Friday you wrote about barber poles and the changes in barbering customs. I think another should be made—to women barbers. Why are all barbers men? Wouldn't women be better? Industries have found that for delicate manual work—watch-making, for instance—women are better than men.

ANSWER: Handling the hair of the beard and the hair-spring of a watch are delicate but different operations, though what man's beard would not vibrate under a woman's hand (the woman holding the razor) and thrill from titillation or fear? All barbers in Canada are not men. There are two women barbers in Toronto catering to men. Nurses are called on to shave men, though not their faces. In Sweden and Finland barbering is considered a woman's job. Women make very good barbers; so would nurses, if they had more practice.

As things remain in this country, barbers are men (some think of themselves as "tonsorial artists") and the specialists (male or female) who cater to women in beauty parlours are "hairdressers" or "beauticians". The reason for this division is that barbering used to be a profession, and women were not permitted by society to become professionals (in a legitimate sense). Further, in the Canadian rough-and-tumble days barber shops were not antiseptic and delicate as they are now, nor were the patrons scented and refined.

Barbering in this country is still barbarous, judging from some of the cropped heads I see on our streets. O for the touch of a woman's hand and the skill of the Countess of Beaconsfield who always cut her husband's hair. Disraeli, a dandy, would never let an ordinary barber shear or curl his locks; his countess was his barber.

IS a bastard male or female?

ANSWER: A bastard—that is, a child born out of wedlock—may be either male or female. For instance, William the Conqueror was a bastard, and so was Queen Elizabeth, according to some interpretations of ecclesiastical laws. There are, of course, other than human bastards. As an adjective the word can refer to anything hybrid, unauthorized or counterfeit. A "bastard slip" is not the losing of one's footing on icy streets, but the sucker of a tree. As the word is colloquially used today it is applied to males only. There is no precise feminine counterpart of this usage, though the feminine of "dog" is close.

QUESTION: Why do leaves ge red and brown in the fall?

ANSWER: Leaves "turn" partly because of chemical changes in the chlorophyll, the green colouring matter of the leaves, which cause the chlorophyll to decompose. We are then able to see red and yellow substances, such as carotin and xanthophyll which have been there all along but were masked by the green coloration. There are other complicated changes, in which red, blue and purple pigments, called anthocyans, are formed. These are similar to the colouring matter in flowers and fruits. Weather conditions such as dryness and frost have some effect in hastening or retarding the chemical changes. That is the scientific explanation, but you need not surrender your hope of heaven if you continue to believe that the frost miraculously touches the maples, turning them to red the way it does your nose in winter, and that finally the leaves drop off, just as noses will if we don't take care.

SIR: What is the plural of "gymnasium"—"gymnasiums" or "gymnasia"?

ANSWER: The pedantic plural is "gymnasia" but common and good usage now is "gymnasiums". This is one of a great number of foreign words which have been adopted into the language. For instance, should it be "indices" or "indexes" of books? "addendums" or "addenda", "phenomenons" or "phenomena"? Should we give English plurals to Greek, Latin, French and Italian words which are now in the language, or let them have their own plurals? It often depends on how long the word has been anglicized. If it has been bobbing around on English tongues for a century or two, and on lots of them, (not merely on the so-called intelligentsia's), it is safe and sound to pluralize by adding 's' or 'es'. I myself use "indexes", "addenda", and "phenomena".

Mr. Alan Dent, who is co-editor with Sir Laurence Olivier of Olivier's new film 'Hamlet' which we hope will soon come to Peterborough, had his ire aroused recently by Mr. Hope-Wallace, critic of the London weekly 'Time and Tide' when the critic called ballerinas "ballerine" (the Italian plural). This was an utter affectation, according to Mr. Dent who wrote to the editor of 'Time and Tide'. He said in his letter:

'Mr. H.-W. may retort that for some time it has been the habit of our superior musical critics to give the word concerto the plural form "concerti", and to call 'cellos "'celli"

Letters To The Editor

KASSHABOG CONSERVATION

Sir: At a meeting of the Peterborough Fish and Game Association, as reported in your issue of Sept. 28, mention was made of the Kasshabog Lake Conservation Association.

It might at this time be of interest to the outdoor fraternity of the city and district to set forth the aims and objects of this organization. These were listed at the initial meeting as follows:

1. Raising the lake level, and maintaining it at an uniform height.
2. Fire protection.
3. Reforestation.
4. Protection and propagation of fish and game.
5. Other measures for the general improvement of the area.

Implementing number one above it was decided to embark immediately on the construction of a new, permanent, concrete dam to replace the old wooden structure which washed out over two years ago. The cost of this dam will be approximately $2,000, and will raise the lake level suficiently to flood the marshes, bays, and sand shoals, which were the spawning grounds of the fish, and the drying up of which has been responsible for the decline of the fishing in the lake.

The property owners have assumed responsibility for raising this money, and a considerable amount is in hand from individual subscriptions ranging from $25 to $100. While some assistance is expected from the Government, nothing from that source will be forthcoming until the work is completed, or at least well advanced.

We note that the F. & G. Association has offered its moral support, and has expressed the opinion that the property owners should maintain a right of way to the lake to render it accessible to the public. As the public generally, and the members of the Fish and Game Association in particular will benefit equally with the property owners in the proposed improvement, any financial support they may see fit to give to supplement the already proffered moral support will be thankfully received by,

The Kasshabog Lake Conservation Assn.,
ALLAN T. BROWN,
Sec.-Treas.

THE SALE OF THE ACKERMAN COMPANY

Sir: In your issue of October 4 you reported the amalgamation of the firm of B. F. Ackerman, Son & Co., Limited, with three other firms. I feel the information as published will convey a wrong impression to the many customers of this company and to the employees, in some cases. After negotiations with Mr. Russell A. Adams for the past year to purchase the majority of shares of the Ackerman Co., consents were finally filed with the Crown Trust Co., executors of the late B. F. Ackerman, for the sale of 3,999 shares of the total capitalization of 4,000 shares.

In my opinion the price offered was a fair one, and I was quite satisfied to dispose of my interest slightly in excess of 25 per cent. of the total. At my age I felt it was more desirable to diversify the proceeds of this investment over numerous other investments. This procedure was followed by my brother, my niece and nephew, holding between them approximately 50 per cent. of the above total shares. These shares were all turned over and paid for by the Adams Harness Mfg. Co., Ltd., on September 30th, in the office of the Crown Trust Co., in Toronto. The matter of the title of the company was not discussed at any conference of the directors of the Ackerman Co., but the usual custom is that the name goes with the business, which apparently is being followed in this case. In view of the fact that this was a clean sale of a majority of shares of the Adams Harness Mfg. Co., Ltd., the term "Amalgamates" used in your title heading will convey a wrong impression as to what actually took place, particularly as my name is still on the company title, whereas I now have no interest in the new company.

There are two minor errors in your early history of the company. The correct location after it was moved to Peterborough was the north-east corner of George and Dalhousie Sts., in the Schneider building, in 1892. On account of lack of space, the lot opposite on the north-west corner of George St. was purchased and new buildings erected in 1900, which is the present home of the company. My only reason for presenting these facts is to acquaint any interested persons that the Ackerman family have disposed of their financial interest in this business.

Thanking you for your space in this connection, I am,

Yours sincerely,
W. C. ACKERMAN.

THE PEACE BOMB

Sir: There seems to be some concern about the atomic bomb, to be or not to be retained. Some say it's a terrible piece of mechanism and should never have been used let alone invented. In my opinion it's the greatest peace maker ever devised inasmuch the Japanese venture proved it as such. "How you may ask?" It cost Japan the best part of two cities, population and buildings. This alone ended that war! To those who wish to fight and squabble "fair" I say bunk.

For this "fair" way of war cost approximately 35 million people death or misery, the two atomic bombs cost Japan about 350,000 people misery etc. I don't pretend to know which should or should not be done, but I believe the more atomic bombs and the gadgets to handle them in a hurry that are turned out the longer peace will be preserved for who will want a "fair" war with the atomic army in sight?

Yours truly,
REASON.

The Two-Party Puzzle

Some have advocated that coalition of rightists into one party and leftists into another would restore the two-party system. These persons fail to see that they would be exposing Canada to the distinct possibility of having a Socialist government. The C.C.F. party or its equivalent would automatically become the official opposition and in due course quite probably the government.—Winnipeg Tribune.

Hallowe'en is coming round again! When your doorbell rings, be ready with this grand Purity Pumpkin pie . . . made with Purity Flour . . . of course! Here's a melt-in-your-mouth pastry recipe.

PURITY PASTRY (enough for 2 pie shells)

Sift together 1½ cups PURITY FLOUR and ½ teaspoon salt. Cut in ⅔ cup shortening into mixture with two knives, until it looks like very coarse meal. Add 5 tablespoons ice water gradually, mixing only enough to hold mixture together. Chill dough for 5 or 10 minutes and turn out on a lightly floured board. Roll with a light quick motion to ⅛ inch thickness. Press dough lightly into pie plates so that no air bubbles are trapped, and trim off the edge.

FILLING (1 pie)

Beat 2 eggs only until whites and yolks are well blended. Gradually beat in ⅔ cup white sugar, and add 1 teaspoon cinnamon; ½ teaspoon ginger; ½ teaspoon nutmeg; ½ teaspoon allspice, and a few grains of salt. Stir in 1½ cups prepared pumpkin and ½ cup hot milk. Pour into pie plate lined with pastry and bake in hot oven (450°F.) for first ten minutes, then reduce temperature to moderate (350°F.) and bake for 20-25 minutes, or until filling is firm. Cool and serve with whipped cream or decorate with a raisin face. (Filling recipe may be doubled if you wish 2 pumpkin pies.)

COMEDIAN BOB HOPE who is also part owner of the Cleveland Indians, throws a kiss at Player-Manager Lou Boudreau and heavy clouter Ken Keltner after the two players had turned the tide to give Cleveland a victory over Boston in the playoff game. Whether he threw them another kiss after Boston Braves beat the Indians 1-0 in the first game of the World Series, is another question! Though Feller gave up but two hits to Sain's four, neither Boudreau nor Keltner could drive in a run, for their pitcher as did Holmes, the Braves' hurler.

House C-3 High At PCVS Re-check Shows

With all results compiled and, following a re-check, House C-3 was declared the winner of the PCVS track and field day. With the boys of this house collecting a total of 808 points, added to the girls' total, it was found that House C-3 had 1423 points, just two ahead of House D-4, which had first been named as the winner.

The outstanding team for boys was the 14-year-old team from House B with 220 points, while the best-organized one was the 16-year-old group from House C. Ribbons for each of the high-scoring competitors were presented in the assembly hall at PCVS today.

Several of the high-scoring competitors among the boys had a possible, scoring 25 out of 25 points. These were B. Hollingsworth and G. Bennett of House B, and Dave Fanning of House D. Following are the high-scorers in boys' events:

House A: D. Herbison, W. Walton and W. Coon; House B: B. Hollingsworth, D. Rose, L. Hempstead, G. Bennett, B. Young, G. Robinson and A. Payne; House C: R. Allan, L. Forbes, R. Hooper, S. Facenni, J. Hargreaves, R. Jamison, D. Griffin, T. Evans, R. Gandy, B. Thompson and R. Hagerman; House D: B. Goodson, D. Fanning, A. Bell, C. Johnston, D. Cooke, R. Braund and H. Grafstein.

Robinson Shows Great Promise

WINNIPEG, Oct. 8—(CP)—One of the biggest pairs of shoes to fill in professional hockey are being tried on for size in fall training this year by a 21-year-old Winnipeg player.

George Robertson, former Winnipeg Monarchs junior, appears to have the inside track to the left wing slot on Montreal Canadiens' first line vacated by veteran Toe Blake, now retired to coaching ranks.

Without Blake for most of last season, Montreal's entry in the National Hockey League finished out of the Stanley Cup playoffs for the first time in years. Much will depend this season on whoever succeeds Blake as line-mate for Maurice (Rocket) Richard and Elmer Lach.

George counts on a lot of help from Richard and Lach. Coach Dick Irvin thinks if he sticks with the pair, Robertson is a good bet for the Calder Trophy as best rookie of the year.

Madoc Gets Win

MARMORA, Oct. 8.—(ENS).—Victory came to Madoc High School rugby team in their home game with Marmora on Thursday afternoon, the final score being 16-0 in their favor. The Marmora team has been weakened by the loss of two backfield players and replacements at present seem out of the question. Their next scheduled game is with Stirling against whom they hope to make a better showing.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Lacrosse rules the roost tonight in Miller Bowl, starting at nine o'clock, weather being right. It's Huntsville Hawks against the Petes in the fifth game of their best-of-seven OLA senior "B" finals. Petes are up three and a win tonight gives them the title again. A loss—but perish the thought! All is in readiness for a big victory celebration and the Petes just can't let everyone down at this point. At that, Bucko McDonald's scrappy young speedsters will shoot the works before bowing out of the picture, and they might just jerk out an upset. It should be a swell scrap with a local championship in sight, and rates a record crowd.

This item was written by Clayt Browne in the St. Catharines' gazette: "We do not know who is coaching Peterborough minors, but the word came back from the peewee round-robin series that they will be title factors in another year. They are small boys, but they show expert stick work and not finish, are game as pebble, and they are pushing the game hard in the Liftlock City for the future." That's high praise for our worthy OLA peewees, coming from a centre known throughout Canada for its lacrosse clubs. St. Kitts almost invariably come up with a few titles a year, including Dominion ones. While Don Smith helped handle our peewee team and Walt Murphy was manager, chief credit goes to Jack Foote, who coached the lads all season.

High School Football

A Collegiate football double-header tomorrow aft in the Oval. Lakefield plays the junior PCI-ers in the first one, with Oshawa meeting PCVS seniors afterward. Coach Alex Londry has a right promising pack of PCVS junior gridders, the linemen showing up particularly well in Lindsay to win the first game. And the forward passing left little to be desired. If they continue to play like that they'll be tough to halt short of a COSSA title. St. Peter's have a junior joust that day, also, up in Lindsay.

* * * * * *

Don't know much about the senior Oshawa squad, but they usually come up with a strong club. Playing it wide open in the Waugh manner. But they'll run into stiff opposition when they hit Coach Bev Goulding's good PCI crew. Latter have a solid front wall ahead of some experienced and fast-stepping backfielders. Have the kicking, too, but we're not sure yet how their passing game is. Nor are we worrying too much as fast, open play has featured their style for years and they'll come up with another crowd-pleasing team this semester. Or we'll eat the old weather-beaten chapeau. Minus salt or ketchup. The twin bill should be worth viewing.

Panthers Open Here

And don't forget the Panthers. They're up in Oakville tomorrow, but open at home Monday, the Thanksgiving Day holiday, at three against Oshawa Red Raiders. The big-shouldered ORFU fellows have to get in there digging if they hope to make a second-place group playoff spot, and they'll certainly fight from here on in. While the Raiders are tough customers on a gridiron, the Panthers should have beaten them right in the Motor City a week ago, but fumbles and a couple of bad breaks beat them in a swell struggle. Lots of beef up front with classy and experienced gees in the back division who can whip the leather lemon around or hoof for distance. This one should pack in a huge holiday crowd.

Rain or shine, the Legion inter-branch soccer semi-final between Toronto Silvertown and local Legionnaires goes at three p.m. tomorrow at King Edward Park. Referee Asa Downer in charge. Visitors are major calibre in Toronto, and the winner of this game goes into finals against the Chatham-Brampton victor at Guelph. Local players report to Manager Jack Adams no later than 2.30. The CGE-Lindsay match is cancelled owing to players being away for the long week-end. O'Halloran's meet the Petes Monday aft at 2.30 in King Edward Park in Mayor Ovens' Cup play. King Edward beat May's in school soccer yesterday, while Confederation and Prince of Wales went to a nifty junior scoreless draw in overtime.

Moving To Cleveland

After beating the Braves in Boston 4-1 yesterday, the cocky Cleveland Indians think they can wrap up the world series at home. Scene shifts today to the Ohio city for the next three games, but rain may wash out today's tussle. Games there are listed to start at one o'clock, same as in Boston, but the special players' train out of Boston was nearly two hours late leaving, so the first game may be about an hour late starting this afternoon, if it goes at all. Bob Lemon pitched fine ball yesterday and the Indians proved better clutch clouters to earn this one. Such starry veterans as Boudreau and Gordon got down to business afield and at bat to help a lot. A crowd of almost 40,000, but Cleveland crowds will be much bigger.

Russelle's Hit 3622 Total In City League

Russelle's were the outstanding team in the Men's City Five Pin League Thursday night as they blanked Spartons and rolled high pinnage of 3,622. Bond Clothes were next in line with 3,597 and they had high single game of 1,373 in their four to two victory over the strong Fashion Craft entry. Riley's continued to roll steady ball as they blanked DeLaval and Charlotte Credit Jewellers looked good in their 6 to 0 win over McCannan Electric.

Ostranders had a close match with Shockey's as the former team took four points. Cavanagh's Empress Old Timers and Clapper's scored 4 to 2 point victories over King George Alley Cats and Sunocos.

Jack Barnes took high three honors as he turned in a smashing 903 total and was followed by Roy Suddards 874, Frank McCormack 835, Ross Hopkins 830, Tony Vitarelli 823, Bill Harris 817 and Ed Starr 814. Roy Suddards rolled 384 for high single as he rolled eight strikes, picked a head pin in the 9 and struck out. Ross Hopkins came next with 370 and Bill Harris in third position, 367 as a head pin in the 8th frame cost him a perfect game. Other good singles were rolled as follows: Jack Barnes 336, Jack Playford 322, Roy Lewis 316, Jim Herron 315, Frank McCormack 312, Tony Vitarelli 312-302, Bert McCarrell 310, Ed Young 305, Ray Clifford 303, Ed Starr 302, Bill Boon and Mel Akers 300.

High average for 12 games was taken over by Roy Suddards with 261 as Jack Wade dropped to 256.

Royals Trounce St. Paul 7-3

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 8.—(AP).—Montreal and St. Paul tonight go into the third game of the Little World series even at one victory apiece after the power-laden Royals waxed the Saints 7-3 last night.

St. Paul's pilot, Walt Alston, has named another right-hander, Mel Himes, to go against the International League champions. Himes racked up an 11-6 record this year, but his record of 114 strikeouts was third best on the team and contributed heavily to the Saints' capturing the American Association playoffs.

Charlie Podbielan, a 13-8 pitcher during the regular season, will start for Montreal. The series move to Montreal after tonight's game.

In Thursday night's game, the Royals exploded for two big innings to account for all their runs. Jack Banta was lifted in the ninth after St. Paul scored twice in the eighth. Hopper pulled out all the stops and used two reliefers, Frank Laga and Don Newcombe, to handle the Saints in their final turn at bat.

Banta looked impressive in striking out seven and giving only four hits, though he also walked seven. He drove in two runs to help win his own ball game.

Expect 80,000 To Attend Cleveland Game

CLEVELAND, Oct. 8.—(AP).—Cleveland opens its arms today to its first world series since 1920 with a record turnout of 80,000 plus due to welcome home the Indians who won the pennant on the road and return all square with the Boston Braves after splitting two games at Braves field.

It appeared, however, that the welcoming party might have to wait.

The teams were late leaving Boston Thursday night. The officials, including baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler and the writers covering the series, were even later.

Original schedules called for early-morning arrival here, but with the delayed start it appeared the travellers would have to hustle to be on hand at the scheduled game time—1 p.m. EST.

To make the situation more doubtful, scattered showers were forecast today. It rained here Thursday night and turned cold. Ironically the Indians weren't rained out of a single season game at their home field.

Gene Bearden, happy-go-lucky southpaw who tamed Boston Red Sox in the pennant playoff, is ready to face Vern Bickford, another war veteran, in a battle of rookie pitchers.

American Leaguers rushed to the support of the Indians after they clubbed Warren Spahn to a 4-1 victory behind Bob Lemon in Thursday's loosely-played second game at Boston. As a result of the Cleveland triumph, the Indians now are heavy favorites—5 to 14 to win the series and 9 to 20 to cop the third game.

Happenings In Hockey

By The Canadian Press

Pre-season reports say Dit Clapper's Boston Bruins may be the weak sister of the National Hockey League this year. That may be the reason for the great experiment.

They're going to put one of hockey's greatest centres, Milt Schmidt, back on defence.

They may have got the idea back in the 1946-47 season when Schmidt, who pivoted the great Kraut line in between Bobby Bauer and Porky Dumart, shifted to defence in an emergency and made a creditable showing. He was out of the game for about half the season last year.

He leaves a big hole up front which may be filled by Jack Quilty.

If it weren't for big Bill Durnan, little Gerry McNeil probably would be in the NHL by now.

McNeil has been playing sensational hockey for Montreal Canadiens during the Habs western tour. At times he has outshone Durnan, who is rated by coach Dick Irvin as the finest netminder in the business.

But it appears that McNeil will spend his fourth straight year with Montreal Royals of the Quebec Senior League. He's almost sure to get the nod, however, when the 33-year-old Durnan hangs up his skates.

Don Raleigh, former Winnipeg speed merchant, potted four goals Thursday night to lead New York Rangers to an easy 11-2 victory over Shawinigan Falls Cataracts of the Quebec Senior League. Eddie Kullman and Tony Leswick got two apiece while Bill Moe, Frank Eddolls and Edgar Laprade collected singles.

Cleveland Barons and Detroit Red Wings threw more fists than pucks at each other in an exhibition tilt Thursday night. Detroit beat the American league club 7-1. Fred Thurier of Cleveland and Bep Guidolin started swinging in the final period and a few minutes later Doug McCaig of Wings and Bob Solinger started swinging. But there were no casualties.

Cal Gardner, ex-Ranger turned Toronto Maple Leaf, will be out of action for three or four weeks. He suffered a broken nose and cheek bone when he collided with Bill Barilko during an exhibition game.

Two other ex-Rangers were sent down to Pittsburgh Hornets Thursday. But both Rene Trudell and Bill Juzda probably will be back if the going gets tough for the Stanley Cup holders.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

Hamilton Tigers this year have lost practically the entire team that won the Ontario senior hockey championship last year.

Goalie Art Childs, defenceman Polly Miocinovich and forwards Ab and Johnny Conick so far are the only ones definitely slated to return to the Hamilton line-up.

Two players are trying out with Kansas City Pla-Mors of the United States Hockey League and a heavy contingent is eyeing Moncton, N.B.

The Ontario Junior 'A' hockey seasons opens Oct. 13 with Barrie playing at Stratford and Toronto Marlboros playing at Windsor, it was announced Thursday night at Toronto. The schedule winds up Feb. 19. Galt opens the season Oct. 15, at home to Stratford.

Toronto's Arthur King, newly-crowned British Empire lightweight boxing champion, Thursday received civic congratulations at a reception at Toronto city hall. King won the title last month with a technical knockout over Britain's Billy Thompson in London.

Chatham Hadleys took the first game of the Intermediate 'A' Ontario Baseball Association championship at Chatham Thursday when they defeated Napanee 9-5, before 1,000 fans. Second game of the best-of-three series will be played Saturday at Napanee.

Johnny Blue, one of the top scorers in the Ontario Hockey Association senior circuit when playing with Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen last season, has joined Sherbrooke St. Francis of the Quebec Senior Hockey League, Coach Ivan Dugre announced on Thursday at Sherbrooke, Que. Blute is a right-winger.

Egan Hanover crowded into the picture for three-year-old trotting honors at Lexington, Ky., Thursday by winning in decisive straight heats the $52,670 Kentucky Futurity. Although third in the Hambletonian and denied the privilege of again meeting Demon Hanover, winner of the Goshen classic, Egan Hanover nudged a select field with ease. The winning time was 2:04.

At Winnipeg, Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League Thursday night whitewashed St. Paul Saints of the USHL 7-2 in an exhibition game before 2,000 fans. The Carveth-Billy Reay-Norm Dussault line accounted for five of Les Habs' goals. Carveth notched three and Dussault a pair. Defenceman Doug Harvey and Kenny Mosdell scored the others.

The Joe Baksi-Ezzard Charles heavyweight fight scheduled for Madison Square Garden Nov. 12 has been postponed because of injury to Baksi, the 20th Century Sporting Club announced Thursday at New York. Baksi injured the middle finger of his right hand some six weeks ago when he was fixing a toy. An X-ray examination Thursday disclosed a fracture.

Rangers Add Speed, Strength In Trophy Bid

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (CP). — Punching forward lines injected with youth and heft and the first "reliable defence" in years are the factors Manager Frank Boucher of the New York Rangers figures will sharpen his National League club this season.

But the qualified, 47-year-old Boucher is making no predictions on how his team or the five other NHL clubs will finish the 60-game grind. Says the Ottawa-born former star centre, who perfectly forecast last year's finish:

"All the teams are strengthened. Anything can happen."

As the Blueshirts, who finished in fourth place last April, swung into a Quebec exhibition series, there were only two factors the Rangers' mentor seemed sure of:

Pentti Lund, 22-year-old Finnish-born newcomer, was being tested for the rightwing post on that line, which was hoped to prove a sure-fire sparkplug.

2. Claude (Chuck) Rayner, the Sutherland, Sask., netminder, laid off by injuries more than two months last year, will guard the Ranger ramparts. His business partner, Jim Henry, who filled in ably last season, will probably see action with New Haven Ramblers, Rangers' American Hockey League farm club— if Chicago Black Hawks do not make a bid for his services.

As his stellar example of youth and fire, Boucher points with pride to the line of Don Raleigh, 22, who will wear the No. 7 shirt held previously only by Boucher and the already-legendary Phil Watson, Little Dunc Fisher, and Big Nick Mickowski, 20.

Watson, the fiery French-Canadian slated to coach New York Rovers this year, is the best known Ranger fixture of 1947-48 missing from the current roster. The others are Bill Judza, Cal Gardner and Rene Trudell, who went to Toronto Maple Leafs in a trade for Wally Stanowski and Elwyn Morris— two good reasons for Boucher's satisfaction with his rearguard supply.

A bulwark of that defence will be Neil Colville, the 33-year-old grey-thatched Ranger captain who was Boucher's teammate back in 1936-37. The other roaring rearguards are Bill Moe, Frank Eddolls and Bill Shero.

From the evidence of early exhibition games, one of the team's most effective features will be the front line of Edgar Laprade, diminutive Tony Leswick and husky Eddie Kullman.

Child In Swamp

KITCHENER, Oct. 8 — (CP). — A search party of more than 100 men late Thursday night found 3½-year-old Garry Tennant, stuck in a foot of mud in a swamp near here. He had wandered off in the afternoon with his two dogs and his parents became alarmed when one of them returned home alone. The second dog was sighted by Constable Clarence Dixon who followed it to the missing boy.

Red Wing Team Looks Betters Than Year Ago

By MEL SUFRIN

DETROIT, Oct. 8 (CP).—Probably the best way to gauge the chances of any hockey team is to find out what the coach—invariably an eternal pessimist—thinks about it.

So when Coach Tommy Ivan of the Detroit Red Wings says he's "satisfied" with the way his team looks in pre-season practice, there's good reason to believe he has something to make the National Hockey League sit up and take notice.

The Red Wings' story for the 1948-49 season can be boiled down to a few salient points at this stage.

One is that, by Ivan's admission, they look better than they did at the same time last season. Another fact is that they're still a young club, although virtually the same as last year. Only two players, Defenceman Jack Stewart from Pilot Mound, Man., and Centre Syd Abel of Melville, Sask., have reached the 30-mark.

Strong Farm System

The Red Wings, who open at home against Chicago Black Hawks Oct. 13, have about as strong a farm system as any NHL club. It runs down through Indianapolis Capitals in the AHL, Omaha Knights in the USHL, and Windsor Spitfires in the Junior OHA.

Individually, the Wings have some noteworthy improvements, outstanding of which is Leo Reise, the burly blonde defenceman from Brantford. He's going to be a big help on a rearguard which can already throw its weight around with confidence as well as score goals.

Leonard (Red) Kelly, in his second year after jumping from Toronto Junior ranks, is even better and that's saying something considering his play last year. His steadiness under fire is notable in view of his age — he's 21.

Jack Stewart, tagged "Black Jack" for his body-checking prowess, Toronto-born Bill Quackenbush and Doug McCaig, another Brantford product, round out the formidable protective wall for Goalie Harry Lumley.

School Teams Go To Scoreless Tie

After battling for over an hour, Confederation and Prince of Wales juniors failed to gain any decision in a scoreless Public school soccer tilt at POW grounds Thursday afternoon. The west-end boys were more aggressive throughout and received a penalty kick the Confederation goalie saved. Repeatedly S. Pierton broke through to find the custodian unbeatable. Pullybank, POW, was injured when he fell upon a rock on the field of play. In an endeavor to break a tie the teams played extra time, but still remained deadlocked.

Confederation—M. Parry, goal; R. Bolton and G. Lutman, full-backs; B. Heard, S. Pierton and P. Wright, half-backs; J. Rose, T. Manley, B. Bryan, P. Chesher and B. Floyd. Subs., D. Goldie, A. Dolman.

Prince of Wales—D. Coit, goal; W. Speirs and R. Robbins, full-backs; W. Johnson, J. Heron and W. Brown, half-backs; G. Hancock, H. Pullybank, P. Carveth, G. Downer and L. Barrie, forwards. Subs., T. Krough, B. Hill, P. Sparrow, L. Marchan.

Referee—Mr. Anderson.

King Edward Wins

May's School junior soccer players were the guests of King Edward Thursday afternoon with the latter winning 2-0. Early exchanges went from end to end at a rapid pace with the defence being brilliant in every attack. In the second half, King Edward combination that baffled the got the break when they set up May's boys.

Pagett rattled home a beautiful counter. On the next visit, Locke, May's, gave away a penalty which Pagett converted.

May's School—J. Drummond, goal; J. Byers and J. Lock, full-backs; G. Greeniss, R. Oliver and K. Thompson, half-backs; R. Dauncey, F. Chambo, B. Chamberlain, B. Parks and M. McFadden, forwards.

King Edward — R. Halcrow, goal; R. Tarkington and G. Hunt, full-backs; G. Pagett, V. Dugan and V. Smyth, half-backs; D. Sutherland, J. Sutherland, W. Curtis, E. MacArthur and N. Johnston, forwards. Subs., J. Smith, F. Drusaw, J. Roode.

Referee—Mr. Lawless.

Box Changes His Mind On Comeback

By The Canadian Press

Ab Box was never too keen on a football comeback and a couple of practice sessions with Toronto Argonauts convinced him.

The 39-year-old triple-threat star of the 1930's said Thursday night he didn't think he'd make the try, anyways "not this weekend."

The Thanksgiving week-end marks the opening of the Eastren Collegiate schedule and the 12-game senior program may decide the playoff story for some of the Dominion's 15 senior clubs.

In the Big Four, Argos and Hamilton Wildcats face a two-game set while one of the two Montreal Alouette-Ottawa Rough Rider games was cancelled yesterday. They will play in Ottawa Monday.

Sarnia Imperials have their big chance to take over second place in the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

In the Intercollegiate loop, University of Toronto plays Western at London and Queen's and McGill tangle at Kingston.

Hamilton Wildcats will play coach Frank Gnup for the first time this year when they tackle Argos. The champions' backfield aces — Royal Copeland and Joe Krol—worked out in practice and may dress for the game.

With Bobby Portet, Don Crowe and Ernie Becker on the casualty list, Toronto Beaches Indians are pitted against fast-stepping Frankie Filchock and the ORFU's first place Hamilton Tigers. They play in Hamilton Saturday and Toronto Monday, with Tigers odds-on favorites to sweep the series.

Legal Fight On Oleo Ban Will End Today

OTTAWA, Oct. 8 — (CP). — A legal fight against the 62-year-old ban on margarine ends to-day in the Supreme Court of Canada, but the decision won't be known for a week.

Margaret Hyndman, KC, of Toronto, will express the opposition to the Canadian Association of Consumers and the seven-man court then will take the case under consideration. The judgment will be handed down sometime next week.

Thursday, the court heard three other opposing groups argue through counsel that the sale and manufacture of margarine rightly came under provincial jurisdiction and that the legislation should be declared invalid.

J. M. Nadeau, KC, representing L'Association Canadienne des Electrices of Montreal, said the ban appears to be a prohibition enacted "against a lawful article of commerce which connetes against an equally lawful article of commerce." The ban was the equivalent of a "restraint of trade" against foods which came under provincial jurisdiction.

L. E. Beaulieu, KC, appearing for the Province of Quebec, said there could be no doubt that the sale and manufacture of margarine were within provincial jurisdiction. It no longer could be argued that it was injurious to health.

HARRIED HOUSEWIVES doing their best to make ends meet burst into loud cheers in New York when meat prices took a perceptible nosedive, as much as 18 cents a pound on some items. There were a million explanations, ranging from the fact that corn is plentiful and cheap, to the fact that customers were scarce and wouldn't buy. Anyhow, it adds up to the first real break in the meat price spiral in nearly two years. The next question is whether the price break will last. Picture shows a store manager, Herman Blohm, posting new lower prices.

Conacher Loses Injunction Against Arena

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—A centuries-old principal of law, said Mr. Justice Keiller Mackay yesterday at Osgoode Hall, led him to dismiss an application by former hockey star Charlie Conacher for continuance of an injunction against the Oshawa Arena Ltd.

The injunction was to restrain Oshawa's George Campbell and D. E. Chesebrough and the Oshawa Arena Ltd. from soliciting advertising for, and distributing hockey programs at the "home" games of the Oshawa Generals.

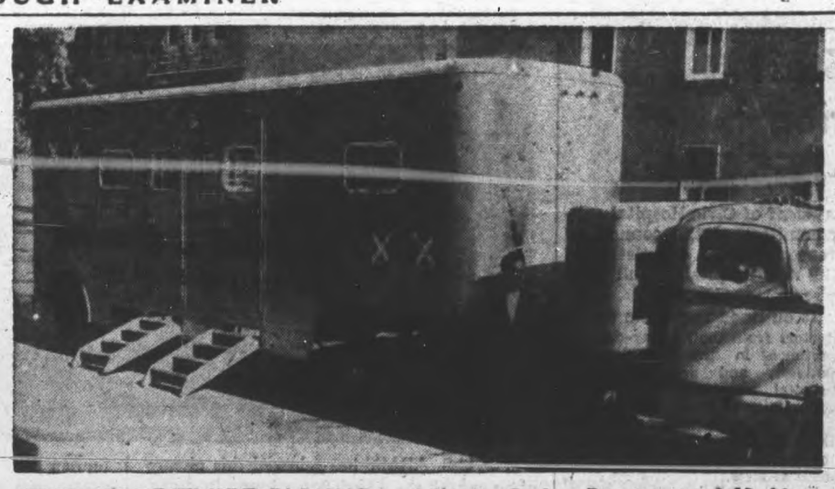
His lordship said it was an old principal of law to dismiss an injunction where damages would suffice.

Charles J. Kelz, counsel for Conacher told his lordship in Weekly Court that Conacher, according to an agreement with the arena company, had been publishing and distributing hockey programs at the Generals' home games. But now, said Kelz, the arena had decided to set up a "rival" program.

"The case now goes to trial and Conacher will ask unstated damages from the arena company, Campbell and Chesebrough for breach of contract, conspiracy and conversion (theft). Conacher also wants an accounting of operating costs and profits of the "rival" program.

An interim injunction was granted eight days ago. Yesterday, Kelz, Conacher's counsel, told his lordship that his client would continue to publish his hockey programs no matter what the outcome of the action.

Counsel for Campbell and D. E. Chesebrough is R. D. Humphreys. A. W. S. Greer is counsel for the Oshawa Arena Ltd.



FIRST ONE OF ITS KIND IN CANADA, this 10-ton truck above is completely fitted with a high power X-Ray camera, a dark room and a doctor's office. It was purchased by the Quebec Department of Health to conduct a mass survey of chests in the province's drive against tuberculosis. Dr. O. Manseau will be in charge of the unit, which is capable of handling 300 patients a day.

Mason, Wife Writing Book On Cats

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 8 (AP).—News from the literary front: James Mason and his wife are writing a book — about cats, naturally. The volume will be released in January, with illustrations by the actor.

The versatile Briton is doing retakes for "Caught" and will start "Trilby" in six weeks. Jennifer Jones was to co-star, but she goes into "Madame Bovary" right away and another Trilby is being sought.

The Masons expect their first child next month and both are sure it will be a girl. Says Mrs. M.:

"I have nothing to say to little boys; neither has James. Then there are footballs and all those games that boys play — I don't like games."

About People

Al Jolson is a guy who doesn't give up. He says he has recorded enough songs not only for his forthcoming film biography, but for two other pictures as well. That should keep Larry Parks busy for years to come . . .

William Powell is averaging a radio show a week these days. "Got to keep the ham in me alive," he tells me as he walks to another rehearsal . . .

Bing Crosby is resting at his Elko, Nev., ranch prior to an air show and benefit in San Francisco Saturday . . .

Loses $600 In Hotel

Hotel Clerk Absolved In Shooting of McLaren

TORONTO, Oct. 8 — (CP). — Freed of a murder charge in the August 19 hotel lobby shooting of A. Douglas McLaren, 66-year-old Harry Springall to-day planned a two-week vacation and said he was through with night work.

An Assize Court jury which on Thursday deliberated an hour and forty minutes at the end of the four-day trial absolved the hotel clerk of any responsibility in the death of McLaren, wealthy man-about-town.

Springall claimed he took out a pistol to frighten McLaren after McLaren, in a drunken rage, threatened him. He said that as McLaren lunged at him, the weapon discharged.

Mr. Justice G. A. Urquhart told the jury:

"I do not entirely agree with your verdict. I might have brought in a different verdict myself. The grounds, however, were rather technical."

A Close Call

Turning to Springall, he said: "The jury found you not guilty. You have had a close call. It is hardly likely you could have been found guilty of murder, but you might have been found guilty of manslaughter. The testimony of your friends helped you greatly."

Scores of friends and neighbors many of whom gave character evidence on Springall's behalf, crowded into the Springall home on Thursday night to offer congratulations.

Interviewed in his kitchen, Springall said:

"What I have been through is all the more shocking to me and my family because I have always had a good reputation and in view of my honorable service in the British Army."

Find 3 More Sources Of Atomic Energy

VANCOUVER, Oct. 8 — (CP). — Three more sources of atomic energy have been found in British Columbia. The province's minister of mines—R. C. Macdonald—announced the discovery of the radio-active minerals last night.

He says it will take some time to complete tests showing the extent and value of the discoveries. But he admitted that some of them look promising.

The latest finds are in the black placer sands of the Fraser valley; in samples of ore sent in from Hazelton, near Prince Rupert; and in samples of ore sent in from an unknown source.

His announcement follows discovery of uranium ore earlier this year in property near Gun lake, in the Bridge river distict.

Backers Confident Thos. Dewey Elected President November 2

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (CP).—Optimistic backers of Republican candidate Thomas E. Deway are confident he will be elected President Nov. 2 — but they are not as sure that he will have a friendly Congress at his side.

There is a real possibility that Democrats may snatch back control of the Senate which they lost in the 1946 Congressional elections.

That would put Dewey, if he wins, in much the same predicament that President Truman has been enduring the last two years.

A gain of only four seats would give the Democrats a majority in the 96-seat Senate, and they are fighting hard for those seats.

The present standing is 51 Republicans to 45 Democrats. Senators are elected for six years and one-third of the seats are contested every two years.

Of the 32 seats vacated this year, 18 are held by Republicans and 14 by Democrats. But, of the latter, only four are outside the solid South where Democratic Congressmen are likely to win.

Democrat Hopes

Democrats have their hopes pinned on four States in particular: Oklahoma, West Virginia, Kentucky and Wyoming. They have a fighting chance to gain seats in other States as well.

In Oklahoma, the veteran oil millionaire, Republican Senator E. H. Moore, is retiring from politics. The Democrats have put up a strong candidate in former Governor Robert S. Kerr, and the State has always been strongly Democratic.

West Virginia is normally Democratic and its Republican Senator, Chapman Revercomb, is strongly opposed by former Senator Matthew Neely.

Democratic Challenger

Another former Governor, Lester Hunt, is the Democratic challenger in Wyoming against Senator E. V. Robertson. Hunt has been a capable vote-getter in the past, even in times of Republican landslides in his State.

Kentucky's Republican Senator, John S. Cooper, is opposed by Virgil Chapman, and Kentucky usually goes Democratic.

The Democrats also say they hope to beat young Senator Joseph Ball, Minnesota Republican. He opposed Dewey's nomination as the party's candidate in 1944, when Dewey lost to Franklin Roosevelt, and has been at odds with his party a number of times since.

They are also making a strong fight to win an Illinois seat from Republican Senator C. Wayland Brooks, putting up a popular young war veteran and former University Professor, Paul Douglas.

Civic Medical Staff Urges Completion Of Hospital To 265 Beds

A deputation from the medical staff of Civic Hospital submitted to the special hospital committee of the council on Thursday night a statement of reasons for the completion of the new hospital in full complement of 265 beds.

It outlined the views of the doctors from their every-day experience in the treatment of patients, and an opinion of hospital requirements for the community of Peterborough.

The presentment was read by Dr. R. S. Chenoweth, chairman of the committee and chief of the medical staff.

To the City Council of the City of Peterborough:

The medical staff of the Peterborough Civic Hospital are approaching the City Council, because they believe that the entire present planned Civic Hospital of 265 beds should be completed at the same time as the present portion, which is under construction.

There are many reasons why the medical staff believe as they do. Some of them are outlined below.

1.—Bed capacity will be inadequate without completion of the whole structure: From a medical point of view, we have seen patients greatly inconvenienced because of serious lack of hospital-bed accommodation under the present arrangement at the Peterborugh Civic Hospital. Considering the fact that it is desirable to have all patients (Isolation, obstetrical, and other general medical and surgical) under one roof, there will be approximately only 40 additional beds in the new hospital withouts its full completion. From the point of view of bed capacity, we would not be in a greatly improved situatino. This is being increasingly important by a steady increased demand for hospitalization, because of the many hospitalization schemes coming into effect, plus the lack of adequate housing facilities for care at home.

2.—Cost of running three separate widespread institutions: In order to have adequate bed capacity for all types of illness, it will not be possible to close the Queen Mary and the present Civic Hospital, if the new Civic Hospital is not completed to its full capacity. It would seem economically sound over a period of years to have all patients under one roof in a new, efficiently operated structure.

3.—Additional expense attached to building at a later date: It would seem reasonable that all other things being equal, that it should be less expensive to build additional space, if required, while a building was in the process of erection. The reasons for this are obvious and need not be outlined in detail.

4.—Additional help in building is forthcoming from both the province and the Dominion Government at the present time: We know that this help is available now. What changes will take place in the future, we do not know. We understand that St. Joseph's Hospital has acquired a priority in available grants by the Provincial Government for new hospital beds in this area. If the number to be subsidized is sufficiently restricted, it is possible that Provincial subsidy for 52 beds of the 265-bed Civic Hospital might not be forthcoming. We feel that should this occur, it would be unfair to the Peterborough Civic Hospital and the citizens of Peterborough as a whole, and that it should be investigated.

5.—Civic Hospital occupies an important place in all present and future civic projects: We as citizens of Peterborough, feel that the City Council should be imbued with sufficient civic pride to energetically pursue the original project of providing a 265-bed hospital for this growing city. Then, industry, newcomers to this area, as well as our own citzens, can be assured that good and adequate hospitalization is available in Peterborough.

All of the above is respectfully submitted by the Medical Staff of the Peterborough Civic Hospital, as represented by the Medical and Surgical Advisory Committee."

UK Debt Cut By 201 Million

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(AP).—The release of £50,100,000 ($201,000,000) of American aid "counterpart" funds to reduce the British national debt was announced simultaneously today here and in London.

The "counterpart" money is a special account in which Britain deposits sums equivalent to the dollar aid furnished by the Economic Co-operation Administration.

By agreement between the two countries, the pounds will be used to pay off short-term notes of the British Government held by the Bank of England.

The funds thus will "do double duty in holding the line against inflation," said Thomas K. Finletter, chief of the ECA mission to Britain.

The original shipments of recovery goods relieve price pressures, Finletter explained, by making more goods available in relation to the amount of money in circulation.

In addition, he said, the use of the counterpart money to reduce the public debt "again helps resist inflationary pressure on the monetary side" by reducing the volume of money in the hands of the public.

THE U.S. ARMY has released this picture of an exhibit the Third Army found in dread Buchenwald concentration camp in 1945, as it sought to ascertain whether there are other charges which can be levelled against Frau Ilse Koch, widow of the Buchenwald commandant, whose life sentence was recently reduced to four years, most of which have already been served. In photo, left, are human heads shrunken to miniature size. In centre are stencilled and tatooed human skin. One of the most vicious charges against the woman was that she had collected tattooed human skin from people who perished in the camp and fashioned the skin into lamp shades. Gets 2 Years For Slaying

PRINCE GEORGE, B. C., Oct. 8—(CP)— Gustav Wiegner of Dayton, Ohio, who was swept with a "sex surge" after he slew John McComas on the lonely Alaska Highway, today was en route to British Columbia's Oakdale prison farm to serve two years less a day for manslaughter.

The 24 year old salesman charged with murder in the shooting death of his 52-year-old fellow townsman, was convicted on the lesser charge late Thursday night after an assize court jury deliberated three hours. Mr. Justice Norman Whittaker pronounced sentence.

Louise McComas, 13, the dead man's green-eyed daughter, charged during the two-day trial that Wiegner had forced her to remove her sweater, lower her slacks and subjected her to indecent treatment after he emerged from the highway bushlands where her father's body lay.

Wiegner, denied, and the blonde girl agreed, that he did not have intimate relations with her. "She knew what I wanted and pleaded with me: 'Think of your wife and my daddy .... I have my own life ahead of me,'" Wiegner related. Wiegner said he made the advances after he accidentally shot McComas while hunting squirrels.

The rifle used by Wiegner at the time of the shooting, Aug. 9, was given him by McComas as part of the fare to Alaska for himself and Louise. The girl was to attend school once they reached Alaska.

Urge Premiers To Meet Every 2 Years

LONDON, Oct. 8—(Reuters).—British Commonwealth Prime Ministers would meet in different Commonwealth capitals every two years under a tentative plan expected to be discussed at next week's talks among Commonwealth Premiers in London.

The plan, understood to have been provisionally discussed in various Commonwealth quarters, visualizes also an annual Commonwealth conference at Foreign-Minister level and a full-dress Commonwealth conference every 10 years.

The full-dress conference alone would take major decisions requiring the ratification by Commonwealth parliaments.

A meeting of British Cabinet Ministers Thursday gave the final touches to the arrangement for next week's meeting of the Commonwealth Premiers.

The conference proper will open Monday with an exhaustive economic survey by Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who is returning by air after economic discussions with the United States Treasury and Canadian Government leaders.

His speech may be published, though this can be done only with the approval of all the Commonwealth statesmen attending the conference.

Plenary sessions Tuesday and Wednesday are expected to be devoted to international affairs and defence.

Prime Minister Attlee, as chairman of the Cabinet Defence Committee, will make the main speech on this subject.

Security Inquiry In Australia

CANBERRA, Oct. 8—(CP). — The Federal Government has begun one of its biggest security probes and in doing so has started a political squabble that has displaced the Berlin crisis as front-page news in Australia.

The probe started Sept. 30 after Arthur W. Fadden, leader of the Country party—conservative in outlook—quoted from two confidential documents, one purporting to record a London meeting between Prime Minister Chifley of Australia and the British Cabinet July 8 and the other said to be a record of a meeting of the executive council for scientific and industrial research.

Fadden told the House of Representatives that the first document showed that Chifley told the British Cabinet that he understood the United States would not pass on atomic research secrets to Australia.

Thursday security police visited Fadden at his office in Parliament House here but they refused to continue inquiries when Fadden called in the press. Later in the House Fadden claimed a gross breach of privilege but was ruled out of order by the Speaker.

May Lose Gas Ration

LONDON, Oct. 8—(Reuters).—Britain's 2,000,000 motorists may lose their gasoline ration for the winter months, it was learned on Thursday. It is felt that the Government may be compelled to suspend the gasoline ration, now enough for 90 miles a month, because of the heavy gasoline drain caused by the Berlin air lift and the increased needs of Britain's armed forces.

Hard-Working President Another 'Happy Warrior'

By CLYDE BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (CP).—They used to call Al Smith "The Happy Warrior" of United States politics. One of these days some one will coin a phrase like that to describe Harry S. Truman.

Truman entered the current campaign as Democratic candidate for re-election as President with the cards stacked against him, an under-dog Presidential candidate if there ever was one. He went into it smiling, wise-cracking, confident and serene.

The Wallace Progressives were dragging away at his normal Leftist and Liberal support. The Southern Democrats had deserted in force and even wiped his name off the ballot in one state. Public opinion polls and the great bulk of newspapers were against him. Campaign donations were scanty and the party treasury was low.

Beyond all that loss of normal support, Truman was facing an office-hungry, rejuvenated Republican Party with two able candidates and a two-year-old grip on the House of Representatives and Senate which they seemed certain to extend to the White House after 16 years' Democratic occupancy. Truman was bound, shackled, and weighed down with handicaps, but no one would know it to see him, talk to him, and hear his confident "We will give 'em hell" promise as he started away on his appeal for the American people's votes.

Man of the People

Truman is a man of the people. He was born in humble circumstances, had a high school education, went to war and did all right, coming home as a cavalry major, was a small town business man and a county judge. Then, through the friendship of political boss Tom Prendergast of Kansas City, he got a shot at the United States Senate and won election easily.

By hard work and a deep interest in government affairs Truman succeeded as a Senator and got the chairmanship of a committee set up to watch government expenditures during the Second World War.

That made him a big shot. The brass hats and top government officials, some of them millionaire dollar-a-year men, squirmed before him and his associates investigating expenditures of the public money.

But he never really got high-hat and he did not make important enemies. He did make a lot of friends and it has been said his committee saved the United States from a lot of expensive mistakes in wartime.

During her husband's 10 years in Washington as Senator, Mrs. Truman did their own housework in a modest five-room apartment where they lived with their only child Margaret. There was no change when he was elected as Vice-President in 1944. He still helped Mrs. Truman with the dishes.

President Roosevelt's death snatched them into the White House April 12, 1945, and probably no more humble and reluctant family ever took up residence in that old mansion.

Homespun President

Except for Margaret's tentative plunge into an operatic career, the family has remained humble and homespun and Truman has retained the same gusty enthusiasm for friends of the days when he was a haberdasher as for the greatest in the universe who come to his as President of the United States.

He worked a farm in his native Independence, Mo., near where he was born 64 years ago, worked as a bank clerk, did many odd jobs and lost $20,000 in a haberdashery store partnership after getting out of the Army.

Truman married his childhood sweetheart, Bess Wallace, whom he met at Sunday School class and grade school. He is proud of his daughter Margaret, and they are great pals. It is known that he would have liked a son too.

Recently a Canadian resident correspondent in Washington took his son, a cub reporter on a Canadian paper, to a White House press conference. Afterwards he introduced his son to the President.

Truman greeted the young reporter heartily, then the smile left his face and his eyes lost their usual twinkle. Seriously he looked at the older Canadian and said: "It must be a grand feeling to have a fine son at your elbow."

Truman took office at a critical time in the world's history and crisis has piled on crisis since. He has given his work everything a sober, intelligent, God-fearing, every-day man could give. It is unlikely anyone will ever accuse him of insincerity or self-seeking.

1941 Fluid Drive* on Custom models — still the lowest-priced car with this quality feature.

1941 Safety Rim Wheels — for blowout safety.

1942 Super-cushion tires fitted as standard equipment on all models — to produce an even smoother ride for Dodge owners.

Add to this outstanding engineering record the style and comfort that have always been combined in Dodge . . . restful chair-high seats — ample head and leg room — wide doors and many other comfort features . . . You'll understand why Dodge owners say: "Dodge is First with me!"

Use New Engine On U.S. Bombers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (CP)—The United States air force announced Wednesday a new combination propeller and jet engine which it said will enable bombers to fly farther, faster and higher.

Power delivered to the propeller shaft in the new engine will be increased from 3,500 horsepower in existing types to more than 4,000 horsepower. In addition, "several hundred pounds of jet thrust" will be added by using a variable discharge nozzle.

A pound of thrust equals one horsepower when the airplane is flying 375 miles an hour.

The new engine increases efficiency and adds power by putting exhaust gases to work. Roughly, it does this: the exhaust is used to operate a turbine compressor which forces air into the piston engine. That eliminates a gear-driven compressor or impeller which used up about at least 500 horsepower and makes that power available to the propeller shaft.

The gases which pass the turbine wheel are then directed through an exhaust nozzle with a variable opening, so that speed of the exhaust can be changed to give it the most efficiency. The action is like that of an ordinary jet engine, but is improved through use of the variable nozzle. Such nozzles are being developed also for pure jet engines.

More Fuel For Furnaces This Winter—Cost More Too

By The Canadian Press

There will be more fuel for Canadian furnaces this winter — but it's going to cost more money.

And the man with an oil burner will get enough fuel oil, if he goes to the same dealer as last year.

All across the Dominion, fuel prices have joined the parade of rising prices, but generally there won't be a repetition of last winter's coal shortage, a Canadian Press survey showed.

The survey indicated regional coal shortages may develop in western Canada. But in the east the supply was improved.

Canadian coal production durinng the first eight months of 1948 was more than 2,000,000 tons higher than in the same period of 1947. Imports increased by more than 1,500,000 tons.

Many dealers said they were having trouble filling orders, but blamed it on the refusal of householders to heed warnings to buy coal in the summer. They said home-owners, hard-hit by heavy fuel bills last winter, were trying to postopne fuel-buying as long as possible.

Freight Boost Effect

Price boosts were attributed to mounting production and transportation costs— the 21-per-cent freight rate boost last April added up to 25 cents a ton to coal costs. Generally, coal will cost $1.50 to $3 a ton more than last year.

Increased refinery capacity in Ontario indicated more fuel oil for the province. Toronto dealers said they had obtained more coal than last year, possibly because the United States is exporting less coal to Europe.

Ontario supplies might disappear, dealers warned, during a sudden cold snap accompanied by heavy snowfalls which would make it impossible to replace stocks quickly.

Ottawa reported prepared stoker coals, acutely scarce last winter, probably would be difficult to find this year. But they would be able to meet most general coal orders.

Little coke was available for domestic consumers in Toronto, with most of the available supply earmarked for steel mills. A shortage of popular-sized anthracite also was reported, but dealers said substitutes were available.

In the Windsor area, many people have shifted from coke to anthracite, as a result of increases in coke prices, creating occasional shortages. Most householders in the district had coal stocks, but fuel oil dealers were refusing to take on new customers.

North Bay reported shortages of better grades of soft coal, while Owen Sound fuel dealers said they did not anticipate any fuel shortages, despite the high demand in the district. Many Galt residents filled their coal bins in the summer while in Kitchener, good supplies were available of all types of coal but stove size.

London reported plentiful supplies of coal and coke with fewer people converting to oil-burning equipment because of fuel oil shortages. Almost all types of coal were available at Stratford and dealers said the quality had improved over that of last year.

Joins Canadian Army

MONTREAL, Oct. 8 (CP)—A young British war veteran, so determined to join the Canadian Army that he paid a substantial sum for permission to leave the British Army, was welcomed into the Canadian Armed Forces Wednesday by Maj.-Gen. R. O. G. Morton, general officer commanding, Quebec command. The 25-year-old Londoner, Frank Babb, will be stationed with the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers at Ottawa where his wife is awaiting him.

Farmer Snares Pesky Wolves

NORTH BAY, Oct. 8—(CP)—He brings 'em back alive—with his bare hands.

Oza Mayers, of Mattawa, 40 miles east of here, is rapidly making a name for himself as a wolf-tamer.

Right now his barn houses three wild wolves. They are chained to different corners of the building.

Oza's wolf-taming began almost accidentally. When 20 pigs and two sows were mutilated at Hawkesbury Farm, near Snake Creek, he resolved to set snares for the wolves. But when they attacked a horse, gorged themselves on a hind quarter, leaving the animal to bleed to death, he really went into action.

Already he has snared three of the beasts. And with wrestling and clubbing he has managed to bring them back to his home.

The future of the animals is in doubt. The Mayers would like an opportunity to exhibit them, but tempting offers for their sale have been received.

Oza's friends feel he has more courage than wisdom in keeping the animals alive at his home. But the game is beginning to have a fascination for him and his strange collection is growing.

McGahey was arrested by city police but he claimed he was travelling on a green light. The impact pushed the heavy ambulance up on the lawn at the corner, and damage to the side of the vehicle was extensive. It was able to proceed on the call.

All the hardware merchants have unanimously agreed to stay open, one hardware proprietor said.

Council declared a Civic Holiday at its October meeting Monday.

She was accused of making lamp shades of the skin of persons killed at Buchenwald.

No Monopoly On Uranium Weaver Tells Kinsmen Club

"We must not delude ourselves into thinking that we have a strangle-hold on the world's supply of uranium. It is all over the earth's crust, and presumably Russia has lots of it." Douglas B. Weaver, MA, of the Nephaline Mines, and who has taken a prominent part in the recent discovery and development of uranium deposits in Haliburton and Peterborough counties, made this statement Thursday evening. He was guest speaker at the meeting of the Kinsmen Club.

Stressing the fact that no one country has a monopoly on the natural supply of the basis of atomic weapons, he added: "We can only hope that Russia does not have the know-how by which this material can be transferred into atomic bombs.

The speaker, who has had an extensive career as geologist in Canada and the United States, gave his audience a non-technical picture of the general properties and processes of radio-active ore, aided by samples of ore and a Geiger counter which he used to demonstrate his talk.

Wild Conjecture

He had something to say as well regarding wild conjectures of the application of atomic energy to commercial and private use.

"The problem today is to control this reaction chain. So far there is no commercial plan operating on this basis. We have all heard and read many fantastic prophecies about driving around in atom-powered cars within five year."

'In the first place, you would need at least 50 tons of concrete in that car to protect yourself . . . atomic power may be used within our lifetime to heat huge institutions or to light cities or some similar large-scale projects. But it will not be possible to harness it to individual sized power units for many years to come."

Mr. Weaver emphasized throughout his address the importance of the Peterborough area in the Canadian metal production picture, paying particular attention to the recent sensational finds of uranium in the Wilberforce district.

The plant of the speaker's company near Blue Mountain, he said, is the only commercial producer of nephelene in the world outside of Russia and a development in India.

He outlined briefly the methods used by the Geiger counter in locating deposits of the vital uranium. He demonstrated the counter's sensitivity to radio-active material solely by bringing some one in nearness to the instrument.

Mr. Weaver, although giving some detail of the find at Wilberforce, explained that detailed results of assay tests of that ore could not be given as the project was still operating under war-time secrecy restrictions. Showing some samples of ore from the Lake St. Peter district (north of Bancroft), he said: "The tonnage there is terrific."

'We have in Peterborough area, gentlemen, something of great value not only from a business point of view. It is vital in the part it may play in our future and that of our children. These deposits are vital in the case of war, which we all hope will not come."

Following his address, Mr Weaver was questioned by the Kinsmen and their guests on many phases of the Wilberforce find and the general nature of uranium. The samples and materials brought with him were closely examined with interest.

Mr. Weaver was introduced by Ed Henwood and thanks of the club were expressed by Gil Putnam.

Kin President Stan Gilmore was chairman of the meeting.

123 Dogs Destroyed By Humane Society

In his monthly report to the Peterborough Humane Society on Thursday night, Inspector Gerald Dunford revealed that 116 cats and 123 dogs had been painlessly put to death by the Society.

There was only one outstanding case of cruelty: a cat was locked in a city mail box and had to be extricated by the inspector.

A valuable setter dog that had been missing for about six weeks was restored to its owner. The dog was originally being taken to its owner by car, but leaped from the vehicle and all trace was lost of it. When finally picked up it was still in good physical condition having apparently found at least a small amount of food.

A number of letters of appreciation were received from the various delegates who attended the annual Ontario SPCA meeting which was held in Peterborough, September 17 and 18. Some claimed it was the most outstanding and enjoyable convention that the Association has yet held.

But the real salute to Peterborough was the request of one Toronto resident for the local society to try and find him an apartment here. He was so impressed with Peterborough that he wanted to pack his bags and leave the Queen City.

Car Hits Guardrail Driver Injured

Skidding on the wet pavement shortly after Thursday midnight, a car struck and broke off two guard rails on Otonabee St., caused slight injury to the driver and considerable damage to the vehicle. The driver was Joseph W. Bradshaw of RR 1, South Monaghan. The accident happened on Otonabee St. (No. 7 Highway), near Short St., when Bradshaw suddenly applied his brakes to avoid hitting another car emerging from Short St. He received an injury to his wrist.

In breaking off the two posts, the car received damage to its trunk, tire, fender, two doors, hood and radiator grill.

PC C. J. McGillen investigated.

Freak Piglet

Power Cut Off 41 Hours Disrupts Whole Village

BANCROFT, Oct. 8 (ENS) — On top of a province-wide power shortage, Bancroft citizens were victims of a prolonged blackout caused by a power plant breakdown. Coils burned out of the large generator at the York River power site on Wednesday and Reeve P. A. Keller phoned for parts which arrived with two machinists 7 p.m. Thursday. After working nearly 12 hours power came on again today at 6.30 a.m.

The outpost Canadian Red Cross Hospital rented a Delco plant. Some garage operators resorted to small gasoline-driven power plants and butchers shipped their perishable meat stocks to freezing plants in the surrounding district. Restaurant owners shipped ice cream stocks back to dairies in Peterborough and news about the whole situation got out as Reginald Blatherwick powered his telephone conversation with a small standard generator set.

1,036 Registered At PCVS Night School

Approval by the Board of Education was given on Thursday night to the report of the advisory vocational committee recommending that Art, Upper School Academic subjects, and psychology be added to the list of night school subjects.

Insufficient space, lack of funds, and the contention that handicrafts are more in the hobby class than the educational, were given as reasons for turning down the request from the recreation commission to include weaving, leather work, pottery and art metal work on the night school curriculum.

"I'm a little surprised to see that these handicraft classes are regarded as hobbies," said W. B. Gordon. "The Department of Education has given grants for these."

Keith S. Wightman, superintendent of schools, said that the main consideration in turning down the request was the lack of funds. "I feel that for this year we should not touch it," he said.

G. W. Craw asked that a report on the extent to which the Morrow Trust scholarship fund for needy children is being utilized, be submitted by the end of the year. And he asked specifically that a financial statement be submitted on the funds available each year.

Increase Of 90

Mr. Wightman in his September report said that night school enrolments were up over last year. His latest figures showed that 995 resident students have registered and 41 non-resident, making a total of 1,036—90 more than the previous year.

Sewing classes were particularly popular, he said, with 200 registered and another 100 who have made application. Because of the large number who wish to take this class he recommended that the home economics room at Central School be used for a night school sewing class. This was approved by the Board.

Because of the overcrowding in Grade 2, a new room has been opened at Confederation School. It is reported that this has helped to relieve the junior room at Grove School. Mrs. Elsie Lawrence has been placed in charge of the new room with her salary set for the balance of the year at $17 a month.

A grant of $25 to both the girls' athletic society and the boys' athletic society at PCVS was approved. It will go toward expenses of the field day held on Wednesday.

Accept Tender

The board received the report of the property committee on the renovation of upper south rooms of the administration building which will be used for auto mechanic classes. The tender of Grant and Loucks amounting to $276.97 for wiring installations was carried on a motion by F. H. Jobbitt and W. B. Gordon.

Herbert McFee's appointment as janitor at PCVS was confirmed. His salary, according to schedule, was retroactive to Oct. 1.

The board gave Mr. Wightman a free hand to make arrangements for the part school children will play in the reception of the Governor-General when he comes to Peterborough.

Dr. R. C. Honey asked C. S. Browne to pass along the commendation of the Board on Lloyd Hale's decision to take students to Toronto to see Shakespearean plays. Mr. Hale, head of the English department at PCVS, organized trips to see Macbeth and Hamlet, currently playing at Eaton Auditorium. The board concurred unanimously.

Mrs. F. W. K. Harris, board chairman, welcomed A. E. Borland to his seat at the Board of Education. Mr. Borland fills a vacancy that was created by the death this summer of the late D. V. Canning. The new member was placed on appointments, supervisory, and advisory vocational committees.

The death occurred suddenly of Mrs. Harriett Johnson, at her home, 574 Division St. She was born at Bathurst, Ont., daughter of Joseph Osborne and his wife, Sarah Rodgers, and was the widow of Benjamin Johnson, who died a year ago.

Mrs. Johnson had resided in Peterborough 54 years. She was a member of George St. United church, and with the members of her family was well known in the city. She leaves her daughter Miss Leith Johnson at home, and son, Mr. Osborne Johnson, of Peterborough; and two sisters, Mrs. Jessie Curren of Buffalo, and Mrs. Fred J. Taylor of Vancouver.

The funeral will be Saturday at 1 p.m. from the Comstock Funeral Home to Little Lake cemetery. The service will be conducted by Rev. Dr. James Semple.

Board Refuses To Change Salary Schedule

Permission has been granted the Civic Arena Committee to circularize pamphlets in city schools advocating popular support for the new arena. Civic Arena week begins on October 18. Before the Board of Education would consent to this method of publicity it was assured that the school children would not be solicited for funds.

Two women teachers from PCVS asked the Board if it were reconsidering certain salary adjustments, which they claimed violated the policy of equal pay for equal work.

Commenting on this W. B. Gordon said that the increased salaries were given on a basis of the increased cost of living.

"The salary schedule was adopted at the beginning of the year and should not be departed from now," said G. W. Craw.

"That's an old question," said Dr. Carleton, "the principle of equal pay for equal work, and I'm sure we all agree to that."

It was finally decided that as the salary schedule had been fixed for the year it could not be altered at this time. A letter will be forwarded to the teachers to that effect.

Use of the Collegiate gymnasium was granted to the Outboard Marine Basketball team. The team asked for two nights a week, one night for practising and the other for scheduled games.

The PCVS Home and School Association was authorized to use the auditorium for its monthly meetings on the fourth Monday of each month, as in former years. A similar request for periodic meetings was given to the Women Teachers' Federation.

Permission was granted to the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion to tag the public school pupils and Collegiate students, previous to Poppy Day.

A letter will be forwarded to the Minister of Education informing him of the Board's willingness to co-operate on the matter of saving electrical power.

Gov't Grants On 85 Beds Hospital Bottleneck Board Learns From Council

"For the difference between $1,200,000 and $1,600,000, we can get the difference between 140 beds and 265 beds," said Ald. Gordon Armstrong in his summary Thursday night of the financing of the present stage of the new Civic Hospital as discussed by members of the Council and of the Board of Governors.

Ald Armstrong said those were approximate figures which impressed him as the crux of the deliberations.

"In that light the second proposition becomes the more attractive, and I feel that its economy would appeal to the ratepayers" was his comment.

The committee appointed a sub-committee of the two bodies to prepare a brief for presentation to the Federal and Provincial Departments of Health. Its members are: Mayor Ovens, Warden James Humphries, John R. Marshall, Ald. Max Swanston, T. T. Rodger, John Hornal, Ald. Dick Raine and City Clerk Outram.

Their assignment is to draft as complete a statement as possible of reasons why the government grants should be made on the basis of the original plans of the hospital for 265 beds.

The Council met as the special hospital committee with Ald. Raine chairman. The other members present were: Mayor Ovens, Ald. Swanston, Dodds, Armstrong, Young, D. Miller, Anglesey.

A motion by Ald. Hurrell Dodds and Ald. Herbert Young, reaffirmed the council's intention of completing the hospital as planned for 265 beds, and recommended the naming of a committee to present the city's case to the two Departments of Health.

Ald. Doug Miller moved an amendment that action be deferred until all the members of the council might be present next Tuesday night. Ald. P. J. Anglesey seconded it, but the others voted for the motion, including Ald. Raine, who as chairman of the committee did not have to vote on the question.

Essentially the purpose of the conference of the Governors of the Hospital and the special hospital committee of the council Thursday night was to discuss financing plans for the final stage of the hospital.

Expect $360,000

Ald. Raine read a recent letter from the Hon. Russell Kelley, Ontario's Minister of Health, announcing approval of a provincial grant of $1,000 a bed on the basis of 180 beds with a similar contribution from the Dominion government. That was $180,000 from each government, amounting to $360,000.

The Minister acknowledged that previous approval had been given for 265 beds in Peterborough's new hospital, and for the needs of the city and district it was then understood that St. Joseph's Hospital planned a wing of 52 beds. These enlargements of Peterborough's hospital service were regarded at the time as adequate for the needs of the city and district.

However, the provincial department made a survey here last year, and its report recommended 180 beds for approval. They were for active cases of illness. For chronic cases it has been suggested that they could be taken care of in the last built wing of the former Nicholls Hospital, and that possibly it would be acquired by the province and equipped as a hospital for chronic patients from a wide area of eastern On-

Around the Minister's letter, its facts and implications, the discussion centred for several hours.

John Marshall recalled that in 1943 a commission was appointed by the Ontario Department of Health to investigate hospital accommodation and needs. The estimate for Peterborough then was 383 beds. By 1953, "of which we are now on the heels," Peterborough would require 425 beds, on the basis of the previous report. Looking forward to 1953, Mr. Marshall said that "if we build for 265 beds, and St. Joseph's Hospital has then 152, this community will be short of the 425 beds which should be anticipated.

"It was on that basis that our original committee based its fig-

Take Newcomers Away From Reds IODE Advised

During the dinner hour Wednesday, IODE members attending the Provincial Chapter meeting in the Empress Hotel were entertained by Ralph Fraser, pianist, and Mr. Donald Landry, baritone. Mrs. R. R. Baker was Mr. Landry' accompanist.

Mrs. Ryland H. New, CBE, honorary vice-president of National Chapter, IODE, spoke briefly on invitation by Mrs. C. L. Brown, chairman. Her message concerned the Displaced Persons coming into Canada who are offered the rights and privileges of Canadian citizens. "We want them to have these if they are the right kind of people for Canada" she said. "But I do think that coupled with these rights should be 'responsibilities of a Canadian citizen'."

"They should not be allowed to come here and earn a living, enjoy shelter and refuge from ill treatment and be otherwise "spoon-fed". They must be made to accept in the right way the same responsibilities that we accept as British subjects." If there is failure in guiding these people in the right paths, they will be found joining with the "people who make capital of our mistakes, and I refer to the Communist element which is so prevalent in this country," Mrs. New declared.

"Communism is a bitter, vicious thing that we have to fight, and we will have to fight it for the rest of our lives so we might as well make up our minds to it." Mrs. New said IODE members must take the newcomers to Canada away from those people who are trying to destroy them, and have done so to their families in their native countries.

In conclusion, Mrs. New said: "Let us work so hard on the fund for the Province of Ontario War Memorial that we will have it finished up very soon."

Part-Time Law School Said Poor Substitute

MONTREAL, Oct. 8 (CP)—Dr. Sidney E. Smith, president of the University of Toronto, said here Wednesday that part-time law schools tend to turn out "a near-sighted and narrow-minded practitioner."

"To assimilate legal principles and to absorb knowledge of the individuals and the society for whom these principles have been evolved, the law student should devote his full time to lectures, clinics and study," he said in a Founder's Day address at McGill University where he received an honorary doctorate.

"Professional schools in medicine, dentistry, engineering and forestry—to mention only a few—have discovered that part-time education of their students is ineffective and unsuccessful.

"There are, however, night law schools in the United States, and some law schools in Canada, which, in their faith in the benefits of concurrent attendance at the classroom, the library and the office, command only the partial interest and poor attention of their students.

Wells Are Dry In Most Places

One of the driest autumns in Glengarry agricultural records has been relieved here and there across the province with rains at the weekend, as reflected in the weekly review of the Ontario Dpartment of Agriculture.

With the exception of those areas whose ground thirsts were not slaked, Ontario farmers are feeding winter rations to their livestock. Around St. Catharines, according to the Lincoln county report, pastures have become nothing more than exercise grounds. Cattle comb them for grass, and return hungry to the barns. Wells are going dry in Hastings county.

Most of the silo filling has been finished. In Lambton excess corn is being stooked on nearly every farm.

Husking corn is ripening well, and crops are excellent in Middlesex; and in Lambton "the biggest crop we have harvested in years." Several of the eastern counties report heavy grain corn returns.

Red clover seed has ranged from two to five bushels to the acre in Lambton. Potato prices are disappointing. Dufferin county reports 90 cents to $1. Some Halton farmers are still sowing fall wheat. The majority of farmers in Glengarry are stable feeding their cows.

Demand for purebred cattle continues strong across the province. Middlesex comment is "outstanding prices for the various dairy breeds." Fall wheat is described as patchy, but some of the comments are quite favorable.

McIntosh Red apples have been picked in Northumberland and are in storage. Some Elberta peaches have profited by the cool weather, and are still coming from the trees. Victoria says the land is in good shape for the plowing match.

Scotland Yard Ends Black Market Inquiry

LONDON, Oct. 8 — (CP) — Scotland Yard approached today the end of a six-month investigation into alleged big-scale black market deals in scarce commodities.

The Lord Chancellor, who ordered the probe, was reported planning to discuss the report with Prime Minister Attlee, as a probable preliminary to a cabinet review and likely inquiry later in the House of Commons.

Government sources said the probe involved diversion to the domestic market of hundreds of thousands of pounds of scarce material designed for export.

Appoint Committees At Friendly Society

NORTH SMITH, Oct. 8—(ENS)—Forty members of the People's Friendly Society met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pavey recently. Mr. Kenneth Stewart presided. Singing of familiar old hymns was enjoyed. Mrs. Gerald Harrison read the lesson and commentary. Readings were given by Mr. Harold Pearson and Mrs. Rufus Bullock. Musical numbers were given by Miss E. Meiklejohn, Mrs. J. A. Northey and Mr. Charlie Pavey.

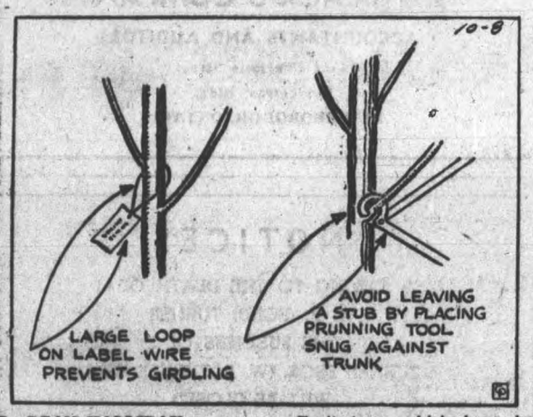
In the business period Mesdames H. Junkin and P. Bullock were appointed a lunch committee. Miss Lenore Armstrong was voted treasurer of the society. Mr. C. Northey offered his home for the next meeting with A. Cauley and C. Pavey the program committee. A friendship circle and prayer concluded the meeting. Refreshments were served and a socail time enjoyed by all present.

Reserve Judgment

TORONTO, Oct. 8 — (CP) — The Ontario Labor Relations Board reserved judgment Wednesday on an application by the St. Catharines local of the United Steel Workers Union (CIO-CCL) for certification as bargaining agent for more than 650 workers of the English Electric Co., at St. Catharines. Employees of the company are working under a contract between the United Electrical Workers (CIO-CCL).

YOUR GARDEN . . .

Pointers On Winter Pruning



By DEAN HALLIDAY

Even for the home gardener who has only a few fruit trees, pruning is—or should be—an important fall or winter chore. And as long as you make the effort to prune your fruit trees, few or many, make sure you are doing it right.

The first rule in all pruning operations is to remove all dead, decaying, bruised, or diseased wood. The age, size and conditions of a tree determines just how much pruning is required. It is usually best, however, to do a thorough as well as a careful job while you are at it. Too little pruning can be more harmful than too much, as a general rule.

Newly planted apple, peach, pear and cherry trees in the Freedom garden will require very little pruning at the end of the first year, if they were properly trimmed back when planted.

Fruit trees which have been making growth for several years should be carefully checked over. Branches which are crossing over other branches should be cut out. Such trees should be pruned to form spreading, open heads.

Pruning shears should be sharp. When snipping off a limb, the pruning tool should be placed snugly against the trunk of the tree, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. This will result in a clean cut, instead of leaving a stub which is apt to become a starting point for decay and disease.

If labels were wired on to your young fruit trees when they were set out, check now to make sure that the wires are not choking the growing tree. Remove the label as each tree trunk increases in size, or else enlarge the wire loops as illustrated, to guard against girdling.

Federal Hearing Nearing End On Power Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8—(AP)—A Federal Power Commission hearing on New York State's application to join in harnessing the electrical energy of the St. Lawrence river neared an end today.

The Commission was told Wednesday that the joint Canada-United States project could be readily financed through issue of about $270,000,000 in revenue bonds.

All remaining witnesses were called for an afternoon session. The hearing opened Monday.

Archibald N. Galloway, a former deputy controller of New York State, told the Commission that, in his opinion, no difficulties would be encountered in issuing the revenue bonds at an interest rate of 3 per cent.

Galloway, now retained by the State Power Authority, the agency which would be responsible for the huge development, said a syndicate of 100 investment bankers is prepared to consider the proposed financing when the bonds are ready for the market.

He said Lehman Brothers, an underwriting firm, had informed the Authority that it believes the development could produce adequate revenues to meet interest charges and repay the total cost within 40 years.

New York's share of the cost would be matched by the province of Ontario. Benefits, estimated at an annual 12,600,000,000 kilowatts would be divided equally.

Wide Variety Noted In Lumber Price

OTTAWA, Oct. 8 — (CP) — Wide variations in lumber prices, with differences of $14 a thousand feet between cities 125 miles apart, were found by the Prices Commission in the first two days of its lumber investigation.

The sample prices which the commission has obtained from retailers both on the stand and through questionnaires showed Wednesday that Ottawa and Toronto, with spruce 2x4s selling at $88 a thousand, have the country's highest prices.

An earlier witness testified that he sells the some wood in Montreal, 125 miles from Otawa, for $74 a thousand board feet.

Most of the sample prices came out through the schedulese presented by witnesses. Commission counsel H. A. Dyde produced the Toronto price from the answer to questionnaires although no Toronto retailer has been called.

Close behind the Toronto-Ottawa was the price quoted by Martin J. McDonald, president of the Thunder Bay Lumber Co. Ltd. of Port Arthur and Fort William. His records showed that spruce 2x4s sell theer for $85 a thousand.

The Ottawa price was quoted by D. Kemp Edwards, co-owner of D. Kemp Edwards Ltd. Mr. Dyde told both Mr. Edwards and Mr. McDonald that their price increasese since 1946 were among the country's biggest.

Mr. McDonald justified the Head of the Lakes price on the basis of the long freight hauls involved. Much of the Thunder Bay Lumber Co.'s spruce, he said, comes from Alberta, although some is bought from small operators nearby.

Ashamed To Be Canadian CSU Strike Leader Says

SARNIA, Oct. 8—(CP)—Mike Hornak, Canadian Seamen's Union strike leader being retried on a charge of illegally boarding Judge E. A. Shaunessy in County the SS Lethbridge on July 19, told Court Wednesday that he was ashamed to be a Canadian citizen.

Hornak's outburst followed a statement by Judge Shaunessy that he would recommend to Secretary of State Colin Gibson that Hornak's naturalization in 1935 be cancelled. Hornak came to Canada from Czechoslovakia.

The judge told the accused he would recommend the cancellation because Hornak had perjured himself while testifying as a witness in his own case. Perjury—lying under oath—was charged by Judge Shaunessy because of evasive answers given by Hornak.

In the witness stand, Hornak admitted being on the ship but under cross-examination by William Donohue, prosecuting for the Canada Steamship Lines, he claimed he could identify only Albert Jackson and Alex Black as having been on the deck of the ship with him during the boarding incident.

Hornak's appeal on a previous conviction of illegal boarding was dismissed by Judge Shaunessy, who confirmed the previous sentence of one year.

Similar appeals made by Albert Jackson and Alex Black, 19, on previous convictions of illegal boarding were also dismissed. Their sentences of six months each were confirmed.

Purge Everything Rule Now Across Poland

By LARRY ALLEN

WARSAW, Oct. 8 (AP).—Poland's two major political parties are mobilizing their forces with one sweeping order: "Purge Everything."

Thousands of agitators and organizers for the Communist workers and Left-wing Socialist parties are at work in every city, town, village and hamlet in Poland, cleaning out "all Rightists, Nationalists, and hostile elements."

The Communists want to absorb the Socialists before the end of the year and form a "United Workers Party" under the leadership of Poland's President Boleslaw Bierut.

President Bierut, taking over the secretary-generalship of the Communist party after the ouster of Vice-Premier Wladyslaw Gomulka, quickly set to work.

First Step

The ousting of Gomulka was the first step. The party's executive committee charged Gomulko had created a "harmful and dangerous crisis" by taking a line of "Rightist and Nationalistic deviation."

Gomulka later recanted and admitted his "errors." He's still in the part, but apparently the party leadership isn't trusting him to help repair the damage. The party has reposed that task in the hands of known "international Communists."

Communist and Socialist organizers had been ordered to push a "relentless, bitter class war" among the country's 15,000,000 peasants.

Communists and Socialists are daily appealing to small and medium farm owners to fight the "capitalists of the countryside" and so-called "rich peasants."

The "rich peasants" have been virutally barred from getting any of the $32,000,000 recently allocated to help small and medium peasants get what they need for their farm work. They have been barred from holding jobs on any socialized co-operative agency.

SAVED BY A TREE—Elderly Fletcher Cross shows how he was sitting when a runaway, driverless bus splintered his park bench. He probably owes his life to the sturdy elm that halted the careening vehicle in Halifax's Grafton Park. Mr. Cross escaped injury but admitted the experience was "hard on my shattered nerves."

Paper Claims New Zealand Losing The Will To Work

By C. J. GRAHAM

AUCKLAND, N.Z., Oct. 8 — CP)—Claims that the New Zealand government's all-embracing social security program, the 40-hour week, and the present super-abundance of jobs are reducing the will to work are being made with increasing frequency in New Zealand.

This view is forcibly put in the latest issue of Kiwi, journal of one of the Dominion's ex-servicemen's organizations. "Throughout our trade unions today there is a creeping paralysis," it declares. "Full employment and social security have removed the carrot no less than the stick.

"Nobody has to work hard today. So few do. There is no real discipline for the loafer, just as there is no real incentive for the willing worker.

"Already the cry has been raised: 'Back to the 40-hour week. If the workers of this country forfeit their cherished leisure they will have themselves to thank. At present we are not producing enough, or working hard enough in the 40-hour week to sustain our standard of life. Our national wealth is drying up because there are too many loafers on the job. That is why we cannot get homes built fast enough and farms opened up and returned men rehabilitated according to schedule.

"Government Betrayed"

We hate to see a people's government betrayed by loafers who regard an honest day's work as a stupid concession to the employer. We think it a bitter thing to find our people so well treated that they are losing their capacity for honest work."

Some business men fully endorse this view. They maintain that New Zealanders are losing the sturdy independence of character of the pioneers and under a system of cradle-to-grave state protection think they can spend their way to prosperity.

Other employers are less sweeping. They doubt if there is much basic change in the outlook to work, but think the current shortage of labor gives the loafer a temporary immunity he has not always enjoyed. Others think the lessening of margins between skilled and unskilled labor has had a bad effect but think that when sufficient incentive is offered the New Zealander of today will work as hard as his forefathers.

Haliburton Boy Moved UN To Paris

By ALAN HARVEY

PARIS, Oct. 8—(CP)—Ever try to telephone the Mediterranean island of Rhodes and wind up talking to Rhode Island, United States?

It happened in Paris. Burley, Canadian - born Byron Wood swears it did. As director of general services, one of the top-ranking jobs in the United Nations, wood knows all about administrative headaches around the Palis de Chaillot. When the world's peace organization decided to move to Paris, lock, stock and barrel, Wood's job involved all physical arrangements — supply, transport, maintenance and communications. With his 600-odd staff, he had to transfer secretariat members from Lake Success to Paris, ship 3,000 crates of materials, reserve rooms in 3,000 hotels, rent 250 automobiles and book 1,500 boat passages.

So far, he says, results are "pretty satisfactory." Eleyators broke down, telephones wouldn't work, teletype-writers had foreign keyboards, flags wouldn't go up, traffic was snarled for blocks —but the United Nations got to work Sept. 21 as scheduled, and that was the main thing.

Born 46 years ago "among the rocks" of Haliburton, Ont., grey-moustached, brown-haired Wood was recommended to the United Nations while serving as assistant deputy labor minister in Ottawa. Before that he's been, among other things, oil company representative in South America, editor of a University of Toronto monthly, automobile office manager in Toronto, director of manning for the RCAF and director of selective service.

$5,000,000 Job

Sometimes he wishes he were back in peaceful Ottawa. Apart from the telephone call that went astray—the French operator just said flatly there is no Island of Rhodes—the $5,000,000 job of moving and maintaining the United Nations was tough. There was the water problem.

Wood suggested water coolers. The French shrugged and said they drink wine instead. Wood persisted, and the United Nations got its water. At the opening meeting of the Security Council, two headwaiters in black jackets and white ties entered with three slightly less impeccable servitors. Each carried — one Carafe of water.

Now Wood has an empty bottle in his office and fills it with whatever happens to be available.

Flags? They didn't go up opening day. The banners of Afghanistan and Australia couldn't be found. Just before the deadline, somebody found the missing flags inside two unfurled ones. Then, it turned out, there were no appliances to hook the flags to the flag-poles.

Next day, rigged in position by UN staff members, the banners flew. They've been there ever since, instead of being hauled down as at Lake Success, because police and firemen say it isn't their job and the United Nations has other things to do.

Wood's worry now is guessing when—he estimates Dec. 15—the Third Assembly will call it a day. Before he leaves, he'd still like to convince a French telephone operator that there really is an Island of Rhodes.

BIG FISHING INDUSTRY

Great Britain's sea fishing industry is among the most important in the world.

Meant For Stew-Pot, Is Now Pet

MONTREAL, Oct. 8 — (CP) — This is one ship's mascot that has something to crow about.

When Chips went aboard the British freighter Daghestan in Calcutta, he was immediately earmarked for the stewing pot. That was more than six years ago and today Chips, a rooster, still has the run of the ship and the ports at which she touches.

Although Chips boarded the Daghestan by mistake and learned his error only when he was far out at sea, his curiosity has not been curbed. His enthusiasm to see the port of Montreal when the ship docked here almost cost him his life.

He got too near the ship's side and fell into the harbor. It took the crew three hours to fish him out. Now he leaves the vessel via the gangplank and does his strutting on the dock.

How come Chips is still aboard when he was to become a dinner six years ago?

The crew was too chicken-hearted to do the job.

He chose as the foundation for his message Psalm 96.

He stressed the fact that our Lord was the 'Lord of the Universe', that we should come unto Him bringing our gifts and worshipping Him. We cannot be half way with God. We want the touch of the King to make our lives "gold" for Him. Miss Alice Berry thanked the delegates and the guest speaker for being present and bringing their gifts—their talents—to present them in the worship of God. The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Breckenridge. All assembled in the Sunday School Hall and enjoyed a social hour. Mrs. Huggins, Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Gainor were the social committee. Younger Groups Seek Voice In YW Affairs

Since 40 per cent of the YWCA membership is composed of teenagers, these younger groups must be given more voice in Y policy-making and planning if their interest is to be stimulated and sustained, it was maintained at Thursday's session of the 55th annual meeting of the National Council.

"Could it be that the reason more young people are not interested in church affiliation is that they have not sufficient voice in church programs and administration?" asked Mrs. E. C. Weyman of Fredericton, N.B., in the course of the discussion.

Canadians, in a period of less than 40 years, have entirely changed their pattern of living; in rural areas, now only 45 per cent are in rural communities, and this has meant that Canadians have had to re-learn earlier attitudes and habits, it was pointed out by Miss Bessie Touzel of Ottawa, guest speaker.

"Development of this larger community has produced inevitable conflicts—interests of the countryside often seem contradictory to those of the larger city," she said.

Mutual benefit has resulted from the DP work undertaken by the Y at request of the Department of Labor and shared by the Catholic Women's League and Sisters of Service for Catholic girls, it was noted in report of Mrs. Harold W. Clark, convener of committee on displaced persons.

"The YWCA entered this project with whole-hearted desire to give assistance to some of Europe's homeless people," she said. "We found the girls brought with them their skills in music and craft which they are sharing with their new friends.

"And more important still, they have brought a spirit of hopefulness, trust and appreciation which inspires us to greater effort. Also, as a result of the work of the department, we see the beginnings of a standard for household workers," she said.

Emphasis on the rooms registry work is now being placed on assistance to the young woman or girl, although in a few instances it continues to serve family units, according to Dr. Margaret K. Strong, chairman of counselling and travellers aid work.

Need for more adequately trained personnel in the travellers aid field is clearly recognized, she maintained. During the last 12 months more than 162,000 services were rendered by travellers aid departments. Station workers continue to be faced with many problems of a social nature, pointing up the need of more trained personnel.

With the political developments in India, Burma, Ceylon and Pakistan has come an increased emphasis on the importance of indigenous leadership in these associations, said Miss Jean D. Camppbell, in her report on the World Fellowship Committee. "This in turn has had a real effect on the role of overseas staff in these countries."

The YWCA is now working in 26 rural communities in Ontario, reported the chairman of the Farm Service Force Department, Reva M. Colerick. Twelve private and 14 co-operative camps were opened during the past season with approximately 1,200 boys and girls in camp.

The Y has equal concern for the standards of living, wages, health, nutrition and recreation in both private camps and those operated by a group of growers, she pointed out. "The Department of Education looks to us to build and maintain desirable standards and skilled staff for 'teen-age youth."

Red Cross Sewing Group HELPERS WANTED

The Fall activities of the Red Cross Sewing group commenced on Monday afternoon last and it is working on a quota of children's clothing for Britain, 150 garments that are wanted for shipment as soon as it is possible to have them completed.

A number of ladies who have given their services regularly for this work in the past are again working on these garments but there is not sufficient workers as yet to get them out on time.

Here is an opportunity for those who can spare the time and can sew to associate themselves with the Red Cross in a work that is most necessary as the garments under the quota aked for are very badly needed.

Young women and newcomers to the city who can do the work are cordially invited and will be most welcome.

The sewing group meets each Monday and Thursday afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock.

Those desirous of becoming members of the Red Cross Sewing Group may do so by going to the rooms, Corner of Brock and George Street upstairs, on the above named afternoon, or by telephoning Mrs. H. G. Fitzgerald, 6254, if they want further information.

PETERBOROUGH BRANCH, CANADIAN RED CROSS.
Mrs. H. G. Fitzgerald, Convener.

IODE Supports Hydro In Power Saving

Resolutions and recommendations passed Thursday afternoon at the closing session of Provincial Chapter, IODE, semi-annual meeting in the Empress Hotel were the following:

"In view of a letter from National Chapter asking for continuing support of the Canadian Association of Consumers, be it resolved that every IODE member renew her membership and give sympathetic support to the promotion of that work."

"Resolved that Provincial Chapter of Ontario wishes to give helpful cooperation to any policy that the Hydro Electric Power Commission may institute for conservation of electric power so that industries may continue to operate and thus avoid a serious depression.

High tribute was paid to Mrs. Cecil L. Brown, provincial president, for excellent handling of the first semi-annual meeting since she took office. In closing she said "In order that we may effectively assist in building a finer world, always remember that it is your individual effort that determines the amount of service we may render to our country."

Report of hospitality convener, Mrs. W. S. Kidd of Ottawa outlined the present work of greeting visitors from England who have been recommended by the Victoria League, Overseas settlement for British Women. This kindness is also extended to Canadians visiting overseas. Mrs. J. H. Watt of Toronto, ex-service personnel convener, said Hospital visiting has kept up marvelously. The Order desires to assist the occupational therapy departments and to give help in finding suitable markets for the veteran's work.

Miss Jeanne Knapman of Hamilton, press and publicity secretary, pointed out that her department does not ask for funds, but acts as a go-between the Chapters and press, and via the press to the public. Dealing with the work of the treasurer's office, Mrs. A. Hollinrake of Waterdown said the National Shipping Fund pays all charges from the Chapter to the destination and the Provincial Maintenance Fund pays for boxes and twine. Secretary Mrs. W. I. McFaul of Hamilton listed amendments to the constitution.

It was announced by Mrs. L. L. Skuce of Milton, that as Ontario schools receive generous grants from the Department of Education, the IODE libraries are no longer needed. She gave a list of books that are available to the chapters, suitable for prizes. "One of the best ways to maintain peace is in looking after the education of all who need it and we should contribute now toward educating all who desire it" said Mrs. Skuce. Through generosity of the Chapters the Provincial scholarship will again be offered in 1949.

The invitation of Kirkland Lake IODE members to hold the next semi-annual meeting of October, 1949, there was accepted.

Mrs. H. T. Ross Jr. of Sarnia moved the vote of thanks to all who had assisted in any way in the successful meeting.

IODE reporters for the meeting were Misses J. Knapman and Marjorie Benson, Mrs. Wm. Nash, Mrs. K. Kingston and Mrs. G. Barns.

A display of handwork by IODE members for shipment overseas was in charge of Mrs. H. I. Northrop.

Mrs. D. W. Clark reported on post war work and requested each member to bring needles and thread to the November meeting in order to work on gowns, diapers, etc. for overseas shipment. The shipment of food for October will be sent as Christmas gift parcels.

Mrs. John McMillan read a most interesting account of the life of Alexander Graham Bell, an Empire builder.

Of much interest was the exhibit of shell work done by a Chapter member, Miss Margaret Emmerson who was stricken with polio two years ago and must remain in Toronto for treatment for another year. She is making these articles for sale as her part in the raising of money for the Civic Hospital Fund.

Men Often On Retiring Develop Chronic Grouch

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My husband has retired from business and is in the house most of the time. He is always complaining that he is not well and is continually taking some kind of medicine. He can't even put on his clothes without my help. But if I go away for a while he is perfectly well and has no difficulty in doing everything for himself.

Dorothy Dix

Can you suggest some way of breaking him of the habit of wanting me to wait on him all of the time? I have a large home and I am kept very busy doing the household chores.

MRS. ARTHUR H.

ANSWER: My advice is to get your husband to go back to work. All he needs is something to do, something to occupy his mind so that he won't have so much leisure to explore his system for symptoms and imagine things being the matter with him. Lay your case before your family doctor and get him to urge your husband to go back into business. If he doesn't go back he probably will die, because he will literally think himself sick.

Sick With Boredom

If you will notice, the men who retire from business seldom live but a few years. The reason for this is that having nothing else to do, they become hypochondriacs. They fancy they can't eat this and they can't eat that. They get hipped on the idea that they can't do this and they can't do that. Having nothing interesting to do, they do nothing but brood and end up by boring themselves to death.

And Heaven help the wife whose husband retires from business and sits around the house all day with nothing to do but criticize the way she runs it and make suggestions about things he does not understand. There is no other domestic pest equal to an idle man on the premises.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: As far back as I can remember, Mother has always instilled superstitious thoughts in us and they make me very miserable. Can you suggest a cure?

WORRIED DAUGHTER.

ANSWER: The remedy for superstition is simple. It consists in using a little common sense. Just ask yourself how a black cat running across your path could possibly affect your life, or why you should be more likely to meet with an accident on Friday the 13th than on any other day, or how tea leaves in a cup could indicate that you are going to make a rich marriage or not, and you will laugh at yourself for your folly.

Superstition is the offspring of ignorance and it melts away like snow in the sun when you turn the rays of intelligence upon it. Don't worry over signs and protends. They mean absolutely nothing, except what you make them mean by your fears.

For Saturday, October 9

It might as well be a weekend of pleasure-seeking and relaxation or spiritual development, since workaday matters are of such a complicated, peculiar and challenging a character as to make postponements of practical decisions desirable. Those in high places may be disposed to be suspicious, uncooperative and demanding and personal proclivities may be toward dissembling or misrepresentation. Emotional drives or inner feelings also may mislead.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may be confronted by a situation in which details may give much concern, involving complications, subtle inclination to deception, to misrepresent and otherwise tangle matters, and in such manner as to arouse suspicion and resentment. It may be as well to sidestep vital decisions until the basis and complex have clearer perspective for real action. Emotional sway is fatal.

A child born on this day may be disposed to complicate its affairs by emotional responses rather than logic, thus alienating support from its superiors.

Terms In Jail For Receiving Stolen Goods

Because he was unable to "give a better explanation to offset this evidence,' Joseph Long of 484 McKellar St., was found guilty of receiving stolen goods from a city department store. He was sentenced to 20 days in jail by Magistrate Philp.

PC V. J. O'Donaghue testified that two wallets, with the store's price tags still attached, had been found on the accused when he was searched at the police station after being picked up on another charge.

Miss Audrey Griffin, clerk at the store, said that she had seen the accused at her counter handling the wallets the day of his arrest.

The accused, in his own defence, admitted that he had been in the store, where he said he had been looking for a present. He had decided against getting anything there, he said, and had proceeded to a beverage room. There, a man he was unable to identify, sold him the two wallets for $1.25. He said he had "no idea" that there had been anything the matter with the wallets.

Leo Long, brother of the accused, asked to speak for the defence. He told the court that he had made wallets himself and "Joe wouldn't have to steal any if he wanted some—he could come to the house and I'd give him a dozen of them."

"I have no recourse except to find you guilty," His Worship told Long.

Month in Jail

One month in jail was the sentence received by Russell Black of Ottawa, found guilty of receiving stolen goods. The accused pleaded not guilty to the charge. However, his explanation to Magistrate Philp in his own evidence was simply: "As to where and how I got the stuff, your guess is as good as mine." Black maintained he was "very drunk" at the time.

PC V. J. O'Donaghue testified tha he had apprehended the accused and search found five wallets and a pair of ladies' gloves from one city store and anther wallet and three mechanical pencils from another store.

Miss Audrey Griffin and Miss Rose Heffernan, store clerks at the counters where the goods had been missed, gave evidence.

The accused's evidence was simply "I don't know." He said that such a blackout happened to him when he drank now, after his return from overseas service. He admitted a long previous record of convictions on similar charges, and explained they had all been due to the fact that "my memory just goes bad on me when I'm on the booze."

"You should stay clear of stores when you've been drinking, then," sugested the magistrate in passing sentence.

Black also received a 10-day sentence, concurrent, on a charge of vagrancy, to which he pleaded guilty.

$450 For Instruments Marks Band's Growth

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 8 — (ENS).—Campbellford Citizens' Band, started last winter by a small group of enthusiastic citizens, has grown in size and quality of music, due to the generosity and support of the public and to the determination of the band to succeed.

The band now has approved spending of $450 to secure second-hand instruments. This will make more instruments available for beginners and supply experienced players with better instruments.

Two Plead Guilty

Adalbert English, 744 Romaine St., and Maclaren Logan, RR 5, Peterborough, both employees of the CGE plant here, pleaded guilty today to charges of theft of scrap steel copper coils valued over $25 from the plant. They were remanded for sentence to Oct. 12 by Magistrate Philp.

SPS Student 19, Top Orator Addresses Kiwanis Club

William Duignan, 19, who was last week elected secretary-treasurer of the Ontario-Quebec-Maritime district, Kiwanis Key Clubs, on Thursday addressed the Kiwanis Club. He is in his fifth year at St. Peter's High School and is president of the St. Peter's Key Club which was sponsored earlier this year by the local Kiwanis Club.

In a short speech he told of the highlights of the recent Key Club convention which was held in East York. Besides being elected to the executive of the OQM body he also took top honors in public-speaking and oratory, and received a trophy in recognition of his ability.

He told the senior Kiwanians that members of the Peterborough Club returned fired with enthusiasm for improving it and enlarging its scope in community affairs.

As president of the Key Club he thanked the Kimanians for arranging adequate transportation so that the whole membership was able to attend the convention.

Jack Allan, second vice president, reported on a recent convention held in Montreal. He said that in the OQM district there were now 11 divisions and 99 clubs, and that 89 of them, making a total of 1,083 representatives, were present in Montreal. Next year the convention will be held in Halifav.

It was announced that the Club would once again sponsor a music festival and that it would be some date in March. This was necessary, he said, if the services of an English adjudicator were to be obtained.

Visitors were introduced by President E. G. Pridham, who was in the chair. The list included three from the United States and one from British Columbia; Bill Chisholm, West Toronto; Leonard Dandeno, Belleville; W. R. Vick, Rocky River, Ohio; E. L. Morse, Medina, Ohio; Henry A. Shaw, Medina, Ohio, and Cliff Sanderson, Vancouver.

Jerry O'Neill, vice-president of the St. Peter's Key Club, was also a guest of honor at the head table.

Al Clark announced that the Kiwanis "Little Olympic Games" would be held on October 16, and that it would have entries for grade-school children, high school children, as well as some open events.

French Troops Drive Strikers From Plant

NANCY, France, Oct. 8—(AP).—French troops forced their way into the Micheville Steel Mills here today and drove out strikers who had been occupying the buildings. About 10 strikers were reported injured.

It was the first major incident of violence since a new wave of French strikes began Monday with a walkout of 335,000 coal miners.

Agence France Presse said the evicting force consisted of three companies of Mobile Guards — about 300 men—and 200 regular army soldiers.

A Communist strike wave, meanwhile, hit at French collieries, railroads and dock areas as the coal walkout entered its fifth day. So far it has cost European recovery at least 750,000 tons of coal.

Student Nurses Are Entertained

Annual outing given the trainees at Peterborough Civic Hospital by the Women's Auxiliary was held Thursday evening. The class of 30 young women admitted last month for a course in nursing was first entertained at the Capitol Theatre through kindness of Mr. A. E. Cauley, manager. Afterward they were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ian McRae, Hunter St. W. with Miss A. L. Thomson, superintendent of nursing, other members of the hospital staff and Auxiliary Board members. Arrangements were in charge of the nurses-in-training committee convened by Mrs. S. J. Graham. On behalf of the nurses Miss Lillian Coones and Miss Barbara Deyell thanked the host and hostess, Mr. Cauley and the Women's Auxiliary for their share in providing a most enjoyable evening.

Store Remodelled

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 8 — (ENS).—The local branch of the R. A. Beamish Stores Co., Ltd., has undergone extensive repairs. The work was done by town workmen and most of the material was supplied by town dealers and industries. Howard Ames was the contractor. The Monarch Co. made the counters.

ENJOY EMERGENCY CHUTE

Firemen have completed their rounds of public schools in the city, instructing the children on fire prevention and exhibiting the aerial ladder and other apparatus. Both firemen and children have enjoyed themselves, Fire Chief George Smith said today. Apparently the youngsters were more than eager to slide down the emergency chute from the roof of their various school buildings. A demonstration has still to be given at PCVS and then come the hospitals where fire extinguishers drill will be held. The extinguishers will then be recharged and left in top-top shape to cope with any sudden fire outbreak.

SEWING HELPERS WANTED

More women who can spare the time and can sew are invited to join the Red Cross sewing group that meets every Monday and Thursday afternoons in the Red Cross rooms. The group is now engaged in making a quota of children's garments for shipment to Britain which are wanted as soon as they can be produced. Women who can sew and newcomers to the city are invited to identify themselves with this fine work the Red Cross has been engaged in for years. If further information is wanted phone Mrs. H. G. Fitzgerald 6254.

W. M. LANG CONVALESCENT

W. M. (Pete) Lang, retired collector of customs, is reported from Belleville to be recovering satisfactorily from an operation for appendicitis. His many friends in Peterborough will recognize the reported symptoms of his improvement, a disposition to be a bit grump in his confinement to bed. However, it is expected that he will be up and around soon. Since the death of his wife last spring, Mr. Lang has been living with his daughter, Mrs. Jack Cousins, 46 Dunbar St., Belleville.

NO GRASS FIRES TODAY

It may be a bit unpleasant for ordinary pedestrians but firemen are grinning broadly as the rain patters down. During the long dry spell they were continually being called out to extinguish grass fires, but the rain has put an end to that. On Thursday they had three to put out; one at Armour Rd. and Maria St., another at the Harley estate on Western Ave. and Chamberlain St., and still another at the CPR right-of-way on Romaine St. Let it rain say the boys from the Aylmer St. station.

Government Grants

has been a change of mind in the Local planning of hospital accommodation was fixed on the estimated needs as they appeared to the department, and also to local hospital authorities as they considered the growing population of the city and district which regards Peterborough as its centre.

In 1943 the population of the city was 32,000. It has now passed 35,000, not including its suburban population.

Mayor Ovens said he was in Toronto this week, and was informed there that "future of Civic Hospital has not been finalized." For the care of the chronically ill, a section of the former Nicholls Hospital might be converted to that use. I might remain in the city's hands with a grant of $3500 a bed, or the government might pay the city a lump sum for the building and acquire it for chronic patients in eastern Ontario. Policy in regard to the cost of maintenance of chronic cases had not yet been determined, "but it will be taken care of in the next month, I was informed. As far as the remodelling of the present hospital or selling it goes, we will have to deal with that in the near future."

Sentiment of the meeting last night was in favor of disposing of the old hospital to the government, and confining Peterborough's interest to the Civic Hospital.

One of the facts that cropped up in the conversations was that bed ratio was set for active cases at 5½ for every 1,000 persons, and for chornic cases 1½ per 1,000, a total of 7 for each 1,000 of population. T. T. Rodger said the ratio was arbitrarily chosen, and varied in different countries. In Australia it was 9 beds per 1,000.

Ald. Swanston suggested that the first step at the present stage of affairs was to determine exactly how much the government grants would be, whether they would be paid on 265 beds if the hospital was built for that number, or on 180 beds for which grants were now approved.

"Don't make any mistake from what I have said," Mayor Ovens explained. "You can get the grants on 265 beds, but you have got to show the Departments that for the needs of the community served by our hospitals, Civic should have 265 beds. They have this last survey, and that is what they are going by."

Major Importance

Discussion turned for a time to the aspect of local bed requirements, which becomes a major concern of the special committee in the preparing of its brief.

Mr. Marshall said Civic Hospital has 100 bed capacity, but those beds are serving 116 persons instead of 100. In 1947 the hospital had to refuse admittance to 465 people because beds were not available.

Dr. G. S. Cameron said the shortage of beds had been acute for the last four years, and the average stay of patients had been reduced as a means of making beds available for acute cases and persons on the waiting list.

Dr. A. G. Howson mentioned the new factor of prepaid hospitalization. Some 4,000 people in this city have subscribed for the benefits of Blue Cross, and that number was bound to increase. If any of those people become ill, they expect that hospital accommodation will be available for them because they have already paid for it.

"Such patients have a contract, whether or not the hospital feels obligated to honor it," Dr. Cameron remarked.

Ald. Herbert Young, MD, told the meeting that Canadian General Electric Company provide hospital care for all their employees and their dependents. "I can't say how many they are, but it might be up to 10,000."

"And other industries are gradually adopting that plan," Dr. Howson said.

"We have a waiting list of 70 most of the time," said Mr. Marshall, "we take care of the most serious. That is the best we can do at present."

"Patients want the best treatmen they can get," said Dr. Howson. "Today that is in the hospital."

"And because many of them have paid for it in advance," Dr. Cameron added.

Mr. Rodger expressed agreement with Ald. Swanston. The first requirement was accurate information. "Guesswork should not be tolerated" in preparing a statement for the government.

Sacrifice 40 Beds?

Another aspect of the hospital problem was indicated by Mr. James Craig, architect of W. and W. R. L. Blackwell and Craig.

The entire obstetrical section of the hospital was designed originally for inclusion in the wing now mentioned as additional in the computing of beds. If that department had to be moved to the fifth floor of the hospital when reduced to accommodation for 180 beds, 40 beds would have to be removed to provide space for it. That space was for labor, delivery and nursery rooms, but it did not include any beds for nursery patients.

The effect of those changes which would have to be made was that the 180 beds would be first reduced to 140, and that number included the appproximate 40 beds required for maternity patients. In that event, presumably, the government grant would be made on 140 beds, and as for the accommodation of the hospital's other active cases "we would be right back to the 100 beds that we now have," Mr. Marshall emphasized.

Said Ald. Dodds: "Peterborough is going to keep on growing. Let use make our own survey on what we can expect for the next five years. Prepare our own brief and go to Toronto."

"There is no question about 265 beds being needed," said Mayor Ovens. "And it should be adequate for some years."

"If we wait until we get an answer from the Department, we'll never get it," Mr. Marshall suggested. "They expect us to go there and show them what our needs actually are. We will strengthen our case if we decide we are going to build for our larger needs, then go to the Department and convince them we should receive the additional subsidy."

Mayor Ovens: "Don't forget, you have to convince the federal department, too."

His Worship said the provincial department placed the present population of the city and county at 53,000.

Mr. Marshall: "But we accept patients from outside our county. We have no right to refuse admittance to any one, if we have the means of providing a bed."

Figures were quoted of approximate number of patients from Cavan, Manvers, Millbrook, Hastings, Emily and so on. This is another detail the special committee is charged with investigating.

John Hornal's records showed that in 1946, Civic Hospital received 106 patients from Victoria county, 42 from the village of Hastings, 14 from Haliburton and 147 from Northumberland.

"The trouble is," said Mayor Ovens, "that they tell you in Toronto you should not provide for adjacent counties."

Ald. Swanston estimated additional money required at $1,500,000 taking into account government grants for 265 beds.

Wing To Cost $549,000

Mr. Craig said the approximate cost of the additional wing was $549,000.

Ald. Swanston: "What I am concerned about is the tax rate. If we get another 8 mills on the rate what is the average taxpayer going to say. And how much can we stand. We have other works that are needed as well as the hospital."

Mayor Ovens: "That is what I am asked. Then there is the question are we justified in building more than we actually need at the present time."

Mr. Rodger said the hospital was designed for 265 beds. That included all the necessary services, laundry, heating, administration, laboratory and so on. If the beds were cut to 180 or 140, there would be a substantial loss of operating revenue which should be considered. The economy became unbalanced. Services were provided for 265 beds, but the hospital's expected revenue would be greatly reduced if there were only 180 or 140.

Vern Selkirk summed up one phase of opinion in his comment: "If we can get a lump sum for the old hospital, I'd take it."

Can Do Two Things

"The alternative is this," said Mr. Marshall, "to find the money for 265 beds, or remodel one part of the new hospital to take care of the obstetrical department at the expense of other dpartments."

Mr. Craig commented that if the beds were reduced to 140 the hospital operating cost per bed would become unreasonable because all the various services were provided for on the basis of the original plans.

Ald. Armstrong's summary of the financial outlook was to the effect that the additional cost of the 265 beds, the original plan, would be about one mill in the tax rate.

"When the people see it on that basis I think they will choose the 265 beds," he said.

Ald. Doug Miller said he kept thinking about taxpayers on comparatively small fixed incomes, old age pensioners, burnt out war veterans, people whose wages were not high. "I think any sharp increase in the tax rate would be tragic for them. It is not so bad this year, but what will conditions be five or ten years from now?"

Ald. Armstrong remarked that the factor of economy, in the alternative of proceeding with the hospital for 265 beds, should have a general appeal when it was seriously studied and the real advantages recognized.

Counters that reach around the world

End to end, the counters of Canada's 3,330 branch banks would stretch only a few miles. Yet they reach farming, lumbering, fishing, mining and industrial communities right across Canada—help move the products of these areas into the markets of the world.

Through their foreign branches and correspondents, banks help to find customers for Canadian goods, help bring back the goods Canada must buy abroad.

They provide Canada's traders with the financial experience and facilities necessary to the two-way flow of our foreign trade . . . which totalled a record five billion dollars in 1947.

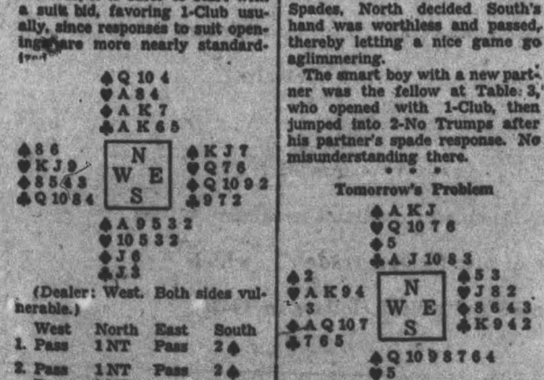
WITH A NEW PARTNER

THERE ARE STILL considerable variations in the ways that different players use opening bids of 1-No Trump and the responses to them. The latest version of the Culbertson system, as expounded by Ely himself, makes a response in two of a suit an absolute force for one round; if the first bidder has nothing else to say after it, he must willy nilly bid 2-No Trumps. Other players, especially those whose opening No Trump bids are very strong, expect a partner to answer with three of a suit unless his hand is almost worthless. If you have doubts about some new partner's methods, it is safer to start with a suit bid, favoring 1-Club usually, since responses to suit openings are more nearly standard.



(Dealer: West. Both sides vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
1. Pass	1 NT	Pass	2 ♠
2. Pass	1 NT	Pass	3 ♠
Pass	3 NT
3. Pass	1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	2 NT	Pass	3 ♠
Pass	4 ♠

Talk about variety. This deal was bid all sorts of ways at the various tables of a duplicate. Everybody reached a game in either spades or No Trumps except at the No. 1 table, and all who bid either game made it by playing spades correctly, leading the Q toward the A when the 10 and 9 are held, so that they lost only a single trick in that suit.

North at Table 1 was a user of big No Trumpers, who expected his partner with anything as good as one high card trick and a five-card suit, or one such trick plus any secondary honor, to indicate enough strength for a game opposite his big hand by means of a jump to three in No Trumps if he had a minor suit, or to three of his suit if it be a major. When South answered with a mere 2-Spades, North decided South's hand was worthless and passed, thereby letting a nice game go aglimmering.

The smart boy with a new partner was the fellow at Table 3, who opened with 1-Club, then jumped into 2-No Trumps after his partner's spade response. No misunderstanding there.

CHURCHILL WARNS U.S. KEEP A-BOMBS

Hint Compromise Solution In Berlin Crisis, After Bramuglia Talks

Agrentine Foreign Minister 'Very Happy' At Progress In Discussions; Believe He Offered Face-Saving Plan

PARIS, Oct. 9—(AP).—Hopes for a compromise solution of the Berlin crisis rose in some quarters today on the strength of conversations between the Security Council president, Juan Bramuglia of Argentine, and Russian leaders. Acting both as the Council president and spokesman for the Council's six "neutral" powers including Canada, Bramuglia has had two meetings with Soviet officials, one with Andrei Y. Vishinsky Friday.

Commenting on the talks, a source close to the Argentine Foreign Minister reported they were "going along perfectly" and that Bramuglia was "very happy" over his talk with Russia's Deputy Foreign Minister.

Bramuglia also conferred with the delegates of the three western powers who have accused Russia before the Security Council of [illegible] world peace by her actions in Berlin.

There is as yet no solid information on the progress of Bramuglia's attempts to mediate the dispute. But the fact that he is continuing his efforts is taken as a hopeful sign.

Favorable Omen

A French official said the fact that Bramuglia's conference with Vishinsky lasted some time was a favorable omen.

Bramuglia originally began his mediations efforts with the consent of the five other "neutral" members of the Council—China, Canada, Belgium, Colombia and Syria—and is scheduled to report back to them today.

The Argentine statesmen is believed to favor some face-saving formula whereby the Berlin blockade will be lifted and the Big Four Foreign Ministers Council convened to take up the Berlin and German questions.

It was reported in U.N. circles that delegates of the three western powers again asserted in their talks with Bramuglia that they are willing to convene the Foreign Ministers Council once the blockade has been ended.

Observers put more faith in Bramuglia's efforts than they might otherwise because of his nationality.

These observers believe that if the Russians are to accept some formula for settlement they would prefer it to come from Argentina so as to encourage and develop a leader in Latin-American circles to rival the United States.

Ontario CCF Announces Co-Op Support

TORONTO, Oct. 9. (CP)—The Ontario CCF Convention today was on record as supporting co-operatives and improving the position of farmers.

The convention Fri[illegible] the co-operative resolution, which urged CCF members to join and promote co-operatives, after some delegates claimed some farmers considered the CCF a party for the city industrial worker. Ralph Burton, chairman of the farm committee, said he was confident the CCF could win rural support.

"The CCF believes farm life can and should be as attractive as town life," said Mr. Burton. He suggested that through co-operative organizations farmers might achieve equality of bargaining power with those who buy their goods and sell them.

Resolutions called for immediate construction of 20,000 low-rental houses, a trade union act to replace the federal Labor Code, a farm marketing act and a basic old-age pension of $40 a month.

Prof. Frank R. Scott of Montreal told a banquet Friday night that he thought the federal government was planning to increase expenditures for armaments and defence. Prof. Scott, National CCF chairman, said he believed such action would start another wave of price rises.

Fears Brogue Puzzles Horses

TORONTO, Oct. 9.—(CP). — How Canadian horses will respond to a genuine Irish brogue is the big worry of James Morrow, Irish plowman who passed through here Friday on his way to the international plowing match which starts Tuesday at Lindsay. He will plow with borrowed horses.

"We spell 'whoa' the same in Ireland," said Mr. Morrow. "But somehow it sounds different and I'm afraid the horses won't be used to a brogue."

Getting the team started is another worry. In Mr. Morrow's County Down the farmers say 'get up" but it doesn't sound like the Canadian "giddap."

Bride, Groom Lose Oshawa Home In Fire

OSHAWA, Oct. 9—Homeless after a fire gutted their one-storey frame house on Greenwood Ave., East Whitby Township, Thursday night, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McLaughlin were given temporary accommodation by Oshawa friends.

The couple, married six months ago, had been occupying the frame house, while Mr. McLaughlin worked on construction of a new brick home adjoining the cottage. Lost in the fire, caused by an overheated stove, were the couple's entire possessions, including all their wedding gifts.

"We lost everything, including all our clothes. The loss is only partly covered by insurance," Mrs. McLaughlin said today.

The flames broke out after her husband had lighted the stove on his return from work. Mrs. McLaughlin, who had been on nursing duty, arrived to find the home a mass of flames. Oshawa firemen laid 1,500 feet of hose to a near-by hydrant, but were unable to save the home.

Oil Centre Battle

BATAVIA, Oct. 9—(AP).—The Dutch Army said today the see-saw battle between Indonesian forces and Communist rebels for the vital Tjepoe oil centre has caused an "extremely critical" situation. Some 1,000 casualties have been reported, it said, and 3,000 refugees are streaming from the area. Military reports said Tjepoe, which has changed hands at least three times since the fight began, now is held by Communist rebels and that "murder, looting and arson have occurred on a large scale."

Search Stirling For Missing Millbrook Boy

MILLBROOK, Oct. 9—(Staff). —The second day of the hunt for 16-year-old Bill Thompson of Millbrook so far has failed to find the youth who ran away following a motor accident near here Thursday morning. James Thompson, the missing boy's father, is in Stirling today to continue the hunt. It is believed that Bill was frightened of the results of the collision, which happened while he was driving his father's car alone and without permission.

There is also the possibility held that the youth may have received injuries in the collision which have resulted in this flight from his family—more than 48 hours ago.

Mr. Thompson and another son, Bob, 15, hunted throughout Friday over the whole general area, checking with police and welfare agencies without finding one clue to indicate where the missing youth had headed. Their last trace was reported shortly before noon Thursday when he had been seen running across a farm field. A farm woman who spoke to him at that time said that his speech had been incoherent and that the boy's conversation had not made sense. He was obviously badly frightened.

May Be Frightened

Barbara Ann Thompson, 10, a sister of Bill, was another who held to the theory that her brother had run away in fear of the consequences of the accident.

"I think he's scared—I would be, too."

The worried father has made appeals through the radio and with all interviewers to try to advise Bill to "come home and we'll fix it up about the accident."

The degrees of serious hurt Bill may have received is also unknown. Those who saw him shortly after Thursday's collision on the Millbrook Road with the car of Lloyd Byam noticed that there had been a "slight cut" on his forehead and his hand had been injured in some way.

Examination of the Thompson car, however, showed that the windshield had received a severe blow, believed to be from the boy's head as it was thrown forward from the collision.

Berlin Air Lift Slowed By Thick Fog Blanket

BERLIN, Oct. 9—(Reuters)—Russian air manoeuvres in the air corridors to Berlin were halted today by fog.

The Berlin air safety centre reported:

"For the first time in more than a week we have received no notification of any activity by Soviet planes. But the fog is lifting now and the manoeuvres may start again at any time."

The western allies air lift has been "slowed down considerably" by the fog, Gatow airport reported.

Find Empty Safe

WHITBY, Oct. 9 (CP)—Police late Friday recovered a 300-pound safe stolen Thursday night from the East Whitby township hall. But the safe had been smashed open and stripped of $1,200 in cash and $2,000 in cheques.

US May Curtail Imports Of Potatoes From Canada

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—An agreement may be reached between Canada and the United States to curtail imports of Canadian potatoes, it was indicated today.

Representative August H. Andresen (Rep. Minn.) has charged that the United States government was, in effect, supporting the price of Canadian potatoes in the face of a huge domestic surplus which may cost it up to $100,000,000 under the support program.

Andreson said President Truman has the power to stop the imports but has failed to act.

An agriculture department official told a reporter that representatives of the state and agriculture departments met recently with officials of the Canadian government to discuss the situation.

"It was agreed at this conference that it would be desirable if a mutually satisfactory arrangement could be worked out to cut down on the imports of potatoes from Canada," the official said.

"Further studies will be made, however, before any final decision or agreement is arrived at."

Under the International Trade Agreements Act, Canada may ship 4,000,000 bushels of potatoes to the United States at a duty of 37½ cents a hundred pounds. The duty will increase to 75 cents for any above that.

Even with a 75-cent tariff, Canadian potatoes can be sold in the United States at a lower price than the support level which now is around $2.75 to $2.85 a hundred weight in the New England area.

Cancels Plan To Send Vinson To Moscow Over State Dept. Head

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9— (CP). — President Truman and State Secretary Marshall are scheduled to meet here today in the shadow of reported conflict between the administration's political campaign and the secretary's grave mission as leader of the United States delegation at the critical United Nations Assembly in Paris.

Friday night a radio network revealed that it and other networks had been asked for time last Tuesday evening for a presidential announcement that Chief Justice Fred Vinson was being sent to Moscow for talks with Prime Minister Stalin in an effort to reach a peaceful solution of the Berlin deadlock.

Before the networks had been lined up the request was cancelled without explanation and when the incident came to light Friday at [illegible] House the campaigning president and his staff, and the state department, refused comment.

It was on Tuesday that President Truman announced he was calling Marshall home from Paris to report to him on the chances for peaceful settlement with Russia.

Acted On Own

Meanwhile the Vinson incident, reported unofficially, created a first-class sensation.

It was reported here that Truman and his aides had acted without consulting the State Department in planning the Vinson mission.

From the State Department's point of view such a move would cause Marshall and his aides in Paris and here to lose face and prestige at a most critical moment in United States relations with Russia and the other powers at Paris.

Reports here were that Marshall had been advised of the President's plan to send Vinson to Moscow, had vigorously opposed it and was coming home to tell the President why it would be a bad move from his point of view.

The development comes at a time when State Department policy as reflected here and in Paris was to get down to brass tacks with Russia on every aspect of their difficulties and fight fire with fire.

This new policy has been revealed in plain talk by Marshall in Paris, speeches by his aides here and by the decision of the "voice of America"—broadcasting division of the State Department to meet Russian propaganda with propaganda.

Rocks U.N.

PARIS, Oct. 9.—(AP).—Source close to the British delegation said today President Truman's reported plan to initiate direct contact with Russia over Berlin "would have rocked and could have wrecked the United Nations."

But, they said, if such a move had taken place it would have meant "a flouting of the Security Council and a sign that its status as an agency for settling international disputes is disrespected completely."

Going Wrong Way Car Driver Killed

BEAMSVILLE, Oct. 9—(CP)—A collision with a 10-ton transport truck loaded with brass ingots today killed Charles Love, 48, of Hamilton and seriously injured a passenger, Edna Bellingham, 36, of Hamilton.

Traveller for a Kitchener electrical firm, Love was travelling west on the Queen Elizabeth highway. Fred Roberts, 45, of St. Catharines, who escaped with a shaking up, told police the Hamilton car was driving in the wrong direction on the east-bound lane.

He said he turned out to pass another eastbound truck, saw Love's headlights in front of him, and tried to swerve back. But the car hit the truck, careened 100 feet further and threw Mrs. Bellingham into the centre boulevard. One of the front wheels of the trailer was torn off, tipping the trailer and spilling the load on the highway.

MEMBERS OF THE ROYAL OBSERVER CORPS are instructed in the intricacies of the plotting board during specialized training at an RAF station near Portsmouth as part of Britain's new defense program. The wartime duty of corps members is to spot enemy planes. Some Britons fear that the English Channel willl be the chief battle line between East and West in the event of war.

20 Terrorists Break Out Of Jaffa Jail

TEL AVIV, Oct. 9—(Reuters)—Stern-Gang terrorists held by Israeli police in connection with the assassination of mediator Count Bernadotte last month broke out of Jaffa jail today reliible Jewish sources stated. At least 20 terrorists were reported to have escaped.

First reports said there was "considerable" shooting round the jail during the break.

The Israeli Government outlawed the Stern Gang after the shooting of Count Bernadotte.

Police and military cordoned off the area and recaptured some of the men, an official report said. It was not yet known how many, if any, were still at large. No casualties were reported.

The official report said a number of Sternists overpowered their guards at 11 a.m. today and seized their weapons. Under cover of these guns a number of prisoners escaped.

France Staggers Under Strikes

PARIS, Oct. 9 — (AP). — France staggered to-day under the impact of a Communist strike wave that has cost one life, injured scores and seriously hurt her recovery.

The country-wide coal strike entered its sixth day and there was a grave threat that the rail lines would be tied up.

Nearly 1,000,000 said the stoppage was costing the state about $2,000,000 daily in loss of receipts from 160,000 tons normally mined each day.

One worker was killed near Metz Friday when trampled by a crowd of workers attacking police and soldiers. Four were hurt in the melee.

eManwhile throughout the country the Communist-led confederation General Du Travail was organizing strike votes among rail workers.

Non-Communist Labor leaders refused to take part in any of the balloting and urged their workers to stay on the job.

Canadian-Registered Ship Reported Safe

LONG BEACH, Calif., Oct. 9—(AP). — The Caandian-registered motorship Malibu Inez, feared lost in high seas near the tip of Baja California, is safe and proceeding on her way, the fishing vessel La Seramo radioed the United States coastguard to-day.

The La Serama reported to the coastguard it had made contact with the Malibu Inez by radio and obtained the information.

The Malibu Inez, with 11 men and one woman aboard, sent out an SOS on Thursday when it ran into 60-mile-an-hour winds off Cpe San Lucas, 80 miles south of here.

28 In Crew Wade Ashore As Hurricane Wrecks Tug

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Oct. 9—(CP).—David Clarke told today how the 1,100-ton Halifax salvage tug Foundation Josephine was driven aground near here in a howling hurricane and how her 28 crew members waded ashore to safety. A seaman aboard the powerful tug which just completed towing the abandoned British freighter Leicester into port, Clarke said the tug's crew members put on lifebelts and jumped to a coral reef when the tug struck. The Leicester also was driven aground.

No one was injured but today the powerful ocean-going salvage vessel had a 15-foot hole in her side and 12 feet of water in her engine room. Sharp coral reefs stuck through her side.

Clarke told this story:

"We were moored to the same buoy holding the Leicester in place when the hurricane struck and intended to ride it out.

"Then our moorings snapped and we were at the storm's mercy. We gave the full speed ahead signal and tried to get out of the way of the Leicester but we could make no progress and were carried along by the wind.

"I was at the wheel and was flung from it four times. When the tug hit I jumped to a bar of reefs and waded to shore. The sharp coral reefs broke through the port side of the tug."

Meanwhile, work of clearing debris across the island continued. Restoration of electric power will take days although power in Hamilton has already been restored.

Damage was difficult to estimate but it will be heavy and probably the greatest caused by a hurricane in years.

Several persons were injured, though not seriously, when swept off their feet by the howling winds.

Order Inquiry In Bd. Of Trade

LONDON, Oct. 9. (CP)—A judicial inquiry has been ofifcially requested into allegations that "money obtained from a member of a firm of football-pool promoters has been used to influence the course of action of the Board of Trade."

In a statement Friday night from 10 Downing Street, Prime Minister Attlee said that Viscount Jowitt, the Lord Chancellor and Britain's highest legal officer, is studying the case at the request of Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade.

The statement said a motion for a full judicial inquiry will be placed before parliament Oct. 26.

The Board of Trade has overall responsibility for British industry and commerce. It licenses industrial exports and imports and administers the rationing of clothing and the control of prices on consumer goods.

It said the judicial inquiry also would investigate an "allegation that in return for a substantial payment of cash, facilities for the import of equipment for fun fairs (carnivals and amusement arcades) could be obtained."

MIDDLETON, N.S., Oct. 9 (CP)—Searchers prepared on Friday night to follow up an air-clue in their hunt for Victor L. Cameron 70-year-old retired marine engineer, missing in the Scragg Lake area 25 miles south of here since Thursday morning. Cameron failed to return to a pre-arranged camp site after a hunting trip with Homer Vidito and Outhit Potter.

Russian Disarmament Plan 'Fraud', Britain Charges

PARIS, Oct. 9—(CP)—Britain today branded Russian disarmament proposals as a "fraud upon the world" and said she would not agree to them until atomic energy is controlled with Russia in accord.

Britain's Sir Hartley Shawcross told the U.N. political committee his country could not agree to the Soviet proposals for immediate one-third reduction of armaments and armed forces, until "agreement can be reached on the control of atomic energy and of weapons of mass destruction."

Shawcross agreed, however, to continue debate on the Russian proposal.

The British attorney-general said "there is a certain air of unreality in discussing now the question of a reduction in the size of armed forces, what is called convention disarmament, at a time when we have not reached, and still seem very far from reaching, agreement on the controlled prohibition of atomic weapons."

Until the disarmament question "is lifted out of the realm of propaganda and is examined with the genuine intention, shared by all, of working out a practical system of effective international control, proposals for disarmament by paper resolutions are mere humbug and a snare and delusion to lull the unwary into a false sense of security, a fraud upon the world."

Shawcross accused Soviet delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky of holding out "an olive branch in a manner so aggressive as to be calculated to discourage others to grasp it."

Says Suicide If West Scraps Power

Finds Czechoslovakia In Same Plight As Under Hitler

LLANDUDNO, Wales, Oct. 9—(CP).—Winston Churchill warned today a third world war may burst upon humanity at any time because of the Berlin crisis.

Only the United States' possession of atom bombs stops a Communist juggernaut from engulfing all western Europe, the wartime prime minister declared in an address prepared for the Conservative party annual conference.

Americans would be "guilty of murdering human freedom and committing suicide themselves" if they agreed to destroy their stock of atom bombs, Churchill said. Russia is demanding in the United Nations that the atom bombs be scrapped, and the weapon outlawed at once.

"At the present time our only foundation of peace and the prevention of actual war rests upon strength," Churchill said. "The western nations will be far more likely to reach a lasting settlement without bloodshed if they formulate their just demands while they have the atomic power and before the Russian Communists have got it, too."

Bring Things To Head

Churchill urged the west to "bring matters to a head and make a final settlement" before Russia gets the bomb. The Russians should release their grip on satellite states, free German and Japanese prisoners they "now hold as slaves," cease to "oppress, torment and exploit" the parts of Austria and Germany they hold and cease disruptive operations elsewhere in the world before a settlement is reached, Churchill said.

But the war leader of Britain declared he could "not encourage you with false hopes of a friendly settlement with Soviet Russia."

"We are confronted with the deadly enmity and continued aggression of the Russian Communist government and its imprisoned satellites.

"No words which I could use could surpass the declaratitons of Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin or Minister of State Hector McNeil and their words are only on a par with what is said by the leading responsible statesmen of America, France, our dominions and all the smaller states of Europe outside the iron curtain.

"The Assembly of the United Nations which we fondly hoped would be the majestic centre of world security and later on of world co-opertaion and finally of world government, has been reduced to a mere cock pit in which

Planning To Rebuild Cobourg Foundry Bldg

COBOURG, Oct. 9—(CP)—Officials of the Dominion Wheel and Foundry Friday planned to rebuild the plant's main building, destroyed by fire of unknown origin Thursday night. Loss was estimated at $200,000. Every effort will be made to keep all of the firm's 100 employees working, company officials said.

Forest Fires In Ontario Flare Angrily

WINNIPEG, Oct. 9—(CP)—Forest fires, on the wane in Manitoba, were still flaring angrily in northwestern Ontario today, where the first casualty blamed on the blazes was reported.

The victim, a 19-year-old firefighter, John Scribilo of Norman, Ont., Friday was reported missing and believed drowned while paddling to a temporary overnight camp 30 miles south of Kenora.

Companions said the youth, who had spent the day fighting fires, started swimming for shore in Lake Kilvert when his small boat capsized but failed to reach land. Dragging operations are under way for his body.

Smoke Friday from the burning bush lands hung so heavily over the Fort Frances area near the United States border in northwestern Ontario that motorists were forced to turn on headlights during the day.

About 50 men were engaged in fighting one fire in Morson township, 70 miles northwest of Fort Frances, while other men were rushed Friday night to Minahico, near Morson, where another blaze was reported.

In Manitoba S. W. Schortinghuis, chief fire protection officer for the province, said the fires in all southern and settled areas have been brought under control.

Only two fires were described as still giving trouble. The worst, about a mile from Pine Falls, has been localized to the extent that danger to the town is believed over.

The other, on Hecla Island in Lake Winnipeg, is "troubling fire rangers more than islanders."

PELICANS WEREN'T PLEASED

Pelicans on Pelican Island, confronted with a new saying "The Pelicans on This Island Are Protected," deserted the place en masse.

RARE BIRD—With several expeditions now searching for the nesting grounds of the Whooping Crane, a bird which may be as extinct as a Dodo bird in afew years, this picture of the rare bird is of interest. Standing about five feet high, the crane is almost entirely white with carmine red skin about its face and a yellow beak. The larger ones have black wing tips. There are less than 30 of these birds alive. At one time they were common in all parts of the Canadian west. Ornithologists are now seeking the breeding grounds in an attempt to prevent the Whooping Crane from disappearing entirely.

Commonwealth of Nations May Be New Empire Name

LONDON, Oct. 9—(CP).—The British Commonwealth of Nations soon may be known simply as the Commonwealth of Nations. The idea of the change would be to emphasize the complete independence and equality of its members—to remove any inference that they are under British control. The Commonwealth now is looked upon as a club of friendly countries, developed in the British tradition. It is probable that informal consideration will be given to changes in its unwritten constitution and rules when the Dominions Prime Ministers meet here Monday.

The delegates know that there are many in the new Asiatic dominions and some in older commonwealth countries, who feel the term "British commonwealth" suggests domination by the old country.

This and other terms and descriptions commonly used to describe the commonwealth association may be changed by agreement to satisfy those who believe it should be made even more clear to the world that the dominions are completely free and independent.

Because a similar sentiment was expressed in some dominions, the United Kingdom government recently changed the name of the dominnions office to commonwealth relations office.

Government leaders or their deputies from the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, South Africa, New Zealand, India, Pakistan, Ceylon and Southern Rhodesia, who gather in London for talks lasting two weeks, will be concerned with the form of the future commonwealth. Informed sources said the discussions may lead to eventual inclusion of republics in the commonwealth club membership.

the representatives of mighty nations and ancient states hurl reproaches, taunts and insults at one another to marshal public opinion and inflame the passions of their peoples in order to arouse and prepare them for what seems to be a remorselessly approaching third world war.

Only Safeguard

"If it were not for the stocks of atomic bombs now in the trusteeship of the United States, here would be no means of stopping the subjugation of western Europe by Communist machinations, backed by Russian armies and enforced by political parties."

The Berlin blockade, which he called Russian blackmail, "may at any time" precipitate war, Chirchill said. He said it should have been met promptly "by counter measures against Russian shipping and imports of all kinds which might be useful for war purposes."

Warning that the west has not unlimited time before Russia obtains atomic bombs, Churchill said: "We ought to bring matters to a head and make a final settlement.

"We ought not to go jogging along, improvident, incompetent, waiting for something to turn up, by which I mean waiting for something bad to turn up for us.

"The western nations will be far more likely to reach a lasting settlement without bloodshed if they formulate their just demands while they have the atomic power and before the Russian Communists have got it too."

Turning to Japan, Churchill highly praised the administration of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Czech "Example"

Britain's wartime leader cited Czechoslovakia as an example "where Stalin has perpetrated exactly the same acts of aggression in 1948 as Hitler did when he marched into Prague in 1939."

"It is part of the established technique of the 'cold war' the Soviets have begun against us all that in any country which has fallen into their power, people of character and personality, outstanding in any walk of life, from the manual worker to the university professor, shall be what is called in their savage jargon 'liquidated'," he said.

"All men, whatever their occupation, are to be reduced to a mediocre legel so as to make it easy to govern them by commisars and masses of officials and police, all well-trained in the Communist colleges and dependent for their very existence upon the satisfaction they give their superiors in the party hierarchy.

"This is all set forth before our eyes as plainly as Hitler told us of his plans in his book 'Mein Kampf.' I hope the western nations, and particularly our own country and the United States, will not fall into the same deadly trap twice over.

"Of one thing I am quite sure, that if the United States were to consent in reliance upon any paper agreement to destroy the stocks of atomic bombs which they have accumulated they would be guilty of murdering human freedom and committing suicide themselves."

Churchill listed 11 positive steps he said Russia must take if she desires to see atomic energy internationalized.

"Let them release their grip upon the satellite states of Europe.

"Let them retire to thir own country—

"Let them liberate by their departure the 11 ancient capitals of Eastern Europe which they now hold in their claws.

"Let them go back to the Curzon Line as was agreed upon in the days when we were fighting as comrades together. (The Curzon Line was the boundary between Russia and Poland proposed by Britain after World War I but not then accepted.)

"Let them set free the 1,000,000 or more of German and Japanese prisoners they now hold as slaves.

"Let them cease to oppress, torment and exploit the immense parts of Germany and Austria which are now in their hands.

Stop Blackmail

"The lifting of the blockade at Berlin would be merely the stopping of blackmail—

"Let them cease to distract Malaya and Indonesia.

"Let them liberate the Communist-held portion of Korea.

"Let them cease to foment the hideous civil war in China.

"Above all, let them throw open their vast regions on equal terms to the ordinary travel and traffic of mankind. Let them give others the chance to breathe freely and let them breathe freely themselves."

The 73-yar-old Conservative Leader said Britain's present Labor Government "now calls upon us in quavering tones to take all kinds of serious half-measures of preparation as precaution."

However, "I do not reproach the British Socialist Government with creating the abyss which now yawns across Europe and the world.

"This was inevitable once the Russian Communist leaders gave full rein to their instincts of imperialism and expansion."

MUST BUILD AGAIN

Before a prospective homeowner starts to build his house it would be just as well if he checked to see that he was not constructing it too near the road. On Thursday night Lindsay Council after discussing the problem of houses on a street being built out of alignment, decided that two offenders against the by-law, must abandon their present locations and move back further on their lots.

No Lay-offs From Fire Manager Says

COBOURG, Oct. 9—(ENS).—While the damage was heavy when fire destroyed a large section of the Dominion Wheel and Foundry plant here on Thursday night, the fire will not necessarily put men out of work. A statement from the foundry last night informed the Examiner that it was planned to have the milling or cleaning of the castings in use within a week or so and when this was ready, casting could be resumed. However, until the damaged section is rebuilt, production will be about 50 per cent of capacity, it was pointed out.

The management said that all hands would be employed.

Robert Holland, superintendent of the foundry, could not be reached last night. It was learned that he had gone to bed after being kept on the job by the fire for almost 24 hours, but a company offticial said that every effort would be made to keep every man employed. There is a great deal of work to be done cleaning up the mess left by the fire, after which, a considerable number of employees can be kept at work in helping the reconstruction work.

Telegraph repair crews worked yesterday restoring the CPR telegraph lines which were broken when the nearby fire burned off poles. Any possibility of the still hot interior breaking into flames again was dispelled by a rain which fell almost continually all day yesterday.

With the heavy traffic on the streets on the nights of home hockey games, the street improvement will greatly facilitate its handling.

It is expected that there will be an attendance of over two thousand for the official opening ceremonies on October 15.

An Important Question

Jesus said: Whom say ye that I am? St. Mark 8: 29.

Did you hear a sermon on the air last year delivered by a Divinity professor. He painted an attractive picture—word picture of the Carpenter of Nazareth. Not once did he give Him the title of "Christ" or "Lord"; it was "Jesus" only. Important to remember the Name "Jesus" is rarely found without the title in the Epistles.

The Carpenter went around and gathered a small band of men to be with Him primarily that they might discover His secret. At the end of about two years He asks them the important question:—"Whom say ye that I am?" Simon Peter answered: "Thou art the Christ". Can you tell your son the meaning of the "Christ", it means The Anointed One, especially endowed with spiritual powers, sent by God. "These signs are written that ye might believe that Jesus is indeed the Christ, the Son of God" St. John 20: 31.

Saul of Tarsus, the highly educated Pharisee, became the bitterest persecutor of the Christian religion because he heard Stephen with his dying breath as a Jew commit his soul not to Jehovah but to Jesus, the crucified Nazarene: "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit". Saul recognized that this Christian religion within the Jewish faith was a fearfully dangerous heresy. It taught the worship of two gods, which is idolatry. When Jesus revealed Himself at the gate of Damascus as the risen Christ, the Son of the living God, Saul became the leading missionary of the Christian faith.

The foundation stone of the Christian truth is that God in the fulness of time sent His only begotten Son to be born of the Virgin Mother by the operation of the Holy Spirit. He is to fulfill the desire of the Father that He might be seen in all His beauty in the Person of Jesus Christ. When your son asks you: "What is God like? You point Him to the Lord Jesus, Who is the perfect image of the Father.

Let us remember that this teaching of the Incarnate God is a fact in history. Our very date of the year keeps us from forgetting. A.D. 1948. He died under Pontius Pilate, rose from the dead the third day and ascended up to heaven, where He stands before the Father as our High Priest; who was in all points tempted as we are.

Moreover this a devotional truth that God became Man in Christ Jesus. When you say your prayers you must train yourself to realize His real Presence in your little room. He is there to give you of Himself. By the finger of faith you touch Him. His grace will be poured upon you and the burden will be lifted off your mind. You are to realize as a permanent truth that God Himself is with you. "Lo, I am with you all the days, saith the Lord. You will take with you to your work something of that sense of His Presence. Your friends will sense the atmosphere.

Then in the hours of temptations you will call upon Him for strength to resist. With countless saints you will be able to say: "I can do all things through Jesus Christ, which strengeth me".

This is the Christian faith that Jesus Christ is the Son of God in a mysterious sense of the word. For our comfort we have the word picture of the Christ in Revelations 1: 18.

Jesus said/ Fear not. I am He that liveth and was dead. And behold, I am alive for evermore. Thanks be unto thee, O Lord.

Russ Blockade Peace Threat Marshall Says

PARIS, Oct. 9 — (AP) — State Secretary Marshall of the United States Thursday told the American Club of Paris that the Russian blockade of Berlin "is a threat to the peace of the world if there ever was one short of shooting cannon."

Speaking informally and without notes, he said the United States would resist such a Russian policy as indicated by the blockade tactics. He added that the European recovery plan was part of such resistance.

Marshall said Britain, the United States and France had made every effort to find a solution to the Berlin problem and had carried on negotiations with the Russians for a period of nearly 100 days.

What else could be done, he asked, other than to appeal to the United Nations Security Council after the negotiations had not brought any result?

Discussing the problem of the atom bomb, Marshall said the Russian proposal for simultaneous outlawing of the bomb and establishment of inspection procedure does not provide security.

"And we are going to have security," he added.

It was difficult to carry on diplomatic negotiations with free democratic procedure on one side while the other side was not hampered by such difficulties.

Everybody on the democratic side was making speeches, while on other side only that was said which supported their position.

Acquit Mother Of Burning Baby In Stove

HAILEYBURY, Oct. 9 (CP)— Mrs. Lucille Lamarche, 21-year-old wife of a Kirkland Lake lumberjack, was freed Thursday by a Supreme Court jury on the charge of murdering her two-months-old baby.

The badly-burned body of her baby son was found last April on a kitchen table in the four-room Lamarche home by police summoned by neighbors. He died in hospital a few minutes later.

Police said they believed Mrs. Lamarche had thrown the baby into the kitchen stove in a fit of anger. Evidence at the five-day trial showed Mrs. Lamarche and her husband Percy had been drinking the night before.

The young woman struggled with her emotions as she stepped from the dock after Mr. Justice J. L. Wilson said: "You are free to go."

She remained in the courtroom for about an hour, listening to evidence in the prosecution of Jean Brunet of Elk Lake who had originally been charged with the murder of a new-born son. A Grand Jury reduced the charge to concealing the birth of a child.

As Mrs. Lamarche left the courtroom she was surrounded by a group of friends and relatives, some of whom kissed her jubilantly.

Defence Counsel F. J. Parry of Kirkland Lake contended that the Crown failed to prove Mrs. Lamarche was guilty of murder. He said Percy Lamarche has as much opportunity to throw the baby in the stove as his wife.

PEI Seeks Grant To Dig Mussel Mud

CHARLOTTETOWN, Oct. 9— (CP).—Wanted: a grant to finance mussel-mud digging.

Mussel-mud, explains Provincial Agriculture Minister W. F. A. Steart, is a first-rate fertilizer, and when spread on farmland enriches soil to the point where crops other than blueberries may be grown.

Heavy crops of red clover and other grasses have flourished after application of mussel mud. Nobody appears to know how mussel mud got its name, since it contains almost 90 per cent. oyster shells—not mussel shells.

The fertilizer has a high lime or calcium content. The abundant growth of hay on fields subjected to mussel mudding is regarded as proof of its value.

So the provincial government is attempting to obtain a federal grant to revive the mussel-mud digging industry. The grant would be in lieu of that due the province for marshland reclamation.

No action will be taken on the matter unless a grant is assured.

Allies Reject 3-Month Truce

PARIS, Oct. 9 — (AP) — The Argentine foreign minister, Juan A. Bramuglia Friday, conferred with Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky in a bid to end the east-west stalemate over Berlin, authoritative sources said.

The sources said it was the second time in 24 hours Bramuglia, president of the United Nationsh Security Council, talked with leaders of Russia's U.N. delegation.

There were reports here of an unofficial approach by H. E. Evatt of Australia, the assembly president, and Secretary-General Trygve Lie to the four big powers, with an appeal for a three-month truce in Berlin. This would permit the four-power council of foreign ministers to discuss a lasting settlement. Officials would not comment on the reports.

However, both British and American spokesmen said their governments would not accept such a proposal. They said if they agreed to temporary removal of the Berlin blockade it would imply acceptance of Russia's right to reimpose it.

Official Canadian sources said "no comment" governs the Dominions' policy on Berlin issue now before the Security Council.

YOUR GARDEN . . .

When To Apply Winter Sprays

By DEAN HALLIDAY.

One of the winter tasks of the home gardener is to inspect his trees and shrubs for evidences of scale insects, so that he may take prompt control measures.

Fruit trees also should be carefully checked to see if they are suffering from either oyster shell or San Jose scale, both of which are illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

A few years ago dormant spray applied in the winter months was considered the best method of controlling scale insects. At that time, lime sulphur was the popular spray and served to good purpose. It is still used to a great extent and especially on maples and broad-leaved junipers, which are very susceptible to injury if oil is used.

Certain properly prepared oils, however, make excellent spray materials if applied when certain conditions exist. Satisfactory control may be obtained by spraying dormant stock two weeks or month before the leaves are appear and with much less danger of injury than at other times This is called the delayed dormant spray.

What is known as miscible oil is used for the delayed dormant spray. In using it the following simple rules should be observed as well as the directions on the container:

Spraying should never be done when the temperature is below 45 degrees. Always choose a bright, clear day to do spraying. Be sure to cover every branch and twig thoroughly.

Often, a severe infestatin cannot be cleared up by the winter sprays alone, but must be subpected to follow-up sprays in the summer after the eggs have hatched and when the young are crawling. At this time they are easily controlled by a solution of 40 per cent nicotine sulphate to which soap has been added.

Power Up 8000 KWH During Thursday

TORONTO, Oct. 9 — (CP) — The big stick which Ontario Hydro power authorities have been threatening to wield on centres which fail to keep within their quota, fell on Toronto, the province's largest city, today.

Toronto used 171,600 kilowatt hours more than its quota of 5,606,850 Thursday, and as a result there was a three-quarter cut off this morning instead of the usual half hour.

The additional 15-minute cutoff was made by the municipality in co-operation with the order from the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario that additional reductions must be made if centres used more than their quota. In the event municipalities do not make the necessary cutoffs, the Commission has threatened to force the reductions.

Thanksgiving 1948

When the Plymouth Pilgrims had garnered their first crop on this continent they celebrated a day of Thanksgiving in 1621. From that time forward such days were frequent, though not annual affairs, and the day did not become an annual holiday with a fixed time until Lincoln made it so in 1864. Our American cousins now celebrate their Thanksgiving on the last Thursday of November every year. The celebration of Thanksgiving in Canada is a much more recent affair, and it is proclaimed afresh each year by the Governor-General in Council.

* * *

Our Thanksgiving has something of the American festival in it, but it also derives from the English Harvest Festival; many Canadian churches have a Harvest Festival, and the picture which appears elsewhere on this page shows part of the decoration of a recent Festival at St. Luke's Church in this city. But the English Harvest Festival is not of great antiquity; it began about a hundred years ago as an inspiration of a Victorian vicar who bade his flock come to a Communion in which the bread was made of the wheat which had just been harvested.

* * *

Nevertheless, the spirit of the Thanksgiving festival is a very ancient one, and over the shoulder of the Pilgrim we catch a glimpse of something which is as old as agriculture itself, rooted in the idea that the crops — bountiful or sparse—are gifts of the gods, and that the gods must be thanked for them. In the Christian world the element of fear has been removed from the ceremonies, and Thanksgiving has become the lesser brother of Easter, at which we take note of the harvesting of the crops, and the death of the year.

Is Canada Fiddling While Berlin Flames?

Many people have been disturbed because Canada has not offered to send its planes and aviators to assist Britain and the United States in the Berlin air lift. Is not Berlin the bell that is tolling—to refer to the poet Donne's phrase—that is tolling for us as well as the Britons and the Americans, for the South Africans and Australians who have offered aid? Is not our democracy at stake in Berlin? Are Canadians merely paying lip-service to the defence of western freedom?

* * *

No. Canada has never been more vitally concerned in foreign affairs, recognizing, as Mr. St. Laurent said last month in Toronto, that our prosperity depends on foreign trade (one-third of our total production must be sold on foreign markets), and recognizing that we need peace and must defend western democratic freedom. Canada has never had a more vigorous and definite foreign policy than it now has. That policy is not the Truman doctrine of 'containing' communism by meeting it at whatever quarter it rears its aggressive head. Ours is not a piecemeal foreign policy.

* * *

It was enunciated by Mr. St. Laurent in the House of Commons last May, when he was Minister of External Affairs. It is that the United Nations is our present vehicle for universal and organized international co-operation. U.N. is not as effective as it could be and as we would like it to be. Therefore "an association should be created within the United Nations by those free states which are willing to accept more specific and onerous obligations than those contained in the Charter". The association Canada seeks is a North Atlantic Security system. Canada recognizes that "totalitarian Communist aggression endangers the freedom and peace of every democratic country". We are trying to find some basis of co-existence with totalitarian governments, some basis of mutual toleration, without making compromises over fundamental freedoms. We are at the same time working toward mutual agreements which, as Mr. St. Laurent said on September 7th, will "establish the concentration of an overwhelming superiority of moral, economic and physical force on the side of those who do not wish to use force, but are resolved to do so together, if the necessity is forced upon them".

* * *

That theme has been reiterated by Mr. St. Laurent, Mr. Pearson and Mr. King. The Prime Minister in addressing the U.N. assembly on September 28th said: "It is vital to the defence of freedom to maintain a preponderance of moral, economic and military strength on the side of freedom—all else is wholly secondary". Mr. St. Laurent used the phrase "overwhelming superiority", Mr. King "a preponderance". It is that that Canada seeks, not co-operation in sending a dozen planes to Berlin, but a greater co-operation—an Atlantic Security system embracing Canada, the United States, Britain, France and Benelux.

* * *

Berlin is not the great bell which tolls for us. The biggest bell in the world is in Moscow, and it is the bells of Moscow which Canada hears.

Slovenly Utterance And Slovenly Thinking

Commenting on the Progressive Conservative convention the Brantford Expositor darts these winged words at the speakers there:

> ..., it was a bit trying to hear someone say kanstitoots when he meant constitutes; another say bekuz for because; still another polilidigal for political. And, of course, there was the usual sprinkling of remarks about the govmint, the pardy, the hunnerds of Kanajins who were in attenanz, and references to what would happen onlass the peepul of this country were given an apportoonity to march forward onder the Conservative banner, and so properly davalup ar resources.

We fully agree with this criticism, which applies to virtually every large gathering in Canada. For some reason our country has no firm tradition of good speech, and even our learned men betray us at times. This failure cannot be dismissed as part of the "Little Joe" pose which afflicts some of our countrymen; it is too widespread for that.

But what a relief to hear a Canadian who speaks as though he were fully literate! Mr. Drew does so and we prophesy that this characteristic alone will turn votes his way, for he sounds like a man whose thought is clear and well-informed.

What most Canadians will not recognize, or do not care about, is that speech is the most direct reflection of thought. The sloppy speaker is likely to be the sloppy thinker; the man who catches his feet in his grammar will be all the more likely to trip up in an argument. The old English proverb which says "Speech shows what a man is" embodies a deep truth.

Death Of A Canadian Scholar

The death on Thursday of Pelham Edgar brings to a close a career of scholarship in which Canada may take pride. He was a fine teacher, and students who studied both French and English literature under his guidance at Victoria College, Toronto University, will cherish their memories of him in that capacity. He was, too, a doughty fighter for a native Canadian literature, and his encouragement meant much to our writers. During the two great wars he served, once as a soldier and and once as a temporary civil servant, and served well in both capacities. But it is as a scholar that his name will live in our annals.

The teacher imparts knowledge: the scholar's task is to extend knowledge or to throw new light upon knowledge already possessed. Pelham Edgar did this in two notable books, the first a critical study of Henry James and the second The Art of The Novel. There is a remarkable vogue for the works of Henry James now, and critical books about him are multiplying at a surprising rate, but none of them has so far exceeded in scope or understanding the book which Pelham Edgar wrote before James became a literary fashion. His work on the novel is of comparable stature, and no student of the subject can neglect it.

The makers of Canada are not all statesmen or explorers; through the fabric of our national banner the scholars draw a thread without which the whole would be drab indeed.

NOTE AND COMMENT

"Britain Threatened With Cider Shortage", says a headline. Well, if it would be of any help, Canada could send some of her decontaminated, super-vitaminized apple juice.

Diary Of A Worried Woodsman

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Every year I am impressed afresh by my own efforts to prepare for winter.

The squirrel's granary is full
And the harvest's done.

So wrote the poet Keats. But the squirrel's granary was as nothing compared with Marchbanks' cellar cupboard, his woodpile, his freezing locker, his coal bin and all his little nooks and crannies into which maple syrup, bottled pickles, fruit cakes, honey, sides of bacon, fat turkeys, embalmed vegetables and petrified fruit are crowded. I prepare for winter much as the early settlers prepared for an Indian siege. I can never become used to the idea that in winter one can buy food in the shops, exactly as in summer. No: I store away as much aliment as possible in my house, and when the first snow falls I begin to nibble.

MONDAY: Somebody who visited me in my office this afternoon commented on the fact that I have worn a path on the floor pacing up and down. Why this should be a cause of remark is more than I can understand. Are there really men who sit at their desks all day and work? I am on my feet most of the time, tramping to and fro, sitting down only when I have to write something, or when I become utterly exhausted with my travels. Once, in Ottawa, I saw a huge room in which many men worked silently at their desks, without glancing to right or left. "Don't they ever get up and walk about?" I asked my guide. "Only to the water-cooler", he said. I felt then as Dante must have felt when he peeped into the deeper levels of Hell. There were all those poor fellows, stuck to their chairs, unable to stir! How they ever did a day's work is more than I shall ever understand. Perhaps they never did. Perhaps that is what ails our civil service—no room to prowl.

TUESDAY: A young woman whom I know who is just learning to read kindly undertook to read me a story from her schoolbook today. It was one of those pieces about a king who promises his daughter's hand to any man who can make her laugh. It is this sort of promise which makes me wonder about the psychological makeup of fairy-tale characters; they seem to be ready to marry their daughters to anyone at all, for the most extraordinary reasons. I have never known a Canadian father who would permit a young man to marry his daughter, merely because he could make her laugh. (And I may say in parenthesis, that to make a really well brought up Canadian girl laugh is no easy task.) Canadian fathers don't care whether their sons-in-law are funny or not; all they want to know about is their prospects and how much money they have in the bank, and whether they drink. In fact, I have received the impression that Canadian fathers prefer sons-in-law who do not laugh. No doubt this attitude explains why Canada has no body of native fairy-tales. Many a Canadian father might justly say: "If you can get a laugh out of this sourpuss, you can have her". But he doesn't.

WEDNESDAY: Read in a newspaper today that the price of a shoeshine in Winnipeg is now twenty-five cents. Chuckled delightedly to myself, for although I have never been in Winnipeg, there is always a chance that I may go there some day, and if I do I shall take great pleasure in saving a quarter by shining my shoes myself. I have done this for years (like Abraham Lincoln), and I do not think that there is a bootblack in the country who can do a better job. The secret of good shoe-shining is patience, and most professionals are in a hurry; the shoe must be rubbed clean, and then a preliminary coating must be put on, and polished when it is dry. Then a second coating must be applied and polished. Then cream or oil must be rubbed into the leather, and polished when it is dry. Then the shoe must be rubbed with a dry cloth until the leather is hot. By these means a good shine is produced—a shine which would cause awed stares in Winnipeg or anywhere else. I learned this technique from an old man who had polished the boots in an English nobleman's house for over thirty years, and it is infallible.

THURSDAY: All this week I have had a cold. At least, I hope it is a cold. My head feels like a pumpkin, and when I breathe my left lung makes a noise as though a kitten were playing in a basketful of crumpled paper. I dare not go to my doctor, for he will send me to bed, and I want to save my usual Autumn holiday-in-bed for later on, when the weather is not so fine. But the man who occasionally sells me a little benzine with which to clean my clothes diagnosed my case today. "You've got muck in your bronikkies", he said, as I gave an agonizing cough. "There's only one thing that'll do you any good and that's mustard tea. Just get a pint of stout, heat it nearly to the boil, and put a couple of good tablespoons of mustard in it and drink it off quick. That'll fix you!" I thanked him and went away, thinking that it would fix me indeed, and probably for good. I suppose in the dear dead days beyond recall, when doctors were scarce, thousands of people were killed every year by wholesome home remedies given to them by sadistic old creatures with a taste for experiment.

FRIDAY: Suffered from extreme stupidity all day, which I attribute to my cold. Would begin a piece of work, and twenty minutes later would recover consciousness to discover that I was staring into space with my mouth open, making a noise like a sleeping bulldog—snuffle, snuffle, girrk, woof, snuffle. Is this sort of Hypnosis by the Common Cold well known to medical science, or will I get my name into the medical books under some such heading as "Marchbanks Symptom (Hypnogogia Marchbankensis)"?

* * *

SATURDAY: After deep reflection I have bought myself a Swede saw, and this afternoon I cut down a few trees with it and sawed them into convenient lengths. Hitherto I have used an old-fashioned bucksaw, but it appears that they can no longer be bought. They were mean things likely to cut you severely when you least expected it, but I think that the modern saw is worse. What is more, it cuts much too fast. When I set to work to saw a log which is ten inches thick I get the saw working rythmically, and then go into a daydream, knowing that in twenty minutes the log will be sawn through. But the first time I did that with a Swede saw I nearly sawed my leg off, and dropped the greater part of a heavy tree on my foot; they work much too quickly. In time, I suppose, I will get the blade so dulled that the saw will work at what I consider a reasonable speed. Meanwhile I am the frightened victim of a technological revolution.

A Prayer for Thanksgiving

O earth, O dewy mother, breathe on us
Something of all thy beauty and thy might,
Us that are part of day, but most of night,
Not strong like thee, but ever burdened thus
With glooms and cares, things pale and dolorous
Whose gladdest moments are not wholly bright;
Something of all thy freshness and thy light,
O earth, O mighty mother, breathe on us.
O mother, who wast long before our day,
And after us full many an age shalt be,
Careworn and blind, we wander from thy way:
Born of thy strength, yet weak and halt are we;
Grant us O mother, therefore, us who pray,
Some little of thy light and majesty.

—Archibald Lampman (1861-1899)

The Place For Auto Racing

If young men want to race cars the enclosed speedway is the place to do it. On the race track every contestant must accept the risk inherent in the activities in which he participates. What may pass for daring on the oval is sheer stupidity on the street. Any fool can speed but unfortunately it is not always the fool who suffers most as a result of his over-acceleration.—Victoria Times.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

The wicked are overthrown, and are not: but the house of the righteous shall stand. (Prov. 12: 7.)

* * *

There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it. (I Cor. 10: 13.)

* * *

Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded....

Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up. (James 4: 7, 8, 10.)

* * *

And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write; These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and no man shutteth; and shutteth, and no man openeth; I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and has kept my word, and hast not denied my name....

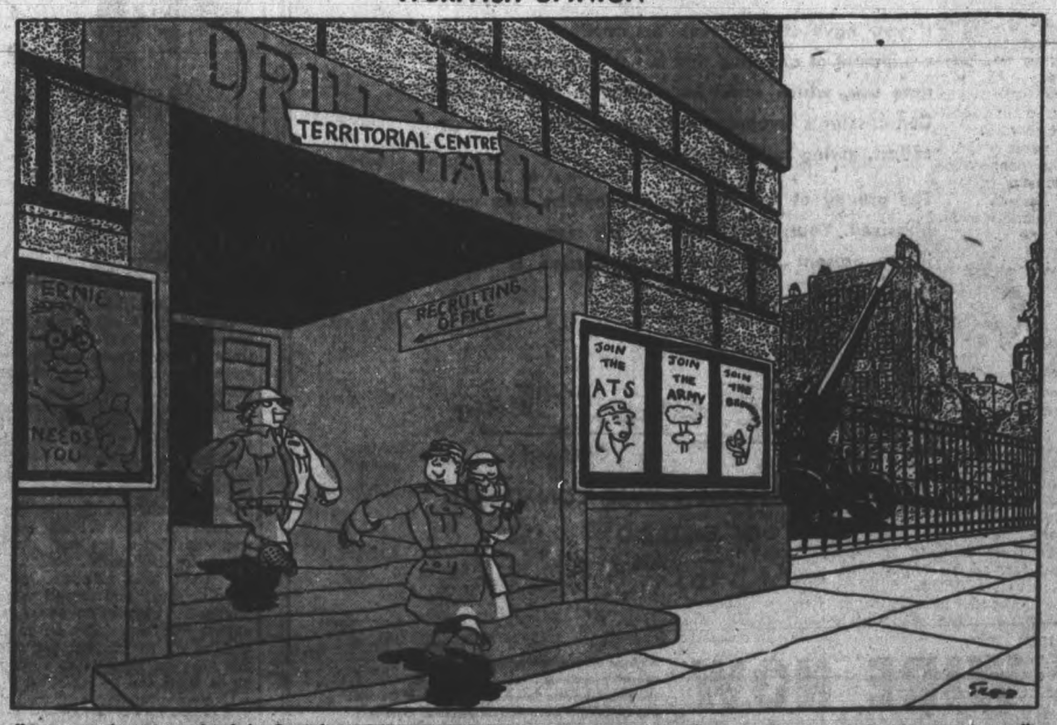
Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth. Behold, I came quickly: hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown. (Rev. 3: 7, 8, 10, 11.)

An October Bird Idyll

A DOWNY woodpecker, a scolding bluejay, and a cardinal perched at the same time on a sumach bush in its red finery of autumn, was an October idyll recorded by a Toronto bird observer. "On Thanksgiving Day a year or so ago", he writes, "I saw a bird picture I will never forget. There was a sprinkling of snow on the ground, and in a suburban garden, a sumach bush was brilliant with scarlet leaves. While admiring it, a downy woodpecker and a noisy bluejay alighted on the tips of two of its branches only a foot or so apart. Then, while I held my breath, a cardinal appeared from nowhere and perched on the same fiery tree. All three birds remained there for a full minute to make a scene of almost incredible beauty."

That is truly a sight to treasure in memory. Bluejays and downy woodpeckers are familiar enough, and it is good news to learn that the gorgeous cardinal is taking up permanent residence in other parts of outhern Ontario besides the Western Lake Erie region where it has been common for years. These lovely birds and brilliant whistlers are frequently seen all the year round in suburban Toronto. James L. Baillie, of the Division of Birds, Royal Ontario Museum, would be grateful for news of the first appearance of the cardinal in any region of Ontario.

A BRITISH OPINION



"I remember somebody's Socialist Government saying if you vote Tory you'll always be having wars."

London Express Service

Agricultural Possibilities of The West Greatly Underrated By Easterners

"If Manitoba farmers ever made up their minds to go into the production of bacon on a large scale, they could knock the props from under eastern Canada. I don't say that they wish to do so or that they will, but they could supply the Canadian and British markets without straining their productive abilities."

That is one of the impressions and opinions Frank C. Paterson gleaned in a vacation trip to the Pacific coast.

"The opinion was casually expressed to me by a man who is an authority in Manitoba's agriculture," Mr. Paterson said, "and I was quite prepared from what I saw to accept it as a true estimate of the possibilities of that province. Its importance is often overlooked or somewhat discounted in the rating of our agricultural areas.

"Manitoba has had this season its greatest crop in 30 years. Many fields of spring wheat averaged 50 bushels to the acre. Barley and oats have done exceedingly well, and flax has been a tremendous crop, possibly too heavy, and there has been a big yield of sugar beets from some 15,000 acres."

"One of the most notable developments in Manitoba is in the extension of hydro-electric power lines all over the province. I think that is a correct generalization. One of the results of this utility distributed among the farmers is that they are building homes for permanent living. They intend to stay there, not just again an independence and eventually take off to the coast."

Mr. Paterson travelled by jeep and automobile into rural sections of the four provinces, especially in Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia. He was accompanied by Mrs. Paterson who is extending her stay until the middle of October, and also by his father, now 89, who finished the long trip in good health, incidentally visiting a brother in the Seattle district, south of the border.

Friends extended to Mr. Paterson the hospitality for which the west is deservedly famed. They included farmers and ranchers, university professors and agricultural representatives. One of them was Dan Robert D. Sinclair, retired professor of animal husbandry of the University of Alberta, another was J. P. Sackville, secretary of the Aberdeen-Angus cattle breeders.

"Alberta impressed me as the richest of the western provinces in natural resources," Mr. Paterson said. "Actually and potentially it outranks the others, with Manitoba second, British Columbia third and then Saskatchewan.

"Alberta has fine agricultural and stock raising areas, a tremendous amount of coal, and new oil developments bigger than most people know. I was told at the University that a new oil strike north of Edmonton is likely to excel the Leduc field.

They are an aggressive prosperous people with good land reaching up into the Peace River district where they grow some of the best oats in Canada. Cattle breeders are coming to the Royal Winter Fair with numerous and strong entries. That goes for the Shorthorn, Hereford and Angus men. I don't say they are going to sweep the beef section of the Royal, but they say themselves that they are oging to be in the money. They are also bringing some horses.

"David Andrew, secretary of the Hereford breeders and Graham Anderson, a graduate of the University of Alberta, an ex-cow puncher, and now engaged in district agricultural work, were most hospitable to me. One of the views I heard was that summer fallow should not be practiced in farming because it was too wasteful. Men told me they must have fertilizer even on that land."

Mr. Paterson said he was through eight or ten Saskatchewan towns where he had judged at fairs 30 years ago. Large sections have been hit hard and often by drought, and those areas reflect the adversity they have come through. They are mainly in the southern part of the province.

"I discovered something for myself on this trip into British Columbia. The sage brush country of Idaho, almost a desert condition, thrusts up into areas of this province. The Okanogan Valley is dependent on irrigation. To me it appeared a rather surprisingly small area, producing splendid orchard fruits, especially apples. But, the new impression to me was of so much arid country, some of it on the mountain sides. They have only six inches of rain there."

"The Fraser River Valley is river bottom land, part of it was a lake that was dyked and dried out, surrounded by mountains, a strip of valley country 75 miles long and 10 miles wide, where they get about 60" of rainfall.

"Much of the valley is protected by dykes from the threat of the turbulent river. Canada remembers the rampage of the Fraser River last spring when the temperature in the mountains soared to 90 degrees, and 500 miles or so away, and, with rain, poured a great volume of water into the valley.

"A district agricultural representative told me he is helping to distribute $5,000,000 of Dominion government funds that were provided for the relief of the people whose properties were inundated, in some places to a depth of 20 feet. Opinion is that many people have been set back 20 years by the losses of last May.

"Wherever I go I am interested in soil, and one thing that struck me was this: So much more of the land than I expected is terribly poor, chemically. It is acid, short of lime and the plant foods that are required to grow big crops. A cause of that condition was the heavy precipitation of rain and resulting leaching. I was told the agricultural people have a big job on their hands right now distributing lime among the farmers.

"I hope that does not sound like depreciating British Columbia. Farm values up the Fraser River values average $1,000 an acre. A place of 25 acres with a house would probably sell for $25,000.

"There is intensive farming, and good farmers are not neglecting to use fertilizers on their land. Some of them grow tremendous quantities of hay and pasture products. The hops crop was being picked when I was coming through, a big acreage, grown by companies. I saw up to 300 people, mostly Indians, in one field.

"They have great canning crops in the Fraser River Valley, and their canning quality is outstanding. Their canned beans and raspberries tasted better than anything I had eaten in the east. I visited Vern Stanley-Jones on Vancouver Island. He has bought 50 acres and is building a house.

"Lumbering provides 40 percent of British Columbia's income; mining is highly important and fishing; the canning industry, fruits, fish and so on, is just a matter of agricultural processing. They have no heavy industries such as we have in the east. From the mines around Trail in the interior they are getting a valuable supply of phosphorous that is needed in their agriculture, and one of their industries is developing agricultural lime.

"The tidewater business of the province is also important. Ships were arriving while I was there from all parts of the world.

"A trip to the coast with some time to look around and get inland from the railways clarifies and strengthens our sense of Canadian nationhood. It comes home to one so much more forcibly that we are all of the same family in a huge estate; if one member province suffers seriously, the others are bound to be affected.

"Seeing the west helps us appreciate the extent of our country and the fine type of people we have out there, and it gives us more desire and resolution to work together for the good of our country as a whole."

Strickland Family Contributed To Cultural Life of Early Canada

By GLEN HANCOCK

Although the City of Peterborough does not currently have a university, or a native son or daughter who has built a better mousetrap than someone else, this historic town lays just claim to a family name which a century ago was the connotation of culture and industry in the youthful colony of Canada.

That name was Strickland. The son of the family, Col. Samuel Strickland, who helped to settle the Peterborough district, wrote one of the early books ("Twenty-seven years in Canada West") which best described the Canadian bush to the readers of the world. His sisters, Catherine Parr Traill and Susanna Moodie, were even more esteemed in the literature of early Canada, and their respective works, "The Backwoods of Canada" and "Roughing it in the Bush", are still among the best classics of our written prestige.

Samuel Strickland came to Otonabee township, near Peterborough, from England in 1825. He later farmed in Douro township, and under contract with the Canada Company he was a colleague of John Galt, who settled the Huron Tract.

Like most of the other colonels who were entrusted with the populating of the country, Col. Strickland took part in the Rebellion of 1837. After these difficulties had been settled, he wrote a book.

But it was not his book that has shone among the books on Canadian pioneer life. His sisters also were writers, and on the recommendation of their brother Samuel they had given up a life of leisure and luxury for the kind of hardship which was to be found only in those untracked spaces of wilderness which stretched north of the Great Lakes. Their arrival was a definite gain for the British colony.

Catherine, born in London, England, in 1802, did not emigrate to Canada solely because of her brother's invitation. She had married Lieut. Thomas Traill, who was of the 21st Fusiliers and who came to Canada in 1832 and settled near Rice Lake. Here she wrote "The Backwoods of Canada". It was published in England in 1835, and had an unfortunate effect on Britishers who had contemplated emigrating to Canada. Mrs. Traill had so vividly illustrated the deprivations of the colonial life that would-be settlers deterred from leaving England.

Susanna's reasons for coming to Canada were much the same as her sister's. She, too, had married an officer in the 21st Fusiliers in 1831, and, as Mrs. J. W. D. Moodie, crossed the ocean in the following year. They settled near Cobourg, and then moved to a place north of Peterborough where they endured hardships comprehendable to a cultured lady of the Strickland calibre.

In 1839, her husband became sheriff of Hastings county, and they moved to Belleville. In 1852 her "Roughing it in the Bush" had the same effect on prospective English settlers as that of her sister. She later lived in Toronto, after the death of her husband in 1869, and she herself died there in 1885.

The Stricklands had tried to awaken a literary taste which slumbered soundly in the midst of tree-chopping and the chores of keeping alive in the forests. In their enthusiasm over the healthy kind of life which was offered in Canada, a kind of life which they claimed was conducive to longevity, in spite of the hardships, they spared no detail from the labor of their pens. Though their primary reason for their licentious writing met with little response, the works of Mrs. Moodie, Mrs. Traill, and Col. Samuel Strickland have inspired a literary taste which is currently attempting to overtake the standards of other lands which started so long before.

The legend of that family is known by every school boy and girl today. Mrs. Moodie's poems, her "Life in the Clearings", "Flora Lindsay", and "Matrimonial Speculations" belong to the Canadian tradition, and Mrs. Traill's admirable works: "The Canadian Crusoes", "The Female Emigrant's Guide" and "Cot and Cradle Stories" illustrate the versatility of the literary minds which created a sound foundation upon which Canadian culture has grown.

On August 29, 1899, Mrs. Traill died at Lakefield. Col. Strickland had died there in 1867.

WHERE TO GO? What to do? These no doubt are the questions in the minds of many as the Thanksgiving week-end nears. It is the last holiday when near-summer weather might be expected. If a person wants to go fishing, he is restricted to bass and pickerel, as the seasons are closed on speckled trout, brown trout, lake trout and maskinonge. But the determined angler should still be able to have a pleasant week-end with the rod and line. Pickerel should be moving back into the shallows at many points, and I wouldn't be a bit surprised to hear that the lower lock, Hastings, and Young's Point produced some nice fish. Gannon's Narrows bridge and Buckhorn Lake should be O.K. for a bit of bass fishing.

FOR THE HUNTER, the possibilities are even better. Duck season is at its height, both north and south of Nov. 7 highway, and the bag limit for one day is seven with a possession limit of 14. If a hunter is lucky enough to find a spot where it is comparatively private he should have good gunning. Partridge season also opens on Oct. 9, today. It extends from Oct. 9 to 18, and the daily bag limit is five birds. Partridge are quite numerous in many districts, particularly in the Wilberforce and Mount Julian areas. Bird hunters are urged to respect the law which prohibits shooting from cars, or on or across a highway. In former years this law was badly abused, and usually when such a condition exists, the hazard is great too, because such hunters not only risk their own lives, but those of other motorists and residents along the roads.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

FOR THE MOTORIST, if good weather prevails, then he is due for a treat. The countryside is decked in its gayest autumn finery, and artists in particular will revel in this pageantry of color. Any road leading north from No. 7 highway is an attractive avenue presenting an ever-changing tapestry of vivid hues. Sunday afternoon and Monday are both free time periods for the man lucky enough to own a car, and healthy enough to drive it. The entire family can enjoy this fall outing, and a big picnic basket laden with goodies will be all that is necessary to complete the picture. There are many roadside tables, and natural picnic spots, where the family can eat. If a fire is kindled to make a pot of tea or coffee be very careful to see that every last ember is out before the party leaves. Friday's rain reduced the forest fire hazard, but in this weather the ground dries fast, and the threat of the careless motorist is ever-present.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

I CAN'T UNDERSTAND this new law which states a deer hunter must place a metal tag on a deer immediately the animal is shot. If the law is followed to the letter, then a hunter can knock off a 30-pound fawn the opening day and he is through for the hunt. I would think that once he claps his tag on a deer then he is through. If the law indicated that it wasn't necessary to put the tag on the carcass until it was being taken out of camp, then it would be different. It is not at all uncommon for one hunter to shoot half the deer in say a group of nine men. Then when camp breaks up the meat or carcasses are divided. Some hunters have been going out with parties for 25 years and have never shot a deer, but they always bring one home. There is no intention of breaking the law either, as the men are careful not to overshoot. On the other hand, they might get good shooting the first two days, then see nothing for the next ten.

WHAT MIGHT HAPPEN with this new law is that some hunters might knock off a fawn, too small for their needs, and instead of bringing the animal in, they will leave it hanging in the woods. Obviously the purpose of the tag was to prevent resident hunters from taking more than one animal, and hence it is good, but the wording which indicates immediate tagging of a deer when shot, does not appeal to me. Tags on deer can be checked easily by game overseers stationed on highways. Under the system where there must be a buck to match a doe or fawn, there is likely possibility of fawns and does being left hanging in the woods, and this tagging to my analysis won't help that situation. If the deer law was amended, allowing a hunter one deer, be it buck, doe or fawn, then I feel there would be the least amount of waste, and hunters themselves would have considerably more peace of mind.

EXAMINER LUCKY STRIKE fishing contest closes on Oct. 15, but contestants are given an extra two weeks to get their entries in. There are three prizes for the three largest maskinonge, smallmouth black bass, large-mouth bass, pickerel, lake trout, speckled trout and brown trout. All entries must include a statement from the owner of a Government-tested scales giving the weight of the fish. The angler must also produce a picture of the fish, and the entry is void without this. To date there has been very few entries in the pickerel and trout divisions, but there are quite a number of bass and muskies listed. No entry form is necessary as all data can be written on a sheet of paper.

Neil Wilson One Of Pioneer Teachers In Townships of Percy and Asphodel

MRS. GERALD MARRYAT

Cornelius, or Neil, Wilson, was born in Mauchline, Ayrshire, Scotland, in 1836 and came to Canada in 1853. Although but seventeen years of age, he had secured his first class certificate and he began his career as a teacher in No. 12 Percy, now Fleming's School. William Upton was the trustee, and, as Government grants were always slow in payment, the young man was given credit for £3-6-6 at the store of Fowlds Bros. at Hastings on August 18, 1856. This account is headed "Neil Wilson, Teacher in Asphodel", although an earlier account was opened by Mr. Wilson on Nov. 5, 1853, the same day as that of his brother, John M. Wilson. However, the records of the Department of Education confirm the change of scene, and after filling in apparently at Fleming's School for a short period, Neil Wilson was listed as teacher in No. 5 Asphodel for 1856 at a salary of £57 per annum, without board, an increase of £5 over his predecessor, Gibson Leach, who had filled the position at £52.

No. 5 Asphodel, now closed after a long existence, was known as Fife's School, the beginnings of which were the privately organized class of scholars along the river road by Robert Cayford Humphries and his immediate neighbors, when Francis Sharp was engaged as teachers. The school was moved north on the concession line to the corner of the farm now owned by Scott Fife, and it was in this old log building that both Leach and Neil Wilson taught. Scott Fife remembers his father, Duncan Fife, telling how the master only needed to walk over the hill to the swamp to cut an adequate supply of willow gads to keep his unruly flock in order. This school was a temporary affair, and T. A. Walsh of Hastings states that there was no fenced school yard. The present brick school dates back to the closing years of the last century.

Neil Wilson taught in No. 5 during 1856 and 1857 during which year his salary was raised to £61-10-0, also without board, and then he was succeeded by M. Healey, who received $300, the change having been made from Sterling to the demical currency. In 1859, Neil Wilson was back at his old post again, and there were the strongest of ties to bring him to the district for about this time he married Elizabeth Catherine Lobb, daughter of William Lobb, a pioneer settler on the east half of lot 6 in Con. 5.

The next few years were filled with sorrow for the young teacher, and in the bleak days of November, ten years after his coming to this district, Neil Wilson buried his young wife in the family graveyard, close to the Lobb homestead.

Although about a dozen graves were formerly discernable in this cemetery, Mrs. Joseph Powers, residing on the west half of lot 6 in Con. 6, states that there is now only one tombstone, bearing the inscription....

Elizabeth Catherine, wife of Cornelius Wilson, died Nov. 27th. 1863, aged 24 years, 1 month and 19 days. Also Thomas Lobb Wilson, infant son of Cornelius Wilson, died Nov 27th. 1862, aged 1 yr. 4 mos. and 6 days. Another child of the same name, died Oct. 11th. 1863, aged 7 mos. 11 days.

Soon after this Mr. Wilson, with his remaining children, Sarah Rebecca, and William moved to Norwood. And later he married Mary Ann Lobb, who died at Galt in 1898 in her 57th year. Her daughter, Mrs. Rutherford, 21 Brant Road, Galt, has kindly furnished many of the family records concerning her father. She states that he taught at Colborne Harbour in 1858. The new bridge over the Trent River at Hastings and the Gravel Road from Norwood to Colborne Harbour sponsored energetically by the Keelers of both places, may have tempted the young teacher to try his luck at The Front.

"Father" or "Daddy" Lobb was a well known Local Preacher, "and soon Neil Wilson was preaching too, writes his daughter, who does not, however, mention her father's entry into literature. But in the Hastings Star of June 13th, 1894, J. H. Scriver, acknowledged the receipt from the Methodist Book-room of a copy of "Rescued In Time" by Mr. Cornelius Wilson. Having known the author "since his coming to Hastings", Mr. Scriver anticipated "that the book would be in keeping with his remembrance of the man" and he was not disappointed; he thought it should be in every Sunday School library, "so that its warnings might be impressed upon every mind.... it was parallel with, equal to, and every bit as entrancing as 'Ten Nights in a Bar-Room'."

Neil Wilson moved to Port Perry from Asphodel, entering into the dry goods business with William Jones. In 1884 he moved to Galt and became a traveller for Goldie & McCullough safes. In June, 1893, when the vault of the Township of Asphodel could not be opened owing to the loss of its keys, the Hastings Star recorded that Mr. C. Wilson of Galt opened it.

Mr. Wilson was well known in Galt as a local preacher and was superintendent of the Sunday School for many years and active in church work. He died there in 1909 at the age of 74.

He was the son of John Wilson and Jannett McDougall. His parents came to Canada at a later date as well as his sisters, Mrs. John Clark and Mrs. John Armstrong.

Two of his brothers came to Hastings. In the obituary of John M. Wilson, it was stated that he came to Cobourg July 11 and via Gore's Landing and the old steam boat "Forester" (not Forest City, which was not built till 1858) to Hastings. A third brother, Alexander went on to Toronto, coming to Hastings in 1854.

William Lobb had many links with early Hastings as he was the first miller of the reconstructed Crooks' grist mill. He lived on Albert St., then unnamed, on the site of the Public School. He came to Asphodel about 1844 from the township of Athol in Prince Edward County; the remains of his homestead are still to be seen almost hidden by lilac bushes not far from the little graveyard.

LEST WE FORGET...

THANKSGIVING

The little company of Pilgrims, pitifully few in a great, uncharted, unfriendly wilderness, come to their first Thanksgiving and knelt in humble gratitude for their first harvest. They had fought for their freedom . . . and won! It was a Thanksgiving made in a new land out of a hard and bitter struggle. As we sit down this year in comfort and with the abundance that our Canada has given us . . . let us hold fast to a determination and faith as great as theirs . . . LET US NOT FORGET, HUMBLY, TO GIVE THANKS!

JEFF HEATH, BOSTON Braves outfielder out of big league competition because of a broken leg, attended a banquet tendered the National League pennant winners by the Boston chamber of commerce recently. He filled the role of invalid very well, and here Marv Rickert, outfielder recalled from the minor leagues to take Heath's place in the outfield against the Cleveland Indians in the series feeds the crippled warrior a large gob of ice cream, while Eddie Stanky, erstwhile cripple, looks on. Stanky returned to action just before the season ended after an extended layoff due to a broken ankle. Rickert was one of the two men getting a hit off Cleveland's Bob Feller in the first game of the World Series. Holmes was the other one, and it was his single that won the game for the Braves 1-0.

IN MAIN BOUT—Whipper Billy Watson, shown above, has been signed to wrestle here next Wednesday against surly John Katan. The Whipper is probably the most popular wrestler to ever appear here and a match between him and the big-armed John should be quite a spectacle. The Whip may find that even his great speed and clever mat work may be offset by Katan's arm and neck power. Big Ben Morgan, the gigantic wrestler from Tennessee will be introduced on Wednesday's card. The 310-pounder will meet Ben Sharpe of Hamilton. Another bout is also being arranged.

Coaching Skill Of Hap Day Boost To Leafs

By FRASER MACDOUGALL

TORONTO, Oct. 9 (CP). — The coaching skill of Clarence (Happy) Day and a superb team spirit may bring Toronto Maple Leafs their third consecutive Stanley Cup and world hockey championship.

This was the view expressed today by Managing Director Conny Smythe who said that the loss through retirement of two great players—Syl Apps and Nick Metz — had reduced Toronto player strength to a level with the other five teams in the league.

Said Smythe: "But, as the horse racing men say, we still have the best horse in the barn in Happy Day as coach and that's going to make a lot of difference. And we have a better team spirit."

The Leafs still have two of the greatest centre players in hockey. Replacing Apps as team captain is Ted Kennedy, the Port Colborne, Ont., boy who at 22 is a veteran of six National Hockey League seasons. One of the game's greatest competitors, he is flanked by wingers Howie Meeker and Vic Lynn, who have played beside him for two season.

Playing With Rookies

Bentley, who came to the Leafs last season in the famed five-for-two deal with Chicago Black Hawks, is playing with two promising rookies—Les Costello and Fleming Mackell.

Cal Gardiner, who came to the Leafs in an off-season deal that sent veteran Wally Stanowski to New York Rangers, may take over Apps' old centre spot between Harry Watson and Bill Ezinicki. Or the job may go to rookie Bobby Dawes who has been centring the line while Gardiner is out with injuries. The other forward is handyman Joe Klukay.

Carry 6 Riders Off Bike Track

BUFFALO, Oct. —(AP).—One of the worst series of crack-ups in the history of Buffalo's international six-day bike races Friday night slashed the field to seven teams.

Six riders retired or were carned from the track. The mishaps, which folowed each other in rapid succession during a wild jam, left the leadership with Charlie Bergna of Paterson, N.J., and Bill Andersonn of Cleveland.

The first to go was Tom Saetta of Brookyn, who cracked up with his partner, Erwin Peden of Chicago, as they were attempting a pick-up at the height of the jam. He suffered an injured shouder. Peden, carried from the track on a stretcher, returned shortly alone, but almost immediately tangled with Hugo Koblet of Switzerland. Jules Audy of Chicago, trying to avoid the spill, swerved, feil and catapulted over the rail into the spectators.

Koblet suffered a broken arm; Audy a broken wrist.

Angelo Di Bacco cracked up alone coming out of a turn. He was carried from the arena with a back injury.

Torchy Peden of Canada retired. The Victoria rider's partner, Rene Cyr of Montreal, teamed with Cesare Moretti, Di Bacco's partner. Walt Diggleman, Koblet's partner, teamed with Henri Surbatis of Greece, Audy's old partner.

SHOWN ABOVE ARE the two flingers on whom the Boston Braves are pinning their World Series hopes. At right is tobacco chewing Johnny Sain, workhorse of the Braves' staff, who won 24 games in regular season's play. It was he who set down the Cleveland Indians on four hits in the opener of the World Series, which his club took by a score of 1-0. Warren Spahn, colorful southpaw who won 15 games during the season, didn't fare as well in the second game. He was shelled from the mound in the fifth inning, after the Indians had taken a 3-1 lead. Cleveland went on to take the encounter by a score of 4-1, evening the series at one game apiece.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Football fans have a double offering at the Oval this aft, a junior joust betwixt Lakefield and PCVS at one o'clock, and a senior fixture at three. This latter sees Oshawa Collegians clashing with the PCI-ers for the first time this semester, and these old grid opponents usually turn in an exciting and wide-open brand of rugby. Locals have been free from injuries so far—the bane of coaches—and are expected to make a real showing in the next six or seven weeks as they drive toward another COSSA championship. But Oshawa might slow them up a bit, who knows? Another junior group game today, too, St. Peter's playing in Lindsay.

* * * * * *

Panthers, in Oakville today, make their home debut Monday, the holiday, at three p.m., in the Oval. Riverside bleachers have been moved to the northend park and can seat some 1,500 Thanksgiving Day fans. The ORFU intermediate Panthers have to hustle from here on in if they hope to make a second-place playoff spot in their grouping. Starting line will likely be Dick Quinet at centre, Coughlin and Fitzgerald insides, Curtin and Beatty as middles, Jack Conlin and McGillis at ends, with Jim Conlin flying wing. Backfield of Matthews, Trimm, Plunkett and Smith. Alternates include: Lech, Fraser, VanAllen, Middleton, Board, Bartley, Garvey, Scriver, Davidson, Burns, Delaney, Berardi, Marshall and Hodson. Maybe a change or two, but that'll give you an idea of the club. The holiday game should draw well.

Ashby's Win Protest

Word has been received that the Protest Committee of the Girls' Softball League—Fred Scates, Pat Calladine and Ted Lebarr—has ruled that the Lindsay-Ashby's playoff game be replayed. With the suggestion that different umpires be used. No date has been set for the replay. Lindsay lasses apparently won the intermediate title, but Ashby's protested the base umpire ejecting Joan Reynolds (team captain) for questioning a decision by him. So, now the game is to be played over again. This decision clears Joan, Ashby's peppery young catcher, of any criticism. After all, a team captain is quite entitled to question an official's decision, provided it is done in a reasonable manner.

* * * * * *

A Canadian Press dispatch has this to say: "Bill Thoms, former Toronto Maple Leafs' and Chicago Black Hawks' star centre, has been named as playing coach of Lindsay Meteors, an OHA senior 'B' club. He will lead an all-Toronto team of ex-professional and Commercial League players playing on Lindsay's new $40,000 artificial ice rink. The team, which replaces Peterborough Legion in the league, probably will line up with Markham, Whitby, Aurora and possibly Peterborough." Hm, interesting, if true. Not that it replaces Legion, who will be back in senior "B" again, but this Toronto-Lindsay entry would be a big help in forming a group which would also include Legion and Petes.

Legion In The Final

Toronto soccer squad, slated to meet the local Legionnaires at three this afternoon in King Edward Park, have defaulted the semi-final playoff. So, now Legionnaires go into the Legion inter-branch soccer finals against the Chatham-Brampton winner, maybe playing next weekend in Guelph. Don't know for sure about that part of it. Meantime, O'Halloran's tangle with the Petes at 2.30 Monday (the holiday afternoon in King Edward Park in Mayor Ovens' Cup play. School soccer will resume next midweek again.

With a Nod To Doug

Rain last evening forced the postponement of the big lacrosse playoff betwixt Huntsville Hawks and the Petes, but Manager Doug Miller made arrangements to have it staged tonight (Saturday) at 8.30 in Miller Bowl. Yes, an 8.30 touch, barring rain, and a huge crowd should be on deck. As pointed out before, a victory for the Petes will give them the OLA senior "B" championship again and pit them with Windsor for the all-Ontario title. A loss, of course, will prolong this best-of-seven series to at least six games. Remember, it's billed for tonight and all roads will lead toward Miller Bowl.

* * * * * *

Speaking of Doug Miller, the Petes' manager is doing a whale of a job for the gutted-stick game here. He was president of the club to start the season, but took over the management—with Bob Pierson becoming prexy—and now looks after a raft of details. Responsibility of arranging games, checking on players, getting equipment, keeping tab on financial matters, ticket takers, etc., and etc. Yes, Ald. Doug is doing a dandy job, but then he really revived the sport here two years ago and had the fine lacrosse box built. We can recall when he revived it once before, away back in 1931, practically by himself. Quite a guy.

Harriers Club Names New Officers

E. C. Brown, a former sprinter from Galt, was elected president of the Peterborough Harriers Club with P. Dominik vice-president, B. King secretary and R. Douglas treasurer, at the club's annual meeting. Jack Dane is honorary president, and Jim Flowers immediate past president.

Annual events were discussed, as well as plans for a good 440-yard cinder track. Local harriers, besides holding meets here the past year, visited other meets at London, St. Catharines, Buffalo, Oshawa, Toronto and Hamilton. Some fine showings were made, including Ray Donnelly's three-mile run in 16 mins. 49.5 secs.; W. A. Thistlewaite's mile in 4 mins. 59.2 secs.; Jim Flowers' 220 dash in 22.6 secs. at Buffalo; and Ed Hillis' junior broad jump of 17 ft. 9 in. at Oshawa.

The harriers' long distance runners are getting in shape for a five-mile road race in Toronto at a request from here. Newcomers are welcome. The club will be having a membership drive in the near future, as well as a social meeting.

Here And There In Sports . . .

BY CANADIAN PRESS

The openinng game of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A schedule, which had Barrie Flyers slated to meet Stratford Kroehlers, has been postponed, George Panter, O.H.A. president, announced in Toronto Friday.

Mr. Panter said the contest scheduled for Oct. 13 at Stratford, has been set back because the Stratford arena, which is being remodelled, will not comply with safety and fire regulations by that date.

Queen's University Friday won the wettest Canadian senior intercollegiate golf championship in years.

Rain soaked the Kingston Cataraqui Golf and Country Club as Emerson Creed of Queen's shot the 36 holes in 151 to win the McColl Cup for the individual championship. Queen's won the Dr. R. F. Ruttan trophy for team competition with 648, followed by McGill with 687.

William-Givens of the University of Toronto was runner-up in the individual competition with 158.

At Toronto, coach Tedder Morris announced Friday night that Argonauts' two injured backfield aces—Joe Krol and Royal Copeland—will dress for the Dominion football champions' Big Four league game with Hamilton Wildcats here today.

How much they will play depends on how the game goes, said Morris, who needs a victory badly to keep Argos in the running for one of the league's two playoff spots.

At Toronto, University of Toronto Seconds Friday downed University of Western Ontario Colts 14-6 in the rain-soaked opener of the 1948 Intermediate Intercollegiate football season. Playing in a heavy rain that churned Varsity Stadium into heavy mud, Varsity cashed in on Western fumbles and pushed home unconverted touchdowns in the first and third quarters. The sole Western major came in the second quarter.

President Branch Rickey announced Friday at New York that Barney Shotton will manage Brooklyn's Dodgers again next season. The sudden announcement by Brooklyn president and general manager put to rest the recent rumors that Shotton would be retired and that Bucky Harris, former New York Yankee pilot, would take over the Brooklyn field job.

Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa Friday was besieged by autograph hunters when she arrived at Owen Sound for her first visit there. Accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Clyde Scott, the world and Olympic figure skating champion was welcomed by Mayor E. C. Sargent.

Barbara Ann officially opened the first hockey game of the season, between Owen Sound Senior 'A' Mercurys and Toronto Marlboros—a charity match sponsored by the Kinsmen Club.

Two Toronto Varsity teams beat Western University soccer squads at London Friday in the first games of the 1948 Intercollegiate season. The Blues' senior team edged Western 2-1, while the Varsity Seconds blanked the Western Intermediates 3-0.

Promoter Andy Neiderreiter said Friday night at New York that Marcel Cerdan, recently-crowned middleweight champion, will make his next appearance for the tournament of champions in a non-title fight at the Jersey City, N.J., armory in mid-January. Arrangements have been made to have the Frenchman meet an opponent not yet selected.

Tom Hurst, manager of British heavyweight champion Bruce Woodcock, said Friday night at London, that he was considering an offer to have his boxer meet Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati, in Madison Square Garden in New York Nov. 12. Hurst said the Twentieth Century Sporting Club wanted Woodcock as a substitute for Joe Baksi of Kulpmont, Pa., who withdrew with a hand injury.

IN THE FOURTH INNING of the second game Lou Boudreau hit a double to right field and scored on Joe Gordon's single to left. This was that tying run. From there on Cleveland took the upper hand and went on to win over the Braves 4-1.

Series Notes From Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Oct. 9.—(AP).—Bill Wamby, who made an unassisted triple play at second base for Cleveland in the 1920 world series, and Elmer Smith, who clubbed a grand slam home run for Cleveland in the same game, watched Friday's game from seats directly behind home plate.

"This is the first world series I've seen since our 1920 victory," Wamby said. 'Elmer, of course, played in two other series with the New York Yankees."

Wamby was known as Bill Wambsganss back in 120 when the Indians won their only world championship by beating Brooklyn five games to two. Other members of that 1920 team at yesterday's game were Tris Speaker, centre fielder and manager; George Uhle, pitcher; Stephen Francis O'Neill, catcher and now manager of Detroit Tigers; and Jack Graney, who played with Smith in the outfield.

Indian hurler Don Black, recovering from a brain haemorrhage that struck him down at home plate during a game with St. Louis Browns, saw his mates on television as they beat Boston Braves 2-0 Friday. Hurler Charley (Red) Barrett's effective work for the Braves prompted Don to commen::

"Maybe that guy can't break a pane of glass, but he sure can get them out."

Larry Doby, the Indians' speedy outfielder, has the best batting average of the series so far and is the only player to hit safely in all three games. He has a mark of .363, having hit safely on four of 11 trips to the plate.

4 Ranger Hockey Players Injured In Car Collision

MONTREAL, Oct. 9 (CP). — Four New York Ranger hockey players were injured in an automobile accident near Rouse's Point, N.Y., Friday night, and the hockey world today wondered how severe a jolt this would be to the National league team which opens its schedule next Thursday.

Injured when their car collided with a truck five miles from Rouse's Point on the Canadian side of the border were star centres Buddy O'Connor and Edgar Laprade, and defenceman Frankie Eddolls and Bill Moe.

Exact seriousness of the injuries will not be known until late today when doctors take X-rays and complete their examinations.

All four were brought to Western hospital here following the accident.

Dr. George Little who treated the players listed the injuries as follows:

O'Connor, possible broken ribs and severe bruises.

Eddolls, cuts on one knee; Laprade, broken nose; and Moe, a bad head cut which required 15 stitches to close.

Hospital authorities said all four were "resting comfortably" early today. Dr. Little said Friday night that Laprade's nose injury was causing him great pain, but otherwise the former Port Arthur amateur flash was in good condition.

May Be Severe Blow

If any of the four are to be sidelined for any length of time it would be a severe blow to Rangers chances in the early part of the NHL race. New York meets Montreal Canadiens here in their first game next Thursday.

O'Connor, runner-up to Montreal's Elmer Lach for league scoring honors last season, and Laprade, one of the game's slickest stickhandlers, are the club's best two centremen. Moe and Eddolls hold down regular defence berths.

O'Connor told Dr. Little that their car had collided with a truck which came onto the main highway from a side road.

Tony Leswick, pint-sized Ranger wingman, was also riding in the car but escaped unhurt. He continued to the Rangers training camp at Saranac Lake, N.Y., where the players were returning to after a three-game exhibition series against Quebec amateur teams.

O'Connor, at 145 pounds the lightest forward in the NHL last winter enjoyed the best season of his seven-year National league career, winning both the Hart Trophy as most valuable player and the Lady Byng award for most sportsmanlike player.

Montreal Laces Saints 5-1, Has 2-1 Edge

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 9 (AP). —Montreal Royals are homeward bound today after dishing out a 15-1 lacing to St. Paul Saints Friday night for a 2-1 edge in games in the Little World Series, to be resumed Sunday in the Canadian city.

The Royals collected a score of hits from five Saint hurlers while their own Clarence (Spider) Podbeilan was limiting the losers to five.

Jimmy Bloodworth, Royals' second baseman, topped the scoring parade by batting in six runs on a pair of singles and the contest's only home run. Centrefielder Sam Jethroe got four for four and made all of them count.

Mel Himes started on the hill for the Saints and gave up seven hits before Jack Paekpe took over in the third. From then on, the mound procession included Charlie Samaklis in the fifth and Bob Romano in the sixth, topped off by Lee Griffith in the ninth. All were tapped generously for hits, with Himes tagged for the loss.

Tentative Sunday assignments call for Don Newcombe to pitch for the Royals, with Morrie Martin doing the Saintly chores.

Sain Key Man In Fourth Game Of World Series

CLEVELAND, Oct. 9 (AP). — Johnny Sain, curve-balling right-hander of Boston Braves, is the key man of the World Series as the clubs go into today's fourth game with Cleveland holding a 2-1 edge.

If Sain, a 1-0 conqueror of Bobby Feller in the opener, can stop the Tribe again, this may turn out to be a seven-game marathon. If Sain fails, Cleveland is expected to rack up the National leaguers by Sunday.

Manager Lou Boudreau of the Tribe figures things that way too. Friday night, after Gene Bearden's brilliant five-hit 2-0 shutout victory, the Cleveland skipper said: "Tomorrow is the big one."

Boudreau is shooting Steve Gromek, whom he describes as "my fourth best pitcher," against Sain.

Hockey Happenings Review

By The Canadian Press

Pittsburgh Pirates must be feeling chirpy today after taking on and beating the world champions.

The Toronto Maple Leaf farm team went to town Friday night at Pittsburgh and inflicted a 3-2 defeat on the Leafs, the first loss the National Hockey League titlists have suffered in six exhibition games.

It was almost a personal victory for Bas Bastien, little French-Canadian goalie from Timmins, who provided brilliant back-stopping to back up his mates' solid defensive play.

The American Hockey League players never gave Toronto sharpshooters a chance to get set, but Bastien, under-study to Turk Broda in the Toronto goal for years, held off attack after attack.

The score might have been a 3-3 tie except for the banishing of Bill Ezinicki just after Gus Mortson counted the third Toronto goal midway through the finale. The goal did not count. Pittsburgh scorers were Eldred Kobussen, Sid Smith and Pete Langelle. Toronto counters were by Les Costello and Howie Meeker.

The daily hunt for players of N.H.L. calibre continued Friday, with Boston Bruins signing Ed Krysankowski, University of Toronto defence star, to a professional contract.

Coach Dit Clapper of the Bruins is looking to five second-year men to give that team a big lift. They are Pete Babando, Eddie Sanford, Ed Harrison, Johnny Pierson and Paul Ronty. All but Harrison came up to the big show last year by way of the Hershey Bears in the American Hockey League. If these five men deliver, the Bruins believe they will be around the No. 1 position in the league race.

Teachers, Parents Pleased With Extra Year Schooling

By JOAN CAPREOL

LONDON, Oct. 9 (Reuters). — Teachers and parents are pleased with resultts achieved in the last 18 months since the Government raised the age at which children may leave school from 14 to 15.

Co-operation by teachers in the face of trying circumstances has helped greatly. The extra year has meant that teachers must cope with larger classes.

On the whole, pupils have taken the new deal in good part though some boys from poorer sections of cities at first resented another year of schooling. They felt they were unlucky in being born a year too late.

Employers of juvenile labor have shown themselves sympathetic to the plan although it has deprived them of many potential employees during a labor shortage.

R. J. Richards, Secretary of the Advisory Council on Youth Employment in the London area, said: "This year's school-leavers are completely different. They are brighter, have more poise."

Take Different Jobs

Employment exchanges report that this year's 296,729 15-year-old boys are turning away from clerical jobs to enter building and engineering trades.

The extra year at school has meant 390,000 extra pupils — which in turn resulted in shortages of suitable accommodation, teachers, school furniture and text books.

The Ministry drew up plans to provide temporary additional accommodation by erecting 6,000 specially-designed huts as near as possible to the schools.

A special scheme to cope with the shortage of teachers includes creation of 55 new teachers' training colleges to give a one-year intensive course.

Despite every effort, the Ministry of Education still has 23,000 teachers less than it needs. Of these, 3,000 are needed to cope with the extra number of pupils resulting from the additional year at school.

225 Teachers Attend Convention Here

Friday was teachers' convention day in Peterborough as 225 teachers from Hastings County south and Peterborough gathered for a busy round of affairs. Starting at 10 a.m., the Hastings south group attended classes at both the Queen Mary and Prince of Wales Schools for observation of classes. Teachers of various grades were assigned to classrooms through the kindness of Superintendent K. S. Wightman.

While this group was busy through the morning, the Peterborough County group gathered at St. James' United Church where the Rev. C. G. Boyd of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church spoke to the assembly in an address entitled "Christ Was the Truth." This was followed by a talk by Miss B. McLeod on reforestation, outlining the progress in the school horticultural activities in leaf collections and reforestation plots. The Misses Meiklejohn, A. Chase and R. Killen spoke on the benefits and achievements of inter-school sports. Miss A. Anderson of Stewart Hall School described a summer vacation trip from Windsor, Ont., through the Western States to California and return.

At 12:30 p.m. the South Hastings teachers joined with the Peterborough County teachers for a banquet at which His Worship Mayor W. G. Ovens spoke words of civic welcome to the whole gathering. Community singing was led by Walter Morrow.

Guest speaker for the day was J. A. Edmison, K.C., secretary of the John Howard Society of Ontario. Although Mr. Edmison may not be termed a home boy from Peterborough County, at least his roots were founded in Smith Township where his father, grandfather and great-grandfather were residents of Smith Township. His mother was the former Lily Fitzgerald and teacher at Zion School in Otonabee.

He is associated with an organization that gives penal inmates after-care assistance. Since its foundation in Canada in 1929 to the end of 1927, placed 659 ex-prisoners in employment. He has studied this problem of society in most of the large cities in Canada, United States and Great Britain, and pointed out to the gathering of teachers the trouble branched from juvenile delinquency and that the home, school and church were the agencies that could deal with the problem at first hand.

He told of the types of homes and home lives that spawned delinquents in large cities, and read examples of pitiful and brutal sentences meted out to youngers in Canadian penitentiaries just a century ago. Mr. Edmison's speech was very well received by the audience, and he was thanked by V. P. Carswell, president of the Hastings south group.

From this point on the two bodies again went about their various businesses in the Parish Hall. The Hastings south section listened to an address by their president, Mr. Carswell, dealing with what was expected of the schools today in the matters of job conditioning, health and citizenship. This was followed by a problem period during which H. Darling discussed administration and supervision, Mrs. J. Good talked of primary problems and F. W. Sherbert talked on the importance of mathematics. J. A. Warren gave a talk on English through the grades.

Meanwhile the Peterborough County teachers listened to an address by Dr. Glen Milton, director of dental health.

The following new slate of officers was elected for the coming season: D. Buchanan, president; J. L. McColl, Miss A. Anderson and Miss R. Killen, vice-presidents, and Miss Jean Fairburn, secretary-treasurer. Members of the executive committee chosen were Miss A. Chase, Mrs. Stanley Mills, K. Leahy, Miss E. Mortlock, Mrs. H. Hill, D. Clysdale, Mrs. R. Packenham, E. Sloane and E. Ball.

WITH ALL THE SERIOUS TALK going on at the United Nations General Assembly at Paris, there are still moments when two or three leaders stop to talk and find something to smile about. This picture was taken at just such a time. Left to right are Dana Wilgress, Canadian minister to Switzerland; Herbert V. Evatt, deputy prime minister of Australia; and Andrei Vishinisky, deputy foreign minister of Russia.

WMS Hears Report On Sectional Rally

WESTWOOD, Oct. 8—(ENS)—Ten members of St. Andrew's Women's Missionary Society met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. W. Sargent for the October meeting, with the president, Mrs. C. Brackenridge presiding.

The report of the sectional rally held at Havelock was given by the president. Arrangements were made for a social time at the November meeting which will be held at the home of the president. It was decided the usual number of "World Friends" subscriptions will be presented to the Mission Band.

Mrs. John Davidson took charge of the worship service and program under the theme "The Word of Truth." She also gave an interesting talk on the first chapter of the new study book "West of the Gorges" which is a study of China.

Vigorous Objections Made To Charlotte St Widening

Vigorous objections to the proposed cut-back on Charlotte St., were heard before R. H. Yeates, of the Ontario Municipal Board in the city council chamber on Friday.

The hearing was held to permit property owners along Charlotte and George Streets to register any objections they might have to By-law 4714, a by-law to fix the building line on those two streets. This by-law has been passed by the City Council and becomes law on approval of the Municipal Board. Briefly the purpose of the by-law is to provide a five-foot setback on all buildings along Charlotte street so that eventually the street can be widened by ten feet. Existing buildings are not affected until such time as some structural change was made, but all new and proposed building would have to conform with the by-law.

Hon. G. N. Gordon, KC, acted for the City Council in questioning the objectors, and called several citizens to show the need for such a by-law being passed.

James Hamilton told the Commissioner that for 15 years successive councils had felt something should be done to relieve the congestion on Charlotte and George Streets particularly at the intersection of these two streets. "There is no other solution but wider streets, and when after much consideration our planning board submitted this recommendation, the by-law was drawn up. We realized in making the recommendation we were creating a hardship on people who have properties along the streets. On the other hand we felt we were acting in the best interests of the citizens."

At this point Mr. Gordon filed the Faludi Town Planning report as an exhibit.

H. R. Sills, an electrical engineer with the CGE company and a member of the town planning board, was called by Mr. Gordon.

Biography in the Bible

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Genesis 11:27-25:11

Terah, Abraham's father, took his family consisting of Abraham, his son, and Abraham's wife, Sarah, his grandson, Lot, and moved from Ur, land of the Chaldees, and they dwelt in Haran until Terah's death, when God told Abraham to go to the land of Canaan.

God appeared to Abraham and promised that He would make a great nation from his descendants, but Abraham told Him that Sarai, his wife, never had borne a child. The Lord promised her a son, and it came to pass that a son was born to Sarai and called Isaac.

When Isaac was a growing boy, it was demanded that Abraham make a sacrifice of him to the Lord. Obediently but with aching heart, Abraham took his son, laid him on the altar, and was about to sacrifice him, when the angel of the Lord withheld his hand.

Sarai (now Sarah) died before Abraham, her husband, and he bought a field from Ephron, of the children of Heth, in which was a cave, and he buried Sarah there, and when Abraham died he was laid by her side.

MEMORY VERSE—Matthew 22:37.

Scripture—Genesis 11: 27, 25, 11

BIOGRAPHY is extremely popular modern reading matter. Many life stories of both modern and historical characters become "best sellers" every year.

In our Bible are many biographies—from those of Adam and Eve to our Lord's and His apostles. All make fascinating rtading, and have been ever since that faraway day when the Bible—best seller of all times — was first printed so that the common people could read it.

This lesson is a very brief biography of Abraham, founder of the Jewish race and pioneer in the life of his people.

We are told that Terah, Abraham's father, took Abraham (who was then called Abram), his son, and Lot, the son of Haran, his son's son, and Sarai (later Sarah), his son Abram's wife; and went forth with them from Ur of the Chalders to go into the land of Canaan, and they came unto Hanan, and dwelt there" until the death of Terah. Hanan was not in Canaan.

After his father's death. Abraham was commanded by the Lord to further pioneer in "a land which I will show thee."

Faith in God's guidance was a leading characteristic of this great man, so Abraham, his wife and Lot, his nephew, and all their belongings and the people whom they had gotten in Haran, moved into the Land of Canaan as the

Memory Verse

"Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God, with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind."—Matthew 22: 37.

Lord had said. The Lord had also promised that he would make a great nation of Abraham, "and I will bless thee, and make thy name great."

Abraham pitched his tent to the east of Bethel, and there he built an altar unto Jehovah, and called upon His name.

Nearer Bethel Abraham pitched his tent and built another altar and called upon his God.

Abraham and Lot became rich men with many possessions, but their herdsmen quarreled, and Abraham told Lot to look about him, select a land that would please him, and go there to live. Lot chose the rich plain of the Jordan river, which was like the Garden of Eden, and there he moved, although close at hand were the wicked cities of Sodom and Gomorrah.

We are now told of the first wars recorded in the Bible. Four kings made war on the kings of Sodom and Gomorrah and two others, and in their second invasion they conquered these two doomed cities and took Lot prisoner. Abraham was told of Lot's fate and he armed his trained servants and released Lot and obtained all Lot's goods likewise.

A charming story in this brief account of Abraham's life is told in the 14th chapter of Genesis, when he met Melchizedek, king of Sodom, who was a priest of the most high God. He brought forth bread and wine, and blessed Abraham, and God for having delivered Abraham's enemies into his hand.

After this encounter the Lord appeared again to Abraham and told him, "I am God Almighty; walk before Me, be thou perfect. And I will make a covenant between Me and thee, and will multiply thee exceedingly." It was at this time that the Lord told Abram that he should be known thenceforth as Abraham and his wife's name would be Sarah.

Up to this time Abraham and Sarah had no children, and they were old people, but now God definitely promised that they should have a son and they should call him Isaac. This promise was fulfilled in time.

In the meantime the Lord told Abraham that He was going to destroy the wicked cities of Sodom and Gomorrah. Abram persuaded Him to spare them for the time being, telling Him that there might be good people living there who would also be killed, but at last, as you know, when the inhabitants of the city were especially vicious in their acts, they were destroyed. Lot and his family only being spared.

A son was finally born to Abraham and Sarah, and he was named Isaac, and then something terrible happened. Abraham was ordered by his God to make a sacrifice of this adored son. Imagine his despair. But, true to his principles, he was prepared to do God's will, and so he took the boy to the place of sacrifice, and would have slain him, but the angel of the Lord stayed his hand and Isaac was spared to carry on the Jewish nation after his father's death.

Sarah died before Abraham, at a ripe old age, and Abraham bought a field from Ephron, who dwelt among the children of Heth On the field was a cave and in it Sarah's body was laid to rest, and when Abraham "was gathered to his people," he was laid by her side.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

PARTRIDGE SEASON OPENS

First open season on partridge this autumn opens today and runs until Oct. 18, both dates inclusive. Bag limit is five birds daily or a season bag of 20. Second season is Nov. 13 to 23.

HOME NURSING CLASSES

The Peterborough Branch on the Canadian Red Cross Society is organizing a home nursing class under the direction of a specially trained registered nurse. Registrations will take place at the Red Cross rooms, corner of George and Brock Sts., next Wednesday and Thursday evenings, between 7:00 and 9:00 o'clock.

CAR DITCHED

Skidding out of control on the wet pavement of No. 7 Highway about two and a half miles north of the city, the car of William Chatten, RR 1, Omemee, took to the ditch Friday evening about 5:15. The driver, who was alone in the car, was returning from work. He was not injured. Damage is estimated at $300. The accident was investigated by Provincial Constable Harry Cook.

TO ATTEND LABOR MEET

Peterborough delegates who will attend the eighth annual convention of the Canadian Congress of Labor in Toronto, October 11-15, will include: Gerald Anderson, Alfred Barber, Wm. Triggs, United Packinghouse Workers of America; Keith Chiles, Thos. Davies, Phillip Doherty, John Morton, Joseph Murphy, Cyril O'Donnel, John Rowley, Wm. Whibbs, United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America.

LIONS FUND GETS BOOST

Despite the constant drizzle that reduced crowds to a minimum in the Peterborough streets on Friday night, Lions peanut-taggers report a sucessful evening financially. Today, however, the big drive is on. By 8 a.m. about a dozen Lions and girls of the Ornamental Swimming Club were on the streets presenting bags of peanuts to those who contributed. All proceeds will go toward children's work carried on by the club. In particular they will help to defray the expenses of the proposed $85,000 inland wading and swimming pool to be erected in Lions-Riverside Park. Draws to determine the two prizewinners who have come nearest to guessing the numbers of peanuts on the float will be at Civic Arena H.Q. at 9 p.m.

RADIO LISTENERS ON SUNDAY will be given their first opportunity to hear Peterborough's First Two Piano team when Charles Allen and Gwen Craw are presented in the first of a series sponsored by The Peterborough Examiner over radio station CHEX 5.30 to 6.00 p.m.

Friday's Power Up 24,000 KWH

Merely as a matter of routine and not of remonstrance or appeal, the power consumption report for Friday came to hand this morning.

Peterborough used up 264,000 kilowatt-hours as against the 240,000 kwh approved by the Hydro-Electric Commission. How long that over-riding of official quota and regulations will be permitted by the power authorities is not known even by the Utilities Commission.

A disposition of resignation seems to be developing.

The Utilities do not like a Cossack role and nagging at people to turn off lights, irons and so on.

On the other hand, if the people are not going to do it voluntary, the Hydro may soon have to step in, according to the strictures of Robert Saunders, Hydro chairman.

Bigwin Inn Sold

TORONTO, Oct. 9 — (CP) — Purchase of Bigwin Inn, summer resort at Lake of Bays, Ont., for an undisclosed amount by Frank S. Leslie, of Toronto, was announced here Thursday. The sellers, Cardy Hotels, Ltd., had purchased the resort only a year ago from C. O. Shaw, who built it early in the century.

Examiner To Present Series Over CHEX By 2-Piano Team

Charles Allen and Gwen Craw, Peterborough's first two piano team, are to present a series of programs over radio station CHEX commencing on Sunday at 5.30 p.m. Mr. Allen and Mrs. Craw are being presented by The Examiner in the interests of better music in Peterborough and their programs have been so arranged as to give the listeners an appreciation of good music. Mr. Allen is organist at the George Street United Church and Mrs. Craw has for a number of years been considered Peterborough's most outstanding accompanist. Both have been heard on many occasions over CHEX. It was more than a year ago when they commenced their two piano work and this is their first public appearance.

Not New Idea

The idea of two piano music is nothing new, but whether through a new technical approach, originating in radio performances, or on its own merit as a medium of musical expression, two piano playing is far more popular and acceptable today than ever before, even in those halcyon days of the two piano arrangements of the standard symponies, and the reams of Waltzes, marches and suites devised by the Romanticists for not too frequent performances on two pianos.

Of a more recent date a new approach in the conception of two piano music, more especially in the transcriptions of well known American melodies, has done much to firmly establish the medium as one held in esteem by performers, arrangers and listeners alike. As two piano music is written in many different styles as since duets were the forerunner of two piano music Mr. Allen and Mrs. Craw will include a duet on each program.

Sunday's program will be "The Organ Toccata in D Minor" by J. S. Bach and arranged for two pianos by Vera Towsey; the duet "Hungarian Dance No. 6" by Brahms; "Valse" from the suite for two pianos by Anton Arensky; "Deep Purple" by Peter de Rose and "Jamaican Rumba" by Arthur Benjamin.

The first broadcast will be from the Salvation Army Temple.

GOOD EVENING, FUZZY

One can't be too careful about speaking to strangers these days. Particularly on lonely sites and when the light is not so good. Even a police officer can get fooled once in a while. Provincial constable Bert Howden ran into such a situation the other night. Stopped on a road outside of Apsley near dusk, the officer noted a movement near a fence. It looked like someone who had been repairing the fence. Strolling by, he waved cheerfully through the semi-darkness and said "Good Night" to the figure. His silent companion came into view then. It was a bear—and a big one. Constable Howden terminated the conversation hurriedly.—RB.

Chinese Mark Double Ten

Although it will not be observed as an official holiday in Peterborough, the Chinese here will join with their countrymen who will be celebrating the Double Ten, Sunday. This is the anniversary of the beginning of the Revolution in 1911 which freed China from the despotism of the Manchu dynasty.

October 10 is the Chinese "Thanksgiving Day." It is one of the few national holidays which China observes. In Canada, all embassy, consulate and other government offices will close. In Toronto, Chinese students attending University are marking the occasion with a dinner party at 5:30 p.m. at the Golden Dragon (King Loong). This will be followed by a social at the Kuomintang Headquarters.

In China, many of the older people are thinking ironically that conditions today are not very different from those when Sun Yat-sen championed their freedom. Unrest, privation and war are still their constant companions.

Friday's Rainfall Measures 1.28 Inches

The rain guage at the waterworks measured 1.28 inches Friday, confirming the indication in the pail that stood out in the backyard.

Immediate effect will be to stimulate growth of pastures and inject vigor into the fall wheat crop. It came far too late for the general hopes and plans of farmers of this district, but it was still highly valuable.

Power Development

QUEBEC, Oct. 9—(CP)—Premier Duplessis announced Friday night that legislation will be introduced at the next session of the Legislature for the building of a power development at Eaton Canyon in the undeveloped, iron-ore district of Ungava. He told a press conference further details of the undertaking in Quebec's far northeastern region would be made public later.

Ovens To Quit Swanston Next Mayor?

Mayor W. G. Ovens is retiring from the council at the end of the year, and Ald. Max Swanston may be a candidate for succession. To add a progressively less definite note to the city council gossip, Ald. Gordon Armstrong may not seek re-election.

Take those three out of the council at one swoop, and it would look like a cold winter or something.

First in the order of decision is Mayor Ovens. Several weeks ago he looked in for a moment on a Coffee Club session. Bill Foley enquired: "What's this we hear about you going to quit?"

"I guess that is correct," His Worship answered, and that was the manner of the first announcement.

Subsequently to the Examiner Mayor Ovens said: "I intend to retire, because I said I would, and I think there is aldermanic experience to follow me. Taxpayers will recall that at our inaugural meeting in January I said I fully expected that this would be my last year in the council. I wish to retire because I believe the position of mayor should be passed around. It should not be held too long by one man. That and my promise and keeping faith are the reasons why I feel my time is up. I'm not any busier than I was at the beginning of the year. That has nothing to do with it. My purposes are just as I have said. I am convinced that any candidate for mayor should have considerable experience in municipal administration, and I know there is such experience, and I am inclined to think it is available."

Mayor Ovens said it might seem a little early to make this statement, but there was no reason in delaying. The citizens and the council might as well know now that there was a change ahead.

Mayor Ovens said the city's municipal problems were not growing lighter, and that it was of utmost importance that capable men be elected to carry on the business of the municipality. His Worship said that on some later occasion he might have something to say about his own experience in the council and his appreciation of the trust of the taxpayers.

Ald. Swanston told The Examiner yesterday he would either be a candidate for mayor or would retire.

"People are asking me every day what I am thinking about it," the finance chairman said. "I'll be perfectly frank in saying that a year as mayor of Peterborough would be a grateful way of winding up years in the council, but it is the people who decide that any way. Mayor Ovens certainly hasn't made the job any easier. It is still early to make a decision, but I am thinking about it. Everybody knows it demands a lot of time, and after all we still have to work for a living . . . I suppose that could be arranged, if I could make the grade."

Ald. Armstrong has not said anything definite about his intentions. His two years in council have demonstrated quite clearly his ability, and have fitted him for further responsibility. But, he has discovered that his growing business and the city's work through the council often pile up on him.

Plan Public Meeting To Hear J. E. O'Brien

The Peterborough County Tuberculosis Association has made definite arrangements for a public meeting to be held in the Public Library on Wednesday evening next at eight o'clock. Mr. J. E. O'Brien of the Ontario Tuberculosis Association will explain the work being carried on in Ontario in preventive work. He will also outline objectives that the Peterborough Association might undertake in conjunction with the Provincial Association.

A discussion period will be a part of the program and questions pertaining to chest X-ray work will be answered by Mr. O'Brien.

CHANGES IN CITY COUNCIL were forecast this week with the announcement that Mayor W. G. Ovens (Left), who has been chief magistrate for the past three years, had decided to retire. Alderman Max Swanston (Right), veteran of many years' service to the citizens as a Council member, is mooted as a likely candidate for the Mayor's chair.

Baseball Fever Raging Even Housewives Affected

During this current two weeks, the whole North American continent has been going through an annual phenomenon peculiar to this part of the world—the feverish universal interest in the World Series.

While this furious battle is being waged, events such as world politics, the cost-of-living and major catastrophes are pushed into the background—dismissed as petty annoyances which try to overshadow the serious business in which 18 men fuss and fume with bats and balls, competing for baseball's top spot.

The things that really count these days are the state of Boudreau's health, the condition of Lemon's pitching arm, the weather forecast over an acre of ground nearly 400 miles from Peterborough.

Those who continually worry about the trend towards "Americanism" in Canada find distasteful food for thought everywhere.

Like every other American and Canadian centre, Peterborough goes mildly mad during a World Series. The batting averages of the two teams' players are hotly discussed on the George St. bus. Every restaurant echoes and re-echoes with heated debates on the relative merits of pitchers. Each street corner downtown sees the play-by-play of yesterday's game, complete with gestures to show how so-and-so smashed out a double and the way what's-his-name took a sensational dive to hit the first bag safely. And so on.

Everybody gets in the act. Persons who showed not the slightest interest in the big leagues during the regular season suddenly blossom forth as devoted fans of the diamond. Those who normally don't know a fielder's choice from a catcher's mask all at once pore avidly over box scores, analyse the game inning by inning, quote reams of vital statistics about each man's record, age, weight, earnings, home life and hobbies.

Nothing Else Matters

A person who cannot discuss yesterday's highlights or the next game's possibilities is regarded right now as just a bit of a dud conversationally. At the moment it probably wouldn't raise even a ripple of interest if the United Nations should decide to announce the banning of all blue-eyed blondes or if the House of Commons should decree that Canada will become a province of French Indo-China. Nothing matters now but baseball.

Factories and offices throughout the city are resigned to the disruption of routine this time of stress and strain brings. Each plant has its quota of radios blaring. Those workers who cannot get close enough to hear the game get a running commentary from those passing back and forth.

"Bottom of the fifth, Cleveland has 'em loaded . . . "

"Boudreau out on a double play . . . "

"Braves are putting in Voiselle to replace Bickford . . . "

It must be a distressing time for efficiency experts. There is no use in appealing to the boss to get the staff to give more than half their minds to business—the boss is too busy listening to the game himself.

Some downtown stores which have put in loud-speaker attachments to carry the game to those on the street find themselves the most popular spots for blocks. Lunch-counter operators with the foresight to have a radio blaring are raking in a minor bonanza as customers guzzle gallons of coffee—cup by cup—to give themselves some semblance of an excuse to "sit out" the game there.

The local radio station and The Examiner newsroom is bombarded with calls during the game from those who have no other access to the information. The simple query "What is it now?" is usually enough to get the score. However, one reporter (obviously with a warped sense of values) had the temerity to ask, "What game?" in reply to a fan's anxious tones. He received a blast accusing him of downright senility and un-Canadianism.

The total figure of money invested in "pools" on each game would doubtless be staggering. The betting urge runs simultaneously. Odds are quoted practically half-hourly in all sections and takers can be found somewhere for just about tvery prediction offered.

Even the women are affected. Although it is still considered fashionable for girls to be ignorant of the finer points of baseball, in order to build up their men's already inflated egos, some of them are true followers of the sport and put the alleged "stronger" sex to shame with displays of brilliant insight . . .

By the way, what's the score now? . . .

10 In Hospitals After Friday's Mishaps

Friday afternoon and evening was one of the worst days in the history of this area for highway accidents, with at least 10 persons admitted to hospitals. Damage ran into thousands of dollars. Veteran provincial police officers were unable to recall such a rush of accidents within one day. Several minor ones added to the total.

Three Peterborough men were taken to hospital in Port Hope Friday night following an accident shortly after 5 p.m. Friday in which their car skidded out of control and overturned in a ditch of No. 28 Highway two miles north of the Dale cutoff near the Austin farm. They had to make their escape through the trunk of the upsidedown vehicle.

Percy Harrison, 725 Water St., the driver, had one ear nearly severed from his head, and is suffering from possible internal injuries. Ernie Fowler, 631 George St., north, had torn shoulder ligaments.

Herb Young, 626 George St., another passenger was not injured.

Len Symonds, 464 Murray St., also received slight hurt in the upset.

The party had been driving to Dunnville when the collision happened. The car struck a telephone pole as it lost control due to the wet condition of the pavement.

Baby Has Fracture

Of seven persons involved and taken for medical attention Friday afternoon following an accident five miles from Peterborough on the Port Hope Highway, most seriously hurt was a 14-month-old girl, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCamus of Cavan. She had a fractured lower jaw and was taken to the Toronto Children's Hospital.

Also hurt in the two-car collision was Miss Edna Wyisc, who has gone to Toronto for treatment of a bruised leg after receiving attention here. A severe cut to the head was received by Miss Margaret Woerrke of Toronto, who is still in St. Joseph's Hospital.

Others injured were the baby's mother, Mrs. Thomas McCamus, Cavan, with head cuts and concussion; Mrs. Ida Mellish; Miss Doreen Mellish, Toronto, who received a serious face cut; the son of Mrs. Mellish was also hurt.

Skids On Bridge

Damage to the truck of Daniel O'Brien of Apsley was caused late Friday night as it skidded on the wet surface of the Young's Point bridge and struck the guard rail of the bridge. Mr. O'Brien was not injured in the accident, which resulted in about $60 damage.

Another accident attributed to the treacherously wet driving conditions was about two and a half miles north of Dale. The car of Harold Cromey, Toronto, struck a culvert as it went off the pavement. Knee-action of the car was stripped and a tire damaged. The driver, who was able to keep his car on the road, was uninjured.

An estimated $800 damage to a car and about $25 to a truck resulted from a collision three miles west of Havelock on No. 7 Highway about 4.45 Friday afternoon. While passing on the highway, the

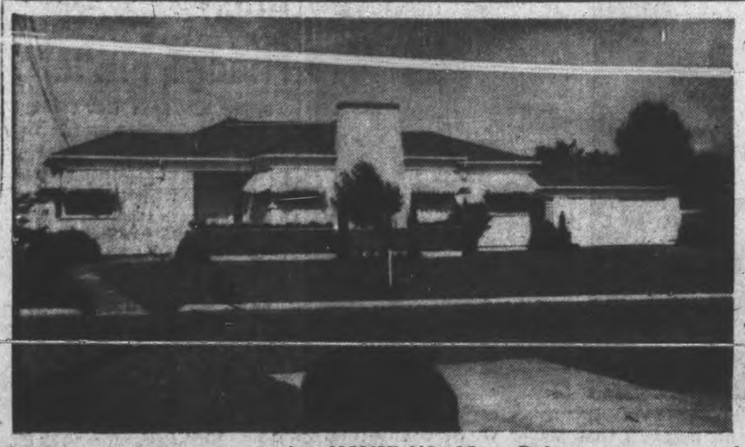
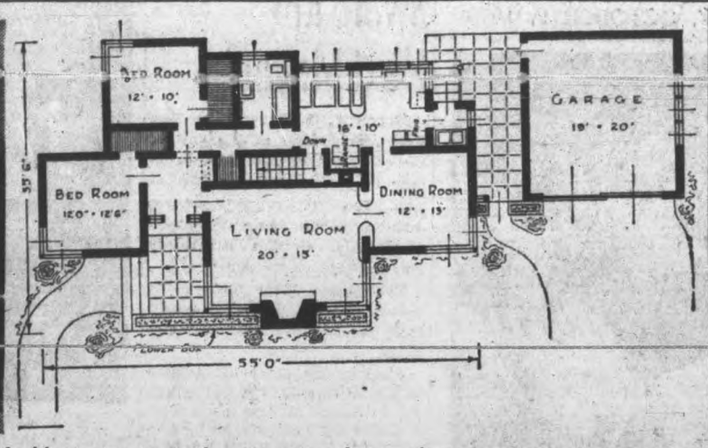
PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT





HOUSE NO. 27 — Did you ever see a house with at least one sweeping corner window in each room? Well this is it! Examine alll five rooms carefully. Isn't the plan intriguing? Notice particularly the kitchen-breakfast room arrangement. The covered area connecting the house and the double garage is another attraction. Low, and sprawled out in ranch-house fashion, it needs a roomy lot to do it justice. Exterior walls are white, the roof is blue, and the low brick wall with flower trough is red. For further information write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay. St., Toronto.

Coat of Paint Does Wonders To Even Old Furniture

Even the worst old horrors long consigned to the attic can be brought up to date with little more than a coat of paint and freshened designs. Painted furniture is currently enjoying more popularity than has come its way for many years . . . and the reason is not hard to find. While the war may be over, stocks of new furniture at prices we are willing to pay are not yet quite as plentiful as we would like. What better answer than the "remodelling" of some of those old discards stored in the attic . . . all that is needed is paint and a little imagination.

Paint can truly perform miracles if handled with any degree of care and originality . . . but remember, making over old furniture isn't so different from making over old clothes . . . the result can be a masterpiece or look like a hand-me-down. Whether the finished product is going to look professional or amateur is often just a question of following simple directions.

Recognition of the demand for this type of work is evidenced by the repair and furniture remodelling departments installed by many of the department and furniture stores. Here they are prepared to slim down, re-style and decorate with paint in colorful design . . . transforming even the ugliest duckling into a swan. Much of their work resembles the beautifully painted European peasant piece so popular at the present time.

While there are stores that will do this work for you, why not try your own hand at painting? Perhaps you've never done much painting and hesitate to try. Remember then that those makers of rustic peasant furniture were not artists and their tools and materials were very humble. Give it a try. Just use your imagination . . . put a little zest and humour into your styling . . . and you'll find the results both worthwhile and enjoyable.

Informal Style Best for Amateur

There are many styles and moods to paint in. Informal styling will of course allow greater freedom of expression for the amateur and you'll find the bold, jaunty peasant spirit fine for almost any informal room. Most important . . . this is definitely the easiest to paint . . . mistakes need not be taken seriously as in formal work.

If formal styling is your goal, then perfection of finish is much more important . . . and difficult. However, while the work may tend to be a little tedious at times, you'll have even greater pride in the finished product.

Achievement of that beautifully dull, smooth surface found on store-painted furniture has usually involved the use of equipment the amateur will not have . . . spray guns, buffers and special type of paint. Don't let this discourage you though. Enamel is your answer. Simple to apply, enamel dies quickly and provides a smooth hard surface when applied full strength. If you want to dull the shine or semi-gloss enamel, cut it down with flat undercoat paint of proportions approximately half and half, but be sure to mix thoroughly to avoid a streaky surface. More undercoat will make the surface even duller but less durable. It must be borne in mind, though, that undercoat paint usually come only in white requiring your own tinting, whereas enamel comes in an unlimited variety of lovely shades and colors.

Another idea for creating a dull antique surface is to give your furniture several coats of flat paint, tinted to the right shade, and following up when the surface is thoroughly dry by rubbing on a coat of raw umber or mixture of raw and burnt umber. When wiped off there should be faint traces of the tone, especially in cracks and corners. Then, when the surface is dry again, go over with a coat of thin shellac, thinned 4 to 1 with alcohol. Follow this when dry with a thorough waxing . . . and plenty of elbow grease.

Alfalfa is a herbaceous plant belonging to the clover family.

Vigorous Objections

"Charlotte St. widening is a peculiar condition. We have three through streets north and south in the city but only one through St. east and west and this is also a highway. All through traffic to the lakes uses this artery. Dr. Faludi explained that the only solution was a setback of properties giving an extra lane of traffic."

Jas. S. Craig, an architect said "The greatest objection seems to be to the setback between George and Aylmer. Unless this is done the purpose is defeated because traffic is funnelled into the area of greatest congestion. I feel the bylaw should be carried out in its entirety."

Change Gradual

Mayor Ovens, a resident of the city for 26 years said "The reasons for this bylaw, first it was introduced by our town planning committee. The city owns the market square. We are setting buildings back 10 feet in the survey of this market block."

"Is it proposed to do this gradually?" Mr. Yeotes asked.

"Yes, existing buildings are not affected but new construction must be set back five feet."

"In other words it is a gradual plan to benefit the entire community."

Mayor Ovens—Yes.

Chief Constable John Thompson said he had to use constables on point duty but even then traffic was slow on Charlotte St.

At this point Mr. Yeotes asked for population gain and was told by City Clerk E. A. Outram that the city's population had increased from 24,000 ten years ago to 35,086 this year.

E. A. Chalmers, city engineer, was called and he told the Commissioner that no left turns were allowed at the Charlotte-George intersection because of the heavy traffic. He claimed a 56 foot roadway was required with two ten foot sidewalks. This would accommodate four lanes of moving traffic and two lines of parked cars.

G. W. Milne, Toronto, supervisor of real estate for the F. W. Woolworth Co. was the first to oppose the bylaw.

He said: "This project is not new. We heard rumors of it in 1946 after we had purchased the land at the northwest corner of George and Charlotte. At that time we asked the counncil for definite information and in a letter on April 15, 1946, we were assured by the city clerk that no such plan was contemplated which would interfere with our building."

In opposing the by-law, Mr. Milne said: "I feel the desired road width could be obtained by eliminating parking and routing some traffic over No. 7 highway."

Mr. Gordon pointed out that Woolworth building in New York is set back 15 feet.

How high do you intend to build this building?

Basement and three storeys.

"Why not make it four storeys?"

"If we did that we would have to use escalators. These cost $50,000 a pair."

After a friendly interchange on how rich the company was, Mr. Milne said: "We paid a great deal for this building and a loss of five feet would definitely affect sales."

Mr. Gordon concluded the exchange saying: "My submission is that this company stands to make more money because of the increased traffic."

J. H. Jamison, manager Can. Dept. Stores, was next. He said: "In 1931-32 when our building was put up, we asked the city council to accept a strip of land at no cost. We were willing to set our store back even with the McGillis hotel. The city refused this offer. We are objecting to the widening now."

"At that time there was no thought of Dept. of Planning or planning boards. This statute will not interfere with your existing buildings," Mr. Yeates observed.

Dr. A. R. Stevenson, who has an office and residence on Charlote Street, objected because the proposed change would interfere with some changes he planned to make in his office.

W. Gordon Powell told the commissioner he owned the building at 324 Charlotte Street, and planned to convert it into a store with an apartment above. "This by-law will force me to build five feet back from the street line, and all the value I see in it is that it will achieve a zig-zag front along the street, with no immediate hope of the street being widened. This change is imposing a burden on the new builder."

Questions Need

Dr. Stanley Braund the next to speak, said he was representing various members of the Braund family who owned Hollywood Cafe, E. C. Braund Groceteria, Bridgway Building, Charlbond Apartments, and the Greene Building, all on Charlotte Street.

"In the first place I am not convinced we need this widening when I compare it with Yonge Street in Toronto. Traffic jams I see are caused by double parking. A stiff fine should be imposed for this offence and no parking allowed. Yonge Street has two lines of traffic and two street car tracks. Does this by-law prevent us from putting in new store fronts?

"Yes," said Mr. Yeates. "If we have to move back five feet in say the Charlbond Building, it will make the stores smaller. If you take 5 ft. off this building, it makes 10 apartments useless. This also applies to the Hollywood store and the Bridgway Building. If we have to do this, who is going to pay for it? We intend to put in new store fronts, and that is why I want clarification.

"It seems pretty broad to me, and actually if you don't make any changes you are not affected.

"How was this by-law passed—by the Council or by a vote of the people?

The Council has power to pass this by-law subject to the approval of the Municipal Board. Then if we put in new fronts we are affected.

"That is my interpretation."

Dr. Jas. McCulloch spoke on behalf of his wife, who owns a dwelling at 312 Charlotte St.

He said: "One point appears to have been missed by everyone and that is the fact that the master plan calls for a cutoff around the northwestc orner of the city. If this is carried out all the traffic to the lakes will not pass through the city and congestion would be relieved".

Bert Austin, jeweller also voiced objection to the proposed widening.

There were several other merchants and property owners in the audience but they did not take advantage of the opportunity to give opinions.

At the conclusion of the hearing Mr. Yeates said "This matter is so serious I intend to take it up with the chairman and the vice-chairman. It can impose a penalty on many existing building owners if it goes through. On the other hand the Ontario Planning Dept. is endeavoring to create better living conditions for the people of Ontario. All the objections have been noted and these will be considered again when the Board meets."

Mr. Yeates explained to the meeting that he had hired a taxi and covered the two streets before starting the hearing.

There were no objections to the widening of George St.

Veteran Lawyer Leading Union Delegation

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, Oct. 9 (CP).—A tall, silver-thatched, soft-spoken lawyer, who has had a fling at politics, a term on the Bench and a hand in governing a country, heads the Newfoundland delegation now discussing terms of Confederation with Canada.

He is 48-year-old Albert J. Walsh, who plans to close the chapter of his life in public service as soon as his native Newfoundland's union with Canada is completed.

One of the many Newfoundlanders who has graduated from Dalhousie University Law School in Halifax, Mr. Walsh is vice-chairman of the Newfoundland Commission Government. When he relinquishes that job he plans to return to private law practice in St. John's.

But, with an engaging smile and a twinkle in his dark brown eyes, he admits it is a little early yet to forecast how long he will remain out of public life.

Hint Senatorship

Some of his friends in Newfoundland are predicting that he will be among the first Senators appointed from the island to the Canadian Senate. Newfoundland will be entitled to six Senators under the present provisions of the British North America Act—the Canadian Constitution.

Mr. Walsh — he pronounces the name Welsh — stepped into politics in 1927 a short while after he graduated from Dalhousie.

He is the only one of the three Newfoundland appointees to the government who has not come out publicly in favor of Confederation.

But Mr. Walsh's friends say he is in favor of Confederation. The same friends described him as meticulous, over-cautious, reticent, colorless and a quiet family man. "But you will go a long way to find a cleverer or finer man," they hasten to add.

Mr. Walsh is married and has three children.

TWO RCAF VETERANS were killed when this Tiger Moth plane crashed and burst into flames in a backyard at Perth. Its occupants were Lawrence Rathwell and Percy Moore, both of Smiths Falls.

Mickey Mouse Earns More Over Counter

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 9 (AP). — Mickey Mouse draws more cash across the counter than he does through the box-office.

That's a strange economic fact in this land of strange economies. But Disneyites figure that the sales of products bearing the images of Mickey, Donald Duck and others of the cartoon family exceed what those character earn on the screen.

This week Disney signed a new deal with a manufacturer that will continue imprinting Walt's characters on more than 2,000 products.

A Disney cameraman, taking jungle films 1,500 miles up the Amazon, was surprised to encounter his fellow employee, Donald Duck, the explosive quacker was emblazoned on the drum of a village band.

Walt got into the merchandizing market early — in 1932 — and others have hopped on the bandwagon. Roy Rogers figures he earns about $200,000 yearly from products bearing his name.

Margaret O'Brien's name sponsors such things as dresses, paper dolls, cosmetics and hats.

Gene Autry's list is long and slightly fantastic. It includes jeans, guns, belts, hats, comic books, boots, shoes, shirts, ties, hat bands, suspenders, pencil, paper weights, tooth paste, hair oil and shoe laces.

Quebec Power Cut Necessary–Duplessis

QUEBEC, Oct. 9—(CP).—Premier Duplessis indicated at a press conference Friday night that reduction of power deliveries by Quebec to Ontario consumers was in the best interests of his province.

"We have always taken the means to put into practice a policy of good neighborliness in assisting sister provinces in whatever way we can, when it is not incompatible with the interest of our own province," he said.

The Premier added that the low level of the Ottawa River from which the Gatineau Power Company draws its power was due to "depletion of our forests and the lack of rain."

He said the province now has underway power projects at Beauharnois, Shawinigan Falls and La Tranche which will increase production by more than 1,000,000 horsepower.

Say New Play Shot In Arm To Broadway

By PAT USSHER

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (CP). — Thanks to "Edward, My Son," the young Broadway theatre season, which was showing alarming symptoms of anemia, has just received a reviving shot in the arm.

Robert Morley and an excellent, nearly all-British company administered the timely needle with this meaty, satisfying study of an unpleasant business man and his misguided devotion to a wastrel son.

Splendid Cast

Morley, a distinguished British actor, is splendid as Arnold Holt, who rises by unedifying means to wealth and business prominence as a domineering peer.

Peggy Ashcroft shows herself to be a really talented actress in the part of his wife. She gives an inspired performance in one scene as an elderly gentlewoman who has taken to drink. Ian Hunter is happily cast as the family doctor who sadly watches the ill-starred course of the Holts and the remainder of the company play their parts to perfection.

"Edward, My Son," written by Morley and Noel Langley, is a sympathetic, human portrayal of a man warped and blinded by love for his worthless son. The son never appears on the stage and the only good thing to be said for him is that he is killed in the Second World War.

Peter Ashmore directed "Edward" which had a long and successful run in London and should be good for the same thing here

Suite For Lillie

David Atkinson, a young Montreal baritone who sings in the popular musical, "Inside U.S.A.," has composed a musical suite inspired by and dedicated to the star of the show, Toronto-born Beatrice Lillie. Entitled "Suite For Beatrice Lillie," the work is described by Atkinson as "an impression of the great star's personality, offstage and on, and of the public's love and admiration for her." . . . Elizabeth Bergner is believed planning a Broadway revival of her original American success, "Escape Me Never." She will open a preliminary engagement of the play in Toronto Oct. 16.

June Pidgeon is Bride of John A. McDonald Today

St. Paul's Presbyterian Church was the scene this afternoon of the wedding of Dorothy June Pidgeon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Seven Bridal Attendants At Forde-Grady Wedding

A lovely wedding this afternoon in Trinity United Church was that of Miss Betty Jean Grady and Mr. Donald Glenn Forde, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Ford of Peterborough, who were united by the Rev. Dr. D. B. Gordon. A basket of white 'mums was at the altar and small bouquets marked the guest seats. Mr. Colin Corbett, guest organist, assisted Miss M. Clarry with the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. H. E. Grady of Chicago, Ill. Her gown was of white satin with double net overskirt of white net. She wore white lace gloves and a veil of silk net caught to a halo or orange blossoms which flowed into a long train. Her bouquet was a cascade of white roses with baby 'mums.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Hal McFarlane, matron of honor, Miss Betty Barrie and Miss Victoria Gray, senior bridesmaids, Miss Irene Grady of Toronto, sister of the bride, and Miss Isabel Delahaye, junior bridesmaids and Donna and Judy Collison, flower girls. The frocks were fashioned similarly of taffeta, the matron-of-honor in pale blue, one senior and one junior bridesmaid in pale mauve, and their partners in pale green, and the two flower girls in pastel pink. Each wore a hat and gloves to match her dress and they carried cascades of baby 'mums and gladioli petals in varying sizes and colors.

Mr. Hal McFarlane was groomsman and ushers were Fred Mason, Norman Buzzell, James Webb and Ralph Fraser.

$30,000 Next Year Is YW Objective

TORONTO, Oct. 9—Decision to raise $30,000 next year for the World Service Fund, for reconstruction work in Europe, was made at the concluding sessions of hte 55th annual meeting of the National Council YWCA, at headquarters yesterday. (Last year, with an objective of $25,000, more than $26,000 was raised and used through this fund, formerly known as the Reconstruction Fund, it was reported.)

Of the 1949 allocation, $2,000 is to be set aside to help pay exgo to Europe to work there with penses of a Canadian worker to displaced persons who will later come to Canada, it was decided; $5,000 will go to Greek YWCA for buildings, and general expenses and a scholarship, and $3,000 will be set aside to pay for a scholarship for a Japanese YWCA secretary to come to Canada to study.

Mrs. W. Steinkraus Speaker At St. Paul's WMS

Mrs. W. C. Steinkrauss gave a most interesting talk on "Our Commission in China" at the October meeting of St. Paul's Auxiliary, WMS, Friday afternoon, in the guild room of the church. Stressing the enormity of the task of finding laborers for the vast China field, of finding money to pay the workers, and of building sufficient hospitals and schools to care for the sick and the children, the speaker said "our problem is to discover how much we can do to simplify these difficulties. There are three divisions in China for our work: Manchuria, South China centreing about Honan and the new Yunan field near the Burma Road. In the latter the missionaries have been joyfully received —a strange contrast to the experiences of early workers about Honan, who were held responsible for every disaster."

In all fields civil war following the war with Japan has created many problems, but it is astounding that so many Christians have held to their beliefs throughout. Practically all missionary work is now carried on under the Church of Christ—a truly indigenous Chinese church, made possible by our early efforts in China," she said.

Mrs. F. Weir conducted the devotional exercises and Mrs. L. R. Mitchell sang two solos. The president, Mrs. D. T. Diplock, thanked those taking part in the program and the tea hostesses, Mrs. J. Marsh, Mrs. J. McIntyre and Mrs. W. A. Gray.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Tastes In Grooming As Wide Apart As Poles

The one fault that men object to in women more than anything else is slovenliness. Nothing disillusions a man so completely about a girl as for her to be a sloppy Jane, and he carries this aversion to untidiness so far that it even includes the lace satin negligees that are supposed to ravish the masculine fancy, but that only gets on his nerves.

Dorothy Dix

The average man's feminine ideal is strictly tailormade. It is the woman who looks as if she had just been run through the laundry and who has come out scrubbed and pressed and trim and taut, with no fluttering ribbons, or run-over shoes, or messy hairdos about her. Without doubt it is men's allergy to the blousy Bella that has made the living skeleton, instead of the fat girl, the model of feminine pulchritude to which all women aspire.

The wife's corset strings hold many a family together, for when the cute little trick that a man married leaves off her girdle and goes around home with her hair in curlers and flopping about in a loose garment that looks as if it had been fished out of the rag bag, it doesn't need a prophet to foretell that it won't be long before Friend Husband will be looking around for someone who is easier on the eyes.

No Calorie-Counting

Curiously enough, however, while men lay such stress on women being spick-and-span, they do not, as a sex, feel called upon to change their habits, or go to the trouble of beautifying themselves in order to please the feminine fancy. Millions of women, for instance, go hungry in order to keep thin, but there is probably not one man in a million who counts his calories so that he may retain his boyish figure.

Nor do men consider it necessary to doll themselves up to make themselves attractive to women. If they are clothes-conscious, they dike themselves out like Solomon in all his glory. But if they get so attached to a shirt they can't bear to change it, they go about looking like ragamuffins. Plenty of girls are ashamed to be seen out with their dates, they look so much like tramps. And many a wife spends her whole married life wondering why she married a man who sits around home in his stocking feet and whose clothes are reminiscent of everything he has had to eat for a couple of days.

Daintiness is also included in every man's dream of fair women. He wants his Girl Friends, or his wife, to know how to comb her hair the newest way and for her to wear gay, pretty dresses and to be redolent of Chanel No. 5, but he thinks she is a fussbudget if she doesn't want to be seen out with him when he has a three day's stubble beard on his face, and if she doesn't get a thrill out of being kissed by him when his breath smells of a mingling of whiskey and tobacco and onions.

Why men think that women, who care more for the small amenities of life than they do, are indifferent to men's personal appearance, no one knows. Perhaps it is because men think that they are so attractive just as they are, that to dress them up would be like gilding the lily and painting the rose. Or maybe women intuitively know how many fine men are wrapped up in mussy suits and they have sense enough to grab them.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, October 10

Sunday's horoscope holds auguries of highly stepped-up activities, with the energies and initiative likely to be concentrated upon exciting activity and enterprise, with enthusiasm at its height. It is probable that such zeal and pressure may be expended upon the pursuit of pleasure rather than workday objectives.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may look for a particularly active and enterprising year, in which their concentrated objectives may revolve around the affairs of youth, romantic adventure or mere personal rather than prosaic ambitions. Experience in such direction should qualify for strenuous and enthusiastic development of practical programs and creative drives to put over something exceptionally bold.

A child born on this day should be enthusiastic and zealous in all its affairs, especially those connected with the aims and diversions of youth, juvenile sports and interests.

For Monday, October 11

Monday's astrological forecast is not a very encouraging one, with prospects of an involved and complex state of affairs. While there may be much excitement and activity, with a push and a definite desire to drive ahead, yet the judgment is likely to be muddled, unsound and unsafe. Since this aspect pertains to change, new contracts and commitments, with travel, and writings in the way of decision, it would be wise to await a clearer slant and insight.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, are at the verge of renewing contracts, agreements or verbal understandings, in which travel, change and new conditions come up, for considering details and final adjustments. Since the mentality is confused and chaotic, as well as quixotic, it is an unpropitious time for arriving at any worthwhile conclusions. So much of present and future progress is at stake it is admonished that postponements of action and commitments may be disastrous.

A child born on this day may be said to have a mercurial state of mind, prone to be vacillating and notional rather than possess sound, stable and dependable judgment.

For Tuesday, October 12

There are most propitious indications of the fulfillment of desired hopes and wishes, with ambitious aims and aspirations rising to new heights of achievement. Marks of substantial encouragement and cooperation from those in influential places may be banked on. This gratifying condition may be brought about by particularly astute and shrewd planning with perhaps clever strategies, in which secret agreements may be prolific of cherished results. Intuition and imagination are stimulated and may be deftly utilized for realistic returns. The personality influence is strong.

Those whose birthday it is, are assured a year of advancement and high accomplishment in which those in influence and position may be depended upon for substantial cooperation. These should be approached with tact and finesse, even wise strategies may be productive of surprising results in which inner or subtle forces seem to be at work behind the scenes. Ideals and exceptional ideas should be pursued under the inspiration of intuition as well as judicious use of personality.

A child born on this day has every promise of success, having the support of prominent and influential people. Its intuitions and aspirations are enhanced by secret forces with charm of unique or singular power.

FOUR MONTHS AGO Mrs. Joyce Kliesch joined her husband, a German ex-prisoner of war, in the Russian zone of Germany where he had gone two months previously. For four months she endured privations and was once beaten by Soviet secret police. She managed to escape just before she was to have been put into a concentration camp for spying. Her son, 1½ years, and daughter, four months, were brought to her later by her sister-in-law. Mr. and Mrs. Kliesch are pictured here with their two children upon their arrival in London. They are welcomed by Mrs. Bunce, left, who is the mother of Mrs. Kleisch.

Martin-Fountain Wedding

St. George's Anglican Church was prettily decorated with baby 'mums and fern for the wedding this afternoon of Evelyn Louise Fountain, daughters of Mrs. W. C. Bennett, to Edwin Gilbert, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Martin, all of Peterborough. The Rev. E. C. Moore officiated at the ceremony. The wedding music was played by Mrs. A. Watkins and she accompanied Mrs. J. Cooper who sang "Lead Us Heavenly Father", during the signing of the register.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. W. J. Collins. She wore a wedding gown of white slipper satin which had five tiers of the material forming a bertha collar, finger-tip sleeves and a small bustle, and the full skirt extended into a long graceful train. She wore a heart-shaped headdress and veil of fine net embroidered with white silk and carried a cascade of American Beauty roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Madeline Manley and Mrs. Robert Seymour, cousin of the groom, in yellow and turquoise moire taffeta frocks which had slight trains. They wore hats to match the gowns and carried nosegays of 'mums and sweet peas.

Mr. Paul Reid attended the groom. Ushers were Ted Collins, cousin of the bride, and Robert, brother of the groom.

For reception held at her home the bride's mother wore a dress of blue crepe with black accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses. The groom's aunt, Mrs. A. Watkins, assisted her to receive and was attired in a grey suit with wine accessories and corsage of red roses.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Martin left on a wedding trip to include Toronto and points in United States. The bride was wearing a rose crepe dress with lace surplice trim, black accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses. They will make their home in Peterborough.

Johnston-Rowan

The marriage was solemnized quietly at the United Church parsonage, Bethany, on Thursday, Oct. 7, of Helen Irene, only daughter of Mrs. Irene Rowan and the late Elmer Rowan, to Clarence M. Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Johnston of Springville. The Rev. W. Crandall performed the ceremony. Miss Ema Johnston of Hamilton, sister of the groom, was the bride's attendant, and Ralph Rowan, only brother of the bride, was groomsman.

After a reception for the immediate family at the home of the bride's mother, the couple left for a motor trip through western and northern Ontario. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm near Springville.

Bride Is Honored

Prior to her marriage to Mr. Reginald Stewart today, Miss Velma Stewart was feted by her friends. Girls of her department in the CGE held a kitchen shower at the home of Mrs. R. E. Knox. Misses Rena Warner and Inez Barrer were joint hostesses at a miscellaneous shower at the latter's home. Members of the Junior Choir at Knox Church showered the bride with gifts at a miscellaneous shower held at Mrs. J. R. Godfrey's home. Mrs. H. Lewis was hostess to Knox Young People when the bride received a gift of money and several other gifts. Members of Knox Senior Choir presented a wall mirror. Friends and neighbors met at the home of the Misses Wallace, Park St., to honor the bride with a pantry shower. Before leaving the CGE she received a gift of money presented on behalf of associates in the wage rate and planning department.

DON'T GET TOO SMART

IT IS ALL well and good to try for all the tricks you can against any contract. But if the game is rubber bridge and a game is at stake—especially if it is a slam contract and more especially if it is doubled—there is no sense in abandoning a sure way to beat the contract in order to try a doubtful method for additional tricks which may not work. Every devotee of rubber bridge has seen that identical mistake made, and probably has done it himself. In such situations it is nearly always best not to get too smart, but to stay dumb until you have beaten the contract in the obvious way.

Regardless of the quality, there was surely plenty of quantity to that bidding. But the play takes the cake.

Having scored his heart K, West did some ground and loft tumbling to reach the wrongest answer he could. Instead of merely laying down the diamond A to make certain of heading off the slam, he first cogitated about as follows: "South probably would not have doubled the diamonds unless he had enough hearts to double them if I took out into my first suit. Such being the case, it is extremely likely South had three hearts and my partner's 2 on the first trick was a singleton. If that is the case, East can ruff my next heart lead, put me in with a diamond through South's tenace to mine, and I can then give my partner another heart ruff. This way, we can beat South's head off."

So deciding, West led his heart A to the second trick, figuring East would be smart enough to trump it if he was now void of the suit. South of course made his contract then, getting rid of two diamonds on hearts and one on a club which he set up by ruffs.

PEOPLE ARE DIFFERENT

IF NO OTHER purpose were back of its invention, the development of bridge as a means of disclosing differences between people would be sufficient cause for its coming into existence. There are of course many respects in which the game uncovers contrasts in human types. One of the most interesting is the tendency of some players to take definite, positive action on practically every available occasion, whereas others enjoy restraining themselves as long as possible and then surprising everybody with a sudden, startling move. Sometimes one method produces the better results, sometimes the other, depending on various factors.

Where both North and South passed until their opponents had arrived at a game bid in hearts, and then South came in with his 4-Spades, this made it sound to East as if South was terrifically anxious to be permitted to play the hand at his own contract, whether doubled or not. That made East decide, after West made what sounded very like a forcing pass, that his opponents were extremely weak in honor cards, and hence his own side probably could make eleven tricks as well as ten, with South maybe able to make the 4-Spades on extreme distribution. That's why he bid 5-Hearts.

At Table 2, the steady work of North and South gave East the idea the opponents were being squeezed too high by his side and were trying to make East and West overbid.

It happened that North and South got neat scores at both tables, setting the 5-Hearts three for 300 points at Table 1 and making the redoubled 4-Spades at Table 2, which brought 480 in tricks, 500 duplicate game bonus and 50 for making the redoubled contract, a total of 1030. But that doesn't prove which general attitude is better. The fine player has a change of pace, and uses both.

Ever remembered by Delbert, Beatrice, Joan and Fred.

LEAL—In loving memory of my brother, Arthur V. A. Leal, who passed away one year ago today, October 10, 1947.
Dear brother you are not forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more.
Still in memory you are with us,
As you always were before.
—Ever remembered by his sister, Mrs George Harvey.

HILLIER, Fred—In loving memory of my husband, who passed away October 11, 1946.
Gone into that light that shines so fair
Gone from the earth of sorrow and care,
Resting those hands that did their best
Gone, dear husband, gone to rest.
—Lovingly remembered by his wife.

HILLIER—In loving memory of Dad, who passed away October 11, 1946.
Those whom we love go out of sight
But never out of mind
They are cherished in the hearts
Of those they leave behind.
—Always remembered by daughter Lucille, John and children.

HILLIER—In loving memory of Dad, who passed away October 11, 1946.
If all the world were ours to give,
We'd give it yes, and more
To hear your voice, to see your face
Come smiling through the door.
—Ever remembered by son Paul, Isobel and children.

LUSTIC—In loving memory of Mrs. Maude Lustic, who died October 11, 1933.
If I had all the world to give,
I'd give it, yes, and more,
To hear her voice and see her smile
And greet her at my door.
But all I can do, dear mother,
Is go and tend your grave,
And leave behind tokens of love
To the best mother God ever made.
I like to think, when life is done,
Wherever Heaven may be,
That she'll be standing at the door
Up there to welcome me.
—Ever remembered by her daughter Irene and family.

LEAL, Arthur—In loving memory of a dear friend, who passed away October 10, 1947.
Only a memory of bygone days,
And a sigh for a face unseen;
But a constant feeling that God alone
Knows just what should have been.
—Ever remembered by Violet, Charlie and family.

LUSTIC—In loving memory of our dear mother, Maude Lustic, who passed away October 11, 1933.
Two dear bright eyes, a tender smile,
A loving heart that knew no guile,
Deep trust in God that all was right,
Her joy to make some other bright,
If sick or suffering one she knew,
Some gentle act of love she'd do;
No thought of self, but of the other;
I know He said, Well done, dear mother.
—Ever remembered by her loving sons Jim and Frank.

LEAL—In loving memory of Arthur Leal, who passed away one year ago, October 10 1947.
While you, dear parent, rest and sleep
Your loving memory we'll always keep.
—Ever remembered by son Beverley, daughter-in-law Eileen, grandchildren Wayne and Bobby.

MENZIES—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mrs. Charles V. Menzies, who passed away seven years ago today, October 9, 1944.
Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break, but all in vain.
To have, to love, and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things
But this they wipe out never,
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
—Ever remembered by husband and family.

two vehicles collided and both lost control. The extensive damage was to the car of Charles A. Wilson, 182 Murlock St., Toronto. Driver of the truck was Bruce Snooks, Cannington.

The Wilson car broke off four posts of the guard rail along the highway.

About an hour later, on No. 7 Highway at the east end of Havelock village, the car of Isaac Hicks of Toronto, left the road, shot along a four-foot ditch for about 100 feet before turning on its side and wedging itself in the ditch. Damage was about $250. Hicks had cuts over his eye and on his hand. Hicks pleaded guilty in court today to a charge of reckless driving and was fined $40 and $2.50 costs.

Provincial Constable Archibald Grayling investigated both accidents.

Branch Library In South-end Urged By Board

A branch library in the south end of the city is the aim of the Library Board. At the monthly meeting of the Board held on Friday evening it was unanimous-l yagreed that a letter should be sent to the City Council requesting that a meeting be arranged to discuss this matter.

It is not expected that any move will be made this year but the Board thought it desirable to learn how far the council was prepared to go in the way of financial assistance when the 1949 estimates are struck.

K. S. Wightman, chairman of the library committee, and the Rev. E. C. Moore, rector of St. George's Anglican Church, pointed out that the people in the south end found the distance a difficulty in the way of utilizing the present library.

Speaking to the Examiner today, William Graff, librarian, said "there has been a demand on the part of the people of the south end for a long time."

He said that there was now about 7,000 people living in the south and they were at a disadvantage when it came to using the library. People living in Crawford's Grove have to come more than three miles, which is a long way, particularly for children, he said.

In an urban centre such as Peterborough, he explained that people should not have to travel more than a mile to use the library.

A temporary location in an unused store or some other building would probably solve the problem, he explained.

Exact details for a temporary library location have not yet been worked out. More definite plans will be drawn up if the attitude of City Council is favorable.

J. C. Rutherford was in the chair.

COUNTY FARM NOTES

By HARRY THEOBALD

District Holstein Championships To Be Decided Here Wed., Oct. 13 —Federation Of Agriculture Stimulating Farm Forum and County Health Projects—Provincial Plowing Match Opens Tuesday.

Paramount in rural Peterborough's projection of interest this week-end is neither the provincial plowing match beginning next Tuesday, nor the Central Ontario "Black and White" championships day at Morrow Park on Wednesday, Oct. 13.

At the top of the list of affairs is the decision of the county Federation of Agriculture to inject new liveliness into the local campaign for the establishment of a Kawartha Health Association, beginning with a Farm Radio Forum dinner tentatively set for Nov. 5.

The Federation this week decided to subsidize the dinner fifty cents a plate.

Peterborough county council and the Federation of Agriculture have been discussing the co-operative health plan for several years. Members of both sides are in agreement that the period of committee consideration has served its purpose of obtaining understanding of the scope and merits of this enterprise in community health. They now desire to bring it closer to the people generally, to explain the details to them, and enlist their support.

The agency which is to carry this message will be the Farm Radio Forums, and thereby the Forum organization should attain a stronger place in Peterborough rural activity. The number of local farm forums in this county has been annually fewer than in Durham, the next door neighbor. Eastern Ontario as a whole has not taken up this economic and social endeavor with the same rally of enthusiasm that has been exhibited by most of the counties west of Toronto.

At the annual meetings of the Ontario Federation in Toronto, the location of Farm Forums is indicated by pins on a large scale map. For every Peterborough pin there are probably ten or more in Huron and Bruce. Through the eastern stretch of the province, the pin count is more satisfactory in parts of Lanark and Carleton, but on the whole many and depressing vacant spaces on that may stretch across country from Toronto to Ottawa. The significance of these pins is recognized in the inner circles of the Federation. Executive experience in the last three years has been that where Forum organization is broadest and membership most active, the Federation itself finds energetic and well informed members.

The implication of the local Forum connection as a means of stimulating interest in the Kawartha Health Association is that through these community groups the proposed campaign in Peterborough county should make effective progress.

Co-operative health campaigns have been carried on successfully in many parts of Canada, and it is expected that, after all the spade work that has been done here, the county is ready for the next stage which will be undertaken at the November dinner.

HOLSTEIN CHAMPIONSHIPS

Holstein herds from ten counties from Simcoe on the west to Lennox-Addington on the east will be represented at the third annual district "Black and White Day" championships at the Exhibition Park here next Wednesday.

The county matches have been held separately. First and second prize winners are eligible for the finals. From the several sectional events All-Canadian nominations are eventually selected.

Holstein directors are hoping that the International Plowing Match three miles west of Lindsay next week will increase the attendance at the local championships. Stanley Wood, secretary of the Peterborough Holstein Breeders' club, said the championships on Wednesday would probably set a new record in total number of entries, somewhere between 150 and 200. The strongest group last year came from Ontario county, and it is likely that the breeders whose local Black and White Day was held at Port Perry Fair will again be prominent in the Peterborough ring.

Harvey Swartz of Waukeshaw, Wis., judge here last year has been re-engaged to sort out the cream of the herds next week. The first class will be paraded before him at 10:30 a.m. Lunch will be served in the former drill hall at the park where the show ring will be set up, and ample seating accommodation will be provided for spectators.

RUNIONS HEADS TEAM

Prof. Arthur D. Runions of the department of animal husbandry, OAC, left Monday with the Ontario judging team of four young men for the dairy cattle congress at Waterloo, Iowa, next week.

The OAC team is composed of H. T. B. Armstrong of Ottawa, W. R. Lawson, Georgetown, J. H. McCullough, Navan, and E. A. Starr of Little Britain.

The congress is one of the biggest dairy shows on the continent. Prof. George Raithby of OAC will judge the Ayrshire cattle.

3,500 ACRES OF HYBRID CORN

Several of the counties in eastern Ontario enlarged to 3,500 acres this season their area of grain corn which had previously been only 100 to 200 acres.

This development of interest and experimental spirit was emphasized at the first corn field day in eastern Ontario, which was held at Chesterville Friday, Oct. 1. It was sponsored by the Dundas Crop Improvement Association and the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Dr. F. Dimmock of Central Experimental Farms, Ottawa, on the pioneering enterprsie manifested in the expansion of hybrid corn seeding this year in the eastern counties.

The most important factor in growing corn of that type, he said, was to select a hybrid whose maturing period was suitable to the district.

Those recommended for eastern Ontario, after 18 years' experimental work at Ottawa, were the Canada bred (Canbred) 150, 240, 250 and 255. In regard to plowing the stalk under Dr. Dimmock advised use of a high mounted plow fitted with an 18-inch notched coulter and trailing wire.

Bruce Cummings of the Dominion Department of Agriculture have to the crowd of 750 farmers a demonstration of hand picking and husking. The program also included a display of a two-row picker in use, and also two one-row pickers and huskers. It was emphasized that the corn should have a moisture content of about 30 per cent before picking. Other machines shown were two power shellers, a hand sheller, temporary crib and semi-permanent crib.

J. R. Annett of Canada Starch Co. said his company had four pickers available for use in the eastern counties. Farmers may obtain them through their agricultural representatives.

REPORT AT OAC.

Keith McIntyre and Everett MacFarlane of Otonabee are reporting Tuesday, October 12, at Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, to begin the two-year diploma course for which they each won a $100 scholarship given by Peterborough County Council.

These prizes were given to the county youths with the highest aggregate scores in the junior section of Peterborough Exhibition.

CORN DEMONSTRATION

Apple picking and silo filling reduced to only 25 farmers the attendance at the corn picking and husking demonstration Thursday afternoon at the farm of Garnet Rickard in Durham. Bruce Cumming of the plant producers department, Kent county, talked about grain corn production. From his long experience with this crop he answered many question of detail

CALF CLUB TO O. A. C.

Peterborough Kiwanis Club provided a grand trip to the Ontario Agricultural College Wednesday for the 18 boys and five girls of the local calf club. The bus outing was promised in the fall. In the Guelph area the piloted their season's program of feeding and generally caring for their calves.

The youngsters were in charge of Fred Stenson, Gordon Hancock, Wilson Gemmell and Blake Bell. They left at 7.30., arrived in Guelph at 11.30, had two meals at the College, leaving at 6 p. m. and reaching home at 9.30. The entire afternoon was spent in the fields, barns and other buildings of the College, with instructive explanations by several members of the staff.

Kiwanis are now offering prizes for essays on the trip, providing at least ten of the young people submit compositions. Mr. Gemmell kept a log, which in detail would fill a booklet.

On the O. A. C. farm the group was shown an area of poor land on a hillside that had been redeemed by care, fertilizing and permant pasture. Twelve steers have been feeding on its twelve acres, and have been steadily gaining in weight. This was an object lesson in methods of fertility. In the Geulph area the College has 15,000 test plots where varieties of grain are planted, chiefly oats, wheat barley and corn. Their yields are individually gathered in sacks and separately tested to determine the best types of seed to be used in that section of the province. It was pointed out that grass rows are planted between the plots to prevent erosion.

Three year rotation in the testing area is soy beans, corn and spring grain. One hundred different kinds of forage crops grown from seed from as far as China and Europe are tested for results in this province. The juniors were conducted through the livestock barns. They saw the Clyde stallion "Craigie Diplomat", imported from Scotland, and the thoroughbred race horse "Questzal Cotal" that is being used in breeding with Percherons, Belgians and Clydes in an experiment to develop the hunter type.

Ideal types of beef cattle were pointed out to the juniors with details to look for in selecting breeding stock in some of the Hereford, Shorthorn and Angus cattle. The O. A. C. study of rhinitis in swine was explained at pens of infected stock. A new type of tripod, invented by Alex Jamieson of Renfrew was displayed. The advantages of tripod curing of hay were mentioned. The grass was said to be the best natural source of protein, but in Ontario it is often difficult to get the best results because of uncertainties of weather. Use of the tripod was highly recommended to the juniors in their future farming.

In the swine barns a useful lesson was provided in the methodical keeping of record of feed costs and weight results. There are 70 head of cattle in the dairy section. Holsteins, Ayrshire and Jerseys and two Guernseys. This latter breed is now receiving increased attention at O. A. C.

Norwood fair Monday, Thanksgiving Day winds up the entire Ontario circuit for this fall. G. A Brethen, president, has done a lot of publicity work, and if the sun shines again he should be rewarded with a big crowd.

TEST 130,000 CATTLE

More than 130,000 cattle in Middlesex county was the last official census in 1946. Probably the number has increased since then. Any way the county has been declared a restricted area for bovine T. B., and veterinary surgeons have begun the huge task of testing all the dairy and beef cattle in the county. An early report mentions one herd that is being condemned to the last calf.

✦ ✦ ✦

RURAL FIRE FIGHTING

Otonabee township council is wondering whether they should invest in portable fire fighting equipment.

F. DeRoache, inspector of the Fire Marshal's Department, Toronto, told a recent meeting of ratepayers at Keene that "all fires are the same size at the start". Two per cent of them cause 70% of the damage and loss. Most fires could be easily put out if attacked in time. Mr. DeRoache described a truck that is equipped with ladders and hose and 500 gallon tank of water. Under 850 pounds pressure to the sq. in. it develops a fog of ten times the extinguishing effect of the ordinary water spray. In rural Ontario 450 fire departments have bought this machine.

Fire Chief George Smith of Peterborough said firemen had to get official permission to respond to fires outside the city, thereby losing time. In many cases their efforts were not of much avail. Reeve W. W. Dawson said the council would consider the information obtained. Fire hazards of gasoline and electricity have increased, building costs have mounted and councils have to review their responsibility to the ratepayers in a new light. Otonabee has the communities of Keene, Lang, Downer's Corners, Villiers, in addition to the farm estates.

JUDGE AT MADOC

Frank C. Paterson was judge of the dairy calf club of juniors at Madoc Fair Wednesday.

300 TRACTORS CORRALLED

Dick Butler, Lindsay, publicity man for the plowing match, said yesterday there were twice as many entries as last year. Three hundred tractors are being mobilized, and there may be more when the mechanical round-up is complete. At least 50 teams have been promised. Sir Andrew and Lady Jones will be distinguished visitors and Mrs. B. G. Muiheid, plowing expert of the Illinois Department of Agriculture, is expected. Visiting women are reminded that the Eaton Company is serving tea every day.

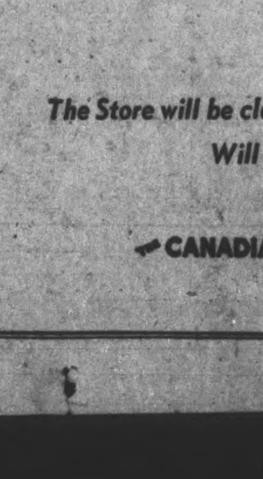
Thanksgiving is more than an Autumn holiday . . .

. . . It's more than turkey and sage and pumpkin pie . . . more than a brisk walk in the country or a last week-end at the cottage.

Thanksgiving is a day for all of us to stop and think - - - seriously and hard - - - about the things we take for granted every other day. It's a day to take stock of our advantages, our assets . . . and to be thankful that they are so many and so great.

WE HAVE THE BLESSING OF FREEDOM. Not the vague high-sounding orator's word but the plain, practical fact. Freedom to cast a ballot the way we want it . . . freedom to praise or blame our government as we see fit . . . freedom to speak without hindrance and live without fear.

WE HAVE THE BLESSING OF ABUNDANCE. In this great, clean land of ours, so rich, so lavishly endowed, abundance is all around us . . . in good, brown earth and golden harvest . . . in fruitful valleys and mighty forests . . . in busy, hard-working cities . . . in the faces of a free and happy people.



WE HAVE THESE BLESSINGS TO BE THANKFUL FOR. They are part of a hard-won heritage . . . and they are ours as long as we are prepared to work for them and, if necessary, fight for them.
To give thanks for what we have . . . to reaffirm our faith in freedom and our determination to preserve and cherish it . . . that is the true meaning of Thanksgiving.

Will be open all day Wednesday

Woman Helps Four Cling To Capsized Boat Until Washed To Island

One Member Of Party Has Heart Attack As Waves Pound Around Cabin; Steamer Sends Out Request For Help

VICTORIA HARBOR, Oct. 12—(CP).—Five Toronto persons were rescued during the week-end from a duck hunter's cabin on a small Georgian Bay island near here after spending a night without food or heat. They were plunged into the waters of the bay Saturday night when their boat capsized in a storm. The five — Mr. and Mrs. R. Hall, Mrs. Hall's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. R. Stockhert, and Mrs. Hall's brother, W. O'Brien —were in the water two hours before they reached an island.

Mrs. Hall, who was well-known before her marriage as a Toronto amateur swimmer under her maiden name, Vicky O'Brien, kept up the strength of the others by helping them to cling to the capsized boat until they reached the island. There was no shelter, however, on the first island they reached and they were forced to wade waist deep for 50 yards to another island where they found the cabin.

During the night waves swept over the island, entirely covering it at times. There was no food in the cabin and no heat. Mrs. Stockert suffered a heart attack.

Almost 24 hours later a Victoria Harbor man reached the island after being told by crew members of a Canadian Pacific Railways steamer that there was someone on the island in trouble.

Mrs. Hall said when the boat capsized she shed all her clothing except a suit of men's long woollen underwear and kept shouting to the others: "One, two, three, kick," to help them keep afloat.

Victoria Harbor is a Georgian Bay resort area, about 8 miles south of Midland.

Saunders Enjoys Rainy Holiday

TORONTO, Oct. 12 — (CP) — Rain spoiled Thanksgiving Day for many Ontario residents but for Ontario Hydro Commission Chairman Robert Saunders, it was a wonderful day.

Mr. Saunders said the rainfall was general throughout Ontario and fell where the power-short commission needed it most. In the Georgian Bay district and along the Trent, Madawaska and Ottawa river, nearly half an inch fell.

"I hope it continues several days," the Hydro chief said.

Ontario faces a reduction today of upwards of 3,000,000 kilowatt hours a week in Hydro delivered from the Gatineau Power Company, forced by dry weather to conserve its water. But reports here said it rained all day in the Gatineau area.

Pupils Hurl Tomatoes After Football Game

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Oct. 12—(CP)—Police and citizens were showered with over-ripe tomatoes and stones by high school students Monday in two huge demonstrations following a football game.

The disturbances broke out in two sections of this city after the annual Thanksgiving Day game between Niagara Falls and suburban Stamford township collegiates. Several car windows were broken.

Deputy police chief William Hamilton of Stamford said no arrests were made though he took four students into custody for a time "to cool them off." An estimated 200 boys and 50 girls participated in the hour-long demonstration.

Bride Sees Husband Accidentally Shot

MONTREAL, Oct. 12 (CP). — A few hours before he was to leave on his wedding trip, Claude Sauve, 21, accidentally shot and killed himself as his horrified bride looked on.

Guests at the wedding reception in the east-end home, startled by the shot and the girl's scream, called a doctor, but it was too late to save the young man, who died of loss of blood.

Police said Sauve, as manager of a hardware store, had a permit to carry the gun, but it was not explained why he was carrying it at the time.

The accident happened after the couple returned from a hotel wedding reception and were getting ready to leave for Banff, Alta. As Sauve was taking off his overcoat the pistol fell from a pocket. The safety catch was off and as he picked up the weapon he touched the trigger, discharging a bullet into his abdomen.

Groom Arrested In Murder At Race Track

TORONTO, Oct. 12 (CP)—Vincent St. Lawrence, 24-year-old Toronto race track groom charged with the bludgeon slaying of George (Cowboy) Parker, 37-year-old Calgary stablehand, was remanded today until Oct. 20.

Peter Hylynsky, 28, a groundsman who operates the starting gates, was remanded to the same date on $3,000 bail as a material witness.

The murder weapon, a twitch—a heavy piece of wood with a string attached—was found today in a swamp behind the race track.

Parker was found late Saturday night lying in a pool of blood on the grounds of the Woodbine race track in Eastern Toronto, and died in hospital 12 hours later with a fractured skull and brain lacerations.

A squad of 25 police, combing the swampy area outside the race track fence, found Parker's empty wallet which was said to have contained about $200 in winnings from the Long Branch races on Saturday.

Police said Parker was beaten with a twitch—a heavy piece of wood with a string attached — used to handle unruly horses.

The slaying and robbery, police reported, followed a drinking party which started among seven men in a van moving horses to Woodbine Park following Saturday's races at Suburban Long Branch.

Police quoted St. Lawrence, also known as Ginsberg, as telling them that he and Parker had continued the drinking party in a tack room in a Woodbine barn. St. Lawrence told police the last he saw of Parker was when the two went outdoors and were sick —about 200 yards from the spot where Parker was found by a night watchman.

A total of $2,000 in rewards for the arrest of the slayer was offered soon after Parker's death was reported on Sunday.

The Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association put up $500, the Board of Police Commissioners added $500 and Charlie Hemstead, local racehorse owner, offered another $1,000.

Seek Missing Pair

NORTH BAY, Oct. 12—(CP)—Fifty men, including every available policeman, searched this area today for Wilfred Heighten, North Bay business man, and his 10-year-old son John, who became separated Monday from a hunting party. They were hunting for a camp about 40 miles northeast of here and failed to return last night. Police said they expected a plane would join the search today if weather permitted.

Barbara Ann Makes Debut In New York For $10,000

NEW YORK, Oct. 12—(CP)—Ottawa's Barbara Ann Scott will make her professional debut skating as the headline attraction in December at New York's Roxy Theatre.

Officials of the Music Corporation of America Artists Limited, Miss Scott's agents, announced Monday that her salary for the engagement is "unprecedented." It is rumored to be $10,000 a week.

(In Ottawa, the blonde queen of the ice said she wasn't sure $10,000 was the correct amount—it seemed big.

("Anyway," whatever is decided will help Canada's dollar shortage," she said in an interview. "I do want to show that I am a good Canadian and that I shall always remain a Canadian.")

Miss Scott, who holds both the world and Olympic figure-skating crowns, will star in the Roxy's holiday show starting Dec. 22.

The first woman to bring skating honors to Canada in more than a half-century, Miss Scott will be assured at least four or five weeks of top billing at the Roxy. New York's theatre holiday season, which starts just before Christmas, runs through to the end of January.

MCA officials said other plans for Miss Scott's career still are undecidd but her Roxy engagement calls for a return engagement next year.

Following in the footsteps of the highly successful Sonja Henie, who turned her flashing skates into a $1,000,000 enterprise, the pert Miss Scott is understood to be planning to make several motion pictures following her debut.

Also bidding for her services, it is believed, are two major ice-skating shows and advertisers seeking endorsements for their products.

Russia Raps Enmity Of Canadians

Says Chevrier Speech Expected By Kremlin; Answers All Charges

PARIS, Oct. 12 — (CP). — Andrei Vishinsky, chief Russian delegate, today told the United Nations political committee that Canada's attitude regarding Russia was to be expected.

Vishinsky was first speaker in the committee this afternoon as he replied to this morning's speech by Warren Austin, United States delegate, who challenged Russia to deny that she recognized war as a means of achieving a Communist world society.

Referring to a speech in the committee Monday by Lionel Chevrier, Canadian delegate, Vishinsky said the Canadian claimed every thinking being knew that responsibility for the present international tension lay with the Soviet. Chevrier claimed the Soviet attempted to cause differences with various other states, the Russian delegate said.

"As a matter of fact we couldn't expect the Canadian representative to say anything else," Vishinsky declared, "in view of the Canadian contribution to the unbridled campaign of enmity and hatred against the USSR, in the course of which the Canadians do not shrink from resorting to provocateurs and traitors who would not have found any place in the company of society of decent human beings." This phrase obviously was a reference to the Dominion's espionage trials.

In a room crowded to capacity and in a tense atmosphere, Vishinsky began quietly reading from a prepared text.

One At a Time

Vishinsky said he was tempted to reply at once to the poison, insinuations and slanders of Austin's speech, but he regretted that he would have first to take up the time of the political committee by replying in chronological order to the large number of other speakers who had attacked the Soviet proposals.

Austin repeatedly called on Soviet delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky to deny Communist declarations of Soviet and other Communist leaders that peace between the Soviet Union and the capitalist world is impossible.

As he spoke, the western powers, convinced mediation efforts are futile, pressed for a showdown in the Security Council on their demand that Russia raise the blockade of Berlin, U.N. sources said. Britain, France and the United States want a council session tomorrow or Thursday, feeling the time for action has arrived.

The Kremlin's answer to efforts of the so-called neutral states to mediate in the Berlin crisis still is awaited. Some western sources said there would have been some home of a compromise if a Rus-

Health Grants Modernize Work

WINNIPEG, Oct. 12.—(CP).—Martin said today that the na-Canadian Health Minister Paul tion's new national health program calls for the Federal government to spend as much in one year as it has spent on health services in the last 27 years.

The minister said the program, under which grants totalling $30,000,000 are to be distributed to the provinces, meant more than an extension of health services. It represents an "entirely new departure—a tremendous increase in the amount of money available for health care and for the building of hospitals."

In an address prepared for delivery to the Women's Canadian Club, Mr. Martin said the grants would allow provinces to make invaluable excursions into new areas of health care—especially in prevent.

The health minister said that compared to a similar plan in the United States, "we find that for each citizen our Federal grants are three times as large."

Cleveland Mobs Indians Team On Return

Baseball-Happy Citizens Stage Biggest Welcome In City's History

CLEVELAND, Oct. 12—(AP)—Baseball-happy Clevelanders staged the biggest and loudest demonstration in the city's history today as the world champion Indians were welcomed back from Boston.

The entire city let go with a bombardment of music, flowers, cheers and applause as the Indians were driven along a 10-mile route.

The route was strewn with roses and confetti, early morning traffic was tied in a happy, howling knot of humanity.

Mayor Thomas A. Burke, Tribe Manager Lou Boudreau and his wife, Della, and Club President Bill Veeck were seated in the first open car and drew the loudest cheers.

Sport-shirted Veeck gave his flashiest, widest grin as he ducked the confetti, candy kisses and flowers.

The handsome, dark-haired Boudreau drew the attention of women and bobby soxers. Shouts of "There's Lou!" sprang up all along the line and everybody strained their vocal chords to the limit.

One woman carried a sign: "Boudreau for president and (Gene) Bearden for vice-president."

People literally hung out the windows of office buildings and thousands of balloons floated down from many of the taller structures.

One woman ran out and presented Mrs. Boudreau with a bouquet of a dozen American Beauty roses and other spectators showered packages of gifts on the Boudreaus and Veeck as they rode out the avenue.

Business was at a standstill and school children forgot their studies and classrooms. Public schools were not closed officially but teachers and principals didn't interfere with any pupils who wanted to see the parade.

Streetcars, buses and automobiles were hopelessly tied up and public transportation officials estimated it would take several hours before schedules returned to normal.

Quebec Cuts Ontario Power

TORONTO, Oct. 12—(CP).—Quebec power companies, beginning today, will reduce Hydro-Electric power deliveries to Ontario by 3,000,000 kilowatt hours weekly, Hydro officials said. The companies now will supply Ontario with 11,000,000 kilowatt hours less than the weekly supply provided for in their contracts because of a shortage of water reserves.

Heavy downpours of rain petered out Monday over Quebec before they could raise water levels to any appreciable extent. Although heavy rains are general today throughout. Northern Ontario, very little is falling on the Ottawa River shed where it is needed. Yesterday's rainfall at Ottawa was .68 inches and at Renfrew, .72 inches. At North Bay, however, where the rain drains away from the Ottawa River, the fall was 1.49 inches.

E. M. Ashwroth, manager of the Toronto Hydro-Electric power system, said there would be only one power cutoff here today and customers could expect at least one cut-off each day for the rest of the week. Whether two daily cuts would be necessary depended on whether consumers cooperated in making voluntary savings.

Stratford Public Utilities Commission has banned all store window lighting effective today Guelph had its first interruption today as power was cut off 20 minutes. Cutoffs would occur daily untitl the situation improved, Hydro officials said.

Goderich merchants were closing their stores at 5.00 p.m daily to save lighting. At Preston, two daily cutoffs have failed to yield the necessary savings and a third may be ordered.

Farm Worker Disappears Family Calls In Police

His whereabouts unknown to relatives or friends of the city for 10 days, a search for Clifford Degen, 31-year-old farm worker, was taken up by city and provincial police over the week-end. Degen has not been seen by his brother, George Degen, 173 Westcott St., since Oct. 2. The missing man, they explained, usually spent his week-ends with his brother's family or with two other brothers in Kitchener. He has not been with the Kitchener brothers, either, it was learned from that city.

Degen was last seen definitely on Oct. 2 when he was driven into the city by his employer, Elmer Metcalfe, who operates a farm near Indian River.

Metcalfe left him in the city and understood that he would be staying with his brother, and was planning on returning to work the following Monday. Degen did not report all the following week.

Contacts Family

On Thursday, Oct. 7, when his hired man had not returned, Mr. Metcalfe concluded that he had made other arrangements for staying in the city and he brought Degen's clothing into his brother's home. It was not until then that his disappearance was known.

A telephone inquiry on Friday revealed he had not been visiting in Kitchener.

Only clue of his location during the entire period was a report that a fireman at the Aylmer St. Fire Hall had been talking to Degen this Sunday night.

The missing man is described as six feet tall, walking with a limp and a swaying motion. He is of slim build, has brown hair, fair complexion. When last seen he was wearing blue stripe trousers and suit coat, no hat and brown scampers.

Electric Power Cut In France

PARIS, Oct. 12—(AP).—Electric power was cut throughout France today as a Communist-led coal strike sapped the country's industrial life.

On the rail strike front, some improvement was noted. There were still scattered walkouts but work was resumed at the Strasbourg station. The strike was due to end today at Mulhouse and Colmar.

This will be France's ninth consecutive winter of power cuts. A spokesman for the nationalized French power network said the cuts were not planned for this year, but were necessitated by the coal strike, now in its ninth day. The strike has already cost the country more than 1,000,000 tons of coal.

Ordinary consumers of power will be cut off two days a week, from dawn to dusk. Priority users, such as hospitals, newspapers and the United Nations now meeting in Paris, will not be affected.

A 48-hour work stoppage was ordered Monday in the steel mills of the Metz area. Neighboring districts are already strike-bound.

Interior Minister Jules Moch is reported to have charged the strike campaign was ordered by the Moscow-led Cominform for the purpose of wrecking the European recovery program.

Blame 2 Philosophies For Splitting Unions

TORONTO, Oct. 12 (CP) — A high official of the Canadian Congress of Labor said today the conflict of two "fundamentally opposed" philosophies is the "basic trouble" in the World Federation of Trade Unions.

Pat Conroy, Congress secretary-treasurer, expressed that opinion in a report to the eighth annual CCL convention. He represented the Congress at the meeting of the WFTU executive in Rome last May.

On one side in the world federation were the free unions of the western nations. On the other side were the restricted unions of Russia and Communist-dominated countries.

"The WFTU must get down to basic principles," he said. There was one main conclusion from the Rome meeting:

". . . The WFTU, if it is to continue and function as a world body, must immediately define the function and structure of trade unions in all countries, whether they be capitalistic or communistic.

Find Broken Safe

OAKVILLE, Oct. 12 — (CP). —Finding of a broken safe near the Queen Elizabeth Highway near here Sunday led to the discovery of a robbery of several hundred dollars from the Robert Simpson Co. office at Oakville. The exact amount stolen is not yet known.

Recapture One Of Six In Reformatory Break

GUELPH, Oct. 12—(CP)—One of six prisoners who escaped from the Ontario Reformatory here Sunday night was recaptured Monday outside Campbellville, 16 miles east of here.

Reformatory officials said John Flanagan, 20, serving a sentence for fraud and false pretences, was found hiding in the bush and surrendered.

Bevin Gives Report On World Situation

LONDON, Oct. 12 (CP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin today gave Commonwealth Prime Ministers an exhaustive report on the international situation, with particular emphasis on the trouble spots of the Far East.

The closed talks on the international situation were to continue this afternoon but a switch to the vital issues of Berlin and Europe generally will await the arrival of Louis St. Laurent, acting Prime Minister of Canada, who is flying to London tomorrow to act for Prime Minister Mackenzie King, who is ill.

Southeast Asia, including Malaya, and Japan, are believed to have figured in the discussion which was understood to have been attended by Rt. Hon Malcolm Macdonald, Southeast Asia Commissioner-General, and the British service chiefs.

Country-Wide Rail Strike Paralyzes Newfoundland

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Oct. 12. — (CP) — Paralysis of a country-wide railway strike gripped Newfoundland today.

Some 2,500 workers on the government-owned railway, only mode of transportation spanning the island, walked out on their set deadline Monday to back demands for a 15-cents-an-hour wage increase.

Suspension of service immediately stopped distribution of goods to inland points. It came at a particularly bad time because suppliers throughout Newfoundland are awaiting winter stocks.

The railway labor co-operative board, spokesman for the employees, set the strike deadline after negotiations between it and the government broke down. In a last-ditch manoeuvre the government offered a seven-cents-an-hour boost. This was rejected by the board.

The government said a 15-cent increase would add $1,500,000 a year to operating costs and that freight rates would have to go up. The railway last year showed a deficit of $1,500,000.

The railway also operates coastal steamships but men on ships plying the Newfoundland coast were not immediately affected by the walkout.

However, the ferry Cabot Strait operating between Port aux Basques, western terminus of the railway, and Nova Scotia tied up at North Sydney, NS, Monday night. It will remain there until the strike is settled.

At Corner Brook, on the west coast, an airstrip was laid down in 24 hours to attempt to offset some effects of the transportation tieup.

Pension Need Receives Top Billing

Demand Equal Pay For Men, Women Urge Security Plan

TORONTO, Oct. 12 — (CP). — The Canadian Congress of Labor, drafting a program for the next 12 months, decided today to campaign for a $2,000 minimum annual wage, equal pay for men and women and an "adequate" pension scheme for all industrial workers.

The pension question provoked most debate. Several speakers urged Congress pressure on the Federal Government to set up an "over-all social security plan" paid for to a major degree from taxes.

In sharp contrast to Monday's hectic session as the eighth annual CCL convention started, today's deliberations contained no fireworks about Communism.

Thirteen of 234 resolutions were adopted; 35 others were referred to special committees for study before presentation to the delegates. An official announcement was made that registration now is 815. It was 775 late Monday.

Decisions Made

Decision taken today included these:

1. To help CCL member unions "to have fair labor legislation enacted in each province.

2. To give affiliates a greater say in the Congress' annual submission to the federal cabinet.

3. To support farmer-labor-teacher and co-operative organizations such as the Saskatchewan Occupational Group Council.

A routine resolution on publicity was referred back to the resolutions committee after an appeal from a United Electrical Workers delegate for a statement of "condemnation" for the "anti-labor attitude of some radio stations and newspapers."

During discussion of the pension resolution—submitted by Local 1064 of the United Steelworkers of America, Sydney, N.S.—several speakers stressed the employment

Steel Priorities May Be Reduced

OTTAWA, Oct. 12 — (CP) — Official sources indicated today that Canadian priorities of United States steel may be reduced by U.S. government order.

A spokesman disclosed that negotiations on steel priorities have been going on which officials in Washington for some time and that an announcement may be made here within the next few days.

The negotiations were initiated by the U.S. government, which has been concerned by a growing shortage of steel in that country as a result of defence orders placed with American steel mills.

These negotiations dovetail with a Canadian government order issued Sept. 30 prohibiting the use of tin for making of beer cans. This means that canned beer, which came on the Canadian market this summer, will vanish for the time being.

Says Rights Ignored At Vescio Appeal

OTTAWA, Oct. 12 — (CP). — Hearing of the appeal of Michael Angelo Vescio, 23, of Port Arthur, convicted in 1947 of the murder of 13-year-old George Smith in Winnipeg, was resumed to-day before the Supreme Court of Canada.

Vescio's counsel Harry Walsh of Winnipeg, continued his arguments that his client's rights had been ignored when the original Count appointed counsel to represent him without consulting Vescio.

The Fort Arthur men was also charged with murdering another 13-year-old boy, Roy McGregor, but was never brought to trial on the second charge. Bodies of the boys, both of whom were shot, were found several months apart in 1946.

Hall Group Loses Round To Drive Reds Out Of Labor Congress

Convention Signs Point To Endorsement Of Rail Union Suspension; Issue Has Been Deferred Until Talks Today

VICTORIA, Oct. 12—(CP).—Frank Hall's battle to smoke Communists out of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada looked today like a losing fight. Congress convention signs pointed to an endorsement of the action of the TLC executive in suspending Hall's railway union because he kicked over the Congress traces in staging managing an anti-Communistic union merger.

And from the proportions of a pro-executive vote at Monday's opening session, it appeared certain Hall had failed in his drive to have Congress boot out the Canadian Seamen's Union, reputed to be dominated by Reds.

As the convention went into its second day, the Red issue was due to burst into full force on its floor.

It was touched on only briefly Monday, the executive forces winning an opening skirmish by a majority of about six to one.

That was on the procedural question of whether or not the convention should deal immediately with the suspension of Hall's union—the 13,000 Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks.

Voted Down

The convention shouted and voted down Hall's supporters when they asked for immediate discussion of the suspension, and it upheld president Percy Bengough in his suggestion that the issue be deferred. It will be the first thing on the agenda today.

Meanwhile, Hall and about 25 other Brotherhood delegates were without seats at the convention.

Monday, after the Congress credentials of Hall and his Brotherhood colleagues had been rejected by a convention committee, his supporters in the convention tried to have his case taken up right away. It was on this issue that a majority of the convention upheld President Bengough, amid a heavy salvo of cheers.

Bengough promptly announced that the Brotherhood delegates including Hall would be given a chance to come before the convention today and state their case.

The immediate issue would be the question of whether or not they were to be admitted.

Some time after that—probably not until later in the week—there would be a full-dress debate on this specific issue of Communism itself, in which would be wrapped the question on the C.S.U.'s status in the convention.

Indications today were that the C.S.U. would stay, and that its Great Lakes rivals would be branded as outside the pale of Canadian unionism.

Famous Bull On Exhibition

The famous bull "Glenafton Rag Apple Marksman", familiarly known in the Holstein world as Marksman, will be a display feature at the Central Ontario Holstein championships at Exhibition Park Wednesday.

Norman McConkey said today that J. J. E. McCague of Alliston, owner of Marksman, decided to bring him to Peterborough to give breeders an opportunity of seeing him.

"Marksman is the most highly advertised Holstein bull in the world," Mr. McConkey said. "He was defeated just once in his life, and the following year redeemed himself in competition with the same bull. Farmers who haven't seen him at the Royal will have a good chance to look him over here Wednesday."

King's Illness Upsets Empire Parley

LONDON, Oct. 12 —(CP)—The illness of Canada's Prime Minister Mackenzie King has resulted in a rearrangement of the time-table of the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' Conference, to which Acting Prime Minister Louis St Laurent will fly from Ottawa tomorrow.

The Canadian prime minister, who was ordered to bed Sunday with a condition of his blood circulation aggravated by a bout of influenza last month, was reported feeling "quite comfortable" this morning after a quiet night. Lord Moran, his physician, was to visit him again today.

At today's conference session Foreign Secretary Bevin reviewed the international situation for the Commonwealth leaders. Norman Robertson, Canadian high commissioner to the United Kingdom, represented the Dominion.

Bevin said he rated the dangers of Communist pressure in the Orient even above the Berlin crisis.

"Complete Rest"

The 73-year-old Canadian leader was ordered to take a "complete rest" and it probably will be several days before it is known how long he must remain in bed or when he will be able to return home. In any case, the illness will deprive him of his role at the conclave of Commonwealth leaders.

Robertson represented the Dominion at the opening of the conference Monday when Prime Minister Attlee outlined Britain's recovery plans for the next four years. Attlee also discussed the indebtedness of the United Kingdom to the Commonwealth countries for the economic aid they had given.

A statement issued in Ottawa Monday said the acting Prime Minister, after consultation with his colleagues, had decided to go personally to London. While he is away, Trade Minister C. D. Hwoe will be acting Prime Minister.

It was believed possible that the Prime Minister's retirement, which had been planned for his return from the conference, may be advanced and there was speculation that the change-over may be made in London. The acting Prime Minister is expected to remain here for a week or 10 days.

The ailing Canadian leader sent a message of greeting to Monday's meeting, expressing the hope he may be able to see some of the representatives in his hotel room. Besides missing the meeting, the Prime Minister also was forced to cancel a luncheon engagement with the King Monday.

It was pointed out that Arthur MacNamara, Deputy Federal Labor Minister, had for several years impressed on employers that middle-aged men are in many cases just as capable as younger men. But, delegates said, since many employers declined to hire older men, the need for good pensions was all the more important.

Harry Chappell of Winnipeg, chairman of the resolutions committee, spoke against a motion to refer the reseolution back for "strengthening."

He said a part recommending Congress support of individual unions' efforts to win pension plans was only a "makeshift."

But, until a Dominion-wide plan was in sight, it seemed best to strive for "adequate" pension plans where obtainable.

Two Plead Guilty To Theft Copper Coils

Two former employees of the CGE were given two years' suspended sentence in court today by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC. The accused, Adalbert English, 744 Romaine St., and Maclaren Logan, RR 5, Peterborough, had previously pleaded guilty to theft of copper coils belonging to the company and had been remanded for sentence.

Evidence presented showed that the two had been employed at a scrap heap in Douro township.

W. J. A. Fair, acting for Logan, told the court that it had been a case where the accused had been "very foolish in winking at things and closing their eyes to what was going on" in connection with the disappearance of the materials.

Provincial Constable Joseph Hanson agreed that "that seems to be about the size of it."

Magistrate Philp, in placing the two on suspension, warned them that "you should know that it's a very serious offence—particularly in this city—to steal scrap electrical goods or metal." He referred to a case several years ago in which heavy jail terms had been given for such offences.

Meets Advisers

State Secretary Marshall of the United States, who returned to Paris this morning, went straight to the American embassy to confer with his leading advisers. The Berlin issue was one of the subjects discussed.

Hector McNeil, British Minister of State, also returned today from London. He will devote himself largely to the discussions on disarmament and atomic energy proceeding now in the political committee, leaving Sir Alexander Cadogan free to deal with the Berlin case in the Security Council.

A high diplomatic source who refused to be identified by name said the leader of the mediation efforts, Foreign Minister Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina, was concerned at evidence of a toughening American attitude. Bramuglia was represented as feeling that this attitude sprang from the plan of President Truman, later dropped, to send Chief Justice Fred Vinson to Moscow to talk peace.

This source said he presumed the Americans had deliberately toughened their position to show Moscow the United States has no intention of "appeasing" the Soviet Union.

Toronto Couple Marooned Overnight

COBOURG, Oct. 12 — Mr. and Mrs. James Gordon of Toronto, who were believed to have drowned during Saturday night's storm, have returned to Toronto after spending a night and a day on a deserted island in Rice Lake.

The couple, rented a boat at Bewdley on Saturday afternoon and were caught in a storm. They took refuge on an island, while search was conducted for them along the shore. Rescue parties were unable to put out in search of them because of the rough water.

On the island, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon found a deserted house, where they built a fire and spent the night. The water was rough again Sunday and they had to wait until almost evening before coming back to the mainland. Except for being hungry, they were none the worse for their adventure.

FAIR RAINED OUT

Fred Slade, president of Roseneath Fair, ran out of luck Friday and into one of the worst days in his experience of years as head of the board. The odds had accumulated heavily against the Roseneath directors. Weeks and weeks of sunshine reduced to even money the probability of rain this week, and the fair insurance people must have done some worrying.

Millbrook Boy Returns Home, Was In Toronto

MILLBROOK, Oct. 12 (Staff). —Bill Thompson came home safely Saturday afternoon. The 16-year-old Millbrook youth, missing since an automobile accident Thursday morning, was walking along the Millbrook Road about 3.30 p.m., close of the spot where the accident had happened when he was re-united with his father, James Thompson, principal of the Millbrook High School.

He explained that his absence was partly because of the dazed condition in which the accident had left him and partly because of fear of the consequences of the accident with his father's car, which he had taken without permission "just for a little ride". He had spent most of his time away from home in Toronto, sleeping at a Salvation Army hostel, going to a show. Saturday morning, he decided to come home.

Except for a fracture of his hand and not serious face cuts, Thompson was not injured after his 54-hour stay away from home.

He was trudging along the Millbrook Road about a half-mile from where the car he was driving collided with that of Lloyd Byam when he was discovered by his father. Mr. Thompson was being driven back from Stirling, where he had gone early Saturday morning to enter the third day of search for his son. The family has relatives in tha town, and it was thought Bill might headed there.

After the accident, the boy explained, "My head felt awfully funny and I didn't know exactly what to do." He admitted with a laugh that "I was pretty scared by what might happen after they saw the wreck the car was in."

He walked through the woods then until he hit the Port Hope Highway to Toronto and hitchhiked his way into the city. He found lodging for the night at the Salvation Army hostel there and had something to eat.

All day Friday, the youth spent in Toronto. He "just walked around the streets and looked at things" and went to a movie. He returned to the hostel for sleeping Friday night.

Saturday morning, he came to his decision to return home when he became aware of the intensive search his father was making for him — and the fact that the father had told newspapers to advise his son not to worry about the results of the collision.

Bill was on his way home when Mr. Thompson at last located him.

Claim Old Parties 'Dominated From Top'

TORONTO, Oct. 12 — (CP).— A resolution criticizing the "undemocratic organization" of both Liberal and Progressive Conservative Parties in Canada was unanimously approved on Monday at the closing session of the Ontario Co - operative Commonwealth Youth Movement convention.

Representatives of the CCYM, the CCF's youth organization, said the two parties were "dominated from the top," especially in the selection of election candidates and convention delegates by party central organizations.

J. Dickson, defeated CCF candidate in North York riding at the last provincial election, was elected president of the Ontario CCYM to succeed Les Fowlie, of York South.

Other officers chosen were: Vice-president, Graeme Ferguson, Galt; secretary, Helen Whitred, Toronto; National Council member, Walter Parker, Toronto; Finance Committee chairman, Norman Chalmers, Toronto; and organizer, Olga Hoare, Toronto.

PARTRIDGE VS. TRAIN

In an argument between a partridge and a train the partridge came off second best. At least that is what Peter Carnegie thought when he was handed the bird off the front of the 5413 Toronto to Montreal at Port Hope Monday. Somewhere between Toronto and Port Hope the unlucky bird met the front of the locomotive head-on, and the impact not only killed it but wedged the body on the engine. It was picked off by the fireman and handed to Mr. Carnegie, as the latter waited for friends at the station. "I didn't eat the partridge, I gave it away," he said. Tsk Tsk, and such a delicacy too.—P.A.

Fire Destroys Rice Lake Cottage

GORE'S LANDING, Oct. 12—(ENS)—Fire destroyed the summer cottage of W. D. Byles, of Toronto, on Friday night. The cottage was situated on Tait's Beach, about three miles west of Gore's Landing. Mrs. Byles came down from Toronto on Friday to open the cottage for the weekend, as her husband was in Montreal. She was accompanied by their small dog.

After starting a fire in the stove, she left the dog in the cottage and motored into Cobourg to meet the Montreal train on which her husband was returning. The train was over an hour late. When they got back to the beach their cottage was a smouldering ruin and the pet dog was lost in the blaze.

Fires 2 Shots, At Friends, Man Arrested

OSHAWA, Oct. 12. (CP)—Irvine Frick was charged Saturday with shooting with intent to maim as a result of a fracas in an Oshawa home. Police say Frick fired two shots at a group of his friends and the heavy calibre rifle jammed on the third shot.

Police said Frick met four Toronto visitors here and went with them to the home of W. J. Burr of Oshawa. The Toronto visitors were identified as Herbert E. Payne, Madeleine Shephard, Earl Burr and Gladys Greene.

Witnesses said all the members of the party drank liquor except Frick who had a glass of ginger ale. Frick suddenly accused the party of stealing $80 from him.

They quoted him as saying that if it were not returned "someone will get killed," police said. Frick left the house.

Payne gave the account of what happened:

Warned To Duck

He said he was standing by the door when he saw Frick returning with a heavy action pump-action rifle. Payne told everyone to duck. Everyone hid except Madeleine Shephard who ran to the telephone. Frick then rammed the gun barrel through a panel in the door and fired one shot at Miss Shephard and missed.

She dived under a table, taking the telephone with her, and shouted to the operator to call police. Payne dived under a second table as a second shot missed his head.

Thinking the weapon was a double-barreled shotgun and that both barrels had been discharged, Payne threw a table at Frick and grabbed the rifle. Frick levered a bullet into the breach but the rifle jammed as he pulled the trigger.

Police said they did not recall ever seeing a rifle of such heavy calibre. One bullet had lodged in a wall, at least 40 feet from where it was discharged, after passing through three intervening walls. Police said they found a 12-gauge shot gun in the back seat of Frick's automobile which was parked nearby.

Mr. White was guest speaker at the evening anniversary service at Westwood United Church on Sunday, and the Roseneath male quartette, W. A. and Ambrose Atkinson, Fred Lewis and Douglas Coyle, assisted with the music.

Rain Cuts Down Holiday Plans

By The Canadian Press

Lights burned on Parliament Hill Monday night while Canada relaxed for the traditional Thanksgiving Day feast.

The lights seemed symbolic of the state of world tension, which most Canadians forgot for a while Monday in revelling in ma's cooking, watching sport contests or engaging in sobering reflections on how favored they were as a nation.

The lights on the hill indicated Acting Prime Minister St. Laurent was preparing for a hurried trip overseas to attend the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' Conference.

Across the country, a Canadian Press survey showed, Canadians indulged in the usual festivities of Thanksgiving. Transportation services were taxed to the utmost at the larger centres, while roads were black with cars. Rain cut down many activities in Ontario and Quebec, but in the West crowds enjoyed clear, sunny weather.

Churches were filled at Ottawa and in some parts of Ontario. Outgoing traffic was heavy. The annual Thanksgiving hunt of the Ottawa Valley Hunt Club saw about 23 scarlet-coated riders participating. Thousands attended football games in various centres despite the rain.

Had Unregistered Gun

PICTON, Oct. 12—Two Toronto men were arrested by police here today and will be charged with having an unregistered revolver in their possession. They are Herman Walker, 24, and Thomas William Philpott, 23. Police said the two had a revolver and an auto license plate in their car when stopped for questioning.

British Payrolls Showing Steady Increase

By STUART UNDERHILL

Despite Government efforts more or less to freeze wage rates, British payrolls are showing a slow but steady increase.

The rise, however, is not fast enough to satisfy the consumer. Despite the general acceptance of the Government's stabilization policy, there is still widespread pressure for further increases.

The only thing likely to ease it would be a downward revision of prices and the trend remains consistently upward.

About 550,000 wage earners shared increases in August amounting to £87,000 ($348,000) a week. Many more were affected by a five-shilling ($1) weekly increase awarded last month to mechanical workers.

The ministry of labor keeps indices showing the trend of wages and prices. At the end of August there had been a wage rise of about three per cent. in average for all workers since the beginning of the year compared with a four-per-cent. rise in retail prices.

There are many complaints, however, that the price index is not a true reflection of rising costs. Clothing costs, for example, have risen 10 to 20 per cent. in recent months.

Dame Anne Loughlin, general secretary of the National Union of Tailors and Garment Workers, says in the October issue of the union's journal that the cost of a man's suit has risen 21½ per cent. since January.

She complains that the Board of Trade lets manufacturers raise the price in order to meet the increased cost of raw materials, "but the worker is expected to restrain himself from asking for wage increases to cover his rising prices as a consumer."

A recent survey of 2,000 middle-class families with an average weekly income of £11 10s. ($46) showed they are feeling the pinch. Most said they are getting by on a week-to-week basis, but are unable to put anything away towards any major expense.

Have Committee To Study Welfare Issues

OTTAWA, Oct. 12.—(CP). — The Canadian Welfare Council has appointed committees to study three "of the most urgent welfare considerations of the day," Miss Bessie Touzel, secretary of the Council, announced today.

The committees will study the needs of old people, unemployment relief in any future depression and training of personnel for public welfare work. They will report their findings to the newly-organized public welfare division of the council at a meeting in Winnipeg Dec. 8-10.

John S. Morgan, professor of the school of social work at the University of Toronto, will be chairman of the committee studying needs of elderly persons. The committee dealing with public assistance will sit under E. W. Griffith, British Columbia's deputy minister of welfare. The third committee, to study personnel, will be led by F. C. Jackson, regional director of family allowances in Toronto.

"The three questions under study have been selected . . . as the most urgent public welfare considerations of the day," Miss Touzel said.

Miss Touzel said that during the 1930's unemployment relief was ruinous for municipal welfare departments. Current prevailing opinion was that in another economic emergency it would have to be financed through major contributions from the Dominion Government.

"At the moment, no plan is ready for sharing relief costs and present provisions are a tangle of confused policies, low standards and limiting residence regulations," she said.

War Brides Get $110 To Aid Mrs. McAllister

LINDSAY, Oct. 12.—In Lindsay these days they're talking about Mrs. Jean McAllister, charged with murdering her husband, and of Jean's mother, to whom letters and money are being mailed. Mrs. Emily McInerney arrived by air from Scotland on September 26 with only five £1 notes in her purse.

Mrs. McInerney has been given shelter at the home of Lindsay civic employee Frank Weldon and each day the mother visits her daughter in Lindsay jaail. She is permitted to speak to daughter Jean for about 20 miutes daily. The jail stands only a block away from Mrs. McInerney's temporary residence.

People in Ontario know the story of Jean and of her mother. Letters arrive at Lindsay post office for the middle-aged mother. Some of them are simply addressed: Mrs. Emily McInerney, Lindsay. A week ago Saturday, the war-brides' association of Lindsay held a rummage sale and raised about $110 on behalf of Mrs. McInerney. About $105 has been received by mail.

Col. William Bunton of the Salvation Army in Toronto, at whose residence Mrs. McInerney stayed on her arrival in Canada, said the Army would arrange the woman's passage back to her native Scotland.

Peterborough's Students Were Not At Fault

We concur most heartily in the severe criticism which the Toronto Globe and Mail directs at the rowdy students who interrupted performances of Shakespearean plays in that city last week; the criticism of which we speak appears in an editorial of Saturday's edition. We must disagree, however, with the suggestion made in the final paragraph that boys and girls from schools outside Toronto were partly responsible for this disgraceful behaviour. At the Wednesday night performance of Macbeth (at which we understand that the rowdyism was at its worst) the only out-of-town school to be represented was the P.C.V.S., and the Peterborough boys and girls were not at fault; they were, indeed, powerfully annoyed by the disturbance, and with cause; they had invested over $400 of their own money in tickets and fares to Toronto, and they were cheated of the pleasure which they had fairly purchased.

• • •

We have it on the authority of a Peterborough teacher who was present that not more than a dozen hoodlums were causing the trouble which ruined the first half of the play. It seems a pity that there were no Toronto teachers, no Toronto policemen, nor even a few muscular Toronto ushers to meet the situation.

• • •

There are in most high schools a few orang-outangs who should not be in an institution of learning in any case, but who are compelled by our laws relating to compulsory education to haunt the high schools until they are old enough to graduate to more congenial work as corner-boys, small-time gangsters and beverage-room loafers. Understandably they do not care for the plays of Shakespeare; they are the ones who whistle at Lady Macbeth, and who greet the spectacle of Ophelia's madness with rapturous guffaws. What takes them to such plays is a mystery; we are sure that they do not pay for their tickets. But our Peterborough boys and girls who had paid for their tickets, and who had made the journey to Toronto because they wanted to see a good play well performed, were cheated by these oafs, and they have just cause for grievance.

• • •

The Toronto Board of Education, we understand, has washed its hands of the matter. We suggest that the Toronto Board of Education, which takes itself seriously (not to say ponderously) when discussions of that ill-defined creature "the 'teen-ager" are afoot, should go deeper into this matter, even if it gets its hands slightly soiled in doing so. We of the provincial cities have followed their theorizing with interest: let us now see how they handle a problem of rank bad manners in their own schools.

Governor Dewey's Speech Helped

An example of the manner in which the United States Presidential campaign may influence the international situation generally was provided last week by an important speech made in Salt Lake City, Utah, by Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Republican candidate for the Presidency. There was little in the speech that had not been said before by Mr. Dewey and some other Republican leaders, but the Salt Lake City speech said it more emphatically and explicitly, and Anglo-American observers in Europe reported an immediate reaction.

• • •

Governor Dewey promised, in words that left no doubt of his meaning, that if he were elected there will be no "paralyzing discontinuity" in American operations abroad. United States foreign policy will carry on along the lines it is following today, and United States participation in international affairs will continue unabated, despite the isolationist element within the Republican Party. It was a promise, incidentally, which indicated that Mr. Dewey is prepared, if elected, to curb or override these isolationists whose tactics during the sessions of the Eightieth Congress did so much to delay the program for European recovery financed by the United States.

• • •

According to reports received from Washington, D.C., this promise produced an immediately noticeable effect in Europe. Lingering fear that the United States might withdraw from the international scene still was felt by the peoples of several European nations. There was also the somewhat similar fear that United States' aid might be sharply reduced if the Republicans won the United States election—a fear fed by the determined attack of Republican isolationists on the European Recovery Program. Governor Dewey's speech has helped dissipate this feeling of apprehension, thus encouraging the Western European nations to continue strengthening their union for collective security.

• • •

It is apparent that the development known as Western Union in Europe is little more than wishful thinking without some assurance that the United States will stand ready to give support. So far, there is no official promise of military assistance from the United States in the event the nations of Western Union are attacked, but there is an implied promise in the presence of United States troops in Europe and in the exploration of possible methods by which the United States might help the Western European nations rearm for defence. Governor Dewey's promise that there will be no change in the policy responsibility for this participation by the United States in promoting the recovery and security of the free nations of Europe was naturally most welcome news to their peoples.

An Outdoor Swimming Pool

The offer of the Lions Club of Peterborough to build an outdoor swimming bath and wading pool is generous and timely. Peterborough has much open water within its limits and in the environs. It would seem therefore that an artificial pool is unnecessary if our waterways are cleaned up and the sewage disposal system made adequate. That is not so. The best swimming areas are outside the city—too far for a child's daily dip. Many of the channels in the city have treacherous currents—as for instance the Otonabee at Inverlea and at the C.P.R. bridge. The water in some of the likely spots for swimming is stagnant. The canal has become a popular resort of swimmers, but many parents are quite rightly worried about their children bathing in it. The banks are not easy to climb and there are no shallow points.

An artificial pool in Riverside Park would be a boon to the community. It would be safe, clean and accessible. If it were supplemented by a wading pool, even the little children would benefit. We have long admired the outdoor pools in Dutch cities, which, like Peterborough, are well provided with waterways and yet have these swimming baths. They are tidy, fresh and pretty and in continual use all summer. Such pools are so popular in Holland that every social or athletic club of importance has its private bath.

The Lions Club is to be thanked for the offer. We hope it is accepted and that by next June our children will have a fine new pool.

Puzzle For Bureaucrats

The British national health plan, so admirable in conception and so difficult in execution, keeps on providing us with problems which (because we do not have to solve them) are highly amusing. Consider this report from the London Daily Telegraph:

"A North Country dentist, suffering from toothache, pulled two of his own teeth and applied to the Dental Board for payment under the National Health Scheme for professional services. Payment is being delayed while the Dental Board headquarters at Eastbourne discuss the position.

Gentle reader, how would you decide such a case? Because the teeth were in his own mouth, is the dentist to be deprived of the fee to which his skill entitles him? If so, it follows that he should treat his immediate family for nothing; but we believe that dentists, like physicians, do not attend to their own families; they send them to a colleague, who does the work as a professional courtesy. Why this dentist did not ask a fellow-dentist to pull his teeth we do not know. Certainly his nonconformism has created a puzzle for the Eastbourne bureaucrats.

"Of Cabbages And Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

JAMES Dent in his autobiography The House Of Dent tells a story on himself concerning one of the most embarassing moments of his career:

"I was invited by Joseph Pennell, the artist, to lunch with his wife and himself in their jolly chambers in Buckingham Street, Strand, an invitation I was only too glad to accept, for Pennell was a character, and a virile critic of black-and-white drawing, in which I was naturally interested. When I arrived I found they had another guest whose name I did not catch—a somewhat untidily-dressed old man of rugged appearance and somewhat unkempt. The conversation became very interesting, and was principally on Gothic architecture and art generally, and piqued by Pennell's somewhat exaggerated and dogmatic criticisms, I launched out freely with expression of my opinions—which at that time, at any rate, were crude—about Gothic buildings, and pictures, and indeed on art generally. Well, the old gentleman nodded approval frequently, and now and then in a funny sort of way tempted me on, and no doubt I said many foolish things. Then the guest rose to go and Pennell saw him out. When he returned his only observation to me was, 'You d——d fool, do you know whom you have been talking to? Don't you know it was Whistler?' I certainly came out in a sweat, and I tried hard to remember whether in any of my remarks I had criticized Whistler's own work."

AN absent-minded professor's idea of reviewing the opening performance of a play for a newspaper is described by Neville Cardus in his Autobiography. The play was "A Doll's House" which was being performed at the Theatre Royal by a company directed by Leigh Lovell, a forgotten pioneer of Ibsen in England, and the professor, chosen by the famous Manchester Guardian, to write the notice of the opening night, was a lean don of literature, who looked the part, a skin like parchment, a ghostly beard and small powerful lenses in his spectacles—Dr. Herford, a great authority on Ibsen and his translator.

Mr. Cardus doesn't say, but one can imagine how impatiently audience and actors alike must have awaited the expert verdict of this new interpretation of Ibsen's controversial masterpiece in the morning paper. Many hours after the curtain fell, the professor must have written the closing paragraph of his notice, more than two columns, nearly 2,500 words of scholarly prose, all about Ibsen too, not a word from beginning to end concerning the performance or performers. Called at his home, editors had great difficulty in explaining the importance of the omission to the professor who muttered vaguely "Oh—ah—yes, I see: the performance? Very capable, and up to a point—ah—er—very—ah—interesting."

THERE was more than one absent-minded professor at Manchester University at this time, according to Mr. Cardus. "On the staff was also Professor Samuel Alexander, greatest of contemporary metaphysicians, a figure out of the Old Testament, a mere genial Moses, with savour of wit in his wisdom, so absent-minded that he once went upstairs at a friend's house to dress for dinner; he had come straight from a lecture late in the evening and brought his clothes and black tie in a suitcase; he was shown to his room, where a fire warmed the winter damp and cold, and after divesting himself of his everyday garb, he got into bed, as a consequence of long habit, and was found there sleeping peacefully hours later. One of the few enlightened deeds done for culture by a British Government in recent years was the awarding of the O.M. to Alexander."

"TODAY the fear of cops seems to have departed teetotally from American boys, at least on the level of the bourgeosie," says H. L. Mencken in Happy Days. It was not thus in his childhood, so it is always a source of wonder to him to see an innocent of eight or nine go up to one boldly and speak to him as if he were anyone else, instead of running in the opposite direction crying "Cheese it, the cops." In those days the "law" was an ever-present but necessary evil...."but what really shook us was the appearance in the next block to Hollins street of a boy who actually had a policeman for a father. It seemed wholly fantastic, but the evidence could not be gainsaid, for the boy admitted it himself, and we used to see his father coming home of an evening, exactly like any other father. He was a sergeant when he moved into Hollins street, but was presently promoted to a lieutenancy, and his son was thus known to us as Loot. We all liked him, and in his presence talk about the iniquity of cops had to be avoided. Gradually it fell off even when he wasn't present, and especially it fell off after he had invited us to his house to see his new steam-engine, and his father, in mufti, came down to the cellar and undertook to show us how to work it. He failed completely, as fathers always failed, and we began to realize that he was a human being almost like any other, at least when not in uniform. When the family moved away there was some recrudescences of cop-hating, but all the old steam was out of it."

JUST to show the way things were heading, Mencken recalled that some time ago a school for Boy Scouts with cops as teachers had actually been organized in Baltimore. It did a big trade till the cops themselves revolted — they had to draw the line somewhere. "What happened was that those told off to instruct the Scouts in the rules of traffic, first aid, the operation of fire-alarm boxes, etiquette towards the aged and blind, the elements of criminal law and other such branches got so much kidding from their fellows that they were covered with shame, and in the end the police commissioner let out the academy sine die, and restored its faculty to more he-man duties."

PARKING LOT NEEDS ATTENTION

Sir: As the driver of a car of '32 vintage I would like to ask our city fathers a question: Would it be possible to deduct the price of a few dozen loads of crushed stone from our parking metre funds, and deposit same in that "no man's land" we call a parking lot?" When trying to get within shopping distance of the business section, and every parking metre is coining money, the motorist, as a last desperate resort is forced to wend his way to this haven of refuge.

Surely with the metre profits rolling in we could have a decently surfaced parking lot. Let's have some action on this.

Sincerely,
G. THOMSON.

CIVIC HOSPITAL AND THE DEMANDS

Sir: Recently, I had an occasion to call at the County Council rooms to present complaints about rubbish being piled in the lake waters and along the roads of this county. While waiting to see the council about the above facts and others, I heard the Mayor of Peterborough ask the County Council to give a committee an answer in a period of three weeks, on whether the County Council would agree to pay a most staggering sum (millions involved) toward the building of certain parts of the new Civic Hospital. That answer was demanded to be given in three weeks. I was proud to know, that we had a warden of this county, who sat up immediately, and called it staggering, also, that we had one counsellor, who after a lengthy discussion, mentioned, that such should have the publication and vote of the people.

Are the people of this county going to sit idly by and let such an exorbitant, seemingly impossible sum of millions of dollars be forced by taxation on the country people of this county, without the right to vote on such a subject? Hundreds of us, in the county have been fighting for roads suitable for maintaining our present day tourist and farm business, yet, the high officials do as they dictate and use the tax money, as they please, without the consideration of those who earn that money and vote those officials in office to serve the people and not promote affairs as a few dictate. We know we need better hospitalization facilities but there are other methods of securing funds, rather than, by dictatorial methods or higher taxes forced upon the little man in the laborious class. There are Government funds and endowment of funds secured from people, who give such great sums philanthropically.

The Examiner mentioned in an editorial, that 22 per cent. of the patients were from the county, 62 per cent. from the city and leaving 16 per cent. from the outside. According to that the outsider gets the services without paying the tax forced upon our country people some time ago in the form of a promise of $150,000 and that done by the council without a vote of the people but the city of Peterborough gave their taxpayers a chance to vote at that time. Now the Examiner reports the County Councillors were unwilling to discuss anything beyond the $150,000 obligated, by them, previously without a public voting. Every country person should have read and absorbed the facts in that editorial of Sept. 28 for it had much of interest to the country taxpayer.

During such critical world affairs, as, we have at this time, demanding such expenditure and staggering taxational demands, without representation, of the people, by vote, is certainly breaking down democracy in this country, when it does proudly boast of democratic spirit and advantages, privileged by all alike.

Sincerely,
MRS. JOSEPH HAMILTON.
Lakefield.

THANKS FROM VETERANS' HOSPITAL

Sir: On July 31, 1948, the Kingston Veterans' Hospital ceased as a Department of Veterans' Affairs Institution, and from August 1, 1948, was renamed "The Ongwanada Sanatorium", operated by the Eastern Central Counties T.B. Association, which, under the guidance of Doctor Bruce Hopkins, will serve Kingston and the surrounding area and continue to care for the veterans who remain under treatment in the Santorium.

It would be impossible to have this change take place without drawing to the attention of the people of this area the many kindnesses received by the patients and staff in the hospital through the courtesy of numerous organizations throughout the entire district, extending from Lindsay on the one side of Kingston to Brockville on the other.

We would like to take the opportunity of expressing through your columns the very sincere appreciation felt by the patients and the staff of the Kingston Veterans' Hospital for the constant supply of comforts, magazines and other gifts which the patients have received. It would be asking too much to take up your space with this long list of organizations which have not only given gifts during the past years, but have also visited the hospital and the patients.

The kindness and thoughtfulness shown has not only been an inspiration to the employees of the department, but has demonstrated to the veterans themselves, many of whom have long months, and in some cases years, of treatment to face, that they hold a firm place in the hearts of the people of the district and that their services to our country are remembered.

These organizations have assisted materially in the treatment of the veterans in the Kingston Veterans' Hospital, and we would like to express the thanks of the Department of Veterans' Affairs and the district office to all their members through the medium of the press.

C. H. MACNEILL, M.D.,
Supt. of Kingston Veterans' Hospital.
R. W. ABRAHAM,
District Administrator.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Then Jesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon. And, behold, a woman of Canaan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of David; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil. But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away; for she cried after us. But he answered and said, I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me. But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to dogs. And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table.

Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour. And Jesus departed from thence, and came nigh unto the sea of Galilee; and went up into a mountain, and sat down there.

And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them; insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Israel. L. O'Toole Wins Scholarship At High School Commencement

Lawrence O'Toole on Monday night was presented with a $100 scholarship by His Excellency, the Most Reverend Bishop Berry, for highest ranking Grade 13 student at St. Peter's High School entering a university. The presentation took place at the annual commencement exercises for St. Peter's High School held at the St. Joseph's Hospital Auditorium.

Second highest ranking student was Miss Alice Zberanowsky who received a $15 award donated by the Catholic School Board, and the third prize of $10 donated by M. J. Roche went to Gordon Monahan.

Altogether ten Grade 13 students and nine from Grade 12 received diplomas.

Lawrence O'Toole delivered the valedictory address.

"You must not think for a minute that your education is complete," said L. P. McGillen, City Editor of the Examiner and president of the St. Peter's School Alumni.

Addressing himself directly to the pupils he added: "If anyone leads you to believe the world is waiting for you with open arms, they are only half right. Don't get the idea the world owes you a living. It doesn't. All the world owes you a nopportunity to make full use of your talents and abilities."

"What you are worth in the field of trade and commerce today is exactly what you have to offer, and after all, a high school education doesn't give you too many saleable items. True, you have a marvellous foundation, in that you have a good start in education; most of you have fine homes and parents, you are healthy and certainly you are not hard to look at."

After advising the students to let nothing distract them from their goal, Mr. McGillen warned them that most of them begin thinking 10 years too late.

"At 30 they know they have made a mistake, hey realize they were all mixed up in their thinking and their sense of values at 20. . . . Ask yourself: Where will I be, what will I be, 10 years from now," he said. "If you do that, then you have a good start. Be determined that you must never stop learning, because as sure as there is a sky above you, the day you stop learning is the day you start dropping behind."

Turning to the subject of moral responsibility, he said that many people now shirked their responsibilities, even though they were sure of the right thing to do.

"This submission is destroying all our ideals, our confidence and our faith in the ability of right to prevail and to achieve the ends we seek," he said.

Comparison Made

Mr. McGillen compared the journey through life to a drive along the highway at night. "As you drive along the highway at night, your headlights pierce the darkness and show you the road, help you keep on it and out of the ditch and tragedy. Truth and faith are the twin headlights that can guide you through this world along the highway of life. Without them, you will be as helpless as the car driver without lights."

In conclusion, he said: "My strongest admonition to you, as you go out into the world is this: Cherish your faith. Do not become confused in your sense of values, Do not make the fatal mistake of hitching your star to material things. Fight for truth and accept your moral responsibilities."

Mr. McGillen was introduced by the chairman, R. S. Hull, of the Catholic School Board.

As each graduate descended from the platform to receive his diploma from Bishop Berry he was announced by Miss Sheila Donnelly of Grade 12. Pages were Patricia Tompkins of St. Mary's School and Brian Cavanagh of St. Peter's.

Music was provided by the stringed orchestra of St. Cecilia's Convent, accompanied by Mrs. Marion Aman. Mrs. Leo Gegley sang two solos: Ouvre ton Ceur by Bizet and The Sleigh by Kountz.

Lawrence O'Toole in delivering the valedictory address paid tribute to the bishop, priests and sister-teachers as well as to the students' parents for helping them to reach graduation, and for "the sense of true values and cultural heritage that St. Peter's has given us."

Miss Joan Cavanagh delivered the salutory address.

Bishop Berry spoke briefly to the graduating class, and then addressed the gathering stressing the high standards in education being maintained at St. Peter's.

Hearty congrats to the Petes' lacrossers on again winning the OLA senior "B" championship. They knocked off Huntsville Hawks 18-5 here Saturday night to sweep their final series four games to one. Looked convincing in the chore, too, with fast-stepping rushes, neat passing and hard, accurate shooting. Meantime checking the Hawks up closely most of the route. Good goaltending by Hamilton thefied the Creighton crew of half a dozen more counters. Jack Foote was the big sparkplug once more, being in on no less than nine goals. A great player. Horton, Em Creighton and Lou Vitarelli were prominent, too, but the whole team went well.

It's not known for sure if the two-game all-Ontario playoff series between the Petes and Windsor can be arranged—but more on it shortly. The squad had a big victory parade uptown after the joust, behind the smart CGE Pipe Band, and then they and many fans went to the Aragon for a while. If the Windsor series is not played, the local puttied-stick aces can sit back and rest on their laurels after something like 40 games in a heavy season. Nice going, Coach Red, Manager Doug, Bun, Mick, Rowan, Em, Jack, Bob, Chico, Jack, Curly, Lou, Dootch, Terry, Don, Frank and Barney.

Panthers In There

Our Panthers—whom many thought were also-rans after losing their first two ORFU intermediate frays—bounced right back into the playoff picture over the week-end. No surprise to us as we knew they had plenty. They trounced Oakville at home 17-5 on Saturday and beat Oshawa Raiders 8-0 here on the holiday. Scriver, Hodson and Garvey got the major counts in Oakville, with a couple of singles added, to make sure of it. They were due to get going as the Gord Young gang has a powerful line, a smart backfield and plenty of experienced reserves. Despite bad breaks, and that wretched weather Monday was one, they're in there fighting.

* * * * * *

They earned that 8-0 go Monday all the way and should have had another touchdown. Rip VanAllen was over the line but pushed back; and the referee didn't catch it in time. Spike Matthews got loose for a lovely run and try, Scriver kicked a single and Don McGillis scored a safety touch. Poured rain over half the game but the boys were in there ploughing. All the backfielders went good, and Plunkett got of some hefty hoofs, while the line was really solid. Lech, Coughlin and McGillis tackled in deadly style, and Beatty and Curtin charged hard. Fitzgerald also went good, but it's hard to pick 'em all out. The team played okay as a team and that's what counts. They'll be right in there come playoff time.

PCVS Win A Couple

Like the Panthers, the PCI-ers didn't draw too well, owing to the wet weather, as both clubs racked up one-sided wins here Saturday. It was 47-0 for the juniors over Lakefield as they completed 16 of 24 forward pass attempts, five for tries. Griffin threw to Jensen, Evans, Armstrong, Brown and Gandy. Our senior PCVS line was too good for Oshawa as the team won 30-0, with Green outstanding. Thomson got two tries and Graham a pair, these three starring all the way back of a solid front wall. Green drop-kicked most of the converts and had a runback of 70 yards as well as going over for a try. Yeah, the Collegians are rolling right now.

* * * * * *

Well, the world series is over, and folks can now sit back and plan for winter. Summer isn't really over till the major leagues declare a baseball championship and everyone knows this—despite the odd scoff from guys silly enough to think that sports are unimportant. Cleveland beat Boston yesterday to wrap it up in six games, and they deserved it. The Browns battled back on Sunday to force a sixth game in a tilt as wide-open as the Grand Canyon—the only loose tussle of the series—but the Indians made sure of it Monday. Because of the huge crowds in Cleveland, the players should get a record world series bonus for their work.

Return Of The Whip

Coming back home, the big sports' attraction of the week is the pro mat show in the Brock tomorrow night. Whipper Bill Watson headlines the card against rugged John Katan. It'll be good to see the classy Whip in there again as he really shoots the works everytime. No stalling with Watson on hand. A lot of the pro grapplers like to take it easy at times and loaf around till they get a good chance, but the Whipper hustles ever minute and his opponent, of course, has too, also. Ben Sharpe meets Ben Morgan, a huge man, in the semi-final, while Jack Moore and Charlie Green tangle in the prelim. It should be a large night for the many wrestling fans of the city and district.

PCVS Gridders Take Two In Easy Style

By FRED MAYBEE

PCVS football teams took both ends of a twin bill Saturday at the Oval as Alex Loudry's junior squad defeated Lakefield 47-0 in the opener and Bev. Goulding's seniors trimmed Oshawa 30-0 in the night-cap. Threatening skies shadowed the first contest while a steady drizzle fell in the first half of the afterpiece, making ball handling difficult.

Featuring play in the junior game were 16 completed forward passes in 24 attempts, five resulting in major scores. Peterborough scored in the first as Young tossed to Braund who carried to Lakefield 20 where Brown and Armstrong plunged thrice with the former scoring from 10 yards out. A pass, Young to Braund, converted. Evans ran 42 yards to score after taking Griffin's pass in the second quarter and the latter tossed to Armstrong for the extra point. Evans again romped 40 yards to score on a pass from Griffin who also tossed to Jensen to convert. The latter took a 35-yard Griffin pass on the Lakefield 25 and ran over for five more which Armstrong converted with a plunge. Gandy carried around right end at the 12-minute mark from 20 yards out and Young converted to Braund.

A short pass, Griffin to Jensen in the fourth was good as the latter scored from the 15 yard line and Armstrong converted to Braund with a neat pass. Evans clicked again as he intercepted a forward and ran 30 yards. PCVS failed to convert. Griffin ended the route as he intercepted a forward on his own 45 and took it all the way. Armstrong plunged the extra point.

PCVS Juniors—Flying wing, Gandy; halves, Brown, Braund, Armstrong; quarter, Young; snap, Finn; insides, Foster, Cruickshanks; middle, Fowler, White; outsides, Heard, Jensen; alternates, Howe, Frise, Wood, Grant, Jopling, Burns, Knox, Evans, Griffin, Langhorne.

Referee, Wood; umpire, Wasson; linesman, Duncan.

A Big Edge

Collegiate seniors showed marked superiority over Oshawa to roll up a neat 30-0 triumph.

Blair, Thomson and Wally Graham led PCVS scorers with two touchdowns apiece while Johnny Green scored one and converted all with a neat drop-kicking display. Green carried over in the first quarter shortly after Northcott fell on an Oshawa fumble, deep in rival territory. Late in the fourth as Oshawa kicked well behind PCVS line for a possible single, Green ran the ball back 75 yards to Oshawa's 45 for the finest run of the game.

PCVS made it 12-0 in the second quarter as Thompson plunged over after a successful series of runs and plunges by Sergeant, Green and himself for a total gain of 55 yards to the Oshawa two. Superior line play held the visitors at bay though they fought back hard against a stonewall defence. Northcott, Green and Graham led their mates in the second half to score a third try after Thompson was injured following the kick-off. Northcott intercepted a forward on Oshawa's 45, PCVS took a 10-yard holding penalty, gained 10 on a nice lateral passing play, another 15 on an Oshawa roughing penalty and Graham spend around left end at the 12-minute mark.

Two more touchdowns in the final quarter completed the scoring as Graham again carried through from Oshawa 15 for the first, following a nice catch and run by Northcott on a pass from Green while Thomson took three fine plunges from Oshawa's 45 after Green's long run from behind his own line to that point and carried over on the third attempt for the final scoring play of the game with Green's convert.

PCVS—Flying wing, Northcott; halves, Graham, Thompson, Coon; quarter, Green; snap, Killingbeck; insides, Hempstead, Buck; middles, Beavis; Lowes; outsides, Swanston, Grainger; alternates, Wright, Lowe, English, Welsh, Fitzpatrick, Hamblin, Woodcock, Payne, Robinson, Ward, Sergeant.

Panthers In Second Place After Victory Over Oshawa

Halting the Red Raiders of Oshawa 8-0 here yesterday, the Panthers clawed their way back up into a second-place tie with the Motor City huskies in their ORFU intermediate group standing. After two losses in as many starts, Gord Young's gang got in there fighting to take two important victories over the week-end, winning in Oakville and against Oshawa here. Orillia leads the group and Oakville is in list spot.

Wretched weather held down the crowd, but there was a fair attendance at that, despite a heavy downpour most of the first half at the Oval. The ground was slippery and getting muddier as the game progressed, and the ball, of course, too wet for much open play. It was a cosy contest of straight football, only Oshawa trying a few forward flips. The linemen mixed it up roughly the first half, and Burns and Zakerow were gated for the game in the second heat for fighting. It was not so rough after that.

Mayor Kicks Off.

Mayor Ovens kicked off to open it in the rain, and play was tight all through a scoreless first quarter. They kicked frequently and went in for bucks, with neither side having much margin. Scriver put the Panthers one up early in the second after he made a nice plunge, kicking a single. A bit later, Spike Mathews skirted right end and raced 45 yards for a beautiful touchdown, not converted. He later pulled off another run for nearly 30 and Hudson bucked for yards. VanAllen was almost over the line, but knocked back and they lost on downs. Early in the third, McGillis threw back Sackel over the line for a safety touch to end the scoring. Fumbles and penalties were prominent, and Oshawa played well in Petes' area most of the fourth, but Panthers drove at the end.

The local line was good, Coughlin, Lech and McGillis tackling well, and Curtin and Beatty charging and blocking strongly. The whole team clicked good in this game, and gave their hustling backfielders lots of support. Matthews stood out all the way.

The teams:

Oshawa — Flying wing, Fairhart; halves, Sackel, Taylor, Gilbert; quarter, Dobson; snap, Keneski; insides, Filigrew, March; middles, Lawson, Wilson; outsides Siblock, Brooks; alternates, Andrenovich, Walker, Buckley, O'Brien, Murphy, Brodie, Zakerow, Paranko, Greene, Rorabeck, Morey, Blake.

Panthers—Flying wing, Trimm; halves, Plunkett, Matthews, Jim Conlin; quarter, Garvey; snap, Ouimet; insides, Coughlin, Curtin; middles, Lech, Beatty; outsides, Davidson, McGillis; alternates, John Conlin, Middleton, Scriver, Hodson, R. VanAllen, Delaney, Fitzgerald, Farr, Douglas, Fraser, Burns, Berardi.

Rangers Get Kaleta In Trade With Hawks

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—(CP).—New York Rangers have a new wing man, acquired in a deal probably forged under the pressure of their loss of four National Hockey League star players in an automobile accident.

Alex Kaleta, 28-year-old Canmore, Alta., product who can play either right or left wing, comes to the Rangers along with goaltender Emile (The Cat) Francis from Chicago Black Hawks.

In return for the straight trade, Black Hawks gained goaltender Jim (Sugar) Henry.

The 22-year-old Francis, who played the full season last year for Chicago, will be sent to New Haven Ramblers of the American Hockey League, a Rangers farm club.

Indifferent Entries

NEWMARKET, Suffolk, Eng., Oct. 12. — (CP).— Between 30 and 35 starters, the biggest field since 1939, will line up at 2.45 p.m. BST Wednesday for this year's renewal of the Cesarewitch Handicap, the first half of the "autumn double."

Adanacs Trip Tigers

TORONTO, Oct. 12.—(CP).—A fighting last-period rally gave New Westminster Adanacs a 1-0 advantage in their battle to retain the Mann Cup and the Canadian senior lacrosse championship. They came roaring from behind Monday night to beat Hamilton Tigers 11-6 in the opener of the best-of-five final series after trailing the eastern champions through two periods of fast, scrappy action.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

National Hockey League directors, meeting at Montreal 24 years ago today, admitted Boston Bruins, first United States entry, and Montreal Maroons into its ranks. At the time, Toronto, Ottawa, Hamilton, and Montreal Canadiens made up the circuit. Today only two teams—Toronto and Canadiens—are Canadian.

TO MEET THE WHIPPER—John Katan, pictured above, who will meet Whipper Billy Watson in the main bout of Wednesday's mat card at the Brock Arena. In the semi-final Big Ben Morgan, a towering colossus from Tennessee tangles with dashing Ben Sharpe of Hamilton. In the third bout Jack Moore has been signed to test Charlie Green the English champion who will be making his first appearance in Canada. Green is something of an unknown in North America having just won the British title recently. Whipper Billy Watson is under no delusion that he has an easy match when he meets Katan. The 245-pound Ukrainian is a mat veteran but he knows all the answers of the grappling sport.

Petes Capture Senior 'B' Title For Second Year In A Row, Beating Huntsville Hawks, 18-5

Saturday night at Miller Bowl, the Petes repeated their feat of 1947 by capturing the OLA Senior "B" championship, beating Huntsville Hawks 18-5 to win the series four games to one. Cold, wet weather kept down the crowd, but those present saw the Creighton crew roll to an easy victory in a fast, clean contest.

They had a 6-1 margin in the first quarter, made it 8-2 at half-time, and led 14-2 going into the fourth heat. They played championship lacrosse all the way, and only the 2-1 second quarter was close. The losers battled hard all through in this tussle. The Petes passed well, shot effectively and kept the Hawks in check nearly all through. The visitors spurted a bit in the last chukker but they were trailing hopelessly then.

Red in Goal

Coach Red Creighton took a turn in goal in the fourth and he also assisted on a goal. Bun Hill went good, behind a solid defence. Up front, Jack Foote sparked the attack with a fine performance, being in on nine goals. Lou Vitarelli, Ron Horton and Em Creighton also looked good, being in on four each, with Bog Breakspear in on three, and Magee, D. Vitarelli, J. Breakspear, Gordon and Chute in on a pair each. Hamilton, Higgs, Scriver and Snowden were probably the pick of Bucko McDonald's bunch.

The CGE Pipe Band played before and after the game, in the parade, and at the halftime intermission, to earn rounds of applause. There was a poisy parade uptown and back to Miller Bowl after the game, and then the players, officials and many fans adjourned to Club Aragon for a victory celebration. The teams:

Huntsville — Goal, Hamilton, defence, Snowden and R. Gordon; centre, Kaye; wings, Payne and Kropek; rover, Watt; alternates, V. Higgs, Chabrian, Jennings, W. McDonald, Scriver, Bond and Millest.

Petes — Goal, Hill; defence, Magee and Chute; centre, E. Creighton; wings, Foote and R. Breakspear; rover, Horton; alternates, J. Breakspear, Warren, L. Vitarelli, D. Vitarelli, Gordon, Smith, Connelly and R. Creighton.

Wildcats Force Argonauts To Tie In Second Game

(By The Canadian Press)

Though the Thanksgiving spirit wasn't general, there was a good portion of it spread among the football warriors today. Some gave thanks for hard-won victories. Others were just as happy they escaped with their lives on greasy gridirons.

In the East's Big Four, the Dominion champion Toronto Argonauts enhanced their playoff hopes by taking three of a possible four points from the last-place Hamilton Wildcats. The Argos fought to a 9-7 victory in Toronto Saturday but were forced to concede the desperately-fighting Wildcats an 8-8 draw in the return clash.

Ottawa Rough Riders kept three points ahead of the Argos in first place by whipping Montreal Alouettes 17-7 at Ottawa Saturday. Their scheduled return clash was postponed to Oct. 24, leaving Alouettes three points behind Argos and with a game in hand in their fight for the league's second and last playoff position.

Hamilton Tigers virtually assured themselves of first place in the Ontario Rugby Football Union by defeating Toronto Beaches Indians twice—18-10 and 14-5. The double loss left the Combines three points behind Sarnia Imperials, who tied the last-place Windsor Rockets 5-5 and trounced them 32-11.

The opening of the east's Intercollegiate circuit saw Bob Masterson join the Murdered-by-Metras fraternity. His University of Toronto Blues were walloped by University of Western Mustangs, the team that Johnny Metras has coached to the title every year since 1945 without defeat.

Minor Upset

McGill Redmen sprang a minor upset in the other Intercollegiate League game when they trimmed Queen's University, 20-12, at Kingston.

It was a tough one for the Beaches to lose. A third-quarter 74-yard touchdown dash by Doug Pyzer shot them into a 5-1 lead after Doug Smith's first-half single. Tigers fought back with touchdowns by Jack Harper and Danny Difrancisco, both converted, along with another Smith single.

In their game Saturday at Hamilton, the Tigers took this one easier, racking up converted touchdowns by Jones, Boris Tipoff and Gerry Walsh against Beaches Indians total of a conceded touchdown by Ron Smith, ing, three singles by Bill Douglas and another by Tommy Ford.

The Wildcats were within one yard of a victory over the crippled Argos at Hamilton. With the champions leading 8-7 in the final quarter, they marched 84 yards to the Argo one, where the drive foundered. A few minutes later, Billy Murmylyk scored a single on an attempted field goal to earn a tie.

The Wildcats built their total on another single by Murmylyk and Gord Miller's touchdown, converted by Murmylyk. Byron Karry's put Argos ahead with a first-quarter touchdown while Joe Krol punted the other three points on singles.

Krol aggravated his knee injury early in the first week-end meeting with Wildcats. The Argos 140 - pound quarterback, Fred Doty, was put out of action in the second quarter of this game, suffering a concussion when tackled hard.

Bearden Is Undisputed Hero As Indians Take '48 Series

By JACK HAND

BOSTON, Oct. 12—(AP).—Gene Bearden, a carefree rookie pitcher, with ice water in his veins, is the undisputed hero of Cleveland's first world series triumph since 1920. "We owe it all to Bearden," said Manager Lou Boudreau after Monday's tingling 4-3 victory over Boston Braves. "Give him all the credit. That goes back to the playoff game, too."

What else could the boss say? The handsome southpaw, conqueror of Boston Red Sox in the pennant playoff game, had just sauntered in from the bullpen to save the series finale.

Bob Lemon was rocking and reeling from the fury of the attack of the Boston hitters, who awoke from a four-game slumber to rout Bobby Feller Sunday afternoon. Now they were back in their own lot, hungry for a heavy slice of the money from record crowds.

Then Came Bearden

Cleveland's lead measured three runs. The Braves had the bases full with one away in the last of the eight. Then came Bearden.

Pinch-hitter Clint Conaster, the first man he faced, sent Thurman Tucker to deep centre with a fly ball. When Tommy Homes tagged up and raced home, the lead had been sliced to 4-2.

Manager Billy Southworth brought in Phil Masi to hit for Bill Salkeld aginst the left-handed pitcher and Masi hit the boards high on the left field wall for a double that scored Torgeson. Now it was 4-3.

The Braves, seeking to even the series at three games apiece, were coming back. With men on second and third and two out, one more hit could knock in the runs that would send the series into a seventh game.

Coolly surveying the situation, Bearden went to work on Mike McCormick, one of the Braves' more dependable hitters in the series. He came in with his knuckler on the first pitch and McCormick bounced it right back to the box for the vital third out.

Still he wasn't out of the woods. The eighth was over but the Braves were aroused. Reliefer Warren Spahn blazed the ball past three Indian batters, striking out the side, and the Boston club hustled in for another crack at that big winners' pool of $230,249 — some $76,000 more than the losers'.

Heat On

Eddie Stanky, the best best-on-balls wrangler in the majors, led off the ninth. Bearden got him down to 3-2 and then lost him. The tying run was on first and the heat was on.

Southworth sent Sibby Sisti up to bunt and replaced the hobbled Stanky with fleet Connie Ryan. With the top of the order coming up next, the idea was to get the runner to second.

Sisti bunted one foul. Then he took a ball. The next pitch he bunted again and the ball popped into the air about 10 feet high in front of the plate. Catcher Jim Hegan made the catch and fired to first base for an easy double play. That did it, as Holmes ended the game and series by flying out.

Joe Gordon, held to three hits in the first five games, helped the Tribe to its early lead with a home-run blast off Bill Voiselle that broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth. They scored twice in that inning and again in the eighth but Lemon could not hold it.

The Bearden of the final game, carried to the club house on the shoulders of his mates, was not as sharp as the Bearden of last Friday who shut out the Braves 2-0 on five skimpy hits.

It wasn't the Bearden of the playoff game when he turned back Ted Williams and the Red Sox with five hits. But it was Bearden at his best—in a tough spot.

Not Bothered

A mere ball game can't bother a 28-year-old war vet who spent two years in hospitals after the Japanese torpedoed the U.S.S. Helena. He still carries aluminum plates in his head and left knee as mementoes of those unhappy days.

Lemon wac credited with two series victories, the second and Bearden's assistance. Steve Gromek came up with one and Bearden added the other. Bobby Feller failed twice.

The Braves played poorly afield, but in the final analysis it was the failure of the Boston hitters in the first four games that gave the championship to the Indians.

Larry Doby, fleet negro outfielder, led the new champs at bat with a .318 average. He had to yield series honors to the Braves Earl Torgeson with his .389 mark. The only other regulars to make the .300 class were Bob Elliott of the Braves with .333 and Eddie Robinson of the Indians with .300.

Lindsay Gets Grid Win From Saints

Lindsay juniors walloped St. Peter's 27-0 in Lindsay on Saturday in a scheduled rugby tilt. DeBois had a try and three singles in the first quarter, with Burns adding a major. A single by DeBois was the only count in the second but they added eight points in the third on a try by Georgas, a safety touch by the same player and a convert by DeBois. The latter got another major tally in the fourth.

The Lindsay line outplayed St. Peter's and the winners reeled off hefty gains around end and using reverses and cutbacks. They were also good tackling and blocking, while the Saints had an off day. DeBois shone all through, with Georgas, Fitzell and Burns doing good, too. Monahan played a fine game in a losing cause, running back kicks for big gains. Picard and Crowley plunged well, and Fitzpatrick and Heffernan worked hard. The teams:

St. Peter's: Flying wing, G. Crowley halves, O'Neill, Picard, C. Crowley; quarter, Monahan; snap, DelaPlante; insides, Heffernan, Ferren; middles, Wolff, Brioux; outsides, Cavanaugh, Fitzpatrick; alternates, Ryan, Armstrong, Richardson, Hickson, Morrissey, Fitzgerald.

Lindsay: Flying wing, Maidens; halves, Georgas, DeBois, Fitzell; quarter, Burns; snap, Bellamy; inides, Magee, Wilkinson; middles, Pennock, Dawson; outsides, MacLean, Richardson; alternates, Logan, Poshay, Graham, Ward, Balfour, Taylor.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

Lob Lacourse, a member of Canada's Olympic cycling team, Sunday captured the 100-mile Dominion championship bicycle race between Montreal and Ste. Agathe, Que. Miss Maragret Wilson of Bournemouth, England, the only woman competitor, made a good showing despite a mechanical breakdown shortly after the gruelling race started. She finished ninth in a field of 25. Laurent Tessier, another Olympic rider, placed second, and Ed Gregoire came third. Lacourse set a record for distance, chopping off more than 11 minutes of the former mark of 5 hours 3 minutes.

Detroit Red Wings of the NHL turned on the power in the final period of an exhibition game with Cleveland Barons Sunday at Akron, O., with a six-goal assault, and won 9-4. It was the fourth straight exhibition contest the Red Wings took from the American Hockey League club.

Rene Cyr of Montreal and Cesare Morette of Italy won the Buffalo, NY, 12th annual international six-day bike race Monday night. GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a lot of little things

YOU CAN SAVE ELECTRICITY

The tremendous post-war growth of Ontario's industries has resulted in unprecedented demands for hydro-electric power. To keep these industries producing, every one of us must cut down our use of electricity. You can save power by turning off all lights in rooms not in use . . . by switching off electric stoves and other appliances as soon as you are finished with them. Use electrically heated water sparingly . . . do not use electric heaters or grates. Save all the electricity you can . . . in your home, your office, your shop . . . and prove your "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Montreal Royals Nail Crown For Second Time

MONTREAL, Oct. 12.—(CP).—Montreal Royals nailed down the Little World series championship for the second time in three years here Monday, besting St. Paul Saints 7-2 to take the best-of-seven minor league classic 4-1 in games.

Lanky Pat McGlothin, who beat the International League pennant-winning Royals 4-0 in the series opener, took the mound to try a repeat performance for the American Association champions, but didn't have his usual stuff. He was knocked out in the sixth inning when Royals rallied for five runs to clinch the verdict.

It was also the second L.W.S. triumph for manager Clay Hopper of Montreal, who piloted the Royals when they beat Louisville Colonels in 1946.

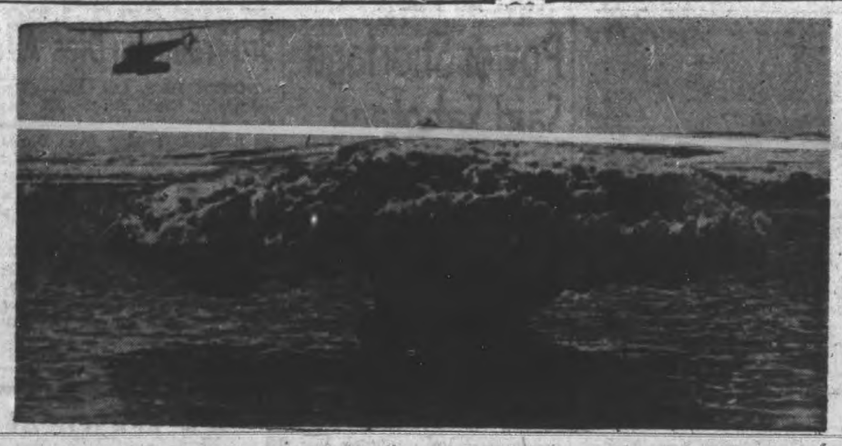
A crowd of 11,500 rain-drenched fans braved wet, dreary weather to watch the Apostles vault into a 2-0 lead with single runs in the second and fifth innings. But Royals got to McGlothin for a single tally in the bottom of the fifth and sent the tall righthander to the showers in the sixth with a five-run outburst. They added another in the eighth for good measure.

Second Victory

Jack Banta, who started for the Royals, was credited with his second victory of the series. He combined with reliefer Frank Laga to allow the Saints only three hits.

With Montreal trailing 2-1 at the time, Hopper sent in veteran Oscar Grimes to swing for Banta in the sixth inning with the bases loaded and the veteran infielder obliged by clearing the sacks with a triple.

Grimes slashed a line drive that centrefielder Earl Naylor got in front of but the ball took a bad hop and bounded over his head.



STARTLINGLY SIMILAR to the characteristic atomic cloud that follows the explosion of an atomic bomb, this curious ice formation at Dealy Island, Canada, was spotted and photographed by the U.S. coast guard in the recent Arctic expedition which has returned to the United States from far northern waters. Several such formations were noted by the expedition in the Arctic sea. A helicopter is dipping low over this one for a closer look. Incidentally, the expedition brought back records left in the Arctic 40 years ago by Commander Robert E. Peary, greatest of all polar explorers.

Kelley Urges Young Men Enter Civic Government

NORWOOD, Oct. 12.—(ENS).—Many topics were touched upon by the Hon. Russell Kelley, Minister of Health, in his address in Norwood town hall on Sunday afternoon, but all embodied the theme of community spirit and welfare and the well being of Canada.

He said: "We have a wonderful country, we can have a wonderful world. We should be able to sacrifice for it, by all working together. Young men are needed who can stand up and say they are Christians," he said.

It is appalling, he continued, that young men are absent from government, municipal governments and public affairs They should be there to learn about affairs, he pointed out. Everything is left to older men, and when things go wrong, the young men grouse.

Young men are needed in business, men of honesty and integrity. Young men are needed in the field of sport to train younger boys. Today, said the speaker, there is too much money in sport. The churches need young men to take part in church and Sunday school work.

Mr. Kelley touched briefly on the Department of Health. Out of $36,000,000 allotted to the department, $11,000,000 is spent on mental illness and the institutions are crowded.

The Hon. Mr. Kelley wove a thread of humor through his address and concluded with one of Edgar Guest's poems. He was introduced by G. A. Brethen, president of the Norwood Fair Board. A composite choir from the Norwood churches provided the music.

Panthers Beat Oakville In Grid Game

TORONTO, Oct. 12.—(CP).—The hard-hitting Peterborough intermediate won their first game in three starts as they trounced Oakville 17-5 Saturday at Oakville's windswept Victoria Park in an Ontario Rugby Football Union tilt.

Fleet Fred. Garvey scored first for Peterborough, going over the line early in the third quarter. Ron Hodson completed an end-to-end march up the gridiron with a touchdown shortly after.

Speedy half-back Doug Plunkett was Peterborough's big gun. Time and again he led his team mates to within a dangerous scoring position but he failed to click.

Russ Scriver finished off the scoring with six minutes left to play and converted. It was the only convert of the game.

CALVERT 1622 Famous Families FROBISHER 1769

Pioneers in Canada's fur trade, the Frobisher brothers, Benjamin, Joseph and Thomas, came to Canada from Yorkshire in 1769. They penetrated to Churchill in 1774, and later explored the Saskatchewan River, building trading posts at Sturgeon Lake, Frog Portage and Isle à la Crosse. The Frobishers became partners in the North West Company on its formation in 1783. Joseph outlived his brothers and retired to Montreal where he was elected to the Legislative Assembly. His "Diary of my Dinners" is preserved in McGill University Library. Truly a distinguished Canadian family.

Great Families Create Great Nations

CALVERT, head of the famous Calvert Family, distinguished English statesman and Secretary of State to King James I, founded pioneer colonies in Newfoundland and Maryland, early in the 17th Century.

In the New World Calvert's descendants advocated friendly trade relations with the Indians. They also fostered principles of democratic freedom and religious tolerance among their settlers. These Calvert ideals were perpetuated down through the succeeding generations of the Calvert family.

The family is the corner-stone upon which great nations are built. Let each of us strive to promote within the great Canadian family the same concepts of freedom and tolerance pioneered by the Calvert family, over three hundred years ago.

The Calvert family encourage trade with the Indians.

Rev. C. G. Boyd Speaker At Havelock Anniversary

HAVELOCK, Oct. 12 (ENS)—Rev. C. G. Boyd of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Peterborough, was guest speaker at the evening service on the anniversary of Knox church.

He congratulated the congregation for having Rev. R. D. Duncanson as their minister.

Mr. Boyd based his sermon on the text "And the glory of the Lord filled the tabernacle."

"Our thought go back today," he said, "to your forefathers to whom God gave grace and willingness to establish a congregation. It is through their talents, sacrifice and judgment that this church was erected. They knew that a building alone could not constitute a church. They did all human hands could do. Then God took possession and that made it a church. The glory of God rests in the Bible and wherever the word is proclaimed and the sacraments administered, Jesus Christ is there and believers who hear the Word in faith hear the very Voice of God."

"We boast today that we are the reformed church but the true church of Jesus needs constant reforming by the power of the Word. The church is not the place to lounge and enjoy ease but is a place to get our marching orders in order to make it a living institution."

Special music, given by the choir at both services, comprised Thanksgiving anthems, a solo by Fred Bennett and quartette by Misses Beverley Bennett, Shirley Bennett, Elaine Graham and Joan Graham.

Rev. A. Newton Reid of St. Andrew's Church, Colborne, was the guest speaker at the morning service.

The church was attractively decorated with ferns, potted plants, foliage, fruit and vegetables.

Members of St. Paul's Church, Peterborough, present at the evening service were Mrs. C. G. Boyd, Dr. C. M. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bailey.

The history of Presbyterianism in Havelock dates back over 60 years, the first church being built on the Marmora-Norwood road, south-east of the village. The first minister was Rev. James Carmichael whose charge included Norwood. Later this church was sold and services were held over a store operated by the late R. V. Fuller. With the building of the railroad through here the village began to spring up around the station and round house which quickly outgrew the few residences at what is now known as Old Havelock. The need was felt for a church in this new community and the present church was built in 1884. The first minister of the new church was Rev. James McMillan.

Bevan Says Churchill Speech Does Harm

RHYMNEY, Wales, Oct. 12 — (AP)—Health Minister Aneurin Bevan said Sunday Winston Churchill's bitterly anti-Russian speech Saturday "does deadly harm."

"It can be regarded only as a national and international calamity," said the outspoken cabinet member. "He has ventured to make observations about the international situation which might give rise to the gravest possible misunderstanding."

Bevan called Churchill "one of the most reckless speakers in British political history." He said the Russians would read the former prime minister's address "against the background of 1920 because Churchill was the man who attempted to murder the Russian revolution within a few years of its birth."

Power Shortage Said Sabotage

TORONTO, Oct. 12—(CP)—The Ontario CCF convention Saturday blamed Ontario's current power shortage on "sabotage" of the publicly-owned Hydro system.

A resolution passed at the closing sessions of the convention said the province's Progressive Conservative government had condemned the people of Ontario to "many years of hardship and inconvenience through its inept handling of Hydro development."

Government Hydro policy amounted to "sabotage" of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, the resolution said.

Introducing the resolution, David Cass-Beggs, chairman of the party's Hydro-research committee, said the power shortage likely would continue until 1956.

The resolution said the shortage resulted from "political interference with Hydro by this and former governments, lack of planning, subservience to private interests outside the province . . ."

Jackson Fights CCL Ruling On Mine Union

By GEORGE RONALD

TORONTO, Oct. 12 — (CP). — The Canadian Congress of Labor, its mind made up on one big controversial issue, waded today into the first of 234 resolutions which may spark more bitter debate before its five-day convention ends.

At Monday's story opening session, the 775 delegates voted decisively to back executive council's suspension of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, a powerful union said to be Communist-dominated.

That decision came after speeches by John Clark of Chicago, International Smelter president, and Pat Conroy of Ottawa, congress secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Clark, admitting an article in the official smelter paper last July 19 was "erroneous and malicious," offered a "sincere apology" and appealed for reinstatement of his union. Mr. Conroy criticized the apology as insufficient and warned against persons seeking to "take over" unions "for their own particular purposes."

The fiery little Congress official did not mention Communism by name. But he said that the writer of the article, which "slandered" Congress president A. R. Mosher and another CCL official, was a member of the Labor-Progressive (Communist) party who had been responsible for other charges that labor leaders were "selling the rank and file down the river."

Slanderous Article

Mr. Conroy said the article had been "slanderous, vicious and lying." In the three months since its publication, there was no "proper" apology in the form of a retraction in the smelter paper, "The Union." When that was done, the CCL executive would recommend reinstatement.

C. S. Jackson of Toronto, Canadian director of the UEW, another union branded as loaded with Communists, protested as a "gag rule" Mr. Mosher's announcement that there could be no discussion of the appeal. The convention backed up the chairman's ruling.

After Mr. Clark's 35-minute appeal for reinstatement and Mr. Conroy's 15-minute rebuttal, Mr. Mosher asked for a show of hands and ruled the suspension was sustained.

The minority objectors, still led by the vocal UEW contingent, shouted for a roll-call vote. After another hurried show of hands, Mr. Mosher said only "about 10 per cent" wanted a roll-call, whereas one-third had to be in favor before that could be done. He turned briskly to his notes and started his 6,500-word presidential address. That was the last of the smelter issue for the day.

St. Laurent Says Race No Barrier

LITTLE CURRENT, Ont., Oct. 12.—(CP).—Acting Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent said Saturday night he hoped the principle would be established that race and religion were not a barrier to the highest public office in Canada.

When he became prime minister he would be the second Canadian Roman Catholic and of French origin to hold the office, he said. Sir Wilfrid Laurier was the first.

Mr. St. Laurent spoke in a campaign address on behalf of External Affairs Minister L. B. Pearson, seeking election in the Oct. 25 Algoma East by-election.

He said it would become established that "it is not a unique thing for one of my race and religion to be designated as prime minister.

"It will be established that it is not a matter of one's religion or race, that it is solely one's position as a Canadian citizen that determines whether one will be fitted for the highest office in the land."

HANDS AT WORK... for ONTARIO

ONTARIO'S products are desired and purchased by people all over the world and the capacity to produce such goods largely determines the economic welfare of every man, woman and child within her borders. Because the sale of every article produced in Ontario brings valuable dollars into this Province, we all are more assured of job security . . . and we and our children can have more of the better things in life. To produce such goods in sufficient quantities, skilled labour is vital. That is why every single one of us should be glad that war veterans are constantly being trained to provide the skilled hands so needed by Ontario industry. They receive ON THE JOB training under expert instructors in our Ontario factories.

This training, provided through the co-operation of the Department of Veterans' Affairs, the Federal Department of Labour and the Ontario Department of Education, starts veterans on the road to skilled craftsmanship. Taught to use their hands in such jobs as routing, etching, stripping, burnishing and finishing, they will eventually become photo engraving craftsmen. Because of the increasing importance of this trade, every effort of these newly-skilled workers helps to make Ontario a finer place in which to live and contributes to the welfare and happiness of all her citizens.

Many veterans subsequently obtain full time employment in the factories where they receive training.

LAUGHING NEIGHBORS VIGOROUSLY pound discs from farm implements as newlyweds David and Peggy Clarke of Vivian, north of Markham, are brought to the door of their farm home near midnight by the ear-splitting racket that distinguishes a "shivaree." "Sending" with enthusiasm is Keith Hutchinson (middle). Custom has its origin in old French "charivari," at least 800 years old, a name adopted by Punch magazine. At the beginning of the 17th century, charivaris became so disorderly that they were forbidden by the Church Council of Tours. Custom lingered among the peasantry, however, and was carried to Quebec and Louisiana, from whence it spread over North America.

Frank Lynch 43 Drown In Canal

The body of Frank Lynch, 43, a janitor at St. Joseph's Hospital, was found early Monday floating in the Trent canal, just north of the McFarlane Ave. bridge. Coroner Dr. Herbert N. Young described the drowning as accidental.

It was discovered shortly after 6.30 a.m. today as Norman McConkey, a local dairyman and his 17-year-old son, Jack, crossed the bridge to begin their daily milk delivery.

Jack McConkey told his father that he thought he saw a man's head floating in the canal. The milk truck was parked and the two went down to the water's edge to investigate. Jack swam out to the body and brought it to the canal bank, and as soon as Mr. McConkey was satisfied that Mr. Lynch was dead he drove to the police station to report the incident.

The drowned man was last seen alive on Sunday morning, when, after finishing his breakfast, he put on his dress suit and left the hospital grounds.

Cause of the mishap is not known, nor is it known exactly how long he had been in the water. The inhalator crew of the fire department arrived promptly when called, but the inhalator was not used as he had been pronounced dead by the coroner.

When first seen by Jack McConkey, the body, fully clothed, was seen from the north side of the bridge, about 15 feet from the east shore. After removing his shoes and trousers McConkey jumped into the cold water and towed the body in beside the canal bank. It was not taken out of the canal until his father returned from the police station accompanied by PC's Claire McGillen, Denis Traynor and Stewart Fife.

After the coroner had given his verdict the body was removed to the Kaye Funeral Home.

Earlier this year Mr. Lynch had been employed as a bus driver at Mount St. Joseph's Convent, but recently he has worked as janitor at St. Joseph's.

Would your business need to be wound up . . . IF?

Many businesses are wound up because when the owner or owners die there isn't enough ready cash for the family or partners to carry on.

This calamity is caused by lack of adequate Business Insurance. Had the owner or owners purchased Business Insurance the premiums could easily have been paid without financial strain.

If you own a business and don't want to see it sacrificed after you are gone, why not ask us to send a specially trained Confederation Life Representative to discuss the matter with you.

Calf Club Achievement Day Honors Go To Mary Wood

Miss Mary Wood of Otonabee township, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wood, won the first prize at the Peterborough Calf Club achievement day Saturday at the Exhibition Park.

Her aggregate score for all departments of the season's competition for juniors were 938 marks. In second place was Miss Barbara Clark, RR 1, Peterborough, 926 marks, and Marie Kelly, 384 Mark St., third, with 925 marks.

Others of the first ten were: Alan Stewart, Indian River, 916; Allan Bell, Smith, 913; David Stewart, Otonabee, 893; Gwelda Bolton, Peterborough, RR 9, 874; Francis Walsh, Otonabee, 872; Jean Bolton, RR 9, 865; Arthur Dawson, Otonabee, 858.

Complete Program

Twenty-eight of the young people of the townships around the city completed their season's program in the care and feeding of their calves, wrote questions and answers as final test, kept records, and also received marks on the quality of their entries. This work was supervised throughout the summer by Murray McRae as temporary assistant to Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative.

Twenty-eight calves in the ring at Morrow Park afforded striking evidence of the effectiveness of the club work this year. Eighteen of them were Holsteins, there was one Jersey, one Ayrshire and the others were Shorthorns and Hereford in the beef class.

Oliver Dalrymple, Stirling agricultural representative in Hastings county, complimented the large class on the quality of the calves, of which he was the judge, and also on the evidence of diligent and earnest effort that was manifest in the fine and fit appearance.

The Holstein class was judged separately by Mr. Dalrymple. His task was made more difficult by the spread of the ages of the Holstein all born since Jan. 1 last. The first prize animal was shown by Rosemary McConkey.

Marks were given for the various sections of the competition, of which 40 per cent was for the standing of the animals as decided by Mr. Dalrymple.

Girl Wins Again

Only three exhibits were shown in the grain club finals, winners being: Miss Blanche Quinn, Glenn Fowler and Neill Fowler of Smith.

The bushel exhibits of the winter wheat competition brought out only three entries. First prize was taken by Robert Armstrong of Cavan; Harold Tate, Cavan, and H. E. Petrie of Otonabee.

Stuart A. Brown, seed inspector, was judge of the grain.

The Junior essay competition, a deferred detail of the seed grain department of Farmers' Week last spring, was also concluded Saturday.

The winners were: Jimmy Dorris, Otonabee; David Stewart, Otonabee; Donald Kindred, RR 6, Peterborough; Betty McIndoo, Ida; Sheila Jean Petrie, Otonabee; Phyllis Tripp, Douro; Betty Finlay, Douro; Ruth Dewdney, Young's Point.

The members of the Calf Club were taken on a bus tour to O.A.C., Guelph last week, and in all respects are completing one of the most successful programs promoted for the youngsters of the Peterborough district.

One of Peterborough's well-known and popular citizens, William McIntyre (Pete) Lang, of 417 Sheridan St., died on Sunday in Belleville Hospital following a short illness. Greasy Roads Blamed In Most Cases

Driving conditions were treacherous for much of the three days on the holiday week-end and most of the accidents in Peterborough and district were attributed to wet roads. There were no fatalities or serious injuries and the extent of the accidents was believed by police to be extremely light.

Two cars and two trucks received considerable damage in a traffic tangle about four o'clock Saturday afternoon two miles west of the city on Highway 28.

It all started when the truck of W. N. Davis, River Road North, blew a tire. The truck pulled to the side of the road, where it was parked while being repaired. Mrs. Joan Summers, Toronto, in a car, slowed down as she neared the parked truck. Her car was struck from behind by the car of D. Baillie of Toronto. The Baillie car spun in the middle of the highway and went into the north ditch. The Summer's car was knocked forward by the collision, and struck the truck of Ernest Lamb, Fraserville, knocking off the front wheel of the truck. The Summer's car ended on the side of the road.

Provincial Constable Gordon Langton investigated.

Slight damage was done two cars in an accident at Lansdowne St., near George at 7.30 p.m. Saturday. Drivers were Charles Winn of R.R. 1, Pontypool and Neil Paudash, R.R. 2, Keene. PC C. J. O'Donoghue investigated.

John R. Luther, 254 Rogers St., and Clarence S. Biston, 435 Park St., were drivers of cars involved in a collision on Otonabee St. about 9 p.m. Saturday. Fenders, trunk and front seat were damaged on the Luther car and a split radiator, broken grill, dented hood and damaged fenders resulted to the Biston vehicle. PC C. J. McGillen investigated.

An accident at 2 p.m. Monday at Burleigh Falls caused minor damage to two cars. There were no injuries. Drivers were Ernest Brown, Toronto, and Horace Smith of Rolphtown. Provincial Constables Joseph Hanson and Emmett Crough investigated.

There were two accidents on No. 7 Highway Monday afternoon, both investigated by Provincial Constable Archibald Grayling.

The first, about 2:30, happened three miles east of Norwood. There were three cars involved and damage totalled $250. The car of Fraser Oliver, Toronto, went out of control on the wet road, swung around and struck the car of Claude W. Tyrell, also of Toronto. The Tyrell car went across the road and was in collision with the car of Samuel Legras of Dacre, Ont. The Oliver car and the Legras car came to rest against guard rails along the highway. There were no injuries.

One car was involved in the second accident on No. 7, three miles east of Havelock. It was owned by Clifford Down of Roseneath and driven by Gerald McAdam, Frankford. Travelling east, it seemed to go out of control, went to the north side of the road, back on the road, crossed the railway tracks there, left the pavement to go into the four-foot ditch where it travelled for some distance, striking rocks, smashed through a wire fence and came to rest on its top in a field. There were no injuries. Damage to the car is estimated at $500.

Three persons were injured in a two-car crash on No. 7 Highway, a mile east of Fowler's Corners, Monday night about 9.45. One driver, Harry Botnick, 190 Lansdowne St., received minor bruises. A passenger with Botnick, Dr. Ralph Green, 432 George St. received attention for a head cut and the second driver, John Smith of RR 2, Ennismore, required stitches in his head. Provincial constables George Stevens and George Langton investigated. A charge of drunk driving was laid against Smith in court today. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded for a week on $500 bail.

New $13,000 School Being Built At Burleigh To House 40 Pupils—Will Open At Christmas

BURLEIGH FALLS, Oct. 12 —(Staff)—Foundation for the new school located just north of the Buckhorn and Apsley highways has been completed. Work on the super-structure will be rushed so that the walls and roof will be on before the heavy snows come.

The project is being financed by the Ontario Dept. of Education and Walter H. Mortlock, Peterborough has the general contract.

The building will be of frame construction, 25 x 48 with peak roof, and bevel siding exterior. Cost is estimated at $13,000 and the building should be finished by Christmas.

Pupils in the Burleigh section are using a room in Mrs. Brown's store, but this space is required by the owner and thus building of a new school became a necessity. The new building will have accommodation for at least 40 pupils.

Monsignor O'Brien Celebrates 50th Anniversary Of Ordination

Right Reverend Monsignor J. J. O'Brien celebrated today the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood with a high mass in thanksgiving at the Church of the Sacred Heart, of which he has been pastor 35 years.

The warm place which Monsignor O'Brien holds in the respect and affections of his parishioners and of the clergy of Peterborough and of other dioceses was manifested by the large congregation assisting in the jubilee. Half of the body of the church was set aside for the children of the parish, several generations of whom have grown up in his paternal solicitude. Their hymns were a prelude to the mass, which began at 10 o'clock, and they sang again at the closing recessional.

The members of the parish of Our Lady of the Assumption, until a year ago within the limits of the parish of the Sacred Heart, associated themselves in the celebration of Monsignor O'Brien's 50th anniversary.

Papal Blessing

Announcing after the last gospel that he had recently received a special authority from Pope Pius XII for the occasion, Most Reverend Gerald Berry, DD, imparted the papal blessing to Monsignor O'Brien. At the conclusion of the mass, the Te Deum, ancient Catholic hymn of praise and thanks, was sung.

Felicitations were expressed to Monsignor O'Brien in separate addresses and presentations from the clergy and parishioners.

As celebrant of his mass of thanksgiving, Mons. O'Brien was assisted by Rev. J. J. Garvey of Hastings as deacon and Rev. P. P. Butler of St. Peter's Cathedral, as subdeacon. Bishop Berry, occupying a dais seat in the sanctuary, was attended by Rev. V. J. Corkery, chancellor of the diocese, and Rev. J. J. McCarthy of St. Joseph's parish, Douro.

Also in the sanctuary were Rt. Rev. F. J. O'Sullivan, VG, of the Church of the Immaculate Conception; Rt. Rev. W. T. Davis, director of pontifical missionary societies for Canada, Toronto; Rt. Rev. T. J. Crowley, Sault Ste. Marie, whose youth was spent in Peterborough; Rt. Rev. L. J. Byrne, Kingston; Rt. Rev. M. J. Cullinane, Toronto; Rt. Rev. W. A. McCann, Toronto; Rt. Rev. J. J. McGrand, Toronto.

In addition to the Monsignors, there were also the following Deans: Very Rev. E. N. Leacy, Napanee; V. Rev. E. J. McCorkell, CSB, Toronto; V. Rev. D. Ehman, CSSR, Toronto; V. Rev. V. J. McAuley of Lindsay, a former curate of the parish; V. Rev. M. J. O'Leary, Bracebridge; V. Rev. J. B. Ferguson, Warkworth.

The sermon was preached by Rev. C. J. Moloney of Campbellford, another former curate of the parish of the Sacred Heart.

The many visiting priests occupied a large section of the body of the church.

Peterborough Boy

A native of Peterborough, Monsignor O'Brien is a son of Edward O'Brien and his wife, Anne Lynch. He received his primary education at the Catholic school in Murray St., whose building and grounds are now the site of the armouries and the Collegiate Institute and Vocational School. Subsequently he was graduated from St. Michael's College, Toronto, and then went on to the Grand Seminary in Montreal, where he completed his philosophy studies and its course in theology.

Monsignor O'Brien was elevated to the priesthood by Archbishop Bruchesi in St. James' Cathedral, Montreal, December 17, 1899. Returning to Peterborough prior to Christmas of that year, he was appointed early in 1899 to the parish of Sturgeon Falls, which at that time was in the western section of the extensive diocese of Peterborough, the episcopate of Bishop Richard Alphonsus O'Connor. The diocese reached far west to Rainy River and Fort William. Annual parochial visits by Bishop O'Connor imposed on him the ordeal of travel by train and boat and many miles by horse and buggy and canoe.

Increasing population gradually warranted a division of the diocese of Peterborough. Eventually the diocese of Sault Ste. Marie was established with its see at North Bay and its fish bishop a son of Ennismore, Rev. D. J. Scollard, whose consecration to the episcopacy took place at St. Peter's Cathedral in February, 1905.

Mons. O'Brien was called back to Peterborough and St. Peter's in February, 1905, and on April 5 he was transferred to North Bay as assistant to Bishop Scollard, by an interdiocesan arrangement that might be termed a priestly loan to the new diocese. That appointment remained in effect six years, and in October, 1911, Monsignor O'Brien was assigned to Lakefield as parish priest. His last appointment placed him in charge of the parish of the Sacred Heart in Peterborough, succeeding the Rev. Dr. M. J. O'Brien, who became bishop of Peterborough following the death of Most Rev. R. A. O'Connor.

Four years ago Monsignor O'Brien received from Pope Pius his present title, signifying the dignity and rank of Domestic Prelate, an ecclesiastical honor following the recommendation of his long and faithful service by Bishop J. R. MacDonald.

Officer Travels 1,000 Miles Gets Fugitive

Provincial Constable George Stevens travelled nearly 1,000 miles over the week-end to arrest and bring back to Peterborough a man wanted for more than two years. The accused, Thomas Cook of Campbellford, was arrested Friday on a prison farm near Iroquois Falls in Northern Ontario immediately after his release from serving a three months term for theft.

Cook was committed for trial by a higher court at Peterborough in the summer of 1946 on a charge of theft of postage stamps and narcotics from the office of Dr. D. J. Holdcroft at Havelock. He had been released on $2,000 bail and had not been seen since. First word of his location came when he was convicted and sentenced to the northern penal institution.

Drainage Problems Plague Havelock

HAVELOCK, Oct. 12 (ENS).—The problem of drainage in two sections of the village was dealt with at the Town Council meeting, the drain on Ontario Street was discussed at length. Reeve Leeson presented a report prepared by the county engineer which showed that this drain did not have sufficient fall to make it function correctly. The estimated cost of having it dug up and re-laid was given at $1.10 per foot of the same tile was used. If new tile was necessary the rate would be $2 per foot. Arrangements are to be made to have a consultation with the district engineer at Bancroft, the council to procure some new tile in case that some in the drain now may not be fit to re-lay.

Estimated cost of tiling the open ditch running across private properties on the east end of Ottawa Street was given as $1,045, this was for 30-inch tiles, a manhole and a 3-foot covering of earth.

No action was taken in this matter. The town foreman was requested to contact W. Peters to have him clean the ditch across his own property and that of Mrs. Cartwright and W. White. Councillor Curtis was authorized to interview Mrs. Johnson regarding the cleaning of the ditch across her property.

Count of Revision was set for October 15 at 8 p.m.

Say Canada Has Surpassed 1948 Surplus Objective

OTTAWA, Oct. 12 (CP).—Unless government financial operations in September ran counter to expectations, the next report of the Federal Treasury Department will show that the surplus aimed at for the 1948-49 fiscal year has already been surpassed.

In his last budget speech, Finance Minister Abbott said he expected to end the year with a surplus of $489,000,000. But a treasury report covering operations during the first five months of the year showed that only $34,495,000 was needed to reach the objective set by Mr. Abbott.

A report covering the six-month period is scheduled to be released next Saturday by B. G. McIntyre, Comptroller of the Treasury. Pending release of the report, Finance Department officials are not predicting the six-month surplus total.

A Handy Margin

But political observers are predicting that it will surpass the $500,000,000-mark by a handy margin. In the first five months of the year the surplus built up at a rate of $90,903,000 a month for a total of $454,515,000.

Unless September brought—and there is no indication that it did—a drastic drop in revenues and a sharp increase in expenditures, the observers feel it is a safe bet that a record six-month surplus will be established. The surplus for the 1947-48 fiscal year was $670,000,000.

With a third successive surplus in sight, it is being freely predicted in unofficial circles that Mr. Abbott will slash personal income and other taxes in his next budget. But the minister likely will await the year's final outcome before deciding just what tax relief he will provide.

In any event, it is expected he will stick to his policy of budgeting for surpluses in times of plenty and for deficits at times when government expenditures are needed to stimulate employment.

Mines Minister In Quebec Dies Suddenly

MONTREAL, Oct. 12 (CP) — Funeral service will be held at St. Luke's Anglican Church, Waterloo, Que., Thursday for the Hon. Jonathan Robinson, Quebec Minister of Mines, who died suddenly Monday. He was 53.

Mr. Robinson died en route to hospital after being rushed here by plane from a hunting resort in northern Pontiac county, some 200 miles northeast of Montreal. He suffered a haemorrhage.

Mr. Robinson was first elected to the Quebec Legislature in 1936 when Premier Duplessis' Union Nationale party won the election. He was appointed to the cabinet in 1944 and was re-elected in the July 28 provincial elections.

The minister was flown here in an amphibious plane bearing a party of United States hunters from the Northern James Bay district. The plane put down at the Lac Des Loups resort and some of the hunters gave up their seats for Mr. Robinson and a doctor.

The plane was met by an ambulance but Mr. Robinson was dead on arrival at hospital.

Born at Waterloo, he studied at Bishop's College, Lennoxville, Que., at McGill University and was admitted to the bar at Montreal in 1923. He served overseas in the First World War.

He was created a King's Counsel in 1938 and last year, Bishop's honored him with a degree.

He is survived by his widow and two children, Jonathan Jr., 17, and Florence Ann, 14.

Loan Announcement

OTTAWA, Oct. 12 (CP) — An authoritative source said Monday night Canada will make an announcement "within the next few weeks" of the $240,000,000 part of the British Loan frozen last Spring. The amount was frozen when Canada's own dollar position began to deteriorate.

Watching Forests

WINNIPEG, Oct. 12—(CP). — Although satisfied that Manitoba's forest fire situation now is well under control, Provincial forestry officials said Monday night constant vigil is being maintained in the Pine Falls and Interlake sections of the province, where blazes were serious last week. S. W. Scortinghuis, chief forest protection officer, said approximately 500 men still are employed as guards.

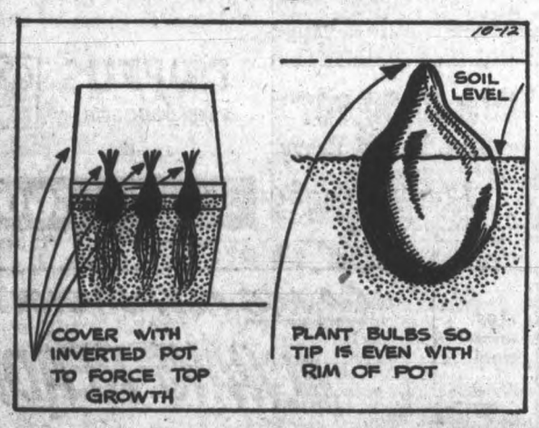
YOUR GARDEN . . .

A, B, C's Of Potting Bulbs



By DEAN HALLIDAY

There are three methods of growing bulbs for winter bloom indoors; forcing in fiber, pebbles or water; forcing in soil with preliminary root growth, and growing in soil in pots.

Bulb pans or shallow flower pots can be used for planting bulbs in soil indoors, but if old flower pots are used be sure to scrub them thoroughly to eliminate possible infection from fungus growth.

Line the bottom of the flower pot with small stones or broken pieces of flower pots and a layer of moss or coarse leafmold to provide proper drainage.

Next add good garden soil in which a little bonemeal has been added. Do not use manure or any quick acting fertilizers.

Plant the bulbs with tips even with the rim of the pot as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

Do not press the bulbs down hard for that packs the soil beneath and makes it hard for the roots to penetrate the soil.

After the bulbs are potted soak the pots well with water and set in a cool-dark place. The bulbs should never be set on a cement floor, for the coldness prevents the roots from growing down.

When the roots have been established the top growth can be forced by covering the pot with an inverted pot, as illustrated.

When growing bulbs indoors in pots they sould be planted in a fairly rich soil. Repotting may be necessary once each year, or only once in two to four years.

Bulbs which can be grown by this method, include those which retain their foliage throughout the year.

PRAGUE, Oct. 12—(AP). — A dispute in the highest councils of the Czechoslovak Communist Party was disclosed Monday night. CAN CANADA BUY MORE BRITISH TEXTILES? This is the question this wool textile mission from the United Kingdom is asking itself just after arriving in Montreal on the first leg of a trans-Canada tour to study conditions in the textile industry. Left to right, the mission includes W. B. G. Carmichael, H. W. Wilson Brooke, F. Haigh, W. Thow Munro, CBE, chairman; D. G. Price, secretary; W. Haigh, James Paterson, United Kingdom Trade Commissioner; and A. H. Bird.

British Fans Enthrall Betty Hutton On Tour

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 11 (AP).—English audiences are more hep, enthusiastic and polite than those in the United States, reports Betty Hutton, just back from knocking 'em dead in the Isles.

The Battle Creek, Mich., blonde bounced into her Paramount dressing room and smacked me with a kiss, which, she blarneyed, she reserved for correspondents in the higher circulation brackets. Recovering, I asked about her three weeks' engagement at the London Palladium.

"It was sensational," she glowed. That audience is the greatest in the world.

"They're getting some of the greatest talent and they appricate it. They know if you're a movie star, you must be good. They're ready to be entertained and if you prove yourself, they'll give you the biggest ovation you ever heard.

"It's not like over here, where you go out in front of an audience that says, 'Okay, so you're a movie star; show us how good you are'."

Polite Fans

Betty lapsed close to delirium over the British fans.

"They queue up for your autograph and ask very politely. They all have beautiful books to sign in, not like some fans here that slip you a stinking scrape of paper of a matchbox to put your signature on."

Betty had nothing but praise for the Palladium. "The room was beautiful, she enthused. "I had two maids and all I had to do was ring and they'd bring tea, coffee, liquor — anything."

Movie Memos

Ronald Coleman says he is thinking about doing a movie, but won't say which. He will talk about television, though, which he says is "terrifying to an actor" . . . Frank Morgan is looking for a sponsor for an air show based on the Sheridan Whiteside character of "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

Foxboro Man Carries Out Reforestation

By PERCE GHENT

Fifteen thousand red, white and Scotch Pine trees were planted by Col. Roscoe Vanderwater in 1924 on this farm near Foxboro, Hastings County.

Today 14,850 of the trees are thriving. The average diameter of the pines is 10 inches and the average height, 45 feet.

The reforestation project was made on a hillside, subject to erosion and too steep for cultivation. Planting was carried out as the frost was leaving the ground and the usual farm help and a few neigbours were enlisted in the job because other work was not pressing.

Besides the steady growth has given years of satisfaction in watching, the once barren and dusty hillside has become a thing of beauty and an excellent windbreak. Col. Vanderwater urges other farmers to lose no time in reforestation enterprises of their own, and so increase not only the beauty, but the value of their farms by planting young trees, which can be secured without cost, on otherwise useless and unsightly acres.

Such projects are exempt also from municipal taxes up to 10 per cent of any farm holding; the maximum exemption, 20 acres to one person. Plots, however, must not be pastured. If they are, the trees will not thrive and the tax exemption does not apply.

Garden Feature

Hyde Park, now a national shrine of the United States, has a garden feature of growing fame. It is a beautiful hemlock hedge, now about 16 feet high, which was beloved by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and it surrounds an irregular area of lawns and flower beds which he selected as his last resting place.

Hemlocks, most graceful of evergreens, and once among the commonest of Canadian trees, have now reached the scarce list because of the enormous demand for this tree both as timber and for its bark for tanning purposes. Stumpage price of the hemlock (Tsuga canadensis) now is at an all-time high.

At a Pennsylavnia estate named "Far Country," not far from Germantown, there is a hemlock arboretum of such beauty and interest that naturalists and foresters from many lands spend days of study there.

Leading to the hemlock plantings, what is undoubtedly the most historic stepping-stone path in all America has just been completed. It is known as "The Signers' Walk," and every stone in the path is directly associated with one of the original signers of the Declaration of Independence.

Stones have been collected from the birthplaces, business sites, estates or favorite haunts of the men who signed that historic document—56 of them. First of the stones in this path is the doorstep of Independence Hall. Some years ago it became so worn that it had to be replaced. It came into the possession of Charles F. Jenkins who then conceived and carried out the idea of the Signers' Walk.

POTTERY EXPORTS

In the first six months of this year Britain sold nearly $1,200,000 worth of china and porcelain to the United States.

WHEN YOU'RE TALKING over fishing trips of the past summer and someone mentions a fish with two mouths don't be skeptical. The above picture of a bass with two mouths is proof enough. In spite of the two mouths this bass which was taken from Storr's Lake, Wisconsin, escaped the fishermen's hooks for nine years.

Grave of Missing Airman Is Located In Germany

HAVELOCK, Oct. 12.—(ENS).—After over three years of uncertainty as to the fate of their son, Pilot Officer John B. (Jack) Ketchen, RCAF, who was reported missing while on an operational flight over Germany in March, 1945, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ketchen received the following communication on Thursday from W. R. Gunn, wing commander, RCAF casualty officer, at Ottawa, which informed them that their son, who was an air gunner on the flight, and all his crew were killed.

Grave Located

The letter reads as follows: "It is with regret that I refer to the loss of your son, Pilot Officer John Barton Ketchen, who lost his life on air operations against the enemy, March 22, 1945, but a report has been received from our missing research and enquiry service that the graves of your son and the seven members of his crew were located in the Central Cemetery at Hildesheim, Germany."

Bodies Moved

"In accordance with the agreed policy of the nations of the British Commonwealth that all British aircrew buried in Germany would be moved to British military cemeteries located in Germany, your son and the members of his crew were moved to the permanent British Military Cemetery, Hanover (Limmer), which is located 3½ miles west of the centre of Hanover, Germany, and your son is resting in grave No. 5, row H, plot 16, of that cemetery. The seven members of his crew are resting beside him.

"The Hanover British Military Cemetery will be reverently cared for and maintained in perpetuity by the Imperial War Graves Commission of which Canada is a member. The cemetery will be beautified by the planting of trees, shrubs and flowers, and the commission will also erect a permanent headstone at your son's grave.

"Unfortunately little information could be secured concerning the crash. One resident of Hildesheim was located who stated that the city was under a heavy bombing attack about 2 p.m., March 22, and shortly after that time he had observed an aircraft losing altitude and crashing, but to the fact that a heavy raid was in progress, he could not supply further details, other than that he was aware that German Home Guards had removed the remains of the crew to the Central Cemetery.

"It is my earnest hope that this great anxiety you have undergone for so long a period will be lessened, and that you will be solaced and comforted with the knowledge that your son's resting place is known, and that it will be maintained in perpetuity, and I would like to take this opportunity of expressing to you and the members of your family my deepest sympathy in the loss of your gallant son.

Worked in St. Catharines

Before enlisting Pilot Officer Ketchen was an employee of the Yale Lock Company at St. Catharines, and was a member of that company's star hockey team. He graduated as an air gunner at Prince Edward Island, and had made over thirty operational flights over enemy territory.

Brother Says Nuptial Mass For His Sister

The Church of the Sacred Heart was the scene of a lovely wedding on Monday morning when the Rev. John F. Corkery CSSR said the nuptial mass uniting his sister, Rita Geraldine, youngest daughter of Mrs. Catherine Corkery and the late Dennis Corkery, and Gordon Bernard Doherty, son of Mrs. Mary Doherty and the late Charles P. Doherty of Lindsay.

Fall flowers and fern formed a background for the ceremony and Mr. John Armstrong played the wedding march. Mrs. Cecil Viscoff sang Gounod's "Ave Maria" and during the signing of the register Caesar Franc's "Panis Angelicus."

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Murray Corkery and was wearing a gown of white satin fashioned on princess lines with a draped peplum falling into a slight train. The moulded bodice had a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves coming to lily points over her hands. Her long veil was of silk embroidered net and fell from a crown of orange blossoms and she was carrying a cascade of Bettertime roses.

Wedding attendants were Miss May Doherty of Lindsay as maid of honor and Misses Irene Corkery and Audrey Doherty as bridesmaids. They were identically frocked in period style bouffant gowns of taffeta with square necklines, cap sleeves and side drapery on the skirts that was caught up with clusters of rosebuds. The maid of honor was in Banff blue and the bridesmaids in coral and they wore caps in deeper shades of velvet with feather trim and matching velvet gloves. Each carried a Colonial nosegay of roses.

Mr. John C. Doherty of London, Ontario, was groosman and ushers were Wilfred Finn and Lawrence Collins.

The reception was held at Club Aragon where the bride's mother received, wearing a gown of Alice blue crepe, black felt hat with blue feather trim and black accessories and wore a corsage of bronze baby 'mums.

Mr. and Mrs. Doherty left later on a motor trip to Detroit, the bride wearing a tailored suit of black gabardine, black felt hat with beige feather trim and black accessories and carried a scarlet wool topcoat.

On return they will live on Morrow St., Peterborough.

Warner-Goldie Vows Taken By Candlelight

Candle light and white chrysanthemums formed an impressive background in George St. United Church Friday evening when the Rev. Dr. James Semple united in marriage Marjorie Baxter, daughter of Mrs. Helen Goldie and the late Archibald Goldie of Peterborough, to Kenneth William, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Warner of Regina, Saskatchewan.

Wedding music was played by Mr. Charles Allen who accompanied Mrs. James Goldie when she sang "Love's Coronation" and "I Love Thee."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. James Goldie, was in a gown of stiff white brocaded satin with a fitted bodice forming a point at the waist line and long tight pointed sleeves. The sheer yoke was outlined by a scalloped bertha collar embroidered in seed pearl motifs and the gently flaring skirt fell from a large butterfly bustle to form a circular train. Her fingertip veil was held by a matching coronet of brocaded satin and seed pearls and her cascade bouquet was of white roses, chrysanthemums and boutvardia centred with an orchid and sprig of white heather sent from Scotland for the occasion.

Miss Betty Goldie was her sister's maid of honor in a gown of fire rose crepe with empire bodice and bateau neckline accentuated by large shoulder bows. Panier draping caught to one side lent detail to the slim skirt which formed a slight train. She wore a matching colonial bonnet tied under the chin, and elbow length mittens of the same shade. Her bouquet was of large white 'mums. Junior bridesmaid was Betty Jane Goldie, niece of the bride, who was winsome in a gown of smoke blue crepe with a high neckline gathered bodice fitted to the waist, buttoned down the back with crystal buttons and a full skirt. She wore a matching colonial bonnet and short mittens with pleated cuff and carried a ring bouquet of white baby 'mums bordered with fire rose ribbon.

The groom was assisted by Mr. Allan MacKinnon of Toronto and the ushers were Wilton Hillier and Harold Rutherford of Peterborough.

At the reception which followed in the Board Room of the church, Mrs. Goldie, mother of the bride, received with the bridal party wearing a dress of grey floral American mesh, black hat and accessories. Her corsage was of red roses and white 'mums She was assisted by Mrs. A. Sibbald of Toronto in absence of the groom's mother. She wore a dress of plum satin faced crepe, grey hat and accessories, and corsage of Bettertime roses and white 'mums.

For a trip to Montreal the bride chose a wool gabardine suit of mulberry shade, hat to match, with grey plume and grey accessories and topcoat, with an orchid corsage.

A lovely wedding solemnized on Thanksgiving Day in St. James United Church was that of Blanche Gertrude Draper and James Wilson Logan. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M P. Draper and the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Logan, all of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. W. Craik. Mr. Cecil Lapp at the organ played "The Lord's Prayer" and "Through the Years" during the signing of the register.

The bride was attired in a navy ensemble, her dress combining mat of taffeta. She carried a bouffeta and twill and her picture quet of white calla lilies. Her attendant was Mrs. Philip Whitnall who wore a pearl grey suit with British tan accessories and carried red roses. Mr. Whitnall was the groomsman.

A reception was held at the bride's home where her mother received, gowned in grey crepe with accessories in moss green.

Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Logan left for Toronto and are flying to New York City to spend a two week honeymoon. On return they will live in Peterborough.

Of Interest to Women

Disappointed With Romance Wives Leave Husbands

SUIT CLASSIC — The latest in fashions, a classic suit and coat of worsted gabardine made by blending nylon fibre with wool. Addition of nylon makes fabric crease resistent.

Dorothy Dix

Of course, every woman's heart desires is to be wooed by a handsome and gallent youth in beautiful cinema language, and to be married in white satin and orange blossoms and to live ever afterwards in a state of transcendent happiness with a husband who is a great lover, and who spends his time telling her that she grows more fascinating and wonderful every day.

There is never to be a letdown in her romance. No howlling babies. No walking the colic of nights. No worrying over bills. No cooking of meals and washing of dishes No putting up with a man with irritating little ways that get on her nerves and bore her to tears.

But, alas, this vision of connubial bliss is seldom realized. There is no such animal as the perfect husband that every girl dreams up. And in her disappointment at finding out that her fairy prince is just a plain, ordinary, unsentimental he-man, who did all of his love-making before marriage and then knocked off and called it a day, only too often she throws her fat into the fire

Begins to Nag

She becomes a sodden mass of self-pity. She alienates her husband by her fault-finding and nagging. She makes no effort to be a cheerful and entertaining companion, or even to make a comfortable home for her family, and only too often she divorces a good husband for no other reason than that he failed to come up to her expectations.

If only silly young brides broke up their homes and ditched their husbands because they had lost their taste for them, it would be easy to understand. They think they can get new mates who will be more exciting and interesting. But middle-aged women, who must know that their matrimonial chances are practically nil, also are guilty of this same folly.

Instead of making the best of their bargains, they throw up their hands and quit. And the amazing thing about this is that they fail to realize that there is a lot to marriage besides lovey-dovey romance, and that a man who says it with checks and a credit account at the best stores is a more comfortable husband to live with than one who quotes poetry and lets his wife support him.

There isn't a day that I don't get letters from disgruntled wifes saying that they are married to men who are good and kind and who give them generous allowances, and that they have fine houses and cars and every luxury, but that they are thinking of leaving them because they are on longer in love with them. They don't have palpitation of the heart at their approach nor crave their kisses. They don't even listen to their husbands when they try to talk to them. Their marriages have gone as stale as dish water.

"We are tired of being just wives. We want excitement. Something to put pep into our lives," they wail. Well, being a wife is the best job that any woman can have. And it has the merit of being permanent. A wife can't be fired except for mighty good reasons. Furthermore, a lot of happiness can be gotten out of a marriage that hasn't any romantic love and thrills in it but that is based on mutual respect and helpfulness.

The marriage of convenience has a lot to say for itself.

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, October 13

A surprising and quite unpredictable turn of events may be expected to force the initiative and creative ability into unusual groves, with wholly unplanned crises of radical importance and far-reaching significance. It may uproot old ways and means and traditions, in which real issues may secure cooperation from influential personages. Large-scope operations with enhanced personal prestige are in sight due to clever ideas and keen wits. But forced issues or attempts to overact or hammer lagging situations into line could be detrimental and create a stubborn impasse.

For the Birthday

An event or surprising swirl of the wheel of fortune into sudden and breath-taking grooves may be the means of bringing about a revolutionary climax to the affairs, status, ambitions and environs. Unforseen developments, carefully and prudently grasped, may have power to affect the entire life, with enhanced opportunity, increased prestige, power and long-range denouement, all advanced by influential persons, impressed by fresh techniques, novel ideas and constructive efforts of keen relish. But any efforts to take advantage of friendly interest, to exaggerate, or to "fly off the handle," could block the issue and have unfavorable repercussions not only on immediate creative ideas but on personal life as well. Fight fire with fire not high explosives, and keep stubborn obstructions in hand by calm and studied tactics.

A child born on this day is bounteously equipped for a creative and adventurous career, with place and influence if it will curb its turbulent energies.

SMOKED CREPE DRESS—In step with the fashion feeling for the medieval, this dark green crepe dress has a smocked bodice which is reminiscent of armor; the simple peasant skirt and the bright gilt kid belt which joins the two carry on this notion, and present a bright date frock which will look well by afternoon or evening, with wool or fur coat, and with or without a hat.

Thanksgiving Day Marred By 34 Dominion Fatalities

By The Canadian Press

Thirty-four fatalities saddened the traditional Thanksgiving Day celebration during the long week-end, 19 dying in traffic accidents alone. In addition, another man was missing, believed drowned.

Most of the fatalities—18—occurred in Ontario, with Quebec next with six, New Brunskick four, Nova Scotia three and Western Canada, four.

The fatality list included three drownings, three deaths after a train wreck, two each in shootings and falls, one slaying, one electrocution, an apparent suicide, and a youth who was killed by a horse's kick.

The slaying took place at Toronto, where Vincent St. Lawrence, 24, was charged with murder Monday night in the bludgeon-killing of George (Cowboy) Parker, 31-year-old Calgary stable hand. Parker's beaten body was found in the grounds of Woodbine race track Saturday night.

The accident taking the greatest toll was at Mattawa where three trainmen suffered fatal scalds in the overturned engine of a Canadian Pacific Railway train, hit by five runaway box cars. Killed were engineer Johnston Elliott, 50, of North Bay; fireman Joseph Steele, 29, of Powassan, and brakeman George Couchy, 31, of North Bay.

ONE OF BRITAIN'S GIANT AIRCRAFT CARRIERS, HMS OCEAN, is pictured here high and dry in Malta's new floating dock, the first vessel to be handled there since the naval forces were recently bolstered in the Mediterranean. The floating dock, which was brought in three sections from Bombay and assembled in Malta dockyard, completed the operation of lifting the giant carrier in under half an hour. In the picture part of the town of Valetta, much of it bomb-damaged, is seen in background.

OTTAWA, Oct. 12—(CP).—Advance indications are that the revenue department will have trouble next March in giving some $243,750,000 in 1943 compulsory havings refunds, an official said.

Since Sept. 15, when the Department opened a country-wide campaign to find the addresses of persons who have moved or changed their marital status since 1943, only about 4.4 of the persons affected have notified the department of their new address.

The department estimates that of the 3,250,000 persons entitled to receive refunds next March, about 1,000,000 have changed their address since 1943. Of these, only the whereabouts of 44,000 are known.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

LIKE CHRIS COLUMBUS

EVERY fine declarer is like Columbus. Chris, when he was a young fellow, could have accepted the idea that the world is flat, if he had been lazy. And the man behind the contract in bridge could begin playing the hand the first way apparent that seems pretty sure to gain the necessary minimum results. But the really good player tries to be a discoverer of a better method, especially one which may produce more than his bid calls for, just as Columbus figured out an ambitious objective, then sought to attain it.

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1♠	Pass	2♥	Pass
2♠	Pass	4♠	Pass
4♠	Pass	6♠

There was of course no excitement connected with declarer's play for that tournament contract where West laid down his diamond A to start with, and then switched to something else. There was no difficulty about taking the rest of the tricks.

The evil of laziness asserted itself, however, at several other tables, where West chose to lead the club 2. Two of those declarers played for their contract and nothing more, adopting the easiest possible path by giving up one diamond, ruffing one and discarding the other two on hearts.

Not so with the declarers of higher rank. When the diamond A was not led against them, they saw a chance for all the tricks and went after it. After winning with the club A, they cleared trumps with the Q, A and K, led to the club K, discarded two diamonds on the heart tops, ruffed the third-round heart to kill the Q, led to the club Q, cleared the heart suit with the J that dropped the 10 while the third diamond was tossed, then put the final diamond on the now established heart 8. With spades left for the last two tricks, these chaps scored an extra, shutting out the diamond A entirely.

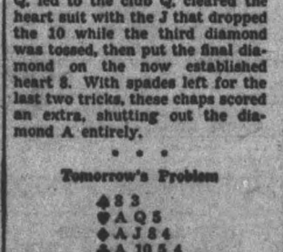
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable.)

In a match point tournament contract of 4-Hearts, how should South play after East puts the club Q on the lead of the 7?

Rain Curtails Norwood Fair

Only six of the members of the junior calf club of the Norwood agricultural society faced the rain and mud of fair day on the holiday.

It was achievement day for the sixteen youngsters who enrolled last spring and were coached through the summer by Murray McRae, assistant agricultural representative.

Highest score for the several sections of the competition was credited to Ivan Bolton of Indian River, whose card totalled 826 marks.

Wm. John Deen of Indian River, was second with 789; Bill Brealey Indian River, 762; Howard Clysdale of Birdsall, 712; Bill Danford, Warsaw, 70;; Vernon Colby, Indian River.

Judge of the competition placing the calves which the young people obtained and raised this year was W. A. Davidson, of Co-Op Services.

Norwood Fair was drenched by the long overdue rains which first left the Roseneath fair bedraggled last Friday. At the same of the directors estimated that here might have been 5,000 people on the grounds, or at least in cars, hoping the sun would get a chance to shine. People wrapped up heavily against the weather. Cars bogged inn the mud, and it was a dismal affair for G. A. Brethen and his directors who had contributed much planning and effort to their program. They missed the sunlight by just one day as the whole scene changed this morning for John A. Carroll's big plowing match west of Lindsay.

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH the sanitary (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

OMEMEE, Oct. 12 (ENS)—The October meeting of the Omemee Trinity United Church was featured by an address by the Presbyterial President, Mrs. R. W. Craighead of Lindsay.

It was held at the home of Mrs. E. Cornell and was in charge of Mrs. M. Sandy, leader of Group 4. Mrs. Sandy was assisted in presenting the October theme by Mrs. Burt Pogue, Mrs. E. Two special numbers were an instrumental by Mrs. I. Connell and a vocal duet by Mrs. Sandy and Mrs. Ivan Veals.

The subject of Mrs. Craighead's address was "The Woman's Missionary Society." She reviewed its history, beginning with its origin in a little Methodist church in Halifax in 1867.

It was organized under the name of "The Female Society for the furthering of the Gospel." She traced its growth to its present membership of 192,000 and its extensive work in foreign lands and in Canada.

The supply work of the WMS is now so well organized that this department was able to send 30 tons of clothing to Britain and 20 tons to Germany as well as smaller amounts to other war ravaged countries.

She concluded by saying "The WMS stands for Christian actions, temperance, rights for all, and the Gospel to all."

For the constables there is an open-neck tunic to be worn with Royal Air Force type blue collar and black tie. Sergeants and inspectors will wear a white collar. The leather belt has been discarded. This has been made possible by the introduction of a smaller lamp, which can go into the pocket. The new uniform was designed by a special committee set up by the Home Office. Kelk Places First
Campbell, Sharpe Draw Second Spots

LINDSAY, Oct. 13.—(CP). — Three Peterborough farmers placed well in the international plowing match sections held Tuesday. They were Ernest Kelk, who placed first in horses class; Vern Campbell, second in tractors, two-furrow open; and Henry Sharpe, second in tractors, three or more furrows, open. The match opens its lists today to all the world as contestants as they settle down to stubble plowing classes. The twelve classes Tuesday were only for plowmen of Peterborough, Durham, Ontario and Victoria.

Three horse and six tractor classes in jointer plow events were scheduled for today. Top winners from today's contests and from yesterday's competitions — open only to plowmen from the surrounding four countries—are eligible for Friday's special classes which offer four trip to Britain as principal prizes.

Intermittent showers yesterday held attendance to an estimated 4,000. Leaden skies promised more rain today but officials late last night were hopeful that the weather would not greatly affect today's attendance.

Contestants and spectators continued to arrive late last night, temporarily swelling the population of this Victoria county town of 10,000 and straining the capacity of its accommodation. Hundreds of householders opened spare rooms to visitors, unable to find shelter in hotels and boarding houses.

This is the first time since 1922 the International Plowing Match has been held in Victoria county.

Guest Speaker

Sir Andrew Jones of the British food mission in Ottawa was scheduled to speak today at a luncheon officially opening the match, held under the auspices of the Ontario Plowmen's Association.

Weather permitting, demonstrations of new types of farm machinery will start today. Practically every major implement company is represented in the displays of brightly-painted implements lining the muddy main street of the tent city which forms the heart of the match activities.

Hunter Wounds Friend In Heel

PICTON, Oct. 13—(CP).—Accidentally shooting a hunting companion near here, Douglas Wamsley applied first aid to Vernon Wheeler, 25, and rowed Wheeler a mile along the Aldolphustown shore to nearby Glenora Ferry where he was taken to hospital with a gunshot wound through his heel.

The accident occurred when Wamsley, carrying a double-barreled hammerless shotgun, moved around a tree and the trigger caught on a branch, discharging the gun.

New Chinese Yuan Shows 1st Inflation

SHANGHAI, Oct. 13. (AP) — China's fight to hold the line against inflation showed signs of slipping today.

The new gold yuan has been maintained at the official rate of four to one United States dollar for seven weeks by tremendous, sometimes bloody, effort. The government has tried to check prices, prevent hoarding and black marketing.

But this week some back-alley transactions were suddenly bringing as high as nine or 10 gold yuan to $1.

Business men say the yuan is cracking under the weight of the government's own measures. They say the process of disintegration began more than a week ago with tax increases ranging from 100 per cent on wines, tobacco and gasoline to 1,200 per cent on business and 5,000 per cent on property levies.

Plucky Youngster Wounded By Pal Dies In Ottawa

OTTAWA, Oct. 13 — (CP) — Twelve-year-old Sammy Dodds, who was accidentally shot in the chest by a companion two weeks ago, died in hospital Tuesday night.

The plucky youngster, paralyzed and in critical condition, fought valiantly for his life, while public donations helped pay his hospital expenses. The fund had swelled to $405.76 Tuesday.

An ardent football fan, his stay in the hospital was brightened by two visits by Tony Golab, Ottawa Rough Riders star. Golab brought him a football covered with the signatures of the Riders team.

Dimes and dollars from all parts of the district were sent to help young Sammy in his fight. Even 11-year-old Ted Loney, kid brother of the Rough Riders all-Canadian snap, Don Loney, had helped. He raffled off a football given him by Joe Krol of the Toronto Argos and turned the dimes and quarters over to the Dodds fund.

With him when he died were Sammy's Scottish parents and the hospital staff who had helped him in his fight.

The youngster was shot by a .22 calibre rifle on a ground-hog expedition with a playmate Aug. 30.

No decision has been reached as to whether a coroner's inquest should be held.

Call CCL Men Red-Baiters For Ousting Communism

TORONTO, Oct. 13—(CP).—The explosive issue of Communism erupted again today on the floor of the eighth annual convention of the Canadian Congress of Labor. Another anti-Communist resolution was presented to the 838 delegates. It "re-affirms" the Congress call to all CCL unions "to devote their full strength and activity to the preservation of a free trade-union movement . . . which will be free from any totalitarian philosophy, whether it be Communist, Fascist or a reflection of either one, the end result of which would be to take away the freedom of the trade unions and of the masses of the people in general."

The preamble says the "continuous function of the Communist movement is a persistent denunciation and baiting of all individuals who do not agree with the objectives of the Communists."

As the resolution was presented, James K. Bell of Halifax charged angrily that CCL conventions have become "nothing else but a training school for Red-baiters."

That would do more than anything else to "wreck the trade-union movement."

"Reds Big Help"

"I believe the Communist leaders and the rank-and-file Communists have done more for the trade unions . . . ." Mr. Bell's words were drowned in a resounding chorus of boos and shouts to "sit down."

He contended a "referendum" of all labor men would show a majority opposed to the anti-Communist resolution. What the convention delegates thought was not representative.

A. R. Mosher, Congress president, told Mr. Bell: "Either retract that slur on the delegates or sit down."

"I'll retract, sir," said the Halifax man.

Catch Prisoner At Port Hope

GUELPH, Ont., Oct. 13—(CP) —Only three of six prisoners who escaped from the Ontario Reformatory last Sunday night were still at large today following arrest of two of the fugitives in eastern Ontario Tuesday.

Reformatory officials said that Marcel Desgrosselliers 20, of Ville LaSalle, Que., was captured in Cornwall and James Gordon Field, 20, of Weston, was arrested in Port Hope. John Flannigan of Glasgow, Scotland, was previously apprehended before he left the Guelph district.

The three men still sought are Bernard des Ramleau, Stambridge, Que., Edward Lefebvre, Westboro, and Gordon Davey, Montreal.

Desgrosselliers was captured at gunpoint near Ste. Anne De Bellevue, Que., following a 35-mile chase along No. 2 highway.

Police are still seeking two men with Desgrosselliers in an automobile reported stolen at Scarboro, Ont. On the tip a car was traveling along the highway at a hgih speed, police ordered a road block. Provincial Police gave chase and on the outskirts of St. Anne de Bellevue the wanted car lost a wheel. The occupants of the car, one of whom was said to have brandished a revolver, fled toward the waterfront.

Alberta Gov't Will Decide If Lovers To Be Reunited

EMERSON, Man., Oct. 13 (CP) —Kenneth Darling's reconciliation with his English sweetheart in Edmonton hung in the balance today pending decision by the Alberta government on the British seaman's status as a Canadian immigrant.

An authoritative government source at Ottawa said Tuesday night that Darling, who jumped ship to marry his girl, will be allowed to remain in Canada on condition Alberta officials take responsibility for treating his tuberculosis condition.

But this 13th day of October doesn't look too promising for the 24-year-old seaman, in the light of remarks made Tuesday by Hon. A. J. Hooke, Alberta minister in charge of immigration.

Mr. Hooke declared that admission of the merchant seaman would create a dangerous precedent. Hundreds of Britons had been denied entry to Canada because of ill health.

Darling, held here by immigration authorities, stoutly refuses to believe medical reports that he is suffering from tuberculosis, a heart condition and bad nerves.

He's "plenty mad."

His medical documents don't stop there. The papers suggest marriage for Darling is to be strongly advised against.

Anxiously awaiting the outcome of the illegal entry tangle is Eileen Newnham, 20-year-old English store clerk in Edmonton for whom Darling deserted his ship at New York recently.

While government officials debated the "precedent case," Eileen and Kenneth hoped that their unique love affair would attract enough sympathy to soften officialdom's attitude and thereby pave the way for their marriage in Canada.

Privy Council Rules On Saskatchewan Case

LONDON, Oct. 13 (CP)—The Privy Council today found section 5-E of the Saskatchewan Trade Union Act, requiring employers to reinstate workers dismissed for union activities, to be within the powers of the provincial legislature.

The Privy Council attached the provision that the case which raised the question be referred back to the Saskatchewan Court of Appeals for rehearing "upon the footing that the act is not ultra vires and that the (Saskatchewan Labor Relations) Board and its members are constitutionally established."

The Saskatchewan Labor Relations Board appealed to the Privy Council a ruling by the Saskatchewan Appeals Court which quashed a board order that several discharged employees of the John East Iron Works, Limited, Saskatoon, be reinstated with back pay.

Costs were allowed against the respondents.

Won't Accept Leadership Of P.C. Party

Drew Says Decision Of Caucus Unanimous
Will Resign Shortly

TORONTO, Oct. 13 (CP)—Hon. T. L. Kennedy will take over as premier of Ontario in succession to Premier Drew who is retiring to take up his post as national leader of the Progressive Conservative party, a caucus of Progressive Conservative members of the Ontario Legislature decided today.

Premier Drew made the announcement at the conclusion of the caucus which also recommended that a convention be held at the earliest possible date to choose a provincial leader of the party.

The premier received newspapermen in his North Toronto home where the members went for their meeting. The premier is suffering from a cold but expects that he will be able to go to his office tomorrow.

Mr. Drew emphasized that the decision of the caucus was unanimous. He said also that Col. Kennedy, minister of agriculture and member for Peel constituency, near Toronto, told the caucus that he would not be a candidate for the leadership at the convention.

To Tender Resignation

"As soon as convenient I will meet the Lieutenant-Governor and arrange to tender my resignation as Premier," said Premier Drew, "and will recommend that he call on Col. Kennedy to form a government."

He added that he thought he would meet the Lieutenant-Governor either tomorrow or Friday.

The Premier would submit his resignation as Ontario leader to to the president and executive of the Ontario Progressive Conservative Association with the recommendation from the caucus that a convention be held at the "earliest practical date."

Wants To Change

In permitting his name to go before the national leadership convention, he had undertaken to take up his new duties as quickly as possible, the premier recalled. He planned to seek a seat in the House of Commons as soon as this could be arranged.

The 70-year-old Col. Kennedy had been acting premier during Mr. Drew's absences from the province on official business and was well fitted to take up the post of premier, said Mr. Drew.

No man in Ontario had given more devoted public service than Col. Kennedy, said the premier.

Col. Kennedy entered the legislature as member for Peel in 1919 following his return from the First World War.

He has represented the constituency ever since, except for the period from 1934 to 1937. He was first named minister of agriculture in 1930 and served in the government of George S. Henry until 1934.

Issue Indictment

MONTREAL, Oct. 13 (CP). —Mayor Camillien Houde of Montreal said today that Premier Maurice Duplessis had issued a preferred indictment against the three alleged slayers of two Montreal policemen in an east-end bank holdup. The Mayor said that he had been informed by the Quebec Attorney General's office that the indictments were issued against Noel Cloutier and Donald and Douglas Perreault, unrelated, at the request of the Montreal police department.

Sterling Area Problems Under Review

LONDON, Oct. 13—(CP)—The meeting of Commonwealth political leaders today resumed examination of economic problems with emphasis on the need of the sterling area countries to attain a better trade balance with hard-currency countries.

It is understood that sterling-area expenditures in hard currency areas, including Canada and the United States, eventually will be cut to £100,000,000 ($400,000,000) annually. This would be achieved by increasing production in the sterling area and by greater trade between sterling zone countries.

The over-all purpose of the British and other sterling area government is to increase trade generally and there is no intention of hindering the freest trade movement beyond the degree necessary to preserve the economy of the sterling area.

The Commonwealth representatives are invited to dinner at Buckingham Palace this evening. Winston Churchill, wartime prime minister and now opposition leader, will be among the king's guests.

Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, came to the meeting today with a bundle of statistics on how Britain's participation in the European Recovery Program will affect Commonwealth trade relations.

Sir Stafford furnished a preliminary report on this Monday, when he emphasized that restoration of Europe's economy would mean a sound investment for the commonwealth in the long run, especially in raw materials.

The commonwealth representatives Tuesday concentrated their attention on defence problems after hearing Secretary Bevin review the dangers of Communist pressure from the Mediterranean to the Far East.

British spokesmen said they reviewed in particular policies in turbulent Malaya, approved in principle military steps taken there to put down disorder, but suggested the most constructive step for a long-range solution would be to improve living conditions.

Hydro Announces $100 Fine For Any Breaches Of Power-Saving Orders

Policing Of Rules Up To Municipal Office; Heaters Only For Sickness
Or $100-a-Day Fine Will Be Imposed

TORONTO, Oct. 13—(CP). — The Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission announced today a fine of from $100 to $500 will be imposed for breaches of the power-saving regulations passed last week by the Ontario Cabinet. The restrictions, published today, provide a penalty for using an electric heater except in the case of sickness. The regulations specify a fine of $100 for each additional day the rule is violated.

The restrictions forbid illumination of outdoor signs; floodlighting of buildings, signs or monuments; lighting of outdoor Christmas trees; use of any light for any purpose outdoors between sunrise and sunset, and illumination of marquees and sidewalk canopies, except such lighting as is necessary to illuminate the sidewalk directly beneath the canopy.

The regulations, passed last week by Order-in-Council, restrict use of other outdoor lighting, and lighting of business premises to approximately half the number of watts allowed before the regulations were introduced.

"Primarily, I presume, the policing of these regulations falls upon the municipal commissions," said E. M. Ashworth, manager of the Toronto Hydro-Electric system. "However, we don't anticipate any need to enforce them. So far we have received such cooperation from consumers that we believe the new regulations will be accepted."

Prime Minister King Has 'Restful Night'

LONDON, Oct. 13.— (CP). — Prime Minister Mackenzie King, prevented by illness from representing Canada at the Commonwealth Conference, had a "restful" night and was "cheerful and comfortable" this morning, his staff reported.

It is expected that visitors, including some of the representatives at the Commonwealth Conference, will visit the ailing prime minister during the day

Race Horse Owner Beaten And Stabbed

TORONTO, Oct. 13 — (CP) — Pete Watrous, race horse owner and trainer, was beaten and stabbed early Tuesday by two men in a downtown Jarvis St. garage.

The attack came about 30 hours after the race track murder of George (Cowboy) Parker, 37-year-old stable groom.

Police said Watrous was believed to have been carrying a large sum of money. He was jumped as he got out of his car. One man beat him over the head with a piece of lead pipe. A second assailant pulled a knife but Watrous wrested the weapon from him. The thugs escaped.

War Declared On Food Speculators

PARIS, Oct. 13. — (AP).—France opened war today on food speculators in an attempt to drive down high prices—strongest argument of Communist-led unions in fomenting the current strike wave.

Public prosecutors throughout the country received a circular from Justice Minister Andre Marie, reminding them of the government's determination to "prosecute profiteers without pity."

A 24-hour dock workers walkout threatened to tie up most of the ports in the strike-harried country today.

The tie-up follows the familiar strike pattern which the government has blamed on the Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) and the French Communist party.

The strategy consists of short-lived strikes in key industries and commerce points.

Communist leader Benoit Frachon has told his followers in the powerful Confederation General Du Travail that this method is more effective than a general strike.

The major strike still is the country-wide coal tie-up, now in its 11th day. The walkout already has cost France more than 1,000,000 tons of fuel and no end is in sight.

Government officials say the Cominform's drive to wreck the coal strike is the spearhead of the European recovery program in France.

The walkout originally was called as a protest against high prices and to demand increased wages. The non-Communist Roman Catholic unions joined in calling a 48-hour strike, but since then have declared their willingness to go back to work. For the last week Communist spokesmen have been emphasizing the political character of th stoppage.

Defence Hdqts. To Be In France

LONDON, Oct. 13—(AP)—An authoritative British source said today the defence headquarters of the Western European Alliance will be "somewhere in France."

The informant said France was chosen before Gen. Charles de Gaulle issued his statement Oct. 1 that the five-power defence pact was "no solution at all" to defence problems of the west because it would be centred in London.

The exact location of headquarters for the joint land, sea and air centre has not been selected, the informant said. The headquarters will be the scene of integrated planning by western defence chiefs under Viscount Montgomery as permanent military chairman.

OSHAWA, Oct. 13—(CP). — J. Nolan Sissons, formerly general manager of the Timmins Daily Press, was injured on Tuesday night when an automobile he was driving struck a concrete abutment at the Ajax clover leaf on Highway 2A, about 10 miles west of here.

Charge Red 5th Column Sabotages Peace

Communist Parties In Every Country Halt Reconstruction—Britain

PARIS, Oct. 13—(CP).—Britain charged today that Russia's fifth column is sabotaging world reconstruction through Communist parties in every country in the world.

Sir Hartley Shawcross, addressing the 58-member political committee of the United Nations, declared Russia's offer to lay her cards on the table if a Soviet armaments proposal was adopted "won't do."

Resuming the debate on Russia's proposal for a one-third reduction in armaments within a year, Sir Hartley said Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky was trying to do away with the iron curtain by denying it existed.

"What a tremendous contribution it would be to confidence in Europe if the Soviet countries would open the doors lift the curtains, and let travellers from other countries get to know and make friends with the warm-hearted and generous people of Russia and to understand the great problems they have to face," Sir Hartley said.

Need One Word.

"One word from Russia: one little word—'stop'—would enable these troubled countries to put their own houses in order and to build themselves up in democratic peace and security—one little word—and it does not come."

He asked if the Soviet Union, to restore international trust and confidence, would "call off the secret forces, the fifth column, which is trying to disrupt the economies of many countries of the world."

"One state and one state alone is standing in the way of the international control of atomic energy and of the progress towards conventional disarmament," Sir Hartley said.

Shawcross called on Russia to take these immediate measures:

1. Let newspaper correspondents move freely in Soviet Russia.
2. Let diplomats travel as they may in "civilized countries."
3. Freedom for civil aircraft.

Soviet delegate Jakob A. Malik, in an immediate reply to Sir Hartley, accused him of obtaining his arguments "from the arsenals of Trotsky, Hitler, Goering and Goebbels."

He said the Shawcross speech was one-third intervention in Soviet domestic affairs, one-third "a beating of the drums" and the remainder a repetition of "old and familiar arguments."

After Malik had spoken, the committee approved 31 to 5, with 11 abstentions, a Ukrainian resolution to close general debate on arms reduction.

Rail Union Taken Back In TLC Fold

"Vote Of Censure" Against Hall; Helps Heal Rift

VICTORIA, Oct. 13—(CP)—The suspended Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks was re-admitted to the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada today at the TLC's annual convention.

This move, partially healing a deep rift between Congress factions over the issue of Communism, was accompanied by a vote of "censure" against Frank Hall of Montreal, Brotherhood Canadian vice-president.

Hall and his Brotherhood had been evicted from the TLC by its executive last month over an anti-Red move by Hall aimed at crushing the Canadian Seamen's Union, a TLC affiliate reputed to be dominated by Communists.

The Hall manoeuvre was the merger of the Canadian Lake Seamen's Union, rival of the CSU on inland waters, with the Seafarers' International Union of the United States, an AFL affiliate.

At Tuesday's Congress session, Communism was an issue — directly or indirectly—throughout a roaring debate that lasted all day.

The immediate issue was the Congress' suspension of Frank Hall and his 13,000-man Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks over an anti-Communist move of Hall that had placed him in apparent conflict with the T.L.C. constitution.

After 5½ hours of slam-bang debate, the convention wound up voting endorsation of its executive's suspension order by a majority of about five to two.

However, Hall gained a partial victory in that the executive made it known to the convention before the balloting that it would back a later resolution lifting the suspension immediately.

What the executive wanted at the moment was a vote of confidence in its earlier action and it got that.

Despite his partial win Hall indicated Tuesday night he was still not satisfied with the Congress' action and he was planning further moves with a group of international union representives backing him.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

The Walls Have More Than Ears

You've heard the saying "The walls have ears." Well, here are walls that take legs, and can be moved from one spot to another.

Today, your J-M reporter was in an office that was being enlarged to take care of more business, and looked on while one whole wall was moved ten feet! The change-over was made quick because the walls are made of Johns-Manville movable Transite Panels. The large Transite Panels were taken down and moved to a new spot — right before my very eyes. There was no loss of material! Little or no dust and a minimum of noise! Moreover business went on as usual!

For complete details on J-M Transite Walls and how they can help solve your space problem in office, school, factory or other type of building, write Canadian Johns-Manville, 199 Bay Street, Toronto.

Administration is handled from a quonset hut set up amid the tents. There, officials list late entries and hand out results and prizes. The results of each day's plowing are released at nightfall after the last plowman has returned from the fields.

The match centres on the clay loam acres of the Jack Chambers field, four miles west of Lindsay, but it spreads on to two or three adjacent farms.

LOVE'S DREAM DELAYED — A ruling from Ottawa holds the key to a happy reunion of an Edmonton girl and a British merchant sailor who deserted his ship at New York to join his sweetheart of six years in Canada. Eileen Newham, left, came to Canada from England early this year and settled in Edmonton. Kenneth Darling, right, was refused permission when his X-rays were not up to par. After several unsuccessful attempts to rejoin Eileen, he deserted his ship in New York harbor and made his way across the country toward Edmonton. At Emerson, Man., he gave himself up and told his story. Ottawa has decided he will be allowed to remain in Canada on condition Alberta officials take responsibility for treating his tuberculosis condition.

15 CDS Employees Affected By New Plan

A new contributory retirement annuity plan has been drawn up by the T. Eaton Co. and it will become effective Oct. 15. At the moment this affects 15 employees at Canadian Department Stores who fulfill the requirements for enlistments: five years continuous service and a minimum age of 30 years. Others will become eligible as they reach the required length of employment and the age bracket.

Retirement ages have been set at 65 years for men and 60 years for women, after they have completed 25 years of continuous service. All employees joining the staff after Thursday will be required to enter into the annuity plan.

The plan will be financed by the employees contributing about 5 per cent of their earnings and the company a larger sum. It is expected that payment of past and future benefits will cost the company about $50,000,000 during the early years of the plan's existence.

Retirement allowances to long-service employees have been paid by the company for the past 30 years. About 1,000 ex-employees who have met the requirements of retirement age and length of service are currently receiving allowances from the company.

Scouting Rules Guide For Life Jackson Says

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 13.—(ENS). —"Scouting is the accumulation of all the good in people," said Arthur Jackson, provincial executive commissioner for Eastern Ontario, Tuesday evening at the annual banquet of the First Lakefield Sea Scout group, held in the United church.

"It is is like a game, and like a game it has rules, and we must abide by them. If a copy of the Scout's rule book could be placed on the table of the United Nations, and they would abide by these rules, what a wonderful thing it would be for the world," continued the speaker.

"The aim of Scouting is to develop good citizenship among boys by observation, obedience and self-reliance. Since it is a game it must be played by a team, and in this case the team: consists of the boy, the leader and the parent. Divorce any part and you lose Scouting."

In conclusion Mr. Jackson outlined five points of a good scout program as, the providing of adventure, comradeship, healthy, honest fun, achievement and a continued growth in scouting.

Mr. Jackson was introduced by Wilfred Lee and thanked by C. H. Hunter.

Welcomes Guests

Mr. E. G. Sloan, principal of the public school, was chairman and welcomed the guests. He also introduced members of the Sea Scout's executive seated at the head table: Scoutmaster Ken. Jakins, assistant masters, Harry Hunter and Wilf. Lee; committee, C. H. Hunter, director of training, M. O. Kingdon, crafts and harbor master; secretary, Roy Brown; treasurre, Thos. Staves. Mr. J. McKerchar and Mr. W. J. Morrison are also members. Other head table guests included Rev. W. Delaney, Rev. G. F. Kelly, C. P. O. George Lee of the Grove and Mr. G. Groombridge of Peterborough.

The financial report was presented by Mr. Stevens and showed a creditable balance on hand.

Scoutmaster Jakins gave a resume of the year's activities covering the weekly meetings, the summer camp at Stony lake and the success of the Scout's hockey team entered last winter in the OMHA which finished just one goal short of the provincial championship. He introduced Patrol Leaders Richard Robertson, Bill Twist, Morley Brown, Jack Berger and Gilbert Hunter. Gordon Blake, leader of the troop, was unable to be present.

The present executive was augmented by the following for the coming year: E. Rath, Theo. Down, R. Wasson and T. Heffernan.

A silver cup which will be used for inter-patrol competition was donated to the group by Mr. G. Winder Smith, headmaster of the Grove.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended by Mr. Jakins to Mrs. E. Rath and the Scout mothers who had prepared the banquet.

The accident happened near Green's Corners when Moore's car met in head-on collision with a truck driven by Bruce Bell of Toronto. The impact drove both vehicles from the road, the car coming to rest about 30 feet from the pavement.

Call CCL

George Home of the Vancouver Labor Council said he wants the CCL to be "solid" and "go down the line in favor of curbing Communism in labor ranks. Mr. Bell's argument was "stupid and silly."

George Harris of Toronto, secretary-treasurer of the United Electrical Workers opposed the resolution.

"It is designed not to unite labor but to split labor . . . and generate civil war in the trade unions," he said.

Member of LPP

He said he is a member of the Labor - Progressive (Communist) party.

"My party will continue," he said, "to impress on the workers' minds what we consider the best means to a solution of their problems . . .

"This resolution may carry but it won't settle the issue because red-baiting isn't going to settle anything."

He added, amid boos and catcalls:

"I say that the Communist party needs no defence from me. You who try to indict the Communist party stand indicted yourselves."

Brida Gray, of Toronto, president of a brass workers' local union, said, supporting the resolution: "I'm not much of a speaker, but at least I'm honest." She felt sure the convention would write the resolution into its policy.

E. E. Leary of Vancouver, supporting Mr. Harris' stand, said "I'll be a Communist even when they kick me to death in the concentration camps you at this convention are preparing for us."

Canada Plans To Release British Loan

OTTAWA, Oct. 13.—(CP).—A cabinet source indicated today that both Canadians and Britons may get benefits from Canada's gradual improvement of her dollar status.

The high government official said in an interview that Canada's dinner plates may soon be filled with American greens and fruit as the result of government intentions to ship one corner of its austerity program.

But probably more momentous is the expectation that Canada shortly will supply the United Kingdom with about $240,000,000 in Canadian dollars—part of the $1,250,000,000 British loan frozen last spring.

The cabinet spokesman said the country was prepared to release the balance of the loan if the British government in turn assured Canada of a good share of British markets.

Not Enthusiastic

Previously another cabinet official had disclosed that reports of United Kingdom preparations to make trade agreements with Russia and Yugoslavia were not received favorably here.

The assurance of British markets for Canadian production seemed the only hitch, the government informant said. "Sentiment may enter the picture, but Canada has to look out for her own interests as well."

He added that Sir Stafford Cripps was right in announcing in London a few days ago that Canada will shortly make an announcement regarding the loan. It was expected that Finance Minister Abbott may make the announcement within the next few weeks.

OLHAO, Portugal—Four fishermen were drowned and scores of fishing boats sank in a sudden storm off the southern coast of Portugal.

Traffic Lines Are Parallel Should Not Meet Jury Told

COBOURG, Oct. 13.K(ENS.)—All the traditions of British justice should be maintained and an alert should be held against any influence which would tear down the things for which the administration of justice stands, declared Mr. Justice Chevrier at the opening of the fall assizes here yesterday. Two motor manslaughter cases are on the docket and His Lordship said it was a relief to come to an assize court with comparatively few cases.

In his address to the grand jury he pointed out that there was no need to go into history of the grand jury system, but no doubt [illegible] was good reason for the institution of the grand jury. Some felt that since then, civilization had made great strides.

Sometimes, however, one wonders if the world has progressed or civilization has improved so much since those days. There are some who say that there is no longer the need for a grand jury and that it should be abolished Some with equal vigor say that it should be maintained. It is not for me to comment at ths time, one way or the other," His Lordship declared.

Should Never Meet

He then went on to explain the functions of a grand jury and referred in particular to the two motor manslaughter cases on the indictments. The killing of a person by a car was manslaughter and was done by varying degrees of negligence. The press and the people are alarmed at the useless killing of people by cars. The vast majority of hunters are careful in the use of their guns, but not so with motorists. If both parties were careful it is difficult to explain how an accident could happen. Traffic lines are parallel lines and being parallel they should never meet. The question was what to do about it. If the penalties were greatly increased juries might be afraid to convict less they be in the same position [illegible] commented His Lordship, which would be unnecessary if care in driving were exercised. It was his own experience that manslaughter cases were on the increase. Drunkeness and carelessness in driving were major evils. It would not be fair to single any particular accused out and give him a sentence heavier than those which preceded his, but the people could ask their elected representatives to see that heavier penalties be legislated. The answer might be in the collective work of juries and others who have had contact with the courts, to tell others how negligence in driving was at the root of highway fatalities.

SOMETHING DIFFERENT in the way of cairns is this one at Yorkton, Sask., erected in memory of early pioneers of the district. Embedded among the native rocks are 30 Indian stone hammers, said to have been used by the Indians in making pemmican, a mixture of dried buffalo meat, fat and native berries. The inscription on the cairn is framed with colorful stone arrowpoints and reads: "In memory of those men and women who, in the early eighties of the nineteenth century, endured the privations of pioneer life and founded homes hereabout."

Toss Tomatoes At Dewey In Illinois City

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 —(CP) — A tomato-throwing incident and a crowd-scatering reversal by his campaign train best Governor Thomas Dewey Tuesday night as the Republican Presidential candidate headed for a speech today at Oklahoma city.

With the United States presidential elections only three weeks away the candidates stepped up their activities. President Truman sought to round up dairy states while Henry Wallace, leader of the Progressive Party, planned to go back to the south, where already he has received a turbulent reception.

Dewey Tuesday night ran into some of the trouble that had tagged Wallace in the southern states because of Progressive leader's stand on the negro question. In Southern Illinois, generally regarded as friendly territory for Republicans, Dewey was the target of two flying tomatoes at Mt. Vernon. His security patrol said youngsters lobbed them from a nearby roof and promptly ran.

A few minutes later, at Beaucoup, Ill., the Dewey special train backed up into a crowd of about 1,000 persons who had turned out to hear him make a rear-platform speech. Everyone scattered in time.

Dewey took no notice of the tomato-throwing incident, but went on to urge that the American people "cast off the shackles of confusion and defeatism and despair" by electing a Republican administration

Blames Hollywood For Estrangement

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13 — (AP) Mrs. Constance Veronica Keane blamed Hollywood Tuesday for her estrangement for her daughter, Actress Veronica Lake.

Mrs. Keane filed suit against the actress yesterday, asking $500 monthly support. She contended Miss Lake earns $4 500 weekly.

The actress left home in 1943 and never returned, Mrs. Keane said today. "She fell under the influence of Hollywood and the people in it."

Since 1944, Mrs. Keane said her daughter has ignored her.

Miss Lake, wife of producer Andre De Toth, who said she is expecting her 'hird child within two weeks, declined comment Tuesday. But the actress said earlier she was upset that a mother and daughter should have that sort of relationship. She said she said her mother $115 a week until 1946, then cut the allowance because she is supporting her grandmother, mother-in-law, two children and a nurse.

New Plane Engine

WSAHINGTON, Oct 13—(AP) —The United States Air Force permitted disclosure Tuesday of a new gas turbine-propeller engine, the second of its type announced in the United States. It was designed for use on a giant long-range bomber, the Boeing B-52, which still is in the development stage.

Cobourg Knights Hear Dr. Crough

COBOURG, Oct. 13 (ENS). — Dr. E. M. Crough of Peterborough was the guest speaker at the Knights of Columbus communion breakfast held Sunday after first mass at the Baltimore hotel. Pat Lappin was chairman. Jack Lafay was pianist and Joe Delanty was song leader. Rev. G. J. Maher said grace and said the prayer for the Pope.

The speaker was introduced by Jack Butler, and thanked by J. W. Cosgrove, Grand Knights and by Lorne Blodgett. Forty-eight attended the affair.

Dr. Crough spoke on the higher aims of education. He pointed out that in spite of all the improvements in education, there is still a general lack of the appreciation of the true values of life.

It was unwise merely to train and develop one's mental muscles and capabilities and neglect the higher and moral elements. The aim of true education should be goodness and this goal is lost when the spiritual and moral aspects are ignored.

"We are lost and befogged today in the dust storm of school diplomas and certificates," the speaker declared.

"A school course is of little value if right living and moral standards are not stressed. True ideals of education will give students a purpose in life and none is complete without goodness and a definite idea of morality. Plato had said that education should fall within reach of young and old and also that women should have a right to education as well as man," Dr. Crough said.

$3,500 Fine Changed To Reformatory Term

KITCHENER, Oct. 13—(CP).—Denton C. Johnson, London, Ont., who was fined $3,500 last fall in connection with a serious offence against a 14-year-old New Hamburg girl, Tuesday was sentenced to eight months in the Ontario Reformatory at the County Criminal Court. The Attorney-General had appealed for a prison term in disagreement of a fine. Johnson was convicted a second time Sept. 28.

Perth County Judge H. D. Lang, who presided in the absence of Judge E. W. Clement, imposed the sentence.

The judge told Johnson if the girl had been a month and a half younger, it would have made an offence for which a maximum penalty of life imprisonment and lashes could have been given. In this case, the maximum could have been five years in prison.

There were 32 starters in the 2¼-mile race.

To Challenge Citation

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (AP). — Two European horses— the Aga Khan's Nathoo and Jean Nys' Belgian champion, Bayeaux— arrived Tuesday to challenge Citation in Saturday's $100,000 Empire City international gold cup race at Belmont.

The two winners had a rough trip by air but Nathoo, the 1948 Irish Derby winner, came through it in fine shape.

Bayeaux didn't fare as well The Belgian horse, nervous on the plane, suffered superficial bruises and scratches but is expected to be ready for the big race.

Citation, great three-year-old United States champion beaten only once this year, is favored in the rich 1¼-mile event.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA*
can steal away a woman's beauty!
BEAUTY fades when a woman's face grows pale—when her freshness is failing—her energy runs low. Yes, and these signs often come from a blood condition. If you have them, you may have a Borderline Anemia, a mild anemia due to a nutritional deficiency of iron.
The red cells in your blood may be too puny and faded. They may be weakened to the point where they can't transmit full energy to your body. Many people — women, men and children—drag through life with this Borderline Anemia.
How Ironized Yeast Tablets Build Up Your Blood and Vigor
So, if your color is poor—your energy low and this common blood condition's to blame—take Ironized Yeast Tablets. They are formulated to help build up faded red blood cells, and thus restore vigor. Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may be due to other conditions—so consult your doctor regularly. But in this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets to start your energy shifting back into "high"—to help restore your natural color! Take them so you can enjoy life again!

ASK TAMBLYN'S BY Kate Aitken

ILLUSTRATIVE ART: "I live 40 miles from Toronto and have two free evenings a week. Where could I take a course in illustrations? When do the classes start?"

Art classes are held in Toronto at Northern Vocational School; Central Technical School; Danforth Technical and Western Technical. If you write Dr. C. C. Goldring, 155 College Street, you could get details of what branch of art is taught, where classes start 7.30 p.m. each night. Fees for the entire season are $5.00 for a resident of Toronto, but $15.00 for a non-resident.

CORN-ON-THE-COB: "Can corn be canned without cutting it off the cob?"

It is possible to can the corn on the cob successfully. But the cobs take up so much room in the jars and there is so little corn to eat that most of us cut it off and can the kernels.

BABY TENDER: "How can I get a job as a baby tender at night? I have nurse's training and have brought up six children of my own. I would like to get with children whose mothers want them well looked after. Don't tell me to advertise, I did that and got nothing except my bill."

Contact the principal of your school, your minister, the superintendent of an apartment house. Your grocer, I'm sure would let you put a card in his shop. With so many mothers wanting this service, surely you can find a corner for yourself.

HONEYMOON: "My son is getting married in November and is having a time picking a place for a honeymoon. What would a trip by plane to New York cost him? What about hotels?"

Return plane fare to New York is $45.55 for one person. Hotel rates would be about $7.00 a day, plus meals. But New York in the fall is glamorous and exciting. It's an ideal place for a honeymoon.

The Indiscretion of Mr. Churchill

Hardly had Winston Churchill ceased speaking to the Conservatives at Llandudno on Saturday before his detractors were telling other audiences how 'indiscreet the British wartime Premier had been. Aneurin Bevan — himself one of the most indiscreet speakers in British politics in half a century—seemed dreadfully afraid that Mr. Churchill would excite the hostility of the Russians. Churchill, he reminded his audience, had tried to crush the Communist Revolution in 1920; the Russians would not forget this, and would regard Mr. Churchill as an enemy. Mr. Bevan, it appears, thinks that the Russians can still be lulled into a state of sweet reasonableness by liberal applications of soft soap. Churchill does not think so, and we think that Churchill is right.

* * *

Mr. Churchill is a man of very long experience in international affairs. He has met Marshal Stalin and bargained with him. He is an historian of renown, and he knows European history very well. We have seen Winston Churchill proved right in the matter of Germany, and it is surely reasonable to listen to him with respect on the subject of Russia? Why is it that Mr. Churchill, at 73, is so often spoken of by other politicians as though he were an irresponsible boy?

* * *

Churchill has proved, time and time again, that plain speaking and occasional shows of downright pugnacity are of great value in international dealings. He has no use for appeasement. He knows that a man who kicks you in the seat of the pants is not impressed if you pretend not to notice. And he knows also that the present regime in Russia understands only one kind of arbitrament, and that is the arbitrament of force. If we show that we are ready to go to war, thinks Churchill, the Russian appetite for aggression will disappear.

* * *

This is rough psychology and crude international dealing, but it is coherent, and it has worked many times in the course of history. Russia is not to be dealt with by subtle means. Pugnacious as Mr. Churchill is, we think that his 'indiscretion' will be heeded in Russia, for it is couched in terms which Russia understands.

Permitting Mixed Marriages

The Supreme Court of California recently revoked a statute which had been on its books for 76 years, which forbade marriages between white and coloured persons; there are now 28 states in the U.S.A. which have such a law in effect.

The existence of such laws is more important at this time than it ever was before, because the U.S.A. is the acknowledged leader of the forces of the western world — forces which we valiantly assert to be more enlightened, more liberal, and more democratic than the forces of communism. Laws forbidding white and coloured people to marry make sport of our pretensions, and many of us wish that other states would follow the example of California.

There are many people of fearful disposition who oppose the revocation of such laws, apparently dreading a sudden outbreak of miscegenation. They are the sort of people whose arguments generally boil down to "You wouldn't want one of your children to marry a Negro, would you?" Such argument has very little point, for the likelihood that a considerable number of people will marry persons of markedly different colouring or cultural background is very slight. Not many white people marry Negroes, but we feel that they should be free to do so if they wish. It should never be forgotten that Negroes, upon the whole, regard such marriages with just as much mistrust as do white people; only in exceptional circumstances can they bring happiness. But that is not the reason why they are forbidden by law; they are forbidden because of a fancied basic inferiority of the Negro peoples — the same sort of racial nonsense which was preached by Hitler.

Because we disapprove of communism, let us not fall prey to the foolish delusion that our own version of democracy is perfect.

Who Is Running U.N.?

Countries with communist governments are fond of asserting that U.N. is being made a tool of the western democracies, particularly of the United States. There is enough truth in this to make our noses quiver, but if we follow the scent a little it begins to fade out. The U.S.A. pays a large part of the expenses of U.N. but it does not call the tune all the time. South American, Asiatic, antipodean and western and northern European nations have their voices and important ones. It often happens that their voices are in tune with America's and Britain's, rather than with Russia's. That is not astonishing.

Russia wields a pretty big stick and wields it often—the veto. That has done more to rule U.N. than the dollars and policies of the United States. It was the Russian veto on August 18th which blocked Ceylon's entry into U.N. Ceylon has recently become a self-governing Dominion like Canada and Australia, and there is a possibility that it may become less closely knit with the rest of the Commonwealth than it is now as a Dominion. Russia maintained that Ceylon was not a sovereign and independent state. We may ask Russia if the Ukrainian and the Byelo-Russian Soviet republics are as independent as Ceylon. They are both member nations of U.N. Did not Moscow impose the other day a new travel ban against foreigners in Russia, without consulting either the Ukraine or the Byelo-Russian "independent" republic, and does not that ban apply to the territory of these two "independent and sovereign states"?

Paying The Country's Debts

Again and again the mischievous half-truth is repeated that the Liberal government now in power at Ottawa is taxing the people more heavily than is necessary, and is accumulating great reserves of money. It is true that we pay more in taxes than is needed to pay the country's running expenses, but the surplus money collected in this way is used to pay off large portions of our national debt.

Can any fault be found with such a proceeding? Every man who hopes to keep solvent and maintain his credit pays his debts when he can find the money to do so. That is what Canada is doing now. In spite of high prices Canada is enjoying a period of prosperity during which high taxes can be paid. Now is clearly the time to reduce our national debt as much as possible.

The average taxpayer thinks little about the national debt, but it costs him money all the same. Every million dollars included in the national debt was borrowed at interest and that interest can only be paid out of taxes. Is it not better, then, to pay off as much of the debt as possible rather than to continue to pay interest on borrowed money?

A country's credit is one of the most valuable assets it has. Canada's credit is good, and if we pay our debts when we can it will be better. In a world where so many countries are desperate for money it is good business to keep our credit in the best possible condition. If a slump should come we will have no money to pay our debts; it is wise to pay them now, and to face any possible slump with excellent credit.

No Hint Of A Labour Decline

There are political commentators who confidently predict that Labour will not survive a general election in Britain in 1950. They base their assertions upon what they hear from people as they travel through the country, and upon those mysterious portents which seem to mean so much to political observers. But the results of British by-elections do not suggest that Labour's hold on the country is declining. In the last two by-elections (Glasgow Gorbals and Stirling) Labour members have been returned just as they were in 1945.

The Gorbals sections of Glasgow is a great Labour stronghold. But Stirling is reasonably representative of Britain as a whole, and in 1945 the Labour member there was elected with a majority of 4,000. That majority had not declined much when the votes were counted in the recent by-election.

At present we see no reason to believe that Labour will not be returned in 1950. But there are suggestions that the Government may use its special powers to extend its term of office until 1952. We do not think that such behaviour would be at all pleasing to the British electorate, and if the Labour Government were to do so, we think that its chances in 1952 would not be much better than even.

CANADIAN CAUSERIE

Don't Let Them Terrify You!

By GEOFFREY VIVIEN

ONE of the least attractive features of American life is the advertising which aims at people's fears—fears of making social errors, of losing friends, of being laughed at or whispered about, of getting left out of things. So long as this type of appeal was kept to drug-store articles and suchlike it was not so bad; one could always buy the product of the rival firm. But when one finds the same approach being used by those whose business is with the English language the time has surely come for a note of protest.

* * *

THERE is of course nothing wrong with the business itself; in fact I would be very proud if I thought I had opened any person's eyes to the beauty of our native tongue. What is wrong is the emphasis: never on the beauty, always on the pitfalls: neighbours will exchange sly smiles if I say "who" meaning "whom"; friends will drop me if I pronounce "formidable" with the accent on the MID; my chances of promotion will dwindle when it is apparent that I cannot spell; I will never get a date with a nice girl when it gets about that my notions on punctuation are erratic and generally incorrect. Bunk!

* * *

IT is the insistence on the merely "correct" that I quarrel with most. We are all far too correct already, and for my own part the very last friend I would drop would be the one who had original ideas about grammar. Moreover, language is a living thing, and its masters are always breaking and remaking the rules. Take Dorothy Livesay's "Poems for People", which won the Governor General's award for poetry this year. It has this verse in a study of Franklin Delano Roosevelt:

I tell you, Walt....There was none....None other nowhere known....None from our time....Who sat so easy in the politician's saddle....And made it everyone's, our own.

"None....nowhere"—a double negative; something wrong there, murmur the purists. But for the effect that is aimed at, of driving home the point and at the same suggesting a forceful, unconventional character — how right it is!

* * *

THEN there's our old friend, the split infinitive. I am glad to see that even our Government officials are not letting themselves be cowed by the rules of the grammarians in this matter. In the income-tax form which you will fill in next time the stork comes your way you will find yourself declaring: "Further, I undertake, in accordance with the law, to immediately notify my employer by the filing of a new declaration on form T. D. 1 as soon as any change takes place in the facts above." "Oh—hoh", snicker the old-school grammarians, exchanging sly miles, "how uneducated these Canadians are!" We do not need to answer them; the perfect answer has already been given by the greatest living practitioner of the English language, George Bernard Shaw. More than fifty years ago, in protest against the literary critic of the Daily Chronicle who objected to the form "to suddenly go" he wrote: "Allow me to assure your readers that they may, without the slightest misgiving, turn their adverbed infinitives in any of the three possible ways. All they need to consider is which of the three best conveys by its rhythm the feeling they wish to express." To this piece of common-sense he added a bit of Shavian advice as to the appropriate treatment of the critic: "Be advised by me, Mr. Editor; send him adrift and try an intelligent Newfoundland dog in his place."

* * *

AS to punctuation, that is an art which one can approach in one of two ways. There is the mood of Oscar Wilde, who in answer to the question how he had spent the day, remarked "I was working on the proof of one of my poems all the morning, and took out a comma. In the afternoon I put it back again." Or there is the mood of the eccentric "Lord" Timothy Dexter, author of a work entitled "A pickle for the knowing one"; the first edition of this remarkable volume he issued without any punctuation at all; in the second edition he inserted a full page of assorted "stops", with instructions to his readers "to peper and salt as they plese". I incline to the Dexter approach.

* * *

AND I like his way too with spelling. There is an enormous charm about mis-spelling, as Artemus Ward, among other American humourists, was quick to discover. In fact often this was his humour's main support; as for example: "In a privit conversashun with Brigham I learnt the followin fax: it takes him six weeks to kiss his wives. He don't do it only onct a yere & sez it is wuss nor cleanin house." The genuine inability to spell is even more delightful. "I send you a million kissis" wrote Sir Peniston Lamb to his mistress, the notorious Mrs. Sophia Baddeley, "I hope you will get the horsis, but I beg you will not be so ventersum, as they are bad horsis, but will get one quiett....Pray destroy all letters lest anyone should find them by axcedent." Fate evidently did not hold his poor spelling against him, for his family was to rise in sp.endour and provide a Prime Minister for England in the 2nd Viscount Melbourne. Nor did the same weakness prevent the American explorers Lewis and Clark from earning the friendship of Jefferson and the admiration of posterity. Of course they were great men, and as mis-spellers absolutely inspired. Let those who would ram correctness down our throats remember that one of the really great moments of the exploration of this continent—when Clark finally sighted the Pacific—is recorded thus: "Ocian in view. O the joy!"

HIS VERSION

The pretty school teacher was trying to tell her pupils about the advent of spring.

"As I stood on the station platform one sunny morning waiting for my train I felt something lightly caressing my cheek. Can anyone tell me what it was?" she asked.

"The station-master's moustache?" suggested the small bad boy of the class.

Letter To The Editor

A NEW BROOKLIN-PETERBOROUGH HIGHWAY

Sir: Your extract in "How Time Flies" on Oct. 7, in regard to the proposed Brooklin-Peterborough highway calls attention to a matter that might well be re-examined in view of today's conditions. It could mean a lot to Peterborough and the Kawartha district.

The militia maps of the country between Brooklin and here are quite detailed showing contours and buildings. From these maps it appears that a route with easy grades and easy curves is feasible that does not depart more than half a mile from a straight line as the crow flies between Brooklin and here. Eight small streams are crossed but near their sources where they may be readily bridged with culverts. The natural crossing of the two rail lines comes at a point where the railroads go through cuts, thus the cost of overhead crossings become a minimum. The route lies largely through sand country where land values are low, and while considerable grading would be required to make the road bed it is of the cheapest kind readily done by the bulldozers and heavy earth-movers. Existing buildings may be readily bypassed. The distance is forty miles of straight going as compared with fifty-two miles of bad road on No. 7A and seventy miles by No. 7.

Today's circumstances are these: the new four lane road is completed from Toronto to Oshawa; only a few miles separates it from No. 7 from Pickering to Brougham or from Whitby to Brooklin; No. 7 from Peterborough to Ottawa is in excellent condition but is now used to one quarter of its capacity; No. 2 east of Oshawa is near its limit. If the ratio of traffic from Toronto to Ottawa and Montreal by car is the same as by rail there is one car leaving Toronto for Ottawa for every two for Montreal. The distance by road from Toronto to Ottawa by various routes is as follows: via Whitby, 7A and 7—267 miles; via No. 2, No. 28, No. 7—272 miles; via Kingston —280 miles; via No. 7 through Lindsay—285 miles; via No. 2 through Brockville—287 miles. The distance by the suggested road would be only 255 miles. This would seem sufficient incentive to divert the Ottawa traffic from No. 2 and No. 7 west of Oshawa where there is both a four lane and a two lane road leading to Toronto and thus relieve the traffic on No. 2 east of Oshawa. The additional traffic can be easily handled on No. 7 and would justify the money the province has spent to get it into its present shape. It would postpone the immediate necessity of extending the four lane road from Oshawa to the Quebec border. The cost of a Brooklin-Peterborough highway cannot be more than the cost of ten miles of four lane road along the lake front and is peanuts compared with the recently completed road to Red Lake. Very little cement would be required and this is a significant factor today.

Peterborough's interest is apparent. A direct link with the new four lane road would speed the American tourist into the Kawartha district in the style to which he has become accustomed. Most of us will agree now even that we should take the larger view, that of the province, and point out from our local knowledge a way in which, for a small investment, the province will obtain much better traffic utilization of its present large investment in highways, and which will postpone extensive super-highway construction until men and materials are available.

Yours truly,
H. R. SILLS.

Those Who Can't Read

Illiteracy in the United States dropped from 20 per cent. of all persons over 14 in 1870 to 6.5 per cent. in 1920, 4.7 per cent. in 1930 and 2.7 per cent. in 1947. So the Census Bureau has just reported. Reasons are found in the dying off of an older generation of illiterates, in better schools and compulsory attendance and in special training given drafted men during the Second World War. Another cause may be the increasing percentage of the population now living in urban areas. People in cities can hardly get along if they can't read. What poor schools and poor opportunities generally can do is shown by the percentage for "non-whites," most of whom are Negroes. Of these 11 per cent. are unable to read.

Worse yet, there are what the Census Bureau calls "functional illiterates," who have had not more than four years of schooling and did not learn enough to be at home in the world of the printed word. There are about 5,600,000 of these. There must be many others who never acquired the reading habit —probably enough to throw a national election one way or the other if they all voted alike. They do not vote alike, but they do vote on what is obviously insufficient information. The radio might be a substitute, in part, for the written word. An illiterate citizen who listened to all the broadcast speeches of all the Presidential candidates might be able to make up his mind intelligently. But it is not likely that illiterate citizens do listen to that extent. The ability to understand general ideas, of the sort that go into even the simplest political speeches, requires a background of reading.

We have come a long way. For instance, 24 out of 25 "non-whites" between 14 and 24 can now read, as contrasted with one in three of those over 65. But we need to go further. We need not only to wipe out illiteracy but to teach young people in our school to read easily and understandingly. Our democracy is imperfect if they do not.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Behold, ye fast for strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickedness: ye shall not fast as ye do this day, to make your voice to be heard on high. Is it such a fast that I have chosen? a day for a man to afflict his soul? is it to bow down his head as a bulrush, and to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? wilt thou call this a fast, and an acceptable day to the Lord?

Is not this the fast that I have chosen? to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye brake every yoke? Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him; that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh? Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thine health shall spring forth speedily: and thy righteousness shall go before thee; the glory of the Lord shall be thy reward....

And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not. And they that shall be of thee shall build the old waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations; and thou shalt be called, The repairer of the breach, The restorer of paths to dwell in. (Isa. 58: 4-8, 11, 12.)

Versailles Now Restored To Old Glory

By NORMAN CRIBBENS.

VERSAILLES, France, Oct. 13 —(CP). — Four years after the last German left Versailles, this historic city of statues and tapestries has been restored to its full glory.

Thousands of tourists are flocking back to see the palatial chateau immortalized by Louis XIV, the grand and petit Trianons where Marie Antoinette once lived; the garden lakes, the fountains and monuments that have been reproduced all over the world.

Now as before the war Versailles caterers seek to satisfy all tastes. In typical French cafes along the wide, tree-lined Avenue de Chateau, English breakfasts are served, and at four in the afternoon the large, white-walled dining-room of the Hotel d'Angleterre takes on the aspect of an English tea room.

Food that Britons seldom see nowadays — steaks, chops, ham and eggs—are available in plenty and devaluation of the franc has brought them within the reach of small wage earners from Britain.

Despite the four-year German occupation and occasional allied bombings, Versailles suffered no appreciable damage though the palaces and gardens of the chateau deteriorated through neglect.

Damp due to the lack of heating, caused fading and bulging through mouldiness of many famous tapestries and paintings, but this has been remedied by chemical treatment and the classic gardens, weedy and unkempt when the Germans left, have been restored to a well-ordered riot of color.

An official said that Germans and many French collaborators carried on a four-year hunt for valuables spirited away from the palace for safe-keeping in 1939, but never unearthed a single piece.

CCL Denounces Russ Aggression Jackson Says Soviet Scapegoat

TORONTO, Oct. 13 — (CP) — The Canadian Congress of Labor is on the record with a blunt, up-to-date denunciation of Russian aggression.

Delegates voted decisively on Tuesday to write a stiffly-worded foreign-policy resolution into the program being drafted at the five-day eighth annual congress convention.

That was done over the objections of a never-say-die minority headed by 54 representatives of the United Electrical workers. They harshly criticized Marshall play as "imperialistic aggression" and their leader, C. S. Jackson of Toronto, said "big business" has chosen Russia as a "scapegoat."

Pat Conroy of Ottawa, secretary-treasurer in the strongly anti-communist C.C.L. executive, sparked the reply.

"We must take a stand now for freedom and decency," he said, "a stand to fight appeasement and aggression."

Wildly Applauded.

The convention greeted his short speech with wild applause, then voted by a margin of about 7 to 1 to approve this resolution:

"1. We condemn the totalitarian activites in Soviet Russia and its satellite nations. . .

"2. We condemn most vigorously the inhuman and aggressive blockade of Berlin, the only purpose of which can be the systematic starvation of its citizens in the interests of Russian military expansion.

"3. We greet the formation of Western European democractic defence alliance and we urge that Canada should indicate its readiness to participate in an Atlantic defence conference against spreading totalitarianism.

"4. We . . . call upon the United Nations to put its house in order and become an effective and militant enforcement agency for the peace of the world . . . ."

Mr. Jackson. Canadian director of the U. E. W., spearheaded the attack on the resolution. He said it was full of "stuff and nonsense" and was but an echo of "the Canadian foreign policy which has sold Canadian independence to the United States dollar mart."

His union, generally regarded as communist-dominated also was in the forefront Monday when the issue of reinstatement of another reddish union was put to the convention. Over opposition sparked by the U. E. W., the delegates voted to sustain the suspension of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

A few other speakers supported Mr. Jackson's contention that the resolution was "a war document." But there was equally effective defence for the foreign-policy statement.

"That kind of talk is unfortunate," said Claire Gillis, a United Steelworkers delegate and C.C.F. member of parliament for Cape Breton South. "That's the kind that promotes war and is disrupting the United Nations today."

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK —By J. R. Scott

Indian Still Flouts Court Jurisdiction

QUEBEC, Oct. 13 — (CP). — Jules Sioui, the irrepressible Huron of the nearby Ancienne Lorette Reserve, Tuesday again declined to recognize the jurisdiction of a Canadian court to try a case involving a North American Indian.

The 42-year-old secretary-treasurer of the provisional government of North American Indians, faces trial on charges of seditious conspiracy and of obtaining money by false pretences. He is alleged to have incited his people to rebellion.

In a written statement submitted to the court Tuesday, Sioui claimed the United Nations organization recently had taken under study a claim by the Indians of North America for recovery of property. This, he maintained, nullified at least temporarily the power of a Canadian tribunal on Indian matters.

TO SUCCEED HARRIS—The names of Charley (Chuck) Dressen, Left, Yankee coach, and Jim Turner, former Yankee pitcher now managing Portland, Pacific Coast league team, are being mentioned as possible successors to Stanley (Bucky) Harris as manager of the Yanks. Harris' dismissal surprised as he won the pennant and world championship for the Yanks last season, his first with the club, and had the team in the running this year as late as the day before the season closed. However, Casey Stengel was appointed as the new manager yesterday.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Girls' basketball may be starting a week from Friday night in the YWCA if all the cage entries are in soon. It is expected the same squads as last year will be back once more, playing in two or three sections. Officers for the coming season are: Hon. President, Mrs. F. L. Thompson; president, Shirley Curtis; vice-prexy, Jean Caverly; secretary, Margaret Kennedy; treasurer, Jean Johnson; advisory committee, Miss Caroline Littlefield, Jean Castle, Alicia Perry and Howie Macdonald. The loop enjoyed a successful season last year, and should have a better one this time with an earlier start of the schedule.

Central Ontario Badminton Association met recently in Bowmanville and re-elected the complete slate of officers for the winter campaign. Cliff Palmer of Oshawa is head, Dr. Charles Austin of Bowmanville, vice-prexy, Miss Kay Hopkins of Oshawa the secretary-treasurer, and Rolly Kinton of the Motor City auditor. Representatives from Lindsay, Whitby, Peterborough, Oshawa and Bowmanville welcomed a new club from Belleville and it will be one of the strongest in the circuit with about 200 members. The annual tourney this year will be Feb. 25-26 either in Lindsay or Belleville, and a junior tournament may be staged, too.

Extra Player Allowed

—The 1948-49 CAHA rule book arrives and, while it shows a number of changes in the rules, most are of a minor nature. But we're glad to see they've raised the number of players on a team to 15, including two goalkeepers. This permits a coach to have three complete lines of forwards and two complete defence pairs, so that he isn't breaking up his lines during a game. Neither goalie can exercise the authority of a captain on the ice. All players must wear a number at least 10 inches high on the backs of sweaters so that they may be identified readily. One new angle is worded thusly: "Note—In the case where it is obvious that a player has sustained a serious injury the referee may stop play immediately." Previously he had no choice but to wait till that particular play was finished.

Bill Tobin of Chicago Hawks has a great NHL setup there, the arena packing in 17,000 regularly throughout the season. Fans line up from 6.30 on for an 8.30 contest. As Dan Odette points out, they don't find the time dragging as there's organ music and a special game devised for them. It consists of throwing paper darts into wicker baskets in the centre of each blue line. Any fan tossing a dart in gets a free ducat to the next game. Many folks weigh down the point of the dart with a penny, so the sweepers do okay, too. The club pays $10,000 so that games may be broadcast.

A meeting of the Civic Hockey League is called for this Friday night at 7.30 in the YMCA. Entries will close at this time, and the session is open to everyone interested. This is a new puck circuit, and a follow-up to a large and entertaining Civic Softball League which made its debut here last summer. A lot of fellows, including police, firemen, mail carriers, bus drivers, clerks, etc., got into competition and had a good time. They hope to do as well on the ice, playing at least some of their games in the new Civic Arena. The building, by the way, is going right ahead, and a big financial drive for funds to pay it off commences next week.

Oshawa scribe writes: "On Saturday here, in the driving rain and mud, the Red Raiders dropped a 9-2 decision to Orillia Bombers. Feelings ran high and they had a scrap near the finish, with a broken nose and some missing teeth resulting, all Orillia casualties. The visitors lost the services of Storey, their ace halfback, when he suffered what is feared to be a broken hip. It was a rugged game, with vigorous tackling being the prominent feature. On Monday, the Red Raiders journeyed to the Liftlock City and came out on the short end of another stern intermediate ORFU scheduled tilt, with Panthers improving heir chances with a timely victory. At Peterborough on Saturday, the OCVI senior grid squad took a 30-0 lacing at the hands of the strong Liftlock City students."

Men Cagers Organize

Annual meeting of the Outboard Marines' cage club (men) is tonight at 7.30 in the "Y", those interested being invited. For both the "A" and "B" intermediate squads. The "A" team, Ontario champs in 1947, lost out in provincial semi-finals last spring. They should be quite a bit stronger this coming basketball season with such players as Plunkett, Smith, Warren, Dadson and a few more available along with last season's lineup. Some talk of a possible intermediate "A" grouping with Toronto teams but nothing for sure yet. Meantime, the club will hold a raffle and get organized for the 1948-49 cage campaign.

Casey Stengel Manager Of N.Y. Yankees

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Oct 13.—(AP)—Happier, if not more profitable days, are sure to be ahead for New York Yankees with Charles Dillon Stengel, the inimitable Casey, as the new manager of the club.

Stengel who gained big-league baseball fame as a player with New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers, and who later managed the Brooks as well as Boston Braves, was signed Tuesday to a two-year contract. He succeeded Bucky Harris, who resigned last week.

The 57-year-old Missourian joins the conservative Yankees with a reputation as a madcap maestro with a flair for comedy. But he also possesses a keen, analytical mind and a comprehensive idea of what the game is all about.

He comes back to the big leagues after five years in the minors. Only last Sunday he finished piloting the Oakland club to a Pacific Coast League pennant and play-off championship.

His greatest forte is said to be developing young players. It was Stengel who first saw greatness in Johnny Sain and Warren Spahn, and who developed Gene Bearden into a star pitcher for Cleveland Indians.

Full of Antics

Although Stengel was a big-league outfielder for 13 years, he is best remembered for his laugh-provoking antics on the diamond.

There was the time when Casey, objecting to playing a long-drawn-out game in semi-darkness, produced a toy flashlight to summon Fred Frankhouse, a pitcher, from the bullpen to the mound. Although the spectators rocked with laughter, Casey drew a $25 fine for the ludicrous gesture.

Another time, Stengel was warned by umpire Bill Klem to cease his heckling or he would be evicted from the grounds. In Casey's next turn at bat, Klem called a strike on him, whereupon Casey bowed graciously to Klem, doffed his cap and out flew a bird.

Stengel batted .368 and .339 for the Giants in 1922 and 1923, respectively, and starred in the losing '23 world series against the Yankees. Stengel won both Giants victories with home runs.

Collective "Thanks"

LONDON, Oct. 13 — (CP). — Britain's collective "thank you" for more than 50,000,000 food parcels received since 1940 from Canada, other Commonwealth countries and the United States was made Tuesday by Food Minister John Strachey.

AT THE BROCK TONIGHT—Charlie Green, English wrestling champion, shown above, who will meet jarring Jack Moore in the opening bout. The English grappler will press his claim for more important bouts here if he gets past Moore. The chief interest, of course, is in the main bout which brings together Whipper Billy Watson, British Empire champion, and John Katan, the Palermo Panther. The veteran Katan has about as much rib-crushing power and tendon-twisting science as any man in the game, is always dangerous and it will take all the Whipper's sensational ability to ward him off. In the semi-final Big Ben Morgan, 350-pound giant from Tennessee hills will meet another tall athlete in Ben Sharpe of Hamilton. Tonight's card shapes up as the best of the season.

Ball Champions Disclose Winter Plans

CLEVELAND, Oct. 13 (AP).—With the toughest baseball grind in history finally behind them, some of the world champion Cleveland Indians are going to relax a bit by playing baseball.

That went today for such worthies as Bob Lemon, Walt Judnich, Steve Gromek and probably Bob Kennedy. Pitcher Lemon and outfielder Judnich, both Californians, have coast barnstorming plans. Pitcher Gromek and outfielder Kennedy figure on some exhibition games around Detroit.

Even Satchel Paige, who must have been throwing knucklers when Hans Wagner was a rookie, checked out shortly after Tuesday's hysterical victory parade and headed east.

His parting shot: "Gotta keep my arm loosened up, so I'll probably do some throwing during the barnstorming season."

Bob Feller is going to have one final fling. It will be in the annual homecoming game Saturday at his hometown, Van Meter, Ia. Then: "Fishing, hunting, golf and flying—that about takes care of my winter plans."

Most of the others, however have seen enough bats and mitts for a while.

Joe Gordon, the old pro second baseman, will head later this week for Eugene, Ore., for hunting, fishing and work in his hardware store. Third baseman Ken Keltner plans to open a new bicycle shop in his hometown, Milwaukee.

3 Glamor Boys

The Indians have three glamor boys.

Johnny Berardino, utility infielder, already is a familiar figure in Hollywood and expects to go back for some off-season acting. Lou Boudreau, the shortstop manager, has been offered a movie part but hasn't said much about it.

And Universal - International Pictures Corporation has suggested a screen test for Gene Bearden, the pitching sensation of the series.

If he gets the job, fine, says Bearden, but if it falls through he may go back as an electricians' assistant at a movie studio.

'Chuck' Loveless On Inkerman Rockets

MARMORA, Oct. 13—(ENS).—Charles A. Loveless, son of Mr and Mrs. H. O. Loveless of Deloro, will be absent from the line-up of Marmora's TVL hockey team this season.

The former Marmora right winger, who recently celebrated his 19th birthday, will be in the uniform of the Inkerman Rockets of the Junior "A" rating. He is now living in Winchester and attending its High School. "Chuck" was one of the speediest players on the local team.

FORD FRICK, U.S. National League president, rests on the rail in Boston while watching a game of the series between Boston and the Cleveland Indians. This is a pose made famous by the late Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, czar of baseball.

Cobourg Victors

COBOURG, Oct. 13.—(ENS).—Playing before a poor crowd under rain which poured down for half the game, Cobourg Galloping Ghosts defeated Trenton RCAF here Monday by the score of 26-2. Trenton led Cobourg 1-0 until just before half time, when the Ghosts evened it up. Cobourg had the wind at their backs in the second half and the rain let up for the rest of the game.

Bullock kicked for Trenton's single in the first quarter. In the second quarter Cooper kicked for one point for Cobourg. Cobourg kicked from midfield and Poynton fell on the ball for a touchdown when the Trenton receiver fumbled it. At half time the score was 6-1 for Cobourg.

Early in the third quarter, Currelley scored a touchdown that was not converted. Cobourg worked the ball to Trenton's 30-yard line. Connors kicked and then broke through and recovered his own kick on the five yard line. Cooper passed it to Hoselton for a touch. This was followed by one of the best plays of the game. Jamieson took the ball 15 yards and then passed to Quigley who ran it 25 yards for a touchdown, bringing the score to 21-1. Jamieson ran the ball from Trenton's 25 yard line to the nine yard line and Cooper passed it to Quigley for another five points.

In the last quarter McLarty kicked a single for Trenton's remaining point. For Trenton RCAF the best performers were Bullock, McMinn and McLarty and for Cobourg, Connors, Cooper, Quigley and Jamieson.

Happenings In Hockey

Jack Harper, one of the two top payoff backs of the free-wheeling Hamilton Tigers, still leads the Eastern Canada senior football race.

Statistics compiled by The Canadian Press show Harper with 35 points in six Ontario Rugby Football Union games, three more than Joe Krol tallied in his eight starts with Toronto Argonauts in the Big Four Union.

The lanky Harper's nearest rival in the ORFU scoring is teammate Gerry Walsh, one-time Halifax rugger player, who has hit a touchdown-a-game clip with 30 points in six starts. Garry Smith of Toronto Beaches Indians ranks third with 21 although he failed to score in two week-end games against the Tigers.

Dressed in a "new look" black skirt, Barbara Ann Scott Tuesday night faced off the puck in an exhibition match between the New York Rangers and the Ottawa Senators in the Ottawa auditorium. NHL Rangers defeated the Quebec Senior Hockey League squad 9-3.

Cleveland's world series champions received a thunderous welcome home from the baseball wars Tuesday as an estimated 200,000 people yelled themselves hoarse in a demonstration unsurpassed in the city's history. A bombardment of cheers, whistles, horns, confetti and balloons was unleashed when the Indians stepped off their special train.

Dusky Joe Pyle of New Waterford, NS, leading contender for Johnny Greco's Canadian welterweight title, Tuesday night knocked out fellow townsman Tommy Spencer at Halifax in the third round of a 10-round bout, billed as a Maritime welterweight championship fight. Pyle weighed 145½. Spencer 145.

Bolaris, fleet-footed daughter of Fairaris and Bold Fay, Tuesday took an easy win in the Orpen Cup and Saucer preliminary at Long Branch race track and became favored to win the two-year-old event Saturday. Bolaris did the seven furlongs in 1.29 with Bobby Watson up. J. Frode Seagram's Grilled was second and Bunty Line from the John Stuart stables third.

Harry Markson, publicity chief of the 20th Century Sporting Club, was named managing director on Tuesday at the same time the Mike Jacobs organization announced in New York the hiring of two former members of the rival Tournament of Champions, Inc., entourage. The two outfits have been battling each other for approximately a year.

A. W. Steel, president of the Canadian Boxing Federation, said Tuesday night at Toronto that Harry Hurst's challenge for a title bout with Canadian lightweight champion Arthur King, should have been made through the Montreal Boxing Commission. Hurst, a Montreal boxer, Tuesday filed a challenge for a match with King.

Ted Kennedy's Whites ran up a 5-2 count over Max Bentley's Blues Tuesday night in Toronto Maple Leafs annual blue and white charity game. Howie Meeker poked in three goals for winners, aided by Kennedy and Frankie Mathers with one each. Bob Dawes and Fleming Mackell scored for losers.

The same teams as last year are expected to re-enter and it is hoped to start the season considerably earlier this year in order that playoffs won't be crowded coming on toward spring. It is possible that some of the teams will swing into action on Friday, Oct. 22. The schedule will be drawn up shortly.

NHL Opener In Detroit Earliest Yet

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(CP).—The National Hockey League opens its earliest season in history tonight when Chicago Black Hawks and Detroit Red Wings face off in Detroit in the first game of the loop's 1948-49 campaign.

With the exception of New York Rangers, all of the circuit's six teams appear to be in great shape for the gruelling 180-game schedule. Each of the clubs will play 60 games, 30 at home and 30 away. The regular season ends Sunday, March 20, with Stanley Cup playoffs scheduled to follow.

Toronto Maple Leafs, who won the pennant and Stanley Cup last season, reign as favorites to repeat The Leafs will ice practically the same team that hustled to the top last year.

Chief Leaf among the missing is Syl Apps, captain and star centre. Apps has retired but Cal Gardner, obtained from the Rangers in the off season, is counted upon to fill the gap.

Gardner, along with Ted Kennedy, the new captain and Max Bentley, give the Leafs three of the best centres in the league.

Detroit, runners-up last year, is counted upon to give the Leafs the most trouble.

A three-way battle for third and fourth place among Boston, Montreal and Chicago is a strong possibility.

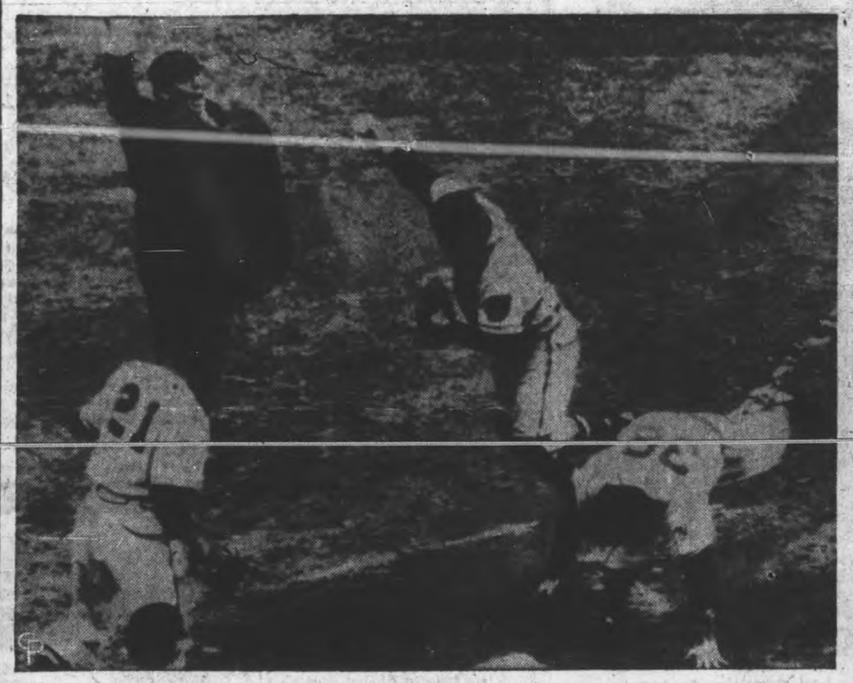
Depend on Veterans

The Bruins are depending a lot on veteran performers.

Montreal is always a threat as long as Maurice (Rocket) Richard is around. The colorful right winger is one of the best scorers in the game.

Richard and his line mate Elmer Lach, the circuit's scoring king last year, are expected to carry the brunt of the attack. As usual, the Canadiens have a good defence crew. Bill Durnan is in the nets and he has Ken Reardon, Butch Bouchard, Glen Harmon and Roger Leger in front of him.

The Hawks are the most improved team in the league. They have two high-scoring lines in Bud Poile, Gus Bodnar and Gaye Stewart and Doug Bentley, Willie Mosienko and Roy Conacher.



CLEVELAND OUTFIELDER Thurman Tucker, trying to score in the confusion when Boston Pitcher Warren Spahn picks Indian First Baseman Eddie Robinson off first base in the eighth inning of the final 1948 World Series game at Boston, finds himself enmeshed in a run-down between third base and home. Indians won, 4 to 3.

OHA Junior 'A' Circuit Kicks Off Season Friday

TORONTO, Oct. 13 — (CP). — Eastern Canada's largest breeding ground of future hockey stars—the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A circuit—swings into action this week after feverish days of pre-season activity.

With two games originally scheduled for tonight postponed, the loop opens on three fronts Friday night with Stratford at Guelph, Oshawa at Barrie and Galt at St. Catharines.

Barrie's game at Stratford and Toronto Marlboros at Windsor have been postponed. Toronto St. Michael's College opens Saturday at Windsor.

The league was cut to nine teams this year when Toronto Young Rangers dropped out of the circuit.

Seven players remain from last year with coach Hap Emms of Barrie—Goal Gil Meyer, defencemen Bob Bingley and Stan Long, forwards Sid McNabney, Paul Meger, Don Ashbee and George Ford.

Meger is expected to be one of the league's stars this season. Newcomers expected to be in the line-up are: Gord Pennell, Gary Gordon, Ernie Keefe, Earl Cheffelis, Enso Zanatta, Gord Brown, Ed Downer, Ab Plouffe, John Shedden and Jack Leckie.

Runner-Up

Windsor Spitfires, runner-up to Barrie in the OHA, have Marcel Pronovost, George Oulette and John Drury in defence. Dave O'Meara, son of Montreal sports writer Baz O'Meara, and Dennis Mooney will share goal tending chores. The forward brigade will display John and Larry Wilson, Doug McGinn of Timmins, Bert and Bruce Giesebrecht, Francis O'Grady of Kirkland Lake, Glen Skov, Jim (Red Eye) Hay, Gerry Lavergne, and Elwood Ritchie.

Oshawa's rugged Generals expect a big season with holdovers Frank Sullivan on defence, Dusty Blair, Dick Gamble, Gerry Scott and Ted O'Connor on the forward lines. Gord Hudson, 210-pound defenceman from Ottawa Senators, is teaming up with Sullivan for rearguard duties. Two junior goalies, Bob Shropshire and Hank Lawson, are trying out for the netminding job. A host of other youngsters will fill out the club.

Stronger Defence

St. Catharines Teepees are rated much stronger defensively over last year. The team will feel the loss of high-scoring Zellio (Topper) Toppazzini, to Boston Bruins but four holdovers—Tom Buck, Jack McIntyre, Fred Hildebrand and George Sullivan—will be present. Newcomers include goalies Don Campbell of Stratford and George Scott of Winnipeg, along with defenceman Don Telford and Gord Byers of Copper Cliff. Bud Evans of Brandon, Bill Buschlen, Marcel Clements of Sudbury and Jerry Toppazzini of Copper Cliff, also will be on hand.

Coach Leo Barbini has Stratford Kroehler veterans like goalies Harold Burley and Don Campbell, defencemen Joe Beda and Billy Mitchell, and forwards Dinny Flanagan, Pierre Cadieux and Ken Candler. To these have been added George Chin, with Windsor two years ago, Katzman and O'Hearn of St. Catharines, Jim Pernfuss and Doug French of Toronto Marlboros.

Toronto St. Michael's College will have Winnipeg Monarchs star Don Roper in the line-up, and the squad is seeking the services of Mike and Neil Buchanan of Ottawa.

Out-of-towners include Red McCarthy, Bob Fabourin, and Bonhomme of Sudbury, Hal McNamara of Falconbridge, Marshall of Kirkland Lake and Cooney from Windsor. Holdovers are goalie Tom Shea, rugged rearguard Tim Horton, and forwards Gord Hannigan, Wally Clune, Gerry Fitzhenry, Bill McNamara, Brian McAllister, Pete Whelan and Joe De Courcey.

Washington 5-2 Barons Trounce

By The Canadian Press

The defending champion Cleveland Barons, winners of their last 27 regular games last season, retained the winning habit Tuesday night when American Hockey League staged its earliest opening in history.

The Barons, boasting another powerhouse of seasoned veterans, romped to an easy 5-2 victory over Washington Lions in the capital city.

The triumphs of St. Louis Flyers and Springfield Indians promished better things for these low-place clubs last season.

The Flyers turned in their first shutout victory since the 1944-45 season by defeating Buffalo Bisons 4-0 behind the steady netminding of goalie Ralph (Red) Almas Eddie Shore's Indians, who had beaten Pittsburgh only once last year, shaded the strong Hornets 4-2.

At Washington the home club had even share of play for the first two periods, trailing only 3-2 going into the third, but Cleveland stepped up their offensive for two markers in the final stanza while the Lions went scoreless.

Freddie Thurier and Pete Leswick were the top Baron marksmen with a pair of goals each, while Ab Demarco notched the other counter.

300 Tractors and 50 Teams Entered In Plowing Match; Machinery Exhibit Large

By HARRY THEOBALD

Capricious weather was threatening the International Plowing Match in its opening Tuesday three miles west of Lindsay with too much of the moisture farmers were hoping for and almost despairing of a week ago when the dust was flying in the wake of tractors.

The rural scene along the Cambray Road and No. 7 Highway is all set for new records, some of them already assured, providing there is no more rain.

The temporary tented city which annually attaches itself to the match is bigger and better than ever, and is replete with interest even for the layman who doesn't know a coulter from a moldboard. Clark Young of Milliken, treasurer of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, the official in charge of concessions and the collection of their fees, told The Examiner the number of exhibits, chiefly of farm implements, is one-third larger than at Kingston last year. And Kingston with its sunshine and coatless weather and dry ground was a new record in the 34th year of the big agricultural show.

The international scope, asserted in the name of the match, has more warrant than might be assumed from the presence of the five plowmen who have come all the way from Northern Ireland, one of them bringing his own plow, a product of a Belfast implement manufacturer. Several United States industrial banners were noticed among the familiar Canadian company names blazoned along the streets of the many acres occupied by the mechanical displays. The first two men with badges hailed by the Examiner were Americans. They had a spraying display from Pennsylvania.

Need Sun to Dry Mud

The farm machinery demonstration established the first record. Others are almost certainties, providing the sun gets a chance to dry the gumbo. Some cars that had bogged down in the half foot of mud, churned by the early traffic, had to call for tows to the nearby sod. The clay loam clutched off rubbers, and forced the expedient of tying them on with heavy cord. From the quonset type building of the headquarters staff, placed at the farthest end of the tented field, across to the attractive display of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests under the name of Hon. Harold R. Scott of Peterborough, boughs of red pine were laid for fairly solid footing.

Out in the fields the competing plows turned up furrows in soil that was ideally dampened, but the roads that were recently shaped by bulldozers in a field that was sod last week were heavy with mud. Sunshine Tuesday morning promised the needed drying, blotting up the excess moisture with the aid of a strong wind, but the afternoon brought clouds with occasional spatters of light rain.

The weather greeted the match and the expectant directors in an ironic mood, switching to the drenching rains of last Friday, and repeated on Thanksgiving Day, that had been stored up in the skies through long weeks when farmers sorely needed it for the home plowing they had to put off.

So much for the Tuesday and opening day prospect. Bring on the sunshine and further records will be hung up in the number of daly contestants and in the prospect of something like 100,000 visitors by Friday afternoon when the judges award the final prizes.

Plowmen of District

The twelve classes on the Tuesday program were only for the plowmen of Peterborough, Durham, Ontario and Victoria, a preliminary to the open events that get under way today.

While these contests were going on, young tractormen from various parts of the province were practicing in fields beyond the range of the farms chosen for the match grounds. These were work outs or tuning up performances. Groups of three or four of these plowers, arriving a day ahead of their schedule, drove their tractors along this road and that, looking for fields in sord or stubble that needed plowing.

The men from Northern Ireland are staying for the week at the home of E. Howard Terrill, two miles north of the central field of the match. They were rehearsing Tuesday morning and afternoon in sod. Peter Fitzpatrick, their secretary, said they were not accustomed to working in stubble at home, only "lea land." John Hart, chairman of the Northern Ireland Plowmen's Assocaition, accompanied the team in his presidential capacity. The three plowmen are James Morrow of Bangor, County Down, R. A. Erwin of Killead, Antrim, and Thomas Reid of Moneyrea, County Down.

Mr. Morrow will compete in classes for horse-drawn plows, the two others are driving tractors. At the Terrill farm Mr. Morrow said the second team he tried Tuesday was entirely satisfactory. "I soon found that we got along well together. They worked willingly for me, and understood my directions as if they had known me a long time. I hope they work as smoothly for me in the match."

The tractor men were getting acquainted with mechanical details that were unfamiliar to them, and in a sod field rich with humus they showed the skill that must have recommended them for the trip to Canada.

Irish Plow

Mr. Irwin's two-furrow plow is a product of B. & E. McCutcheon & Co., Belfast. Its moldboard is six or eight inches longer than the ordinary Canadian plow.

Farmers can spend probably an entire afternoon with profit among the new mechanical ideas that are assembled in the big demonstration area. Buckrakes, balers and combines, corn pickers, all the machinery of the fields and the harvest in their latest forms and refinements; mechanics of the dairy farm; fertilizers, spraying outfits, a broad range of electrical appliances including those of the household; irrigation; and tractors all over the place.

Those are the bright and shiny machines not yet soiled. From all the accounts of industrial backlogs, the steel products gathered together in the big lot must have been made specially for the plowing match crowds.

The tractor park, the machines to be used in the match, is a collection of more than 300, that have come from near and far, at least a radius of 50 miles or thereabouts. Some of them have been trucked from miles east of Peterborough.

Only 50 Teams

Clark Young said applications for horses up to Tuesday were for only 50 teams.

"Fifty teams to 300 tractors," he commented, "shows the trend in the mechanics of plowing. Not so long ago it was two teams for one tractor, and we can all remember when the tractor classes were introduced in our programs."

Various departments of government offer interesting exhibits. The Ontario Lands and Forests show half a dozen tanks of fish, maskinonge, black bass, cat fish, dog fish. And in pens are families of foxes and raccoons; and an attractive arrangement of trees of various ages, including the red pine whose branches bridged the mud in front of that tent.

John A. Carroll, secretary-manager of the match, was happy in the fresh fullfilment of his predictions in the years gone by of the increasing importance of the plowing match in rural Ontario and its usefulness in bringing to farmers the latest developments in agricultural machinery and many other products planned for general farm advantage.

Peterborough district was largely represented in the classes of the intercounty program.

Class 1, open, using horses and jointer plows in sod, drew eight contestants including Wm. Hooton of Cavan, Alvin Mark of Sunderland, and the Marquis men of Sunderland.

Ernest Kelk left a splendid plot behind him in class 2, also with horses. He and Wm. Hill of Greenbank had that class all to themselves.

28 Enter Tractor Class

But, the first tractor class, open to the four counties and using two furrow plows, brought out 28 of the expeprienced match men of the district. They included Joe Tran of Claremont, a familiar name in Peterborough and Durham matches; Vern Campbell of Douro; Neil MacFarlane, Wm Robson, John Edmison, Morris Telford, Ed. Hogg, Robert Jackson, Don MacFarlane, all of Peterborough; Kenneth McMann, Omemee; Anson Morton, Cavan; John Hooton, Cavan.

The Dunsford - Fenelon Falls sections of Victoria were strongly represented.

Among the nine men in the three furrow open tractor class were: Paul McGuire, Omemee; Russell Kennedy and Eric Fallis, Millbrook; Howard Henry, Campbellcroft.

Harold Hooton of Cavan entered the open stubble section for horses. Roy Luney of Cavan was among the boys in class nine, with horses in stubble.

Walker Ford of Peterborough and Lorraine Henderson, Millbrook, competed in the two furrow tractors in stubble; and Lyle McMillan, Norwood, with three furrow tractors, also Ben Cook of Bewdley and Earl Henry, Campbellcroft.

The tractor class for boys and girls under 17, one, two or three furrows, included among the 19 contestants: Trevor Fallis and Allan Thompson, Millbrook; David Garbutt and Donald Garbutt, Lakefield; Glen Allen Jones, South Monaghan; Orville Mc; Mann, Omemee.

THE ONLY ALTERNATIVE to atomic war is revolution in Russia, according to Constantine Boldyreff (above), powerful Russian rebel leader who worked with the U.S. military government in Germany in World War II. Boldyreff believes that the great mass of Russia's 167,000,000 people are ready for revolt. All they need is leadership. Boldyreff represents a world-wide Russian anti-Communist organization dedicated to the overthrow of the Stalin regime. The organization known as "Nacionalno Troudovoy Souz" has operated in the dark for 18 years, he said.

King One of Busiest Men Works Till 8 Every Night

By NORMAN CRIBBENS.

LONDON, Oct. 13 — (CP). — Strolling the pavements outside Buckingham Palace, watching the sentries parade to and fro or staring up at the rows of silent-looking windows facing the Mall is a favorite recreation of the London sightseers— especially sightseers from the country.

Palace policemen are not usually communicative, but now and then scraps of information filter through the iron railings.

The King rises most mornings at 7:30 a.m. He breakfasts with the Queen in the Royal apartments on the first floor, then adjourns to his book-lined study on the second, where he reads a selection of the morning newspapers, including the Times, the Daily Telegraph, and some of the picture papers.

Before sending for his private secretary, Sir Alan Lascelles, the King deals with a daily average of about 100 letters asking for all sorts of things. Will the King accept a basket of flowers from the west country? Will he intercede for a man serving a jail sentence? Will he try to get a house for an ex-serviceman? Could the Queen open a bazaar?

The King usually scribbles instructions for replies which are sent to his staff of assistant private secretaries. At 10 o'clock Sir Alan brings along state papers for him to sign. For these the King uses a fountain pen filled with blue-black ink There is no rubber stamp of the Royal signature.

By 11:30 when the bulk of the paper work is done, the King is ready for audiences with foreign diplomats, cabinet ministers and service chiefs. The Prime Minister usually calls just before lunch.

From 5:30 till 8 the King is busy again with correspondence and state affairs. In the evening he likes listening to the radio, reading, or playing cards with Princess Margaret. Sometimes they are joined by the Duke of Edinburgh and Princess Elizabeth.

Five other newspapers have been licensed to operate such raper Publishers Association said, 48 more papers have indicated they propose to establish similar set-ups.

Publishing groups and individual newspapers asserted that the public interest requires the rapid delivery of news made possible by the mobile radio-telephone.

Spokesmen for the American Newspaper Publishers Association said newspapers should be ranked next to police and public safety services in distribution of frequency rights. They should be placed ahead of commercial and industrial users, they said.

Gun Discharges Duck Hunter Wounded In Arm

Thomas Peers, 20, of 744 Duffus St., is in Civic Hospital with a badly-mangled left arm received when his shotgun accidentally discharged. Peers, accompanied by his brother-in-law, William Mantell, 15, who had come along as an observer, had beached the boat on the banks of the Otonabee, near Hogg's Creek, six miles south of the city.

He had finished a session of duck hunting and the two were ready to return home. Reaching into the boat he seized the shotgun by the barrel as it lay on the bottom boards. The gun discharged and he received the main blast in th left arm from the wrist to the elbow. A few pellets were received in the shoulder, chest and one in the lip.

Doctor is Called

The two men then rode tandem on Peers' motorcycle with Mantell driving and the injured youth behind him to a residence about a mile away, where Dr. J. Wright of Millbrook was called.

Dr. Wright took Peers to Civic Hospital where it was learned that the two main arteries in the badly-injured portion of his arm had been badly torn.

Hospital officials today described his condition as good.

The injured youth works in the storeroom at CGE and is an experienced hunter. To his knowledge the gun was not cocked when he started to lift it out of the boat.

Find Pair In Woods

NORTH BAY, Oct. 13—(CP).—Wilfred Heighton, North Bay business man, and his 10-year-old son John were found shortly before noon Tuesday in woods about 40 miles northeast of here. They had been missing since Sunday evening, when they failed to return to their hunting camp. Searchers found the pair near the fire around which they had huddled all night. Heighton said they were drenched by an all-night rain.

Smart Customer

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 13 — There's nothing like a satisfied customer.

A clerk in a shoe store here is mourning his urge to be of service to the public after an experience during the holiday buying rush in which the coolness of one fast-talker brought him a net loss of $12.50.

A man approached the clerk with a pair of women's shoes from the store in his hand. He had purchased them there, but they were a little large. Could they be exchanged?

Certainly, came the beaming reply, and the exchange to the fitting size was amicably made and everybody departed happily.

Then it was discovered. Yes, the shoes had come from that store. In fact, the "customer" had picked them from the display in the window.

Best Holsteins In 10 Counties Entered In Show

"Marksman" was an easy winner today of the senior and grand male titles at the regional Holstein championships at Morrow Park.

The 1947 All-American, Montvic Rag Apple Marksman, owned by J. J. E. McCague and C. J. Cerswell of Alliston, was obviously the outstanding animal of the seventh annual Holstein show for the ten counties of Central Ontario, from Simcoe to Lennox-Addington, inclusive. His class is recognized wherever he is shown, and his appearance in Peterborough today was mainly a formality, indicating the interest of his owners in their association with the many other Holstein breeders of the Central Ontario district.

Marksman was bred by the late T. B. Macaulay of Mount Victoria Farms, Quebec. He was one of only three entries in the senior bull class.

The reserve senior and grand champions were awarded to Willow Slope Man-o-War Pabst from the herd of Herbert Watt, Foxboro, one of the Hasting county breeders.

The junior championship was taken by Way Brook R.A. Review, owned by Orvan Chambers of Wilfrid, Ontario county, and the reserve junior title went to Joseph T. Tully of Otonabee on Otonabee Pabst Prospect. These two juniors are half-brothers, get of "Ontari. Pabst Review."

The local finals of the county Black and White Days attracted several hundred spectators for this morning's judging of the bull classes. Harvey Swartz of Waukeshaw, Wis., returned to Peterborough for second engagement as judge.

165 Animals Entered

Approximately 165 animals were houses in the cattle barns at the Exhibition Park. They were the cream of 56 Holstein herds in the ten counties.

Joseph Tully's reserve junior champion was the winner of the first class on the program, twenty-two bull calves.

Other awards in this class were: 2nd, Elmcroft Farms, Oshawa; 3, D. C. Hoskin of Cobourg on Otonabee Triune Grand, bred by J. T. Tully; 4, B. Hoskin; 5, W. L. Evans and Hugh Ormiston of Brooklin, Ontario county; 6, W. J. Murphy of Lindsay on the Tully bred calf "Otonabee Triune Buster"; 7, Wm. Clarkson & Son of Weston; 8, Oscar Parks & Son of Bloomfield, Prince Edward; 9, O. Chambers; 10, J. G. Brethet of Tottenham, Simcoe county.

Junior yearling bull, five entries: 1, Coughlin Bros and N. W. McConkey, Peterborough, on Westmount Sovereign Mercedes; 2, Rockwell Parks, Napanee; 3, Ransom Stock Farm, Oshawa; 4, B. W. Naylor of Weston; 5, D. L. Hollinger, Stirling.

Hastings Boy Suffers Fractured Skull

HASTINGS, Oct. 13 —(ENS)— Jimmy McInvoy, age 7, was struck by a truck on Tuesday evening at the main four corners of the village when he ran across the street in front of the approching vehicle driven by A. Orr, Hastings. The boy was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, in the evening in an unconscious condition. Believed to be suffering from a fractured skull, hospital authorities said today. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent McEvoy of Hastings.

Nail In Grain Is Blamed For $15,000 Barn Fire

MILLBROOK, Oct. 13—(ENS).—Because of a nail the barn of Clarence Ball, RR 3, Millbrook, was destroyed by fire. Total loss was estimated at $15,000. While Mr. Ball was grinding some grain on the upper floor of his barn which is situated on the Falls Line, 3½ miles west of Millbrook, a nail hidden in the grain was fed into the hopper and became caught between the grinding plates.

A shower of sparks from the clashing metal cascaded into the air and a few moments later smoke and fire were observed coming from the top of the hay mow about 20 feet away from the tractor-driven grinder.

"We got to it, but we couldn't do anything," said Mr. Ball. "The fire had started in the dry hay. We tried to beat it out with sacks but couldn't."

Despite the united efforts of himself, his nephew Herbert Ball, 19, and a neighbor, James Stinson, all working in the barn at the time, the fire spread and was soon out of control.

Horses and cattle were out to pasture at the time but the roaring flames brought death to 13 fat pigs and a sow with 10 young ones. It is believed that about 60 hens died also in the fire

Machinery Saved

Some farm machinery was the only thing of value salvaged from the fire. The valuable combine was pulled to safety but the hay loader and hay wagon were burned. Also destroyed were the year's crop of hay and grain.

Neighbors on the Fallis Line came to the blaze as soon as they could and immediately formed a bucket brigade. But in spite of their best efforts the flames proved uncontrollable. The Millbrook fire engine arrived but the fire by this time had too great a hold and the barn was razed. The sheet metal roof finally plunged into the smouldering embers.

Also destroyed with the barn were three adjoining sheds.

A west wind kept the flames from blowing toward the two-storey house situated about 20 feet to the north.

The destroyed property is partly insured.

Vegetable Crop Reported Light

The Ontario Department of Agriculture's survey issued this week shows that owing to the lack of rainfall, except for a few light showers the vegetable crop in Eastern Ontario is small. Early in the season rain fell in fairly heavy showers, but there were no full days of steady rain to enable the ground to get a proper soaking, therefore great harm was done during the long dry spell.

Vegetables mostly affected were cabbage, cauliflower and turnips On the average the drought has not, according to the survey, done any great harm to late potato crops. However rain has fallen in some areas, thus making near crop failure confined to a few small sections.

The tomato crops were cut to a large extent, and in some cases have been completely ruined by sun scald. However, the crop harvested will run from 75 p.c. to 85 p.c., and with the early frost the yield per acre will be slightly above last season. Although the color of the fruit has been good, it has been soft, and the packers report an average loss per bushel.

Corn has been reported bad owing to high temperatures and lack of moisture at the correct time of filling.

It is expected that the pumpkin packed will be very limited. Though it is of good color, they are rather below average size of other seasons.

NOT SHRINKING EITHER

The dog-toothed violet is not a violet, but a lily.

School Bus Ditched 20 Children Aboard

COE HILL, Oct. 13 —(ENS)— One girl received a cut knee and about 20 other school children were shaken up when a school bus plunged into the ditch late on Tuesday afternoon 2½ miles from Coe Hill.

The bus driven by Donald Whitmore, Coe Hill, was travelling along county road 14 when the centre bolt in a spring broke causing a wheel to lock and thus forced the bus into the ditch.

Joan McCaw, Coe Hill, the only child to receive injury suffered a cut on her right knee.

Provincial Constable Garth Harding of Bancroft investigated.

Tuesday's Power Load Under Maximum

Outboard Marine and Nashua Paper Companies were off the electrical circuit Tuesday, accounting for the register of 228,000 kilowatt-hours.

The power use in Peterborough should have been satisfactory to Hydro scrutiny. The permitted daily total Monday to Friday inclusive is 240,000 kwh. The figures for the last four days were Tuesday 228,000, Monday 164,000, Sunday 150,000 and Saturday 214,000.

At the Utilities office they ask, but what will Wednesday show? That is the important day. The holiday, and week-end all look good in figures, but not so good in significance.

These three middle days of the week will get the closest attention from Hydro. Reports this morning intimated approaching cuts in rural power use and also in radio activity, including police. However, some of these may not be followed by interferences, if the Peterborough average for the week stays reasonably low.

A safety campaign for boy and girl bicycle riders in Peterborough is being sponsored by the Peterborough Optimist Club starting tonight when, in co-operation with the Police Department, they will distribute a new type of plastic reflector tape to cyclists to be installed on both front and rear mudguards of machines. They estimate the chore will take three evenings to complete between the hours of four and six p.m.

THE PERREAULT BROTHERS of Montreal, captured in Lethbridge, Alta., after a country-wide search for the pair following the shooting of two Montreal policemen during a bank holdup arrived in Montreal Tuesday to face trial. These two pictures were taken in Lethbridge Saturday as the pair started their journey home accompanied by Montreal police. Douglas, left, pulled his hat over his eyes as a photographer appeared. Too Much Goodwill In '44 Causes Berlin Issue

By WES GALLAGHER.

BERLIN, Oct. 13 — (AP). — This rubble heap city of 3,000,000 has become the world's No. 1 headache through too much goodwill in 1944 and too little in 1948.

The United States and Britain had too much goodwill and trust in future international relations in 1944.

The Soviet Union's lack of goodwill in carrying out international agreements brings a crisis over Berlin in 1948.

It began around a conference table in London in 1944. At the table was the European Advisory Commission set up by Britain, Russia and the United States. The men around the table set up lines for the occupation in Germany without too much trouble.

Then it became a question of which city should be the seat of government for the victorious powers. The Russians wanted Berlin—which was deep in their assigned zone.

The Americans were opposed. But the Russians insisted on their choice; it seemed not too important at the time, when all stress was on co-operation. So, the West gave in.

United States Department realists said specific and iron-clad agreements should be drawn up, providing means of getting in and out of the city through the Soviet-occupied zone.

Wasn't Particular

The American representative, Ambassador John Winant, demurred. He said it was more important to show goodwill to the Soviets than haggle over specific agreements.

Finally, the British and American representatives worked out agreements with the Soviet commander on moving Western troops to the city and supplying them. The Western Allies were given the use of one railroad and the international highway between Berlin and Helmstedt, on the British zone border.

These agreements worked for nearly two years with only minor difficulties.

Meanwhile, however, the era of goodwill was running out. The Allies were at odds on what kind of post-war Germany should be created. The Russians wanted a Communist - dominated Central German government with full police powers. This was unacceptable to the West.

The Allied Control Council, set up to govern all of Germany, bogged down with Soviet vetos.

Each power governed its zone of Germany as it saw fit.

The foreign ministers of the Big Four tried to solve the situation. They ended in worse deadlocks.

Falls to Pieces

Meanwhile, divided Western Germany was falling to pieces. Inflation killed the incentive to work. Factories lacked raw materials. Unemployment mounted. The 48,000,000 in Western Germany were living in a vast poorhouse, supported by British and American taxpayers who had paid millions to win the war and now had to pay more to keep their enemies from starving.

The rest of Western Europe was not much better off. Communist parties, thriving on poverty and misery, made headway.

The Russians reasoned that Berlin was the weak point in the Western armor.

The Soviets proceeded cautiously. They were not sure the Western Powers would not fight. And thy did not want to risk a war.

In March, they demanded the right to inspect British and American military trains on the change the West was smuggling out war criminals and undesirables of other types. The West refused to allow this inspection, saying it would be an infringement on sovereignty. The Russians refused to allow the trains to go through. So the military trains stopped running.

In a few weeks the Soviets charged the Western Powers with "looting" this wrecked city by removing factories and businesses. They refused to allow any freight train to pass from Berlin to the West unless it had a Soviet-granted licence.

The next step was to delay and hamper incoming shipments by inspctions.

Can't Save Face

Then the Western Powers put in currency reform in Western Germany to end inflation which was wrecking recovery plans.

The Soviets immediately (in June) closed the rail line with the excuse of "technical difficulties." The large line developed "technical difficulties." The highway was shut by new controls, on the excuse the Western Powers would use it to smuggle marks into the Soviet zone.

With the land routes closed the Western Powers resorted to the arm that won them the war—air power. Vast fleets of air transports roared over Berlin.

The Russians have protested the airlif. Their pilots have buzzed the Western transports. Their flak guns have created nuisances in the corridors. But the lift has gone on.

Berlin has become such an international issue it is believed the Soviets would risk war in the event force was tried. The stakes have become too great for a retreat without some face-saving compromise.

Red Cross Inquiry

PARIS, Oct. 13—(AP).—The International Red Cross is investigating the cases of several thousands of Greek children "who have been removed to Yugoslavia," the United Nations said Tuesday.

Family Depends on Brother So He Delays His Marriage

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young man of 24, very much in love with a girl who is everything a man could want in a wife and who returns my affection. I am anxious to marry her, but my mother and family stand in my way of happiness. As I am the eldest [illegible] they all depend on me for support since my father died. My brothers and sisters all are old enough and capable of supporting themselves, and they did it while I was in the service, but since I have returned home they have given up their jobs and depend entirely upon me.

Dorothy Dix

Sometimes I think that they are trying to hinder me so that my girl will get disgusted with me, and I believe that I would lose my mind if this were to happen because she means everything to me.

What would you suggest for me to do under the circumstances?

DISGUSTED

ANSWER: I would not only suggest, I would urge you to stiffen your spine and have a showdown with your greedy and selfish relatives and make them realize, once and for all, that you are not going to be the family goat any longer. Tell your brothers and sisters that you will help your mother, but that you will not give them another penny nor another single free meal, and that if they want to eat they have got to get out and earn their own bread and butter.

Racketeers

My observation is that there are no other such conscienceless racketeers in the whole world as families; and that, as a general thing, Mother is the captain of the pirate gang. Hundreds and hundreds of times I have seen Mother sacrifice one son or one daughter to a lot of trifling, greedy younger children. Mary couldn't marry because Mother cried and told her it was her duty to stay single and support the family. Tommy had to give up his ambitions because Mother thought John was too delicate to work, though he was strong enough to play football. And two lives were wrecked.

Don't let your family do this to you. Move out. Marry your girl and leave them shift for themselves. Send Mother a check to cover her own living expenses every month and let it end there. The brothers and sisters won't starve. They will go to work when you force them to, and make better men and women for it.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am in love with a man and I have a rival more deadly than any other woman. It is FREEDOM. He tells me that that it what he fought for in the war and that's what he wants and is going to have; that he doesn't want to be tied down to any one girl. This boy likes me and enjoys being with me, and when he gets tired of freedom he may decide that he wants to marry me.

Do you think it is worth while for me to wait around on the off chance that he will have a change of heart and get tired of his flings?

ANSWER: No, I don't. The odds are too much against you. In a case where a man knows that a girl is one that he can take or leave, he nearly always ends by leaving her. Waiting for a man to fall in love with you is a heart-breaking and nerve-racking and aging experience that isn't worth what it costs.

There are plenty of men who are married to freedom and can never be happy or contented burdened with a wife and family. And you are lucky that this chap realizes that this is his case before he ruins your life. In reality, the thing that is the matter with marriage is that so many men love freedom better than they do their wives. The marriage bond chafes them intolerably and they can never be true to any one woman.

For Thursday, October 14

A difficult or involved state of affairs affecting business interests finances and credit, as well as home and purely personal objectives and desires, is read from the current sidereal setup. Property and possessions, business as well as home assets, are in balance, probably due to carelessness or negligence, with unhappy reactions and probable grief to the standing and reputation. Fortunately the mind is pitched in serious grooves, with inclination toward reflection and capacity for analysis and reasoning, with eventual practical issues and sound organization. Diplomacy, tact and persistent effort win out.

Those whose birthday it is, may find themselves confronted by some static or strange situation in which property, possessions, credit and reputation are at stake. Safeguard all home assets, position and standing, with particular concern for purely personal interests. Fortunately the mentality is channeled to the serious and profound with a practical slant on affairs, with keen power for analysis and rationalization. Supplement this by diplomacy, tact and the friendly approach rather than any show of forced issues.

A child born on this day has a keen mind, with friendly personal ability.

Thackeray-Brown Wedding In Seymour West

TRENT RIVER, Oct. 13. — (ENS).—The marriage of Miss Audrey Blanche Brown to Mr. Murray Eugene Thackeray of Roseneath took place Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harold Brown, Seymour West, with the Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh of Havelock officiating. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs Barton Thackeray, Roseneath.

The living-room was decorated with pink and white streamers and fall flowers and evergreen formed an arch.

Mrs. Douglas Dart of Trent River played the wedding music and Mrs. Harold Thompson of Norwood sang before the ceremony "O Perfect Love" and "Through The Years" during the signing of the register.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory embossed satin with net yoke and a bouffant skirt. Tiny self-covered buttons fastened the bodice down the back. The sleeves were long and came to points over the wrists. Her embroidered veil was caught to a scalloped satin bonnet and she carried a nosegay of Sweetheart roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Helen Rowland, Peterborough, wore a gown of tourquoise taffeta with matching mitts and hat, and carried a bouquet of Sweetheart roses.

Little Miss Joan Baptie of Norwood, neice of the bride, was flower girl in a rose taffeta frock and bonnet, and carried a basket of roses and carnations.

Mr. Clare Harper, Roseneath, was groomsman.

After the ceremony a reception was held with the bride's mother receiving. She wore a gown of cadet blue crepe with black hat and accessories and bouquet of pink carnations.

The groom's mother, who also received, wore a gown of blue faconne crepe with grey hat and accessories, and a bouquet of pink carnations.

Later the bride and groom left for a trip to Northern Ontario and United States.

For travelling the bride wore a grey gabardine coat with navy hat and accessories, and a corsage of pink roses.

On their return they will reside at Roseneath.

Boxes Yield $76 To WA Funds

October devotional and business meeting of St. John's WA afternoon branch took the form of a Thanksgiving meeting, and was held in the parish hall Tuesday, with the president, Mrs. H C. Sootheran, in the chair.

Special Thanksgiving hymns were sung and the rector, Archdeacon W. P. Robertson, conducted devotions.

He continued with an informative summary of the recent Lambeth conference, tracing its history and explaining the origin and usefulness of this wonderful gathering of bishops, meeting every 10 years.

Mrs. G. S. Cameron opened the mission study this season with a foreward, introducing the authors who write the six chapters that comprise the books, a continuation of last season's "One Family."

Dorcas convener reminded the branch that the bale for Loon Lake, Sask., will be on display next month, and requested new and good used clothing for same.

Tentative date for the bazaar and congregational supper is Thursday, November 18, this to be confirmed later by convener, Mrs. A. W. Turner.

United thankoffering boxes were turned in at this meeting, and Mrs. T. Mills, convener, reported $76 collected, with probably more box holders to hear from. Church calendars were given out for distribution. Those wishing to secure one may phone a WA member.

Tea was served at the close by hostesses for October, Mrs. J. D. Cochrane and Mrs. E. G. R. Clarke.

Clergy And Parishioners Honor Priest On 50th Anniversary

"It is not given to many priests to see the sun rise on the morning of the fiftieth anniversary of their ordination," His Excellency Bishop Gerald Berry said on Tuesday at Sacred Heart Church on the occasion of Rt. Rev. J. J. O'Brien's fiftieth anniversary of his ordination. "To still fewer is given the privilege of saying this is my 37th year in this parish. The picture presented in the sermon by Rev. Father Moloney of the many couples who have been married by Monsignor O'Brien, the number of children who have been baptized and received the initiation of God's grace, was very true. He has seen this parish grow from its infancy. It has already given off two parts in the new parishes that have been formed, and presently it will give off a third. So, the parish of the Sacred Heart has become a mother parish, and the end is not yet.

"This happy occasion emphasizes the larger truth that the pastor has been in your eyes the representative and agent of Christ. Our Lord wanted His church to be the gathering of those who live His life, that is the life of grace which attains its full flower in His kingdom."

The church was the mystical body of Christ, Bishop Berry said, and Monsignor O'Brien had worked and preached and sanctified in it. "Those are lofty things to say, and all are true, but I wish to put them before you as the spirit of this jubilee.

"Monsignor O'Brien, my prayer is that you may be blessed by God, as you are by His vicar on earth, and that you may be spared still many years of service in the esteem of your people and your Bishop."

Address From Clergy

The address from the clergy was read by the Vicar-General of the diocese, Rt. Rev. F. J. O'Sullivan and their gift was presented by Very Rev. Dean O'Leary of Bracebridge.

Monsignor Davis read an address from the Society of the Propagation of the Faith of which Monsignor O'Brien is diocesan director.

A delegation of parishioners entered the sanctuary to offer their felicitations. The address was read by Mr. Norman Crooks and their gift of a cheque was presented by Mr. Wm. J. Grady.

The address was as follows:

"Right Rev. Monsignor O'Brien:

"Your golden jubilee in the priesthood evokes expression of that respect, that the parishioners of the Sacred Heart Parish have always had for your priesthood. As you complete your 50 years in the priesthood, we who have been your responsibility for 35 of those years rejoice with you and render thanks to God.

"The priesthood is considered by us of the laity as our link with the things of God. From our priest we hear the doctrine of Christ, giving us a knowledge of things divine, leading us to seek the glory of God, and the sanctification of our souls. It is through the hands of our priest that we offer our sacrifice to God at Mass. The grace of God is made available to us by the ministrations of our priest conferring on us Christ's sacraments, and offering the church's prayers for us. The very nature of the holy office of the priesthood calls forth our respect at all times, and on such a signal occasion as your golden jubilee, we are glad of the opportunity to give special expression of that devoted respect which we have for the priesthood.

"For 35 years, in addition to your priesthood, you have exercised the office of pastor in our midst. Particularly in our favor during these years you have preached and taught, you have offered the Mass for our welfare and for our departed, you have conferred on us the Sacraments, and the blessings of the Church, you have administered attentively the affairs of the parish of which we are the members. With abundant reason then do we take advantage of your fiftieth anniversary to voice our filial appreciation and gratitude to you for the benefits we have received by reason of your priesthood.

"On this day of jubilee therefore we rejoice with you and we are happy to join with you—as you offer praise and thanksgiving to God. We know that it will give you great pleasure to see and welcome among our numbers the former parishioners of the Sacred Heart Church parish, now members of the beloved eldest daughter, the parish of Our Lady of the Assumption in Otonabee. Likewise a source of gratification will be the representation of those who are soon to be the parishioners of St. Alphonsus, along with those from St. John's section of this parish. One and all, we pray that God's blessing may be always upon you, and of our earthly goods we have prepared an offering which we ask you to receive as a mark of our affectionate respect and appreciation."

Reply Is Made

Monsignor O'Brien was deeply moved in expressing his thanks to Bishop Berry, the clergy of the diocese, the visiting priests and the members of his parish for their kindness to him, and particularly in joining with him in his solemn thanksgiving.

"I thank God for my vocation in the priesthood, and in memory I wish to thank my parents who labored to foster it. I am grateful for the great honor paid to me by the Holy Father in making me a member of his own house, as a domestic prelate. I thank all my friends for their presence here this morning. I want to pay tribute to the good Sisters for their wonderful work among our children, the lambs of the flock in this parish, and to say how much we owe to them."

Monsignor O'Brien particularly referred to the kindness and generosity of the members of the parish through the years of his pastorate. "Our relations have always been most kindly. It has been an edifying experience to see our men receiving holy communion monthly in a body. I thank also the societies of the parish who have been a great help, and also the members of the choir and the organist. I hope this occasion will be a new impulse in the parish, and that God will bless me in the years that remain, whether long or short, and that all times I shall be able to do His holy will."

The visiting clergy were guests at dinner served in the club house by the three divisions of the Catholic Women's League of St. John's, the Assumption and Sacred Heart churches.

Governor Dewey Brands Engineer Crazy

BEAUCOUP, Ill., Oct. 13 — (AP). — Governor Thomas E. Dewey called the engineer of his special train a "lunatic" Tuesday night when the train backed into a crowd of 1,000 persons here.

The Republican Presidential candidate had just started speaking from the rear platform when the train pulled up 50 feet so the first locomotive could take on water. After the first engine got water, it pulled up for the second locomotive to take on water.

As Dewey continued speaking the train suddenly began backing into the crowd that had closed in around his special car. There were screams as the spectators broke away from the cars rolling down on them.

No one was hurt as people scurried in every direction.

"Well," said Dewey, watching it all from the back platform, "that's the first lunatic I've had for an engineer. He probably should be shot at sunrise, but we'll let him off this time since no one was hurt.

Louisville and Nashville Railroad officials said the engineer was Lee Tindle of Evansville, Ind.

QUEBEC, Oct. 13—(CP).—J. J. McKinnon Strike Remains Deadlocked

TORONTO, Oct. 13 — (CP). — Officials of McKinnon Industries, Ltd., of St. Catharines, and Local 199 of the United Automobile Workers (CCL-CIO) failed to settle the three-month strike when they conferred Tuesday with Labor Minister Daley.

Union officials said the dispute was still deadlocked. Mr. Daley has called a "last meeting" for Thursday.

The automobile workers' strike for higher wages has crippled St. Catharines' largest industry since July 14 and has kept some 2,650 employees out of work.

The union first asked for a 26-cents-an-hour pay increase. Sept. 2 this demand was cut to 18 cents an hour for day-rate workers and 15 cents for piece workers. The company offered a 12-cent boost.

Film Industry Reaches Its Lowest Ebb

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 13 (AP)—Just how bad is Hollywood's depression? Here are the facts and figures which point to one conclusion:

The motion picture industry is at its lowest ebb in history.

Strangely enough, the movie theatres are doing a healthy business, only slightly below last year.

But two things offset this: 1, Movies still cost too much to make; 2, not enough money is coming back from showings of United States films overseas. This year's foreign coin will be less than half of 1946's.

The pinch is on in Hollywood, and it is hitting a lot of people hard. For every three people working in the studios in 1940 there are now two.

A couple of years ago, about 1,200 extras were working every day. To-day the average is 400.

Despite an urgent need for more and better scripts, 480 writers are working for studios, compared with 600 in 1946.

For every three pictures shooting in 1945, there are two to-day. And half of the 1948 crop are quickies.

These are mere figures, cold and factual, but they mean everything to those who make their living in the movie industry.

The motion picture relief fund rolls also show the depression.

All over town you can see the depression's results. Night clubs are failing nightly, and the shops that rely on the movie trade are moaning and groaning.

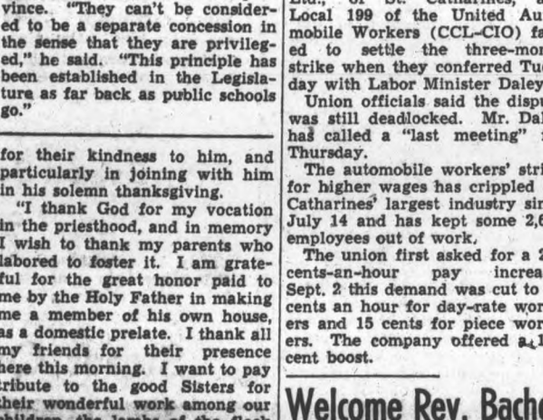
First Aid For Smothered Trees



By DEAN HALLIDAY

During building operations the grading line is often changed, frequently affecting existing trees by lowering or heightening the amount of soil over their roots.

The question often arises: How much fill dirt can be put on the roots of a tree without doing harm to it?" Some trees stand for a lot of punishment and still grow. It all depends on the variety of tree.

As a general rule, if fill over the roots is less than 12 inches, the tree can be treated by putting a layer of coarse gravel over the roots, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. This layer should extend just beyond the branch spread. Over this can then be placed topsoil in which to grow grass.

Trees like the beech, however, will not stand any fill earth. If some of their roots are not exposed so that they send up sprouts, they very quickly die. Birches do not like to have their roots buried.

An elm tree will stand quite a bit of abuse. If a layer several inches deep of slag is placed on top of the ground and a dry well of stones made around the trunk, several feet of fill can be added.

Hard and soft maples do not mind a slight fill, but oaks prefer to keep their own surface of ground. Fill can be made on their roots but they need a thick layer of stones to supply air and water before the surface soil is added.

Shrubs are a somewhat different story. Most of them, if planted too deep, or fill dirt is added, will overcome the difficulty by making a completely new set of roots.

On the other hand, only necessity warrants filling deeply over a shrub. It is much easier to lift and reset it at the proper grade.

BEATING THE BIG BOYS

SUPPOSE you are in a tournament and you know that a number of stronger pairs than yours are in the field. If you are determined to give yourself every chance to beat the big boys, it is sound to use methods somewhat different from what you would employ against opponents ordinarily no better than your own combination. Common sense tells you that enough good luck can give you the victory. Such being the case, you should furnish opportunities for your luck to aid.

(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1♠	Pass	1♥	Pass
2♣	Pass	2♥	Pass
3♥	Pass	4♥

After the club 7 was led and East came in with the Q, South at this particular table realized he had received a probable gift not offered to others, the assurance that he would lose no tricks in clubs if he finessed the 10 later. Then his play of the dummy's heart tops showed he had to lose a trump trick to East. That he could afford to do and still make his contract when he later lost two spades.

This chap was really "loaded for bear," though, so was not satisfied with just making contracts if he could get extra tricks for extra match points. He saw that, if the diamond finesse would work, he could discard one of his own spades. The finesse being an even chance, though a crazy try in rubber bridge, he decided that he would try it, since others probably would play safe.

So he followed the first two trump rounds with a lead to the diamond K, the finesse of the J, which worked, a discard of one spade on the diamond A, a lead to the heart K, the club 10 finesse, the club A, which East ruffed with the heart J, then the remaining tricks with a ruff of the spade Q return, the heart 8 and the club 8.

It just happened that the extra trick squeezed out by that diamond finesse enabled his pair to win the tournament by the slightest margin over several much better known entries.

75 Guests At Golden Wedding Include 2 Sets Of 4 Generations

HAVELOCK, Oct. 13 (ENS)—It was fifty years ago today Mr. and Mrs. David Henry Seabrook, of Belmont township exchanged marriage vows at the Anglican Church, Norwood with Rev. J. Gibson performing the ceremony.

Their golden wedding anniversary was celebrated on Thanksgiving day in order that members of their family living at a distance might be present. It took the form of a dinner party at the home of their son-in-lay and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellis, Belmont twonship when 75 guests were present. The dining room was beautifully decorated with gold streamers and autumn leaves. The table was centred with a large three-tiered wedding cake, gold candles and bouquet of 50 gold flowers.

Mrs. Ezra King poured tea and serving were Misses Thelma Dafoe, Olive Deshane, May King, Mildred King.

The event was marked by the presence of two sets of four generations of the Seabrook family.

They are: Mr. and Mrs. Seabrook, their daughter Mrs. Charles Ellis, granddaughter Mrs. Arthur Anderson and greatgranddaughter Arlene Anderson.

The second set includes their daughter Mrs. Charles Ellis, grandson Randal Ellis and greatgrandson Wayne Ellis. Also among the guests was the bridesmaid of 50 years ago, Mrs. Jane Melville, Havelock, formerly Jane Anderson of Round Lake.

Had 10 Children

Out of a family of 10 children Mr. and Mrs. Seabrook have six daughters and a son living who were present. They are: Mrs. Garnet Stevenson and Mrs. Albert Brunke of Kingston; Mrs. Harold Dunk of Nobel; Mrs. Charles Ellis, Mrs. Annie Toms, Mrs. Wilfred Ellis of Belmont township and Osborne Seabrook of Havelock.

Mr. Seabrook has five sisters and five brothers all of whom were present excepting his sister Mrs. T. Peppard of Seattle, Wash. and his brother William who is a patient in Civic Hospital, Peterborough.

Those present were: Mrs. A. Patterson of Peterborough; Mrs. N. Whitney, Mrs. T. Cummings, Mrs. C. Anderson, James and John Seabrook of Havelock; Robert Seabrook of Trenton; and Samuel Seabrook of Campbellford.

Mrs. Seabrook's sister and five brothers were also persent. They are: Miss Laura Toms, Frank, Earl, Jack, and James H. Toms of Belmont townships; and Fred Toms of Cottesloe.

During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Seabrook were presented with a purse of money from their family, and a spring mattress from Mr. Seabrook's brothers and sisters. Among the many personal gifts were a gold colored kimona for Mrs. Seabrook and flowers from friends in Toronto. They were the recipients of numerous cards and messages.

Born In Asphodel

Mr. Seabrook, 78, was born in Asphodel township the son of the late William and Elizabeth Seabrook. He came to Belmont township with his parents at the age of 8. He is the oldest member of Havelock L. O. L. No. 326, having joined that order when he was 19. Although he has followed farming as an occupation, carpentry has been his hobby.

Mrs. Seabrook, 69, is a native of Belmont township, the daughter of the late James and Mary Toms. She is particularly fond of raising poultry and is a lover of the outdoors.

Following their marriage they took up residence on the farm where they now reside. Most of the district (Belmont Lake) was then all woods. They did their shopping in Havelock where there was only one store operated by the late A. V. Fuller. The transportation was the "old grey mare" and the buggy. If they had their way they state, they would like to go back to the horse and buggy days and handle the reins themselves.

Wages $20 a month

In comparing the present day high cost of living with that of their early married life Mr. Seabrook said he had worked for $20 a month but eggs were 25 cents a dozen, butter 25 cents a pound, calves $5 each and good wood $5 a cord. In looking back to their wedding day the couple recalled that it was Norwood Fair day, the weather was fine and after the ceremony they attended the fair.

On Monday evening the neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Seabrook honored them with a dance in the Township Hall at Preneveau when they were presented with a blanket. The address was read by Kenneth Andrews and the prentation was made by Ray Forbes.

The following guests were present. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brunke and family, Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Stevenson and family of Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Seabrook of Campbellford; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Seabrook of Trenton; Mr. and Mrs. Archie Patterson of Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dunk and family of Nobel; Miss Marion Beagan of Parry Sound; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Toms of Cottesloe; Douglas Anderson of Sault Ste. Marie; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burgess of Toronto; Mrs. Thurlow Andrus of Chalk River; Mrs. Annie Toms and family, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Anderson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Randal Ellis and family; Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Toms, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ellis and family, Donald Plunkett of Belmont township; Mrs. N. Whitney, Sr. Mrs. Jane Melville, Mr. and Mrs. John Seabrook, Mr. and Mrs. James Seabrook and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Seabrook and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. Anderson of Havelock.

Labor Congress Slaps Down Communist Minority, Reaffirms Support Of CCF

C. S. Jackson Scores Failure Of Administration To Lead Price Battle; Main Job To Clean Out Reds Mosher Says

TORONTO, Oct. 14 — (CP). — The Canadian Congress of Labor slapped down its Communist minority again today and reaffirmed its support of the CCF. A. R. Mosher, Congress president, in a fighting blast at the Communist minority, said: "Up to now we've given you a good deal of leeway, but don't expect it to continue." He said he supports 100 per cent. the statement earlier this week by Secretary-Treasurer Pat Conroy that the CCL's main job is to rid itself of Communists.

The CCF has long been endorsed by the Congress as the "political arm of labor." The two-part resolution presented today by the CCL:

1. Endorses a political-action program aimed at electing "the largest possible number of CCF members" to the next parliament.

2. Wants this same program put into operation on a provincial level to elect CCF members in provincial elections.

The resolution criticizes the Government's price-control policy and the "inflationary rise in the cost of living."

Other protests against the Liberal administration include its adoption of a labor code "unsatisfactory to labor in many respects" and its failure to disallow the "notorious anti-labor legislation" enacted recently in Prince Edward Island.

This legislation prohibits affiliation of any PEI union with any national or international labor organization.

Reg Gardiner of Hamilton, a steel worker, supported the resolution and warned "We can't elect a Labor government."

Vitally Concerned

George Harris of Toronto, secretary-treasurer of the United Electrical Workers, said the masses of the Canadian people are vitally concerned with a change in the Dominion's form of government.

The pressing question was how that could be best accomplished.

"Even in Saskatchewan, where there is a CCF government, the

Nehru Confers With Mr. King In Historic Talk

LONDON, Oct. 14 —(CP)—An informal talk of historic importance was held Wednesday night when Jawaharial Nehru, Prime Minister of the 18-month-old Dominion of India, called on Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada, who has been in office longer than any other leader of a Commonwealth government.

The slight, grey-haired Indian, who represents more than 300,000,000 people at the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' talks, went unobtrusively to Mr. King's suite in the Dorchester hotel after day-long discussions with his Dominions conference colleagues at 10 Downing Street.

He was ushered into the bedroom where the Canadian Prime Minister, seated in bed with pillows at his back, has received a series of distinguished visitors since he was ordered by doctors Friday to take an immediate rest.

Observers noted that this chat between the two Prime Ministers fitted into the whole series of informal conversations now under way that may lead to future changes in the British Commonwealth setup.

The length of the meeting confirmed reports of the Canadian leader's improving condition.

Nehru had breakfast with Herbert Evatt, Australia's Minister for External Affairs and attorney-general, and other Commonwealth representatives had the opportunity to meet each other at a luncheon and tea.

India's decision about future co-operation with the Commonwealth is likely to be vitally affected by the advice given the Indian Government by Nehru in the light of the conversations he held with the Canadian Prime Minister and other Commonwealth statesmen, informed sources said.

Tightening Up Gun Permits

MONTREAL, Oct. 14 — (CP). —The Quebec provincial police announced today a tightening-up in the issuing of permits for citizens to carry a revolver for "self-protection."

Deputy director Hallaire Beauregard said the move was due to an increase in the number of accidents involving firearms in the last two years. In future, unless the applicant for a permit can show a weapon is absolutely necessary for his protection, he will be refused. This means that most revolver permits already issued will not be renewed.

Plan Stricter Truce For Palestine Forces

PARIS, Oct. 14 — (CP). — The United Nations Security Council voted over Russian and Syrian objections today to consider ways of enforcing a stricter truce in Palestine.

The vote was 8 to 0, with Russia, the Ukraine and Syria abstaining. Russian and Syria said the report of Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting mediator for Palestine, contained nothing new.

Bunche's report, made Sept. 30, was read to the council. It recommended stronger measures to insure safety for truce observers and better compliance from Jews and Arabs in keeping the peace.

5th Man Recaptured Near Bowmanville

GUELPH, Oct. 14 (CP)—Only one of six prisoners who escaped from the Ontario Reformatory here last Sunday night is still at large.

Edward Lefevbre, of Westboro, was captured early today at Bowmanville, still at large is Gordon Davey, of Montreal. Police said they believe he is somewhere in the Montreal district.

Three other escaped prisoners were caught Wednesday and the sixth was caught shortly after his escape before he was able to get out of the Guelph district.

Hold Secret Conferences On US Defence In Pacific

TOKYO, Oct. 14.—(AP).—American commanders in the Pacific and Alaska discussed measures to prevent another Pearl Harbor in a series of "top secret" conferences with Gen. MacArthur which ended today.

Lt.-Gen. Nathan F. Twining of the Air Force, commanding the Alaska defences, and Vice-Admiral John L. McCrea, deputy commander of the United States Pacific fleet, met with MacArthur for three days.

They met within view of Japan's imperial palace grounds, where the Dec. 7, 1941, attack on the United States Pacific fleet received final sanction.

Informed sources confined information on the talks to two points:

1. The American commanders discussed with MacArthur practical precautions against the possibility of another surprise attack.

2. The high-ranking officers attained a "fine spirit of co-operation and co-ordination" among the three services. This was described as an outstanding achievement.

Sources reviewing the conferences made no reference to the first winter amphibious landing attack exercise in the far north. It will be held next February in "the Alaska area," Pacific fleet headquarters announced Wednesday.

The three commanders represented a vast defence area broadened by the war. MacArthur commands all American land, sea and air units operating from northern Japan southward in a wide-swinging arc with an outer line running through Korea, China, the Philippines and back eastward to American Samoa south of the equator.

To the north-east, beyond MacArthur's theatre, lies the Alaska defences and the joint Canada-U.S. defence line. Beyond the left flank are the defences of Australia, New Zealand and the Netherlands.

Blames British

ROME, Oct. 14 (Reuters). —Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, Mussolini's chief of staff, now on trial charged with collaborating with the Germans, said in court today "the real destroyers of Italy are the British. I have always hated them; I hate them now and I will always hate them," he said. He insisted that it was not the Partisans who saved northern Italy from Hitler's scorched earth policy but his efforts and those of Mussolini.

Deny Canada Takes Lead In Berlin Talks

PARIS, Oct. 14 (CP)—Reports that Canada will take the initiative tomorrow in the Security Council deliberations on Berlin were firmly denied in informed quarters today.

This flat negative was a reply to rumors sweeping United Nations corridors that Canada would introduce a resolution when Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina reconvenes the council tomorrow afternoon to consider a big-three complaint against Russian action in the German capital.

Canadian sources clung to the "no comment" policy they said the Dominion was committed to at the inauguration of informal mediation talks among the six so-called neutrals.

But lobby gossip to the effect that Canada would move to break the Berlin stalemate persisted.

It was the first concrete piece of news since the council adjourned last week and correspondents seized it avidly.

Reading between the lines, there appeared to be some basis for speculation that Canada may be pondering just such a move. At least nobody was denying the possibility of Canadian action next week.

Earlier it was reported that hope for mediation outside the council had vanished with Russia's rejection of conciliation efforts by the so-called neutrals.

Talks Important

LONDON, Oct. 14—(Reuters). — The meeting of the defence ministers of Denmark, Norway and Sweden will have an important bearing on the timing of any future move by the United States towards a formal military alliance linking Canada and the United States to Western Europe, diplomatic observers believe.

The meeting, a sequel to the Stockholm talks between the foreign ministers of the three Scandinavian powers last month, is officially held to discuss defence co-operation within the Scandinavian bloc. It is also to attempt to smooth out differences which have so far separated Sweden, which wishes to base any joint military planning on the principle of neutrality, from Norway and Denmark, who have increasingly moved toward the idea of defence links with the Western Powers.

Berlin Gov't To Fall--Russia

BERLIN, Oct. 14 — (AP). — A Communist spokesman predicted last night that Berlin's central government, last link between the eastern and western sectors of the divided city, would fall to pieces soon.

The spokesman, Karl Maron, made this prediction a few hours after a clash between Communists and non-Communists of the city's magistrat (executive department).

The city's assembly, or legislative council, already has split up. The anti-Communist members now meet in the British sector, where the Communist members refuse to join them. The anti-Communists moved out after the violent demonstrations late in August.

The British-American air lift resumed operations at mid-morning after an interruption of about seven hours because of fog.

The clearing weather also brought another Soviet announcement of gunnery drills in the air corridor. The Russians posted warnings of ground-to-air drills in the Bueckeburg corridor and air-to-air firing in the Hamburg corridor.

TRAIN WRECK — One trainman was killed and two others injured near Beaverton, late Tuesday night when two freight trains collided head-on. Rail traffic was tied up for hours after a CNR freight ploughed into the engine of a second freight standing near the Beaverton station. This picture shows the two engines.

Witnesses Say Beer 'Gifts', Clear Hotelmen

LITTLE CURRENT, Oct. 14 — (CP)—Seven persons testified here that suddenly there was beer on the table in front of them.

They didn't know how it got there, they said Wednesday. They didn't pay for it, but they drank it.

The witnesses were giving sworn evidence at the trial of four Manitoulin Island hotelmen: William Glennie, proprietor of the Mansion House; Joe Morone, one of his employees; Ernest Franks, proprietor of the Bayview Lodge; and Morcil Hould, a friend of Franks.

All were charged with keeping and exposing for sale intoxicating liquors under the Canada Temperance Act.

Their court appearance followed police raids on the island's hotels on Sept. 11, in which they seized 3,349 bottles of beer and 36 bottles of whisky in four hotels.

All charges against the four were dismissed.

"Insufficient evidence," said Magistrate W. J. Golden. Under the Canada Temperance Act the Crown must prove the liquor had been sold, he added.

Just Gifts

Witnesses said the drinks had been gifts—or else they testified they hadn't drunk anything.

Three reporters of the Sudbury Star, whose sworn evidence that they had paid for beer at Mr. Franks' Bayview lodge resulted in the charge against him, repeated their evidence in court.

They bought and drank six bot-

Hastings Boy Dies Of Accident Injuries

HASTINGS, Oct. 14—(ENS)—James E. McEvoy, 7, died in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, Wednesday evening from injuries suffered in a collision with a truck owned by Arthur Orr, Hastings.

The young lad had apparently darted across the road in front of the truck giving the driver no warning. He suffered fractures at the base of the skull, remaining unconscious till his death.

An inquest will be held.

He was born in Campbellford, son of Vincent McEvoy and Madge Elizabeth McCoy, and had resided in Hastings for the past six years. Besides his parents he leaves a younger brother, Barry. The family are members of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church.

The body is resting at the residence of an aunt, Miss Mary Barry, of Hastings and will be taken to Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church for requiem mass on Saturday at 9 a.m. The Rev. J. J. Garvey will officiate and burial will be at Mount Carmel Cemetery.

St. Laurent Denies Mr. King Plans To Resign At Once

LONDON, Oct. 14—(CP).—Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, acting Prime Minister of Canada, denied on his arrival in London today that his ailing chief, Prime Minister Mackenzie King, would immediately retire. St. Laurent arrived by air to replace the Prime Minister at the conference here of Commonwealth leaders. There had been reports that the Prime Minister, now confined to bed with a condition of the blood circulation, would retire on the arrival in London of the acting Prime Minister instead of on his return to Canada.

These reports are "untrue," St. Laurent said. "If he retires in London it would mean there would be no government in Canada until I returned to the Dominion and the Canadian people would not want to recall me while the conference is on."

The Prime Minister's staff earlier had reported that he had spent a "restful" night and that his condition continued good. It is not yet known how long he will be confined to bed.

Very Busy

At the conference itself, intense activity was going on among individual delegations on matters relating to their particular national interests. Plenary sessions will be resumed Monday with discussion on the possibility of improving commonwealth intercommunication. Under this heading the status of commonwealth high commissioners will be considered.

Tuesday the session on foreign affairs, initiated by Foreign Secretary Bevin who reviewed the situations in the Middle and Far East, will be resumed. The timetable was revised to permit St. Laurent to take part in the talks on foreign affairs.

Wednesday the Commonwealth leaders will discuss defence.

The plenary session Wednesday was devoted to international trade, when Sir Stafford Cripps addressed the delegates in a closed session. Importance of Canada as a dollar area was stressed, it was reported.

Approve UK Trade Pacts

LONDON, Oct. 14 — (CP). — The Commonwealth Prime Ministers' Conference to-day was conducted on a basis of complete informality with no plenary session. Representatives discussed information already received from each other.

It is understood there is general agreement on these points:

1—Bi-lateral trade agreements negotiated by the United Kingdom with many countries are essential to United Kingdom trade recovery under present conditions.

2—United Kingdom participation in the Western European union is looked on as desirable and discussions have indicated there is no essential conflict of interests between the economies of Western Union and the Commonwealth.

3—Proposals for a European customs union are looked on cautiously at present. There is a tendency to wait until Western Union co-operation has been carried further before approval of the customs union idea.

Archbishop of York Warns Democracy Must Be Armed

YORK, England, Oct. 14 — (Reuters). — Dr. Cyril Garbett, Archbishop of York, today urged Christians to outlaw the atomic bomb, but added that in an armed world the democratic state must also be armed to make its influence felt on behalf of justice and freedom.

"Pious resolutions will not deflect by an inch the will of a state bent on violence," he said.

Dr. Garbett, making his presidential address to the convocation of York, defined the Christian's duty at the present time thusly:

1. "The Christian must never give up hope of peace; he will support the continuation of negotiations, however exasperating their length."

2. "The Christian sees in the unbridled sovereignty of nations one of the chief dangers to peace . . . the Christian therefore should support the United Nations as an attempt to limit national sovereignty.

"The frequent and unforseen use of the veto in the interests of national sovereignty has gravely jeopardized both the work and influence of the United Nations unless the veto is restricted the United Nations will fail, as the League of Nations failed to reserve peace."

3. "The Christian should support all proposals which may remove or reduce some of the worst horrors of war. He must therefore press strongly for the outlawry of the atomic bomb. Its use in war may result in the end of our civilization and the reversion of those who survive to primitive conditions of existence.

"The Christian should also press for some international agreement which would forbid obliteration bombing, a form of warfare which causes untold ruin and agony, followed by years in which the homeless herd together in shelters and cellars."

Must Resist Attacks On Liberties

Will Not Interfere Unless Victimized; Act In Own Defence

LONDON, Oct. 14.— (AP).— Foreign Secretary Bevin today called the Russians expansionists —"as imperialistic as the Czar ever was."

"We seek no power," he told the National Union of Manufacturers. "We have no desire to upset their system, but we must resist any attempt on their part to destroy our liberties."

Of Britain herself, Bevin said: "We have ceased to be an imperialistic race. We dominate nobody. We accept equality in religion, in color, in status. And in the areas which we still control we are directing our engeries towards independence and self government."

"If we cannot fix agreement with our neighbors," he said, "at least let them keep over their side of the garden wall.

"I will not advocate any interference, but equally, if they seek to disturb us then they must not be annoyed if we are upset at their intervention, and we defend ourselves."

Bevin told the manufacturers' annual meeting "the key to whether we shall have peace for 100 years is in the great problem of the Indian Ocean — the Middle East, Pakistan, India and Ceylon."

"I am not going to worry about our relations with Russia," he said. "If I cannot get agreement, the issue that has got to be settled is, can we live together? What areas do they want to live in? What is the extent of their ambition? Where do they want to go?

Only One Imperialistic

"Russia is the one country in the world that is still Imperialistic—still as Imperialistic as Ivan the Terrible, as Frederick the Great, or as Alexander."

He said Britain had speeded demobilization after the war's end, and now had checked it, with regret.

"The aggression still went on and as it went on we have had to arrest it in our own defence," he said.

Bevin expressed hope a "great centre" for world peace could be built around the British Commonwealth, the Western European alliance "and probably other countries."

Civic Delegates Seeking Grant

Peterborough's hope of obtaining government grant for Civic Hospital on the basis of 265 beds instead of 180 is the mission of a local deputation's trip to Toronto today to interview Hon. Russell G. Kelley, Minister of Health.

Appointed last week at the meeting of Board of Governors of the hospital and the council's special committee of which Ald. Raine is chairman, the members who took off today were: Mayor Ovens, Warden James Humphries, Ald. Raine, John R. Marshall, chairman of the Board, Ald. Swanston, John Hornal, superintendent of the hospital and City Clerk Outram.

The new hospital was planned for 265 beds when the Department several years ago estimated Peterborough's bed requirement at 400 or more. However, a departmental survey this year revised that capacity need, and as a result it was decided that the government grant should be paid on 180 beds, a radical reduction.

Take 4 In Custody In Holdup Slaying

MONTREAL, Oct. 14.—(CP)— Four persons taken into custody at Campbell's Bay, 65 miles north of Hull, Que., were brought here Wednesday night for questioning in connection with the slaying of two Montreal policemen in a Sept. 23 band hold-up.

The four are Helen and Frank Perreault, sister and brother of Douglas Perreault, one of two men charged in the slaying, Robert Tremblay, 26, and Richard Young, alias Johnny Young, 36.

Russia Asks Canada Leave Berlin

Neutral States Halt Mediation Efforts; Soviet Rejects Plan

BERLIN, Oct. 14.—(AP).—The Russians have proposed that 15 nations, Canada included, having military missions in Berlin, close them and withdraw from the city, the official Soviet press disclosed today.

The missions—little embassies—are accredited to the four-power Allied Control Council. They look after the interests of their countries in Berlin.

Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky, the Soviet commander, broached the subject to the Western military governors, the Soviet press said. He contended that because the Allied Control Council "no longer exists" the missions should be abandoned.

The Russian report said the Western governors had not disclosed their attitudes toward the proposal.

The control council has not met since March 20 when the Russians walked out. The Western powers have not recognized the Soviet withdrawal as constituting dissolution of the council. Last month the four military governors met in the control council authority building for technical negotiations on the Berlin crisis.

Besides Canada, nations with missions here are Australia, Belgium, Brazil, China, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Greece, India, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Poland, South Africa and Yugoslavia.

Reject Mediation

PARIS, Oct. 14.—(AP).—Western delegates met today on the Berlin crisis and authoritative sources said they were framing a joint demand for action by the Security Council to lift the Soviet blockade.

The Council takes up the Berlin issue again tomorrow. Hope vanished for mediation outside the Council with Russia's reported rejection of conciliation efforts by the so-called neutral states.

British, United States and French delegates studied the Kremlin's answer to the neutral states' mediation efforts. The content of the Soviet note still was not made public, but western sources said it set back the Berlin dispute to where it was six weeks ago.

The six "neutrals" of the Council, including Canada, abandoned their efforts to mediate. The Argentine foreign minister, Juan A. Bramuglia, acting chairman of the Council for the Berlin discussions, called the Council meeting after receiving a Russian reply to the neutrals on what terms would be acceptable to Moscow.

Authoritative sources said the Russians rejected mediation, insisted the Berlin issue was outside the authority of the Security Council, and asked that negotiations revert to the Aug. 30 four-power Moscow agreement. Under this the Russians would lift the blockade and the western powers would withdraw their currency from Berlin, leaving only Soviet-zone currency under four-power supervision.

August Drought Hits 1948 Tobacco Crop

OTTAWA, Oct. 14—(CP).—An August drought knocked out much of Canada's 1948 tabacco crop, but there will be still enough to look after next year's home consumption and exports, it was reported Wednesday.

The Bureau of Statistics estimated this year's crop, including all types of tobacco, at 109,055,000 pounds This was a considerable drop from the pre-season estimate of 126,681,000 pounds but about two per cent. above last year's crop of 106,688,000 pounds. Harvesting of tobacco now is completed.

Police Deny Prisoner Was Attacked

Vernon J. Neary, 3 Edgewater Blvd., was fined $20 and $4.50 costs or 24 days in jail today by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, on a charge of creating a disturbance in front of his home. The conviction was registered despite vigorous presentation by the accused of a story that he had been beaten by arresting police and had been denied needed medical attention.

PC Claire McGillen testified that he and PC Douglas Farthing had answered a call at the accused's home on the night of Oct. 7. Neary was intoxicated, they said, and his mother and sister had asked that he be taken to the station. When the accused's father offered to take care of him, the officers had returned to their cruiser and turned it around.

Then, said the officer, Neary had stopped the police car and used obscene language in talking to them about his mother.

(During the hearing, the public had been ordered from the courtroom, excluded because of the language which was repeated in the evidence).

Under questioning by the accused, PC McGillen replied that "there wasn't a hand laid on the accused at any time by any police officer." He denied Neary's query that McGillen had struck him.

PC Farthing said that the incidents of the night had been properly told by PC McGillen. He also told the accused that he knew of no blows struck or abusive languaged used against the accused.

PC Gordon Trennum, who was at the police station, said that from his observation Neary had not needed a doctor, although he had asked for both a doctor and a lawyer.

In his own defence, Neary testified that PC McGillen had been abusive in his language towards the accused at his home. At the police station garage, the accused said, McGillen had "clipped" him on the side of the head when his back was turned and landed eight or nine other blows, some to the face.

He said that he was refused the doctor and lawyer "because they said it was too late—but they didn't want a doctor to see the marks on my face."

A half-hour after he had been placed in the cells, Neary continued, he again repeated his request. At that time, he said that PC Trennum asked PC McGillen if he "wanted to go in there and give him some more of what he got before."

He quoted McGillen as threatening him in the cells: "If you don't shut up, I'll go in there and you'll need a doctor."

Neary said "I think McGillen has something against me and that's why he arrested me."

He admitted that he may have used "slang" terms in referring to his mother.

Magistrate Philp, in passing sentence, said "I have no hesitation in accepting the evidence of the officers in this case."

plowmen to be awarded all-expense trips to Great Britain.

The match, the 35th staged by the Ontario Plowmen's Association, ends Friday night with the plowmen's banquet. Agriculture Minister Kennedy is scheduled to speak.

Stubble-plowing with jointer plows, open to all comers, was Wednesday's main competition. Like spectators at a golf tournament, groups of up to 100 visitors followed as close as possible to their favorite contestants. Plowing started in the rain but ended under scudding clouds and patches of blue sky.

Opens Match

Against a backdrop of a mile of crimson maples Sir Andrew Jones, head of the British Food Mission in Ottawa Wednesday declared the match officially open. He confessed that he had never fitted his hand to a plow and was attending his first plowing match but said he recognized the tilling of the soil as "the first essential step to food production."

He warned the gathering that Britain next year would reduce her imports of food from Canada as a dollar conservation measure. At the same time she would "step up her own production of grain and livestock."

That did not mean that Britain intended to close her markets to Canadian farm produce, he said. As soon as Britain overcame her currency difficulties — "and she must close the gap between the cost of her exports and the value of her imports before United States aid ends in 1952-53"—she would turn again to Canada for much of the 50 per cent of her foodstuffs which she still would need to import.

"Farming in the United Kingdom has not been nationalized," he said. "It remains a free enterprise. Moreover, agriculture in Great Britain now is more fully mechanized than in any other country. There now is one tractor to every 60 acres of crop."

Labor Congress

strength of the CCF was seriously reduced in the last election."

Mr. Harris, who on Wednesday openly defended the Communist Party, urged the Congress not to take a "holier-than-thou attitude" and confine its support to one party. The CCF should not be "white washed" and looked upon as the only party capable of forming a government of the people.

"The narrow approach of the Right-wing leadership of the CCF stands in the way of realizing the formation of such a government." Official CCF pronouncements indicated the party was "not interested" in forming a government but was content with being an official Oppdsition.

Ideological differences were most pronounced during the debate on price controls, a subject on which one delegate said there should have been "complete unity."

Price Argument

Clarence S. Jackson of Toronto, Canadian director of the UEW, jumped into the argument with a bitterly-worded criticism of "the failure of the CCL administration to lead any effective protest movement against prices."

He proposed a Labor protest—"en masse if necessary"—to Ottawa. The Congress executive, he charged, was less concerned about prices than about "removing from their midst anyone who has the guts to get up and challenge them."

Mr. Conroy stated the executive's case: The CCL, prior to the 1945 general election, had warned the Government that prices would "skyrocket" if controls were removed. But the Labor-Progressive (Communist) party supported the Liberal party at that time, even though the Liberals pledged themselves to removal of controls.

"So here we have our friend Clarence (Jackson) running away and yelling his damned head off because he didn't have the courage three years ago.

Won't Stand For It

"Brother Jackson wants a few hundred long-haired men and a few dozen short-haired women to go to Ottawa to project what is supposed to be the protest of Labor. This Congress won't stand for it."

During the day there were those two direct references to the Communist movement:

George Harris of Toronto, UEW secretary-treasurer, said: "The Communist party needs no defence from me." You who indict the Communist party stand indicted yourselves."

tles of a "standard brand" of Ontario beer at the Bayview, they told the court.

All three said they emptied their bottles, and maintained that it had been good beer. Delaplant said further that it tasted like beer and smelled like beer.

Magistrate Golden, however, said that since they had drunk all the evidence he could not without analytical proof presume to surmise that the witnesses drank beer strong enough to be intoxicating.

Charge dismissed.

Following the Little Current trials similar charges were heard in Manitowaning against Neil McKeichnie of the Queen's hotel, and Bert Noon, of the Evergreen Inn. Police testified they found 150 bottles of beer and 110 cases of beer on the premises.

Twelve persons, found on the premises, gave evidence. All denied paying for beer.

Charges dismissed.

Quaint Character Delights Show Patrons

A delightful innovation of the Kinette Fashion Show Wednesday evening in Club Aragon was the "Old Flower Seller", portrayed by Mrs. C. Graham. Entering to the strains of "Litle Old Lady," she was a quaint figure in her shawl and bonnet and wicker handled basket of flowers. Seated at the entrance she humbly selected lovely corsages to match the bright new gows of each model and received but a few coins in return.

Mrs. Thomas Williams, vice-president of the Kinette club welcomed the guests in absence of Mrs. Roy Phillips, and called upon Mrs. William Ovens to make draws for the door prizes. Winners were Mrs. Chas. Allen, Mrs. Wm. Smoothie, Mrs. Pearl Sanders and Miss Doris Moncrief.

A shimmering cooper-toned background setting with colorful autumn leaves above the doorway and a high T-shaped runway were arranged by Kinettes. Large white urns with shaded flowers enchanced the setting and soft music was played throughout with Frank Hamon at the piano and Bob Kinsman and band members assisting.

Slapped Child Pays $5 Fine

John Sage, 515 Albert St., was fined $5 and $7.50 costs in court today when he pleaded guilty to an assault on 6-year-old Frank Shaw. Evidence was given that the accused had slapped the boy who was bothering the young son of the accused. He admitted that he realized that he was exceeding his authority and that the circumstances of the moment had been responsible. Magistrate Philp pointed out that all parents should appreciate the fact that the law does not permit them to discipline the children of others and that "there are standard channels through which such complaints can be dealt with."

Golds Edge Down On Stock Exchange

TORONTO, Oct. 14 — (CP) — Golds edged downwards in moderately active trading on the Stock Exchange here today. Industrials showed a slightly weaker tone and base metals held steady after recovering early weaknesses.

Only a few industrial stocks showed any change as action slackened. Utilities showed a weaker tone on fractional losses for Brazilian Traction, Bell Telephone, CPR and Shawinigan. International Petroleum and McColl Oil strengthened and Canadian Vickers Common added ½.

Senior golds led the downward trend in the gold list while juniors showed almost twice as many declines as advances. Trading was active in a few of the juniors but price changes were narrow. Hollinger and Kerr Addison were ¼ down in seniors and Dome dipped ⅝. San Antonio, Preston, United Keno Hill, Madsen, Chesterville and Bordulac were down 1 to 10 cents in junoirs.

Base metals recovered early losses in mid-session trading. Smelters gained ¼ and Waite Amulet, New Calumet, International Uranium and Falconbridge were ahead. Noranda, Quemont, Sherritt and Tobrit weakened.

YOU'D NEVER BELIEVE SHE IS 48 . . . .

She's one of the peppiest, happiest-spirited women you ever saw. At the time when most women think life is passing them by—she's right in the midst of things—always ready to go places and do things . . . as popular with the men as girls half her age. To look at her you would never believe she was a day over 35.

How does she do it? She gives the credit to Dr. Williams Pink Pills . . . for well she knows how important it is to have plenty of rich, red blood during those years when so many women are "pulled down" in health by bodily changes.

If you feel "always tired", if you look pale and dragged out, if you are suffering from a feeling of nervous exhaustion, are jittery and irritable, you may be paying the price of poor blood make-up. Don't wait—start Dr. Williams Pink Pills today. They contain an easily assimilable form of iron—fortified with a generous amount of Vitamin B1—and are wonderfully effective in helping to build the rich, red blood so necessary to vigor and energy. BUT ACT NOW

Scrambling to make a Will when danger threatens is probably better than not making one at all but the preparation of such an important document should not be left to the confusion of a last minute rush.

Making a Will is something that can easily be attended to before emergencies arise. This duty should not be neglected. The logic and advantages of appointing a Corporate Executor and Trustee are obvious and well recognized.

All that is needed to get the job done, and done well, is to ask us to help you plan your Will, which we shall gladly do without charge. You can then have it drawn in proper legal form, naming The Royal Trust Company your Executor and Trustee, execute the Will and file it with us for safekeeping.

It is not wise to be A MAN WITHOUT A WILL

Motor Manslaughter Case Being Heard In Assizes

COBOURG, Oct. 14 —(ENS) — Trial of George Watson, Toronto, for motor manslaughter as a result of a highway fatality occurring last May near Colborne in which Mrs. Gustav Poisson of Cape Rouge lost her life, started Wednesday in assize court. Harry Delman of Cobourg is conducting the prosecution and R. G. Phelan of Toronto is defence counsel. Mr. Justice Chevrier is presiding.

A plan of the highway where the accident occurred was presented by Thomas Muir, department of highways engineer. Where the impact occurred was the crest of a 45 degree grade and for 300 feet on either side of the crest, a car could be visible from that point, he said.

Dr. J. B. MacKay, Belleville pathologist, said that his examintion of Mrs. Poisson revealed that death had been due to chest injuries.

Ivan Lewis of Port Hope said he had followed the Watson car for about eight miles westward before the accident. It had been raining before the accident and the pavement was wet. Witness said he turned out to see if the road was clear but decided things didn't look very good and went back into line. Ahead was the car driven by Watson and up in front was another automobile. There was an evident grade ahead.

"I saw him pull out and try to pass the car ahead of him and run into an oncoming car that came over the rise. His car was right on the south side of the highway and they met. After the impact the position of the two cars that collided did not change materially. The car at the front of the line did not stop. After the accident I went back and saw one lady lying on the pavement and the other on the shoulder of the road. There was a man in each car in the front seat," said the witness.

To defence counsel, Lewis said that during the eight miles in which he followed Watson, he had noticed nothing wrong about his driving and his speed was not excessive. On the S-curve before the accident, Watson did not attempt to pass the car ahead of him. It was just as Watson was abreast of the car ahead that he, the witness, noticed the oncoming Poisson automobile.

In Quebec Government.

Gustav Poisson, deputy-minister of health and welfare in the Quebec government, testified that just before the accident, around 7 p.m. he was going up a moderate hill at about 35 miles an hour. At the crest of the hill he noticed a file of three cars coming toward him. He saw one car edge out as if to pass and then it skidded on to the south side of the road. He estimated that when he first saw the line of cars, the first one was about 100 feet from his car. The collision occurred and his wife fell out the right hand door.

Mrs. Ivan Lewis corroborated her husband's testimony.

Provincial Constable George Colling testified that it was not raining at the time of the accident and that visibility was good. After the impact his measurements showed that the left front wheel of the Quebec car was three feet four inches south of the south edge of the pavement with a skid mark from the south edge of the pavement to the left front wheel, one foot, eight inches south of the south edge of the pavement. The Watson car was facing north east at a 45 degree angle to the highway with the right front wheel nine feet, six inches south of the north edge of the pavement. There were no marks on the road made by either vehicle prior to the accident. The constable identified a statement signed by the accussed in which he said that he thought he had time to pass the car ahead of him before the oncoming one reached him. However, the east bound car came too fast for him to avoid an accident, the statement read.

The Crown finished its care at this point and the accussed was the first witness called by the defence.

Watson testified that as he came out of the S-turn, the highway became straight and looked safe enough in which to pass a car ahead of him. He had just pulled abreast of the car when the Quebec car seemed to come out of nowhere and a collision occurred. Watson said he didn't know there was a hill there.

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 14 — (ENS). — Deer are reported to be roaming the countryside west and south of here. Near White School, Ewart Huycke saw two deer standing about 25 yards from him. Imperial Conference—New Style

The hullabaloo in the current U.N. meetings has to a regrettable extent drowned out the reports from a gathering of greater ultimate significance—the meeting of Commonwealth Prime Ministers which opened in London on Monday. This meeting is what used to be called an Imperial Conference; the word 'Imperial' has temporarily fallen into disrepute, and we revive it only to remind our readers of Imperial Conferences in the past which were deeply significant gatherings, of great importance to our own country and to the world. There has been no such meeting since 1937, and the Commonwealth Premiers meet in a vastly changed world. It is a pity that Mr. Mackenzie King is prevented by illness from taking his accustomed place at the conference; he is one of the ablest of the old hands in Commonwealth deliberations, respected everywhere; the conference also meets without Jan Smuts who is, with Mr. King, one of the most experienced of Commonwealth statesmen. But we are glad that Mr. St. Laurent has himself gone to fill Mr. King's place. The conference is a vital one, and we need our best man to represent Canada there.

* * *

At the present conference the new dominions of India, Pakistan and Ceylon have places for the first time. How will that affect the deliberations? What will be said about the South African attitude toward its Negroes? What will be said about the "White Australia Policy"? We must expect these Asiatic dominions to use their new position to express their opinions very clearly, and the Christian, English-speaking nature of the conference to be altered. The day when the British Commonwealth meant the unquestioned supremacy of British Christian ideals has passed.

* * *

Nor is the position of Great Britain herself precisely as it was at earlier conferences. In March of this year, under the Brussels pact, Britain accepted and gave pledges to European nations which are not in the tradition of her previous diplomacy. Britain has, more than ever before, become a European country. What will the effect of that move be upon the solidarity of the Commonwealth? Britain's treaties do not bind British dominions; that is clear enough. But within the Commonwealth there has always been an understanding that the Commonwealth nations would see one another through any tight places which might appear. The need for a Western Union in Europe is widely acknowledged, but now that Britain is part of such a union, do the Commonwealth nations feel any obligation to support that union?

* * *

Canada's position is clear, and important. Canada has always honoured the Commonwealth bond, but Canada has also recognized her bond with the U.S.A. —a bond which now has concrete expression in the Canadian-American Joint Defence Board. Canada, in fact, stands for interlocking defence agreements of which the Commonwealth bond is but one—although a particularly important one. Canada, in fact, supports an Atlantic defence agreement and a North American defence agreement. Is there any doubt that Canada will also support an agreement which includes Western Europe?

* * *

We must not expect South Africa and New Zealand and Australia to see these matters in quite the same light that we do. They have their own problems which must be aired and considered at the conference. It is a fateful conference and, as we said, more likely in the long run to influence the future course of the world than the present noisy upbraidings at U.N.

A California man's request that a keg of whisky be served at his funeral was duly carried out last week. As a means of ensuring a large attendance this beats giving away dishes at the door.

Hunting Accidents And Manslaughter

In the opinion of the Kingston Whig-Standard there is a dangerous tendency to regard hunting accidents as being in a different class from other shooting accidents. A man who shoots a companion in a hunting party is understandably distressed, but his distress does not wholly excuse what he has done. When men go into the forest armed with guns, they are assumed to know how to use those guns. When one hunter kills another, therefore, the public should have the fullest assurance that the accident was genuinely accidental—that neither carelessness nor malice played any part in it. For this reason our contemporary urges that any hunter who shoots another hunter should be charged either with murder or manslaughter.

The Kingston paper continues:

> At the very least, there should be prosecution for criminal negligence every time a man dies under the gun of another in marsh or bush. Nothing else, neither warnings nor appeals, serve to shorten the list of hunting deaths each Autumn.
> It is high time that men who go out with guns in the hunting season were treated as others who kill their fellows within the limitations set out by the Criminal Code regulations governing manslaughter.

We think that this advice, though stern, is good. And we should not be surprised if the certainty that legal action would follow any hunting accident decreased the number of such accidents sharply. Modern psychology has taught us to be deeply suspicious of "accidents". Indeed, the word accident, meaning a wholly inexplicable and unavoidable calamity, is falling out of favour. Careful investigation shows that far too many accidents are the result of a sort of negligence which is inexcusable in men carrying guns. And, however deep his remorse may be, the negligent hunter should be punished to prevent others from repeating his folly.

The Status Of High Commissioners

The Canadian High Commissioner in London is a peculiar person. He is just as important as an Ambassador, but he lacks ambassadorial rank. That is because ambassadors receive their accreditations directly from their sovereigns, and it would seem a little foolish to ask King George to recommend a Canadian Ambassador from himself (as King of Canada) to himself (as King of England). Canada's representatives in London are something a little better than ambassadors; they are friends. It is unfortunate that the rank of "friend" commands no precedence on official occasions.

The London Times comments on the matter thus: "It is an evident anomaly that the envoy of a great sovereign state like Canada should on all official occasions have to yield precedence to the ambassadors of foreign states merely because his country stands in an exceptionally intimate relation to Great Britain".

Does it matter? Yes, we think that it does. There is more virtue in protocol and ceremonious observance than those who have never encountered it are prepared to believe. To have Canada's official representative tagging along behind the ambassadors from banana republics is neither dignified nor wise. What is to be done?

We think that the Ottawa Citizen has the right idea. It suggests that Canada's High Commissioner be given the same degree of precedence as would be granted our Prime Minister upon all occasions. That would solve the problem.

No Revolt In Russia

A man of Russian birth in New York has achieved a brief notoriety by saying that the people of Russia are on the brink of revolt against communism. We don't believe a word of it.

First, Russia is much too big, and its population too large and too diverse for any unity of opinion to exist on such a ticklish topic as revolution.

Next, revolution is a thing which comes to a head very slowly, and achieves its end after many years of dissatisfaction and abortive attempts to secure redress of wrongs. There have been no hints of such attempts in Russia.

Last, Russia has a large and seemingly efficient policy-spy system, and both Imperial and Communist Russia have shown unusual talent for sniffing out disloyalty and crushing it.

All during the war, and before it, there was silly talk about revolt in Germany. We know that there was no revolt. There will be no revolt in Russia, and we would be fools to look for it.

"Present-day world-wide upheavals only mean that civilization is under construction", says a sociologist. Extensive re-modelling, we think, it should be called.

From The Critic's Notebook

IT is not a pleasant duty to record disappointment with the latest work of an eminent man of letters. Nevertheless, the present reviewer is in duty bound to say that in his opinion "Ape and Essence" (Clarke Irwin) by Aldous Huxley is one of the least satisfactory productions to which that author has ever signed his name. In its externals this novel resembles its forerunners; the keen satire, the encyclopaedic learning and the caricaturist's sense of distortion are there; but the novel seems to be very short weight for a writer who has been accustomed to load us with riches. It is difficult to account for this failure without reference to the circumstances of Mr. Huxley's life, and however difficult this may appear, it must be attempted if the foregoing judgement is to be supported.

* * *

WHEN Aldous Huxley began his career as a novelist he was thought by many people to be a very bitter and shocking fellow. He liked to write about nasty things, and he liked to write about them in a funny way. Now it is one of the basic truths of authorship that you may be as nasty as you like if you are serious; but if you try to be funny and nasty at once, you may expect trouble. Huxley had plenty of trouble with sentimentalists of all kinds, and because he was an unusually brilliant man he triumphed over it easily.

* * *

AFTER his early success he became more serious. This was to be expected, for it was plain to discerning readers that his preoccupation with nasty things was the outcome of a deep moral fastidiousness; like Dean Swift, he could neither accept the animal side of humanity, nor could he ignore it. His involvement in moral problems became intense; he sought peace in religious questings and in the teachings of Mathias Alexander. It was during this period of his life that he moved to California.

* * *

IN California he found a life more shallow, more tawdry, than any he had met with before. He has satirized this foolishness in several of his later novels, and it is satirized again in "Ape and Essence". In that book we see California as it will be at some future time when atomic war has reduced men to savages, worshipping Belial and clothing themselves in garments robbed from graves. This fantasy is worked out with much Huxley brilliance, but it is a little too severe for the reader to accept without a protest. One wants to say: "Not all life is like Californian life; and if you don't like California why don't you go somewhere else?"

* * *

BRIEFLY, the difference between "Ape and Essence" and the best of Huxley's work is this; in his best work his satire springs from a real moral revulsion against the silliness and beastliness of mankind as a mass, whereas in this latter work the moral revulsion seems artificial; one gets the impression —horrible as it may seem in a writer of his great gifts—that Huxley is flogging mankind because mankind pays well to be flogged by famous authors. Such trumped-up indignation savours more of Westbrook Pegler or Philip Wylie than of Swift or the real Huxley.

* * *

ONE of the best stories in "Mortal Coils", which Huxley published in 1922, was called "The Gioconda Smile"; he has turned this into a play, which is enjoying considerable success in London at present, and it has been published in book form (Clarke, Irwin). Huxley made one earlier venture in playwriting with a piece called "The World of Light", which was not successful. A number of critics have regretted that Huxley never persisted with the play form. To the present reviewer, at least, such regret is ill-founded; Huxley's mode of thought is so plainly that of a novelist, and his fondness for discursive passages finds such an admirable outlet in his novels, that it seems silly to wish that he had tried to make himself something which he is not. His dramatization of "The Gioconda Smile" is skilfully done, but the story has lost, rather than gained, in the process, and it is remarkable to record that in this play by one of the most graceful writers of our day there is not one line which could not have been written by Terence Rattigan. Huxley trusts his readers with fine words; he will not accord a similar trust to his actors. Nevertheless it is interesting to know that he can write a successful play, even though it is not up to the standard of his novels or of the short story which is its source.—R.D.

The Ever-Climbing Spiral

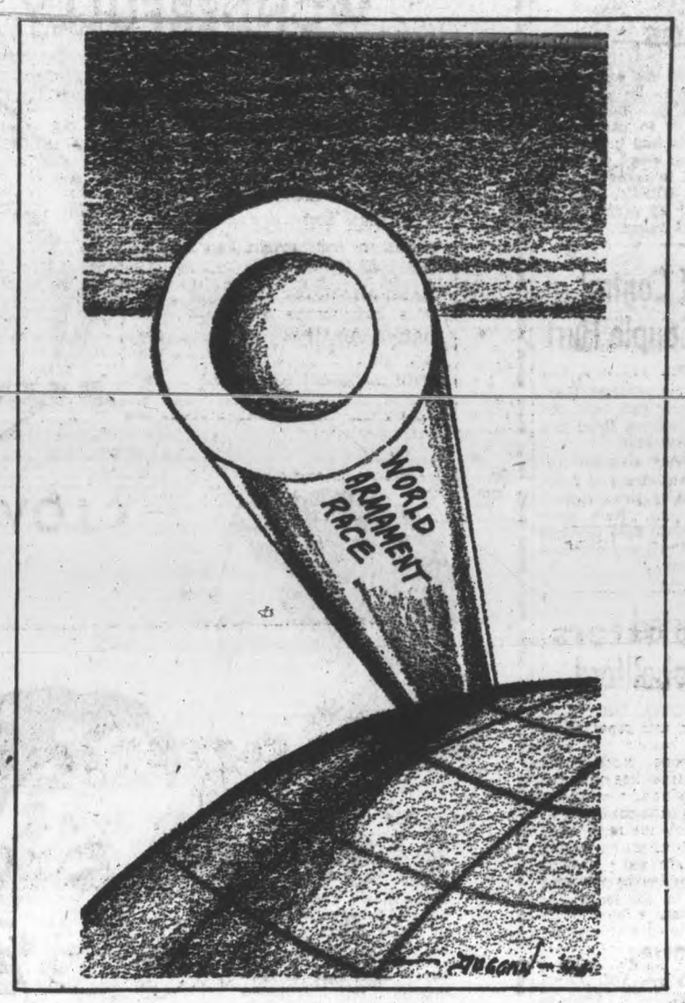
Post-war predictions of economists and politicians that with the removal of subsidies production would soar and prices level off have proved wrong. Production has increased greatly, but so have prices.

At September 1 the cost-of-living index stood at 158.9, an unprecedented figure. An illustration of what the premature removal of subsidies has meant is the substantial increase in the price of fats between August 2 and September 1. It over-balanced the seasonal reduction in vegetables and the lower cost of eggs.

These increases in commodity prices are proving ever more burdensome to the Canadian people. Cost-of-living bonuses are demanded by government employes to meet them; workers require more money in their pay envelopes; management must again increase prices to meet rising costs. There seems to be no foreseeable end to this spiral except its collapse.

As the Evening Citizen has so often contended, a wise use of subsidies on selected items would have stemmed the present inflation and mitigated its threat to the standard of living. There is no sign yet that more production will stabilize or reduce prices. Presumably they will continue upwards until the consumer can no longer afford to buy anything but the bare necessities for survival.—Ottawa Citizen.

ANOTHER MOUTH TO FEED



A Word For Grand Juries

(BRANTFORD EXPOSITOR)

AT Guelph last Wednesday, a grand jury, in its presentment to the presiding justice at the sittings of assize, made the disturbing report that conditions at the Wellington County Home for the Aged were "generally deplorable", that the staff "is not efficient", that "the place is filthy and untidy and poor provision is made for those not well", also that residents of the home lived in conditions comparable to those imposed on prisoners in the county jail. Properly, in view of its conclusions, the grand jury recommended that the situation be investigated.

Within recent months suggestions have been renewed, in certain quarters, that the grand jury system be discontinued, following the example set in the United States, England and several Canadian provinces. Those who advocate the change usually do so on the ground that the functions of grand juries are now performed more efficiently by other agencies and individuals, including magistrates and government inspectors of public institutions. In this connection a charge was publicly made only a few weeks ago that inspections by juries were "most perfunctory". This, of course, was an unfair generalization. The inspection of the institution here mentioned was evidently not "perfunctory"! The same may be said of many of the inspections made by local grand juries over a period of years.

At all events, if conditions in the Wellington County establishment are as described, it is pertinent to ask whether any other inspecting board or individual discovered and reported them, and, if so, whether anything was done to correct matters. If there is no record of such inspection, then it can be taken that, in this instance, the grand jury's existence has been vindicated.

There are other reasons why the system should not be hastily or carelessly discarded. It affords one valuable means by which citizens can take part in the administration of justice, and see for themselves how the processes of the law are carried out. This applies not only to inspection of public buildings and the like, but also to the reviewing of the cases of the Crown in matters involving serious charges. It is for the grand jury to decide, after hearing one or all witnesses callable by the Crown, whether there is sufficient evidence to justify proceeding to actual trial. The grand jury thus renders a true bill or no bill as it may determine, and sometimes saves a defendant an expensive ordeal.

Provided, therefore, grand juries are properly instructed by the judges and crown authorities, and provided they take their duties seriously and carry them out conscientiously, they can give good and, indeed, essential service, and should not be dispensed with unless and until a completely adequate substitute unit is set up.

An Appeal To The Throne

Are kings worth what they cost? Pastrycook Alfred Bell, 48, thinks so. Last week Alfred stood looking through the grubby window of an empty little shop in the main road of Bedhampton, a Hampshire village. He smiled broadly as he pictured the cookies and cakes and pies he would bake to fill it. "It's all the King's doing", he cried. "God bless the King!"

After the First World War, in which he served as an RAF observer, Alfred had opened up his own pastry shop in London's Ealing. In World War II, Alfred joined the RAF again. His house at Croydon was bombed one night while Alfred was at home on leave. Alfred, his wife and their six children survived, although Alfred was left with a crippled leg, his wife with a weak heart. After the war the Ministry of Labour rated Alfred as "unemployable". Four times he had applied for a permit to open a pastry shop in Bedhampton, to which he had moved. Four times he had been refused. Opening of new pastry shops was strictly forbidden because of the shortage of fats, flour and sugar.

Last April, Alfred sat down in his red-curtained sitting room and wrote a letter to the King at Buckingham Palace, telling His Majesty the whole story.

A few days later, King George VI was sitting at his Georgian walnut desk in the lofty blue and white study of the palace, reading the morning's mail. Among the letters with embossed headings he saw Alfred's cheap writing paper and careful penmanship. He reached for it, read it twice, then handed it to his secretary with instructions.

It took four months of bureaucratic gear-grinding for the King's instructions to bear fruit. Last week, an official buff-coloured envelope flopped on to Alfred's doormat. Inside was a letter signed by Food Minister Strachey's private secretary: "Your letter.... was referred by the King to the Minister of Food who, by His Majesty's command, has given it careful consideration and has decided that....an exception to the general rule ....may be made in your case". Said Alfred: "When my wife and I realized what the King had done, we burst into tears."—Time Magazine.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certain man, kneeling down to him, and saying, Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is lunatick, and sore vexed: for ofttimes he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water. And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.

Then Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me. And Jesus rebuked the devil: and he departed out of him: and the child was cured from that very hour.

Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out? And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain. Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you.

Howbeit this kind goeth not out but by prayer and fasting. (Matt. 17: 14-21.)

"A mistake?"

"Yes," explained the guest, "I thought they were real silver."

Meeting Undersea Monsters Probable In Piccard Dive

By HENRY GHYSSELS

ABOARD THE SCALDIS, Oct. 14 — (By Wireless) — "I don't have to tell you how delighted I am to be accompanying the Piccard-Cosyns deep-sea expedition," said Theodore Monod, one of the expedition's zoologists, specializing in the undertaking in research on animal sediments on the ocean bottom and plankton studies. I interviewed him en route for the great adventure. Dr. Monod is, incidentally, director of the French Dark Africa Institute.

"I am fascinated by the undersea balloon dives both as man and as scientist," he exclaimed. "It's a tremendous adventure, but there is, of course, a serious scientific purpose which has an excitement all its own, too . . .

"You see," Dr. Monod continued warming to his subject, "we know terribly little about the great ocean depths, despite the great activity in this field of research for the last 70 or 80 years. The areas to be covered are gigantic and our deep-sea nets make pitifully tiny stabs in this great dark chasm.

"Ask yourself what we'd know about, say, the animal life of Europe alone if we'd had to rely on fishing specimens brought up in a net through the clouds to a balloon? With luck, after 50 years of effort, we might have netted a weathervane, the leaves of some trees, a couple of fir cones, a man's hat, a dead cat, a few oyster shells, pieces of telegraph line, a bed spring, some old sheets of newspaper—in all, hardly indicative of life on the ground.

Weird Looking Fish

"And yet that's relatively all we know about animal and vegetable life at great ocean depths. We've got to get down there to see the animals and vegetables, perhaps to seize some and bring them to the surface, and to grasp the extent of life that far down.

"Of course," Dr. Monod went on, after a pause, "we don't know something of what there is down there. Some of the fish we've brought up, for example, are weird things—and make us all the more eager to know what more there may be. I don't want to carry that earth simile too far, but if (relatively) we've brought up from the great depths only a dead cat so far, perhaps we'll now be able to find the (again relative) sea bottom's deer, its cows, elephants, tigers, and so on.

"You're convinced," I asked Monod, "then, there is so much yet to be discovered."

"Naturally — and any surprise is possible. I'm not going to begin telling you what I hope to find, what I dream of discovering . . . It's too early for that. But you can be sure that the biologists and zoologists who get to go down in the Bathyscaphe will be keyed up to a pitch of eager alertness.

"You see, this Bathyscaphe is opening up a whole new realm to man's eyes. We biologists are going to be able to watch entirely new forms of life 'at home' as it were—forms of life hitherto undreamed of or known only as stuffed museum specimens.

How Do They See?

"One of the points of particular interest that we want to study is the way in which these creatures of the black deeps produce their own light.

"Of course, observation of these fish in their natural habitat is our most important job. But dissection and closer inspection than will be possible through the nine inches of glass in the Bathyscaphe's port also is desirable. So we have rigged a number of automatic devices to harpoon or net some of these creatures to bring them to the surface.

"In addition, we carry the usual oceanographic deep-sea nets aboard the Scaldis, and we'll be trying to net specimens at various depths along the entire route of our voyage. Obviously, at the surface or near it—in that region where the sunlight penetrates and nourishes vegetation so that fish abound—we will catch many known types. But as we drop the nets lower, we can perhaps expect to find new types of mutations of known fish families. In the still lower depths, we expect to find much plankton, minute forms of animal and vegetable life, on which I suppose the larger fish of these depths feed."

"What about submarine monsters?" I had to ask Dr. Monod.

"Well," he replied, "I know that men's imaginations have long toyed with the idea of prehistoric survivors, monsters living in the cold black depths of the ocean. And why not? We know there are giant squids and there may well be other very large fish. We just don't know. But personally, I can't assert that we will not perhaps meet some unexpected giant — its study may be useful to science, and, indeed, exciting to the general public . . . But I really don't approve of guessing. As Professor Piccard himself has so often repeated, "We don't know what's there; if we knew, we wouldn't be going down."

Adanacs Take Game

TORONTO, Oct. 14.—(CP). — New Westminster Adanacs, slowed down to "seeing speed" by the rugged, hard-checking Hamilton Tigers, held onto a two-game lead today in their series for the Dominion senior lacrosse title but it was a close call. The free-wheeling Western Canadian champions had to fight all the way Wednesday night in the second game of their best-of-five Mann Cup series before they edged out a 13-11 victory. They won 11-8 Monday. The third game will be played Friday.

Windsor Club To Play Petes In OLA

Arrangements were completed last night for the all-Ontario lacrosse playoff between Windsor and Peterborough. The Windsor club agreed to play the two-in-three final series here with a good gate guarantee. This series will be staged this Friday, Saturday and Monday—if necessary—nights at Miller bowl, starting at 8.30 p.m. Manager Doug Miller made this announcement last evening after phone communication with the Windsor management.

Playing in a group around Detroit, the Windsor team wangled a late entry into the OLA and was called a senior "C" club. The team was drawn in playdowns against Scarboro, a senior "B" team, and won easily in two straight games. The Petes, OLA senior "B" winners, agreed to play Windsor for the Levack Trophy as an all-Ontario cup, since the senior "A" team declined to participate owing to Mann Cup playoffs with Western Canada. Windsor is said to have a big, fast team. The gates at Miller Bowl will open at seven p.m nightly for the series.

Main football attraction here this week-end is the ORFU intermediate fixture between Oakville and the Panthers at three in the Oval Saturday. Right now, Orillia Bombers are flying high in this group with five wins and no losses. Panthers and Oshawa Red Raiders are tied with two victories apiece, but Oshawa has lost three games to Panthers' two reverses. Oakville trails the field, though with the big draw on players that club has don't be too surprised if it shows up with a much stronger squad the rest of the route. The schedule only goes till Oct. 23, and then the top two teams playoff in home and home games for the group title, so the Panthers have to keep winning if they want that playoff spot.

* * * * * *

In our COSSA groupings, the PCVS seniors have an exhibition Saturday at Trinity College, while the junior PCIers go to Lakefield this week-end, and Lindsay juniors play St. Peter's here, probably about one p.m. in the Oval. These schedules terminate the end of this month with playoffs following. On either Nov. 6 or 11, there's a tentative exhibition lined up for here between Guelph Collegiate and the senior PCVS pack. While the COSSA playoffs are billed for Nov. 13 and 20. We wouldn't be too surprised to see both PCVS squads right up in there comes playoff time again.

Can't See Everything

Bill Fay has some interesting grid comments in Collier's, one para being: "When you come right down to it, nobody—coach, fan or reporter—sees 10 per cent of the action in any football game. Modern football is too fast and complicated for one person to follow. That's why at least four officials are assigned to supervise 22 players. That's why many college and pro teams assign five observers to scout a strong opponent—one scout to watch the ends, another the tackles, and so on. And that's why coaches prepare their players for future opponents by consulting the only infallible witness of previous games—the motion-picture camera."

* * * * * *

Hah, that's what we need, a motion-picture camera! We could then just sit calmly up above the crowd somewhere at a Saturday grid game and start her rolling. At the end of the game, set it up before a screen in slow motion and see just what did happen all through. The big guys on the line couldn't accuse us of missing their blocking to watch a backfielder handle the ball. But then neither could they deny clipping a rival on that touchdown play, huh? If the movie camera becomes popular around here, too, what referee can brag: "Me? I never make mistakes." The camera doesn't lie.

Turn Over Their Cut

With no lights now at the Ashburnham Bowl, it is rather doubtful if the Lindsay-Ashby's protested game will be replayed. As it's getting rather late, too. By the way, it might be mentioned that the proposed benefit game for Florine Killen of Ashby's, who had a back injury some time ago in a game, didn't come off. Couple of teams contacted couldn't make it, and then playoffs arrived and it was out of the question then. Now, it is too late for softball. But the Ashby's team decided to pool their financial returns of the season into a lump sum and give it to this popular player to help defray expenses, instead of buying themselves jackets. Good going.

* * * * * *

Just got word from Doug Miller that the Windsor-Petes' lacrosse playoff is on. Two out of three games, all here, Friday, Saturday and Monday (if necessary) nights at Miller Bowl. Starting at 8.30 p.m. each time. This is for the all-Ontario title and the Levack Trophy, since the senior "A" champs aren't challenging for it. The Windsor squad, which put out Scarboro easily, after getting into the OLA series late, are reported big and fast. A lot of their senior "A" gridders are on the team and they should make the Petes hustle every minute. With any decent weather, this one ought to pack 'em in.

Big John Was Rough

Plenty of mat action along the Rue Brock last e'en. The Whip beat John Katan in the main melee but he had a hectic time of it first. Big John won't see 40 again but he is a rough and strong guy, indeed. Has been a pro grappler some 20 years and banks more moolah than most of us will ever see. He fears no one in the ring and plays it rough with them all. Watson is a classy wrestler but took a beating for awhile before he finally pinned Katan. There's talk of Wild Bill Longson, former world's champ, coming here soon. In the semi-final, three extra big guys were in there—counting 265-pound Referee Ernie Powers. Ben Morgan, 322 pounds, whiskers and all, won from popular Ben Sharpe—a handsome hunk of manhood. The prelim between Jack Moore and Charley Green went to a draw.

Whip Watson Beats Katan Using 'Unconscious' Grip

Applying the "Canuck Commando" hold twice on John Katan, Whipper Bill Watson won the main bout of the pro grapple card at the Brock Arena last night. A good-sized crowd saw a lot of action in all three bouts, particularly in the hot main session. The Whip won the first and third falls, after losing the second.

Watson, at 232, took the initial fall in 27 minutes of hard grappling, much of it the straight mat variety. Katan, who scaled 245, offset Watson's speed and class with his experience, extra weight and rough tactics. He proved plenty unruly and unpopular, showing no fear of the British Empire champion as he roughed it up with eye rasps, [illegible] The Whip had a lot of speed and aggressiveness and it finally paid off when he worked in to clamp his "unconscious" grip—pressure on each side of the neck—to earn the fall as the crowd cheered.

A Fast One

Katan conserved energy by staying in the ring between rounds and he jumped the Whipper as he climbed into the ring He roughed him up savagely for several minutes as the dazed champion, attired still in dressing gown, tried to hold his own. The referee, Ernie Powers, appeared unable to halt it—and said later he couldn't disqualify Katan between rounds—while the crowd booed heartily. At a nod from the Whip, the referee signalled the timer and, as the gong went, John tore back in and finished it fast, in just two minutes, with a couple of smashes, a neck grip and a slam. It was a most unpopular fall.

But despite another rough attack from the villainous veteran in the third round, Watson won out in slightly over seven minutes. He again applied his Canuck Commando, this time from behind and also using a body scissors. Katan was helpless, after previously roughing the Whip up hard, but afterward complained that Watson had used a strangle hold. He got away with rough tactics for a few minutes till the infuriated Whipper suddenly roughed it up, too, using fists and elbow smashes to body and head to set up Katan for the deciding fall. This was a popular fall with the fans.

Lot of Beef

Nearly half a ton of beef showed in the ring for the semi-final. Referee Ernie Powers weighed 265, while Ben Morgan scaled 322 and Ben Sharp 235. They were all tall men, at that, and it was a lively session, Morgan won it in 19 minutes after a terrific slam Sharpe had him set up for the fall with smashes and money flips, but the bearded husky crossed him up at the last by holding on to the ropes suddenly. Sharpe slipped and went down and Morgan threw his huge torso atop him for the win. It was a good scrap with Sharpe more popular but the huge Tennessee grappler was fairly fast for his weight and very powerful. He was rough enough, too.

In the prelim, Jack Moore, 235, and Charley Green, the 218-pound Englishman, went to a 30 minute draw. The English champ wore full-length trunks but proved fast and pretty well up on American style wrestling. Moore proved extra rough and got away with a lot as Referee Powers overlooked unorthodox stunts to the crowd's disapproval. He pulled hair and used the ropes for leverage but the action was fast and Green had his hefty opponent out of the ring and really travelling with flying tackles for a space. It was tamer toward the end and was called a draw.

Hornets Blank Flyers 5-0; Rockets Win

By The Canadian Press

Pittsburgh Hornets and Philadelphia Rockets both chalked up impressive shutout victories in the American Hockey League Wednesday night.

The Hornets whitewashed St. Louis Flyers 5-0 while the Rockets blanked Springfield Indians 3-0 at Philadelphia.

At Providence Carl Liscombe, who broke all professional records scoring 110 points last season, gained four goals and two assists as Providence Reds over-powered New Haven Ramblers 8-3. Hershey Bears went down to a 4-2 defeat on home ice at the hands of the Cleveland Barons.

The Hornets started rolling in the second period with a goal by Sid Smith while his team was short-handed. Smith added another and Vic Gregg bagged one goal before the period ended. In the last two minutes of the third period Tod Sloan scored twice in 15 seconds.

After a scoreless first session, Philadelphia pushed over two goals in the second stanza and added another in the final session.

Although beaten, the Indians had the better of the attack and Harvey Jessiman of the Rockets was forced to kick out 45 shots while Phil McAtee booted out only 31 to gain his goose-egg.

Barons made it their 29th consecutive win in overcoming the Bears. Hershey took the lead in the first period on a goal by Brown, but from there on it was the Barons all the way.

Red Wings Whip Hawks As NHL Season Under Way

By BERT ALLEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Detroit Red Wings, co-favorites with Toronto in the National Hockey League this season, ran true to form Wednesday night, beating the rejuvenated Chicago Black Hawks 3-1 as the N.H.L. lifted the lid on the 1948-49 campaign.

It was the earliest opening in the league's history, and Detroit's smallest first-game crowd since before the war — 10,780 fans—watched the Wings break a 1-1 deadlock with two third-period goals.

Two more clubs see action tonight when Frank Boucher takes his injury-riddled New York Rangers into Montreal for a clash with Canadiens.

Detroit won the game on goals by rearguards Jack Stewart and Leonard (Red) Kelly and rookie Max McNab, who also drew an assist on Stewart's marker to lead the point-getters.

Sugar Jim Henry, who came to the Hawks in a trade this week with Rangers, made his debut in the Chicago nets and blocked 19 of the first 20 shots fired at him in the first two periods. But he couldn't withstand the Detroit pressure in the final frame and the Wings banged home two counters to put the game on ice.

Hits Target

After a scoreless first period, Jack Stewart hit the target on a relay from McNab at the 40-second mark of the middle session. Gus Bodnar got that one back for Chicago on a solo effort at 17.25.

The Wings went ahead to stay at 3.30 of the final frame when Kelly streaked in from the boards, skirted defenceman Nattrass and feinted Henry out of position to ram home what proved to be the winning goal. McNab then backhanded in a rebound off Gordon Howe's long shot for the clinching counter.

Detroit's Jim McFadden, winner of the Calder rookie award last season, was presented with the cup before the game by NHL president Clarence Campbell.

Coach Frank Boucher brought his Rangers into Montreal for tonight's game with Canadiens, confident that the Blueshirts will give a good account of themselves despite the loss of four key players.

For Boucher, who got Rangers into the playoff last season after five straight years in the confines of the NHL basement, the loss of star centres Buddy O'Connor and Edgar Laprade and defenceman Frankie Eddolls and Bill Moe was a severe blow to his plans for the campaign.

All four were injured in an automobile crackup last week. O'Connor and Eddolls are out for six weeks, while Laprade and Moe expect to be back in action in a week or so.

Champion Tigers Big Question Mark In OHA

TORONTO, Oct. 14 — (CP). — Big question among Ontario Hockey Association senior A fans this year is how the champion Hamilton Tigers are going to shape up. When the senior amatur loop opens its schedule Friday night the famed "old men of the mountain" will be minus four of last year's stars.

Swat Mason, now in Moncton, N.B., will be missing. Doug Runions has quit hockey. Bill Dinning and Bobby Laurent are seeking positions with other senior clubs. Coach George Redding announced Wednesday the club would not give these two their releases. If they return, the Tabbies once again will be a powerful aggregation.

Veteran Art Childs again will be in goal, with two other netminders at ready call. The rearguards brigade will consist of Polly Miocinovich, Carl Smelle, Bill Gluck, Jack Birtwhistle of Georgetown intermediate, and Don Batten of Cornwall. Up front the titlists will have Tom Smelle, Clare Shillington, who decided on another year of play before becoming a referee, and Johnny Conick for one line. Ab Conick, Murray Comfort and Frank Liscombe form another trio.

Tigers also have Jack Shewchuk and Hal Cooper, former pros, working out. They will attempt to obtain releases and take out amateur cards. The Smelle brothers intended to head for the Maritimes after trying out for Kansas City, but were persuaded to stop off at Hamilton.

Better Defence

Owen Sound Mercurys will have a harder-hitting defence and more strength down the centre than last year. A working agreement with Providence of the American Hockey League gives the club its first tie-up with a pro outfit. Pivotmen Tom Burlington and Jack Ingoldsby are back, along with shifty Mike Shabaga, promising newcomer from Saskatoon.

The Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen head into the schedule with a new coach and eight replacements. Walter (Punch) Scherer, coach of Stratford last year, will guide the team. Taking over the goalie position is Marcel Pelletier of Sorel, Que. Bill Dinning of Hamilton Tigers is seeking a defence berth along with Harvey Jacklin of the old Hamilton Pats.

CANADA'S QUEEN of the ice, Barbara Ann Scott, will make her professional debut at New York's huge Roxy theatre, it has been announced. The pretty, 20-year-old Ottawa miss has been signed to headline a skating act in the Roxy's holiday stage show starting Dec. 22. Officials of the Music Corporation of America Artists Limited, her agents, said her salary for the engagement is unprecedented. The figure is rumored to be $10,000 a week. Barbara Ann is pictured above as she executes a stag jump.

Sox Shake-up Will Continue

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—(AP). — It's almost a cinch that Red Sox owner Tom Yawkey, vice-president Eddie Collins, general manager Joe Cronin and manager Joe McCarthy will be around next season—but don't bet on anyone else except possibly some of the better ball players on the Boston team.

Yawkey couldn't hide his disappointment after losing the American League pennant, and much of the blame is being passed around to Sox and farm officials.

The shake-up in the Sox organization which began before the club was beaten out in unexpected playoff appears likely to continue.

Three members of the organization are gone and the Sox, rejecting all questions, indicate the three resigned.

The three disagree and say, in effect, "we didn't jump, we were pushed."

Latest to go is Del Baker, veteran coach and one-time Detroit Tigers' manager, who will be replaced by Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler, recently a manager in the Southern Association.

The Sox office, reporting the change, said Baker had resigned. At his San Antonio, Tex., home Baker retorted that he had been dismissed.

Kansas City Team Ties St. Paul 2-2

By The Associated Press

The United States Hockey League, after opening its season Wednesday night with a Kansas City-St. Paul 2-2 tie, sends six teams into action tonight.

The Saints return home to take on Dallas, Omaha plays at Tulsa, and Fort Worth at Houston.

Wednesday night's game forced use of the tie-game rule, reinstated after a year's lapse. Last year extra periods were ordered to play off ties, but the old rule of limiting play to three regular periods was adopted again last spring.

Both St. Paul and Kansas City receive one point in the standings.

Disaster Work Plans Outlined

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 14—(ENS)—Mrs. C. J. Ray and Mrs. Fred Hooper of Peterborough were guest speakers Tuesday evening when the Lakefield branch, Canadian Red Cross, met for their October meeting at the Curry home. Mrs. Ray spoke on the organization for disaster and emergency relief and Mrs. Hooper gave a report from the advisory committee council held recently in Toronto.

Mrs. Hooper mentioned the need for clothing, babies' supplies and quilts and urged workers to help as much as possible. She also suggested that veterans in hospitals and their families should receive regular visits.

In her discussion on disaster and emergency relief Mrs. Ray mentioned two important goals, the first to have a plan so well organized that they can move quickly, the second to have workers who know exactly what to do when they arrive on the scene of an accident or disaster. She urged that before calling for help you should know exactly what you need and clearly state requirements, giving the nature of the disaster, its magnitude, definite location and instructions as to how to arrive there quickly.

The speakers were thanked by Mrs. Wl E. Gillman.

The president, Mrs. W. W Leonard, presided and plans were completed for the dance to be held in Memorial Hall, November 19.

The Well Babies' Clinic supervisors reported 17 babies in attendance on opening day last week. Clinics are being held each Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock instead of Thursday mornings as previously.

Tea was served at the conclusion of the meeting under the convenership of Mrs. J. O. Huddart.

Set Convention Date At Meet On October 30

TORONTO, Oct. 14 (CP)—Until a provincial Progressive Conservative convention picks a new leader, Agriculture Minister T. L. Kennedy will take over as party leader and premier of Ontario.

But he won't go before the convention when it meets to pick a successor to Premier George Drew new national party leader.

A caucus of Progressive Conservative members of the legislature decided Wednesday a provincial convention was needed to choose a new leader. It recommended that Mr. Kennedy handle the job until the convention.

The affable 70-year-old politician, a member of the provincial house for 26 years, told the caucus he would not be a candidate at the convention.

Alex D. McKenzie, president of the provincial association, said Wednesday night a meeting of the Ontario Conservative Association would be held here Oct. 30 to set the convention date.

Shaping up as candidates are Attorney General Leslie Blackwell—the only man to date to announce his candidature — and Provincial Treasurer Leslie Frost. Highways Minister George Doucett has also been mentioned.

A minor cabinet shuffle is in the offing following the change of leadership. Mr. Drew held the Education portfolio and Roland Michener, provincial secretary who was defeated in the June 5 election, has resigned. Mr. Kennedy may also turn over his Agriculture portfolio to another member.

He, is expected to preside at a cabinet meeting today, although he may not take office until next week.

BOND Tailored-to-Measure CLOTHES

New Bond Clothes Shop Opens Tomorrow

MR. GEORGE SULLIVAN

Youthful manager of the new Bond Clothes Shop is George Sullivan, a well-known resident of Peterborough all his life. He has had experience in the retailing business of Peterborough for seven years and is accustomed to dealing with the public. To his position he brings not only that experience, but the sincere desire to render to customers of this fine men's wear store a service which will be completely satisfactory to them.

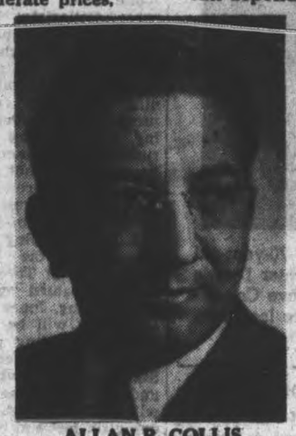
During the war for three and a half years Mr. Sullivan was a member of the Auxiliary Services of the Canadian Army, serving in Goose Bay, Labrador, and in Newfoundland. He took part in recreational administration work for the troops during that period.

BOND CLOTHES ORGANIZATION KNOWN FROM COAST TO COAST

The Bond Clothes organization, manufacturers of Bond Cloth, is one of the largest and best known garment manufacturers in Canada. When they started business in 1917, there were thirty people in the whole organization. Now Bond Clothes are sold throughout Canada from coast to coast, and worn by men and women from Halifax to Vancouver.

The progress of the company may be attributed to its policy of combining high quality with moderate prices, and the incentive of profits shared with each member of the large staff. Also, the manufacturing facilities and working conditions are unequalled in any garment factory in Canada. The new plant at Longueuil, Que., near Montreal, boasts light, airy work rooms, equipment and layout of the latest and most efficient design.

The Bond Clothes Shops are increasing in number as the demand grows. The new shops, such as the one at 269 George St. (just below King), Peterborough, are a fine addition to the shopping centres. They are designed with the comfort of the customer in mind. The fine fabrics from world markets are well displayed. Measurements are taken in privacy. And the newest styles are offered, finished by Bond tailors with years of experience in cutting, fitting and finishing.



ALLAN B. COLLIS

In bringing to Peterborough the new Bond Clothes Shop, Allan B. Collis now gives to the city the services of a coast-to-coast organization in men's wear. For the past five years, he has been associated with the ladies' and children's wear establishment at 370 George St., North, which bears his name. The growth of that business fully attests to its popularity as a store where customers can depend on Satisfaction in goods and prices.

To the new Bond Clothes Shop, he will give that same high standard of service already well known to residents.

Before opening his present store here, he was associated for 15 years with the department store of I. Collis and Sons of Oshawa, a long-established and reputable organization. During that time, he was connected with the retailing of men's wear and thus has wide experience to bring to the new venture.

Also a life-long resident of the city of Peterborough, "Jerry" O'Donoghue becomes Assistant Manager of this latest addition to the Bond Clothes chain of high quality men's wear outlets across Canada.

He is a veteran of World War II, having been on Active Service with the R.C.N.V.R.

G. M. ("JERRY") O'DONOGHUE

He has been employed in the retail field in Peterborough and district for some time and is a popular member of the social and business community.

Active in sports work in the city, he is a member of the executive of the Panthers' Senior Football Club, an office which he has held since it was organized.

He is a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Canadian Legion.

"GENTLEMEN PREFER BONDS"

Audie Murphy Gets First Starring Role

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 14 (AP)—As Audie Murphy steps before the camera to-day in his first starring role, he can reflect that things are finally turning out well for him.

The United States' most decorated soldier's life has taken three happy turns:

1—To-day he starts the lead in "Bad Boy."

2—Last Saturdey he sent his life story, "To Hell and Back," off to the publisher.

3—This week Wanda Hendrix wrote from Rome (where she is making a movie with Tyrone Power) that she will be home by Christmas to marry Audie.

Luck has not always been with the Farmersville, Tex., lad. Broke, jobless and homeless a few months ago, he was about to turn his back on Hollywood.

After returning from the war, the hero was spotted on a magazine cover by James and William Cagney, who offered him an acting contract.

Audie came to Hollywood amid a flurry of Cagney publicity. Then nothing happened.

Took Lessons

"For a year and a half, I did nothing but take lessons," he recalls. "They turned down some offers for roles. Finally people thought 'If he hasn't been in a picture by now, there must a reason.'"

The Cagneys dropped Audie. He did a couple of bit parts that netted him publicity but little footage or cash. His lean days set in.

With no income (he sent his pension home to support his orphaned brothers and sisters), he slept in a bed at Terry Hunt's body-building salon.

"I had a shower for breakfast and a steam bath for dinner,"

Meanwhile he was having romantic troubles. He had admired starlet Wanda Hendrix on a magazine cover and arranged to meet her at a party. Their soda-sipping courtship became one of the nicer things in town. But her family interfered and she began having other dates.

Then the picture brightened. Book agent Stanley Rose landed a $1,500 advance for Audie's book. Wanda decided Audie was the love of her life. And Producer Paul Short signed him for a series of pictures.

Does he resent the wasted time?

"No, it taught me you have to wait in this business."

Kiwanis Club To Hold A Track Meet

The "Little Olympics" track meet, sponsored by the local Kiwanis Club, is scheduled for this Saturday in Morrow Park, starting at one p. m. Many of the public schools and the two high schools have conducted their annual meets, and the top athletes from these schools are expected to compete in this city-wide contest.

The classes of events are: Open—one mile, half mile, 220 yard runs, Collegiate boys—senior, intermediate and junior 100-yard dash, running high and running broad jumps, and shot put; Collegiate girls—50-yards dash, running high and running broad jumps grade school boys—standing and running broad jumps, running high jump and dashes; boys over 13—shot put; girls—50-yard dash in three age groups.

Of added interest this year will be exhibitions of pole vaulting and high jumping presented by members of the West End "Y" track team of Toronto, who will be accompanied by the physical director, Ing. Jones. Among those competing will be Eddie Bretta, Toronto's leading pole vaulter—who clears 12 feet plus —and Stan Edgerton who clears just under 12 feet. The high jumpers will be Earl Carrie, who has been doing six feet and better, and Gus Kernius, a newcomer to Canada from Latvia.

The public is invited to take in this city-wide meet and some keen competition is expected in all events.

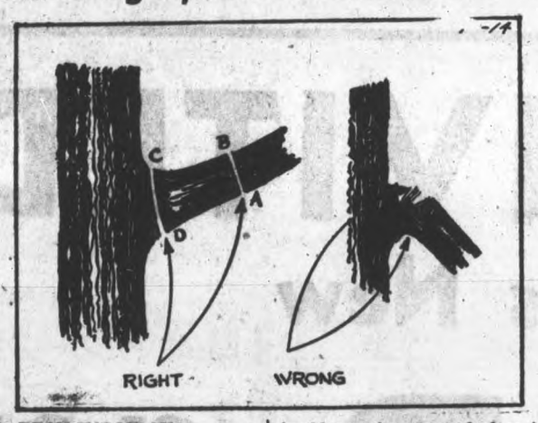
Tree Surgery For The Amateur



By DEAN HALLIDAY

Home gardeners preparing to undertake tree surgery are often given this good advice: "Don't."

But if you are going to undertake to prune your trees this fall, heed this point: Do not use dull tools. Dull tools frequently do more harm than good since they are apt to tear the growth which you are trying to cut out.

Remove all dead, diseased or damaged wood or branches however its removal may affect the shape of the tree. Then remove other growth as necessary, but exercise care and caution.

In cutting large limbs and branches, care must be taken to avoid stripping off bark of the main trunk or limb and to leave a clean cut close to the main trunk that will quickly heal over.

The accompanying Garden-Graph shows the right and wrong way to cut off a large limb. Saw an under cut first at "A", and then remove by sawing from above at "B". The short stub should now be removed close to the trunk by first cutting up from the bottom at "D" and then cutting down from the top at "C", making the cut as near as possible to the trunk. All cuts of one inch or over should be painted with three wound compound.

Shade trees require little pruning except for the removal of decayed and interfering branches. Often a tree is planted too close to the house, perhaps to shade a porch or some special room. Such trees are likely to require pruning every two or three years to hold back their spread and maintain their symmetry. Shade trees should be pruned during their dormant season, except for the maples, whose sap is especially active in the late dormant period. They can be pruned after May 1.

For pruning purposes a pair of hand shears, a pair of long-handled steel lops, and a swivel-blade saw constitutes a good outfit for the home gardener.

LORD AND LADY TWEEDSMUIR pictured in Llandudno, North Wales, where they attended the 69th annual conference of the Conservative Party. They were married in London recently. Lady Tweedsmuir is the former Lady Priscilla Grant. Lord Tweedsmuir is the son of a former Governor-General of Canada and was an officer in the Canadian army.

With The Canadian Legion

By The SECRETARY

For the information of those of my readers who may have seen sparks flying around the city on Tuesday evening, during the mayor's broadcast, here is an inside tip. They were not "flying saucers" but were caused by the mayor's reference to the fact that the Canadian Legion and their Ladies' Auxiliary were present at a special committee meeting held in the council chambers on Friday night to arrange for the visit of Viscount Alexander, Governor General, on November 25th.

There are two branches of the Canadian Legion in the city of Peterborough entirely independent of each other and equally self-sufficient unto themselves. Naturally we have the same zone commander, district commander and provincial commander, but other than those personages we are entirely separate branches. These branches are called No. 452, the Elizabeth Smellie branch and our old favorite No. 52, Peterborough. Mrs. Elizabeth Ball, who represented the Elizabeth Smellie branch at the meeting mentioned above, was quite sure that she had made it well known that her branch was separate from No. 52 and she took pains to point this fact out to the mayor, the chairman, Alderman Sands, and Aldermen Swanston and Armstrong, who were also present. But apparently it must have slipped the mayor's mind in the doubtlessly busy interim between the meeting and his broadcast and so, as we say in the service, "he's had it."

Speaking of zone commanders, the one for Zone F.5, of which Peterborough is a part, resigned his post recently and we have received a letter from the district commander, Frank Threadgold of Whitby, informing us that a zone meeting will be held in Peterborough on next Sunday, Oct. 17, to elect a zone commander for the remainder of the term. Our last zone meeting was held in Bancroft early in the year and it will be quite an honor to have the remainder of the branches in our zone at a meeting held in our branch. For those interested the meeting will begin at 2 p.m.

Peterborough Legion soccer club entered the Legion playdowns recently, their first opponent being the Silverthorne Legion of Toronto. However, Silverthorne defaulted twice, losing their position, and now Peterborough is scheduled to meet either Chatham or Brampton in the finals.

Another coming event, with the Originals Club of Toronto, is the annual cribbage tournament. The trophy, a cribbage board with the Originals' crest on the back, was won by Peterborough last year, and from all reports, Peterborough is going to have to do some umping to maintain it.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Baker of 1223 Morningside avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., were recent visitors at Branch No. 52. We sponsor the No. 18 (Canadian Legion) senior Boy Scouts and on their trip to Pittsburgh camp, over the September 1 holiday, they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Baker who were also instrumental in setting up their camp. Our troop received an invitation to revisit their camp next year between July 5 and August 10, when it will open.

British Film Officials Boycott Hecht Work

LONDON, Oct. 14 (AP)—British film exhibitors have decided to boycott the work of Ben Hecht, American writer-producer, because of what they term his anti-British attitude on the Palestine question.

The Cinema Exhibitors Association, representing nearly 5,000 movie houses, adopted a resolution Wednesday asking film distributors to "withdraw from circulation in Britain any films with which Hecht was associated."

Association members will be told to cancel future bookings of pictures in which Hecht has a hand.

Hecht has been under criticism in Britain for a long time. His quoted comments on Britain and British policy concerning Palestine have been condemned by several newspapers.

RCN Pilot Dies In Plane Crash

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 —(CP)—An R.C.N. Seafire crashed Wednesday near Cadillac, Mich., killing the pilot, naval service headquarters announced Wednesday.

The pilot was Lieut. Joseph Thomas Murphy of Owen Sound and Dartmouth, N.S.

The aircraft, one of a squadron of seven attached to the navy's 18th carrier air group, was en route from Rivers, Man., to Dartmouth.

A naval spokesman said the squadron left Traverse City, Mich., early Wednesday for Toronto. Bad weather was encountered and Lieut. Murphy's plane became separated and crashed.

It was the second accident to hit the squadron since it left the joint air school at Rivers.

Last Saturday a Firefly made a forced landing in 30 inches of water in Whitefish Bay, Mich., about 75 miles west of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. The occupants, Lieut. F. G. Rice, pilot, of Gravenhurst, Ont., and K. Marlow, air mechanic, of Simcoe, were uninjured and walked ashore after the plane came down.

Begin Inquiry Into Pacific Lumber Firms

OTTAWA, Oct. 14.—(CP). — The Prices Commission, embarked on its initial examination of the big Pacific coast lumber operators, today was scheduled to look at the financial aspects of the H. R. MacMillan interests.

Mr. MacMillan, head of H. R. MacMillan Export Co. Ltd., and its group of subsidiaries which include both lumber and shipping interests, appeared for general examination Wednesday.

According to its present agenda, the commission will examine officials of Seaboard Sales Ltd., a joint firm which sell to the British Timber Control, after Mr. MacMillan's testimony is completed. Other Pacific coast operators will be questioned next week.

In his general testimony, Mr. MacMillan said "free entry" into the United States market was much more important to west coast operators than continuation of the preference they enjoy in their traditional commonwealth outlets.

He qualified his statement with the remark that it applied unless the world's dollar difficulties were eliminated.

Mr. MacMillan said his interests sell lumber, in their own retail areas, to employees and war veterans at reduced prices. For a time after the war the war veterans could get lumber from MacMillan companies at $10.90 below the market price for home building, but not for re-sale.

More recently, the discount to veterans had been raised to 25 per cent of the retail price. The arrangement is still in effect, he said.

No Agreement Between Franco, Britain Likely

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, Oct. 14—(CP)—If anyone offers the olive branch to Spanish dictator Generalissimo Francisco Franco, it won't be the British Labor Government.

Amid reports that the United States would like to line up Spain among the Western Powers determined to check Russian ambitions, there is no indication the Labor Party or Government looks more kindly on Franco.

Dislike of the Spanish dictator's regime is deep-seated in British labor. The Spanish civil war stirred even former Pacifists to a degree of belligerency that surprised even themselves. After Italy's attack on Ethiopia, the old attitude of "peace at almost any price" vanished with the retirement of gentle George Lansbury, their former leader.

Prime Minister Attlee and all his Ministers were vigorous supporters of the Republican cause in Spain. Attlee was among those who visited Spanish battlefields, and had a Republican battalion named after him.

The years have softened many of Labor's dislikes and the responsibilities of office have made government leaders more temperate in their comments on international affairs. But on Spain their old critical vigor remains.

Political observers said that even if the United States made an agreement with Spain for co-operative association for security, the United Kingdom would not automatically follow suit.

Plan To Present Park Question To Ratepayers

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 14 (Staff)—Method of management of Lakefield's municipally-owned Park will be placed before the village's outgoing council and the ratepayers by the Chamber of Commerce this fall. Holding its first annual meeting on Tuesday night, the Chamber received a report of its operation and a summary of planned projects for the future. Eight new directors for the coming two years were elected.

The meeting discussed the question of the Lakefield Park and concluded that the important issue should be given an airing with all the ratepayers of Lakefield having an opportunity to express their views.

E. H. Northey said that he had always been in favor of the management of the Park by a commission "responsible to the ratepayers alone." He felt that such a system would ensure its operation so that it could be of full benefit to the district. He mentioned several cases this last summer when large picnics had to be turned down by the park because there were no facilities available to accommodate them.

Information, points of view and a concrete program for management of the park will be the subject of a special meeting of the directors of the Chamber on Oct. 22. Their conclusions will be placed before a meeting of the general membership of the body which will discuss it further and appoint a committee to present the views of the Chamber to the public meeting called annually by the village council to present vital questions to the residents.

Urges Unity

In reviewing the first year's operation of the Lakefield Chamber of Commerce, retiring president A. G. Buchanan stressed the need of co-operation between the Chamber and other bodies of the village. He said that all had the primary object of improving the village and their work should be directed with complete harmony towards that end. As a unit of a recognized body, the Chamber was in a position to serve the community well, he intimated.

First conceived in the summer of 1947 and officially started Oct. 1 of that year, the Lakefield Chamber has taken an active part in bringing about many improvements, the report showed. One of the most important steps for next year was the issue of a tourist booklet about Lakefield and district. A committee is now at work to make the 1949 edition. Further projects to be studied include the general problem of waterworks for the village and expansion of its industry and population; construction of public washroom near the village centre; erection of mailboxes; services for tourists and improvement of facilities for them in the area.

Elect Directors

Named by ballot to serve on the Board of Directors for the next two years were: Don Hendren, A. G. Buchanan, Harold Hamblin, J. McKerchar, Neil Wood, Clarence Coons, Frank Coyle and Tom Chaplin.

At a meeting of the directors following the annual meeting, the election of a president for the coming year was deferred.

Other officers named by the Board were: 1st vice-president, Don Hendren; 2nd vice-president, Harold Hamblin; secretary, Miss Dorothy Colquhoun; treasurer, Neil Wood.

Chairmen: national affairs, J. McKerchar; tourist, Jack Ryan; agriculture, Clarence Coons; industrial and housing, E. W. Bailey; civic improvement, A. G. Buchanan; bulletin editor, Don Hendren.

Blockade Cramps Living, But Berlin's Health Good

BERLIN, Oct. 14 — (AP). — Imagin living in a city where, if you step outside certain boundaries, you will be arrested. Imagine living in a city where, if all your food and other supplies are dependent on an air lift. Where you have lights a few hours in the morning and a few hours at night. Where simple, everyday items such as candles are rationed. Where winter is coming on and the prospect for sufficient coal is dim. Where war is not out of the realm of possibility.

How will the Germans come through the winter?

All right, say the Western Allies. Better than they survived the 1944-1945 winter when they were cold and hungry and were pounded by bombs.

The average German gets a basic daily ration of 1,608 calories. Heavy workers get a top ration of 2,985, and housewives 1,680.

(The average North American receives about 3,000 calories daily. The food of heavy workers, such as lumberjacks, may total up to 6,000. The average Briton received 2,800 calories daily in the first six month of 1948.)

The biggest problem is coal. Germans are going to have a mighty cold winter unless more planes can be added to the airlift. The old warming halls — public places where one came to get the chill out of his bones — probably will be revived.

Many Germans are preparing to augment their fuel supplies. They comb the parks for dead timber and tree stumps.

Under blockade conditions the health of the German has remained surprisingly good. A British report said flatly that there has been "no apparent effect." One helpful factor is the abundance of drugs.

There has been some new unemployment, but not as much as had been expected. As part of a "made work" program instituted by the Germans, thousands are toiling part-time clearing bomb rubble, or plugging up homes in damaged buildings.

2 Out of 3 PCVS Graduates Seek Higher Education School Statistics Reveal

According to PCVS statistics, two of every three students who receive their Honor Secondary School Graduate Diplomas upon graduating from Grade 13, go on to higher learning. A breakdown of the 1948 figures for those who have successfully completed the five-year academic course shows that 19 entered university this fall—10 to Toronto, seven to Queen's and two to Western; 13—one boy and 12 girls—are going to Normal School; three boys have started training as chartered accountants; two girls began to train as nurses, both of them at out-of-town hospitals; one boy has chosen pharmacy, and still another enlisted in the permanent force of the RCAF.

This does not infer that the others have ceased to learn; in fact most of them are now hard at work tarining to take their places in business and industry, helping to keep Peterborough in the van of Canadian commercial prosperity.

Three boys are working in local banks; two are employed as accountants in local business offices; one is a drafting apprentice at CGE; four others have entered local industrial offices, aspiring to executive office some time in the years ahead; one has returned to PCVS to take the commercial and business course.

One talented girl has enrolled at the School of Music, and two other girls are working at home.

Of those who left the community: one boy has enrolled at Radio College, Toronto, and a classmate is taking a course at a Toronto business college. Still another is working in a Quebec industry.

Only four students among the Grade 13 grads are unaccounted for, which seems to prove the contention of staff members that a graduate is not forgotten just as soon as he steps out of the door with his diplpoma clutched in his hand.

All of these four students were from rural districts and came to the city for one year only.

12 Apprentices

Among boys who graduated from Technical School, which goes as far as Grade 12: 12 went into local industry as apprentices in skilled trades; six entered industry by means other than the avenue of apprenticeship; one is taking a special business course, and still another chose to take his mechanical skill back to the highly-mechanized family farm.

Nursing has always had an appeal for talented girls and two of them went into training at Civic soon after getting their diplomas in Home Economics.

Two other girls returned to the Vocational school to enrol in the one-year business course. A classmate is now working at drafting at CGE. One girl moved to Cobourg, and is employed there, because her father was shifted to a sister plant there. And the home is not forgotten either: two girls are applying the knowledge they gained at Home Economics classes to the very essential business of efficient housekeeping.

Stenography is still the most popular field for the career girls who take the Vocational course. At least it would seem so by school statistics. Thirty of them are now working in Peterborough as stenographers in the many offices requiring this skill.

Two girls from Vocational also decided to enter the nursing profession and there is one training at Civic and the other at St. Joseph's.

The only one of that class to leave Peterborough was a girl who wished to learn advertising and decided that Toronto was the best place to start.

Many students do not enter the fifth year of academic studies at the Collegiate and take their Secondary School Graduation Diploma which is issued when they successfully pass Grade 12. Those who received their secondary schooling many years ago will remember this as the Junior Matriculation standard. (This name is now verboten among authorities on secondary school education, as is Senior Matriculation).

A further perusal of statistics reveals that of the 86 students who graduated from Grade 12 and received their Secondary School Graduation Diplomas, 67 of them continued on into Grade 13. And of those who dropped out at the end of Grade 12, a dozen of them are now taking the one-year business course, and the other seven are employed in industry or are engaged in other occupations.

PCVS staff and students are proud of the high proportion of graduates who leave the school for higher levels of scholastic endeavor. And they feel that the Vocational school is fulfilling the constant need for office staff replacements and skilled apprentices in local industry.

And back of it all is the belief that this original investment in brains and skills brings ample returns in the orm of a better community.

No Idle Curious Wanted At AA Meeting

An announcement of a missionary society meeting Sunday in the PCVS auditorium will not appear on the Saturday church page.

Nonetheless, it is a new mission society, seeking only new members and nothing more of credit and publicity than are necessary to its anxious ends.

Such is Alcoholics Anonymous. The London, Ont., branch last Sunday had 800 at its meeting. They don't want any idly curious, because their concern is about recruiting new members who desire to climb on the water-wagon.

Here is one of the questions on the local group's leaflet: "Is drinking making your home life unhappy?"

If it is, then you need A.A. There are 20 such questions. Has your ambition decreased since drinking? Are you losing time from work? There is a follow-up major question. Do you earnestly wish to break the liquor habit? If you do, A.-A. wants to help you, can, although basically the main effort must be personal, and a lone struggle.

There will be a warm welcome for newcomers Sunday, — their first step, and they will find quite a group ready to show them that they are on the right path, even if it is straight and narrow. This is a new home missionary endeavor and it is working.

Neglected Horses Will Be Sold

If conditions agreed on in court today are carried out, the horses of Thomas J. Hetherington will be taken from his farm and sold before this Christmas. The latest stage of this case, which has become practically a "cause celebre' in the province, was reached before Magistrate Philp as Humane Society officials outlined plans which had been accepted by the accused Hetherington and his counsel.

The elderly farmer and horse breeder of the Lakefield Highway was charged with "permitting unnecessary suffering" to three specific animals on his farm "by failin gto provide proper care." The horses named in the charges are Peter Gratton Royal, Ammavola and Friction Gratton.

C. W. Morris of Hamilton, chief inspector for Ontario for the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, told the court of the arrangement. All the Hetherington horses, he said, had been registered and will be offered for sale by auction early in November. Some of the stallions which could not bring a good price by auction, he said, will be taken for stud purposes to other farms. The main issue of concern to the Society, Mr. Morris said, was that all the animals should be taken away from Hetherington.

Magistrate Philp agreed to counsel's suggestion that the case be adjourned until Dec. 3 so that final disposition of the horses could be made.

Suggests Mass X-Ray To Control Tuberculosis

Control of tuberculosis in Peterborough city and county was the main subject of discussion at a public meeting held on Wednesday night in the Public Library under the auspices of the Peterborough County Tuberculosis Association. George A Macdonald, president, was in the chair and the principal speaker was J. E. O'Brien of Toronto, secretary of the Ontario Tuberculosis Association.

Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH for Peterboreugh, discussed major health problems and how these problems affect this area. He stressed the fact that tuberculosis was definitely curable and that treatment was provided without cost to the patient by the province. He urged the need of complete X-ray equipment in all hospitals in order that the public might take full advantage of the facilities so that there would not be a dependence upon the mobile clinic which visits the city. He mentioned that it was possible for a person to contact TB the day after a mobile clinic was here and there would not be another chance of X-ray until the clinic again returned.

Mr. O'Brien discussed an X-ray of all citizens and installation of X-ray machines in the hospitals for all patients.

The tuberculosis program, he said, was divided into four parts control diagnosis, meaning frequent X-rays; treatment immediately of the slightest suspects; social service for all citizens, such as in the case of the breadwinner going into hospital the family allowance is provided by the provincial government, and finally the education about tuberculosis.

Twenty-eight percent of the people now going into the sanatorium have already been in before with the same disease, he declared. The reason given was that when they came out the first time they took up the wrong employment.

Mr. O'Brien also urged that all children in the public schools should be X-rayed to find the root of tuberculosis and that all hospitals be equipped with X-ray machines. Ten per cent of the people in hospitals today were admitted not knowing they had tuberculosis, he said.

To enable all this work to be carried on Mr. O'Brian urged the sale of Christmas seals, and said great progress has been made in this direction along the years. This year these seals have brought in $600,000, as compared with $185,000 in 1944. This has already cut down the charge for small X-ray photographs to about 35 cents, although this amount varies in each county.

James Humphries, county warden, said he did not know a tuberculosis committee existed in Peterborough county, and he had been sending donations from the seals to Northumberland county.

Mr. Macdonald concluded the meeting with an appeal to all who could help with the sale of seals in order that the work in Peterborough city and county might be carried on in a greater effort than ever before.

CLEARING HOUSE FIGURES

Recommend Purchase Of 2 Lots Suitable For Community Centre

Purchase for $3,500 of two lots on the west side of Monaghan Road, south of the factory of Peterborough Canoe Co., prospectively for a business and community centre, has been recommended by the finance committee of the council.

Options on two separate lots comprising the property were privately taken some time ago by City Clerk Outram. Explaining the possibilities of the site in the new housing subdivision shifting off to the southwest end of the city, Mr. Outram gave the council first chance to assume the options. Otherwise it was his intention to take them up himself.

Authorized By Council

Early in the summer the council authorized him to negotiate with the owners of land on the west side of Monaghan Road as location for part of the new project of 200 houses by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. Terms were arrived at, the property was bought, and Mr. Outram noticed these two lots which appealed to him as a potential community centre, especially a shopping area with room for off-street parking.

One of the lots has a frontage of 126 ft. on the west side of the road and a depth of 435 ft., the other is 152 ft. frontage and 200 ft. in depth. The first is owned by Mrs. P. H. Neville, Toronto, immediately north of the roadway entering the subdivision on the west side of Monaghan Road.

Few Remaining Lots

Herbert Tripp owns the other, to the north of the first. A road allowance separates them. They are across Monaghan Road from the west end of the block that was expropriated between Monaghan Road and Park St.

Ald. Gordon Armstrong remarked that they were the only two pieces of property now available on the west side of the road and north of McKellar St. With houses going up to the south and west, it was desirable that the best community use should be made of these properties.

"I had in mind mainly assuring that this property would be developed probably as a shopping centre," Mr. Outram said. "It might be a location for stores, and a community centre, because there is talk of a branch public library, fire hall and so on, somewhere in the south end. It provides sufficient space for a planned development. I am prepared to transfer the option to the council for the amount it cost me. If the council is not interested I can exercise it myself, but at least the city has the opportunity of getting it. I have notified the owners I intend to take them if the council does not".

The council's acceptance of the clerk's offer was moved by Aldermen Sands and Armstrong.

Will Remodel Dixon House For Handicraft

Dixon House is now being remodelled to accommodate classes for all the handicraft subjects. The recent decision of the Board of Education that it was unable to sponsor weaving, leather work, pottery and art metal work in the night school classes has made a change of plans necessary.

Weaving and leathercraft have been carried on at Dixon House in permanent rooms since about last February. Now to provide proper facilities for those who wish to take these other crafts, Recreation Commission officials are utilizing every inch of space.

A heating unit is to be installed in the attic where art metal work classes will be held. Instruction in pottery will go on in the basement which was formerly used for shortage.

If all goes well, said Director Jack Dane, the fall classes will commence about Nov. 1.

Those who have always had a hankering to learn home weaving from A to Z will have an opportunity to do so in the near future. The home weaving service of Community Programs, a branch of the Department of Education, is expected to send eight looms to the local Recreation Commission soon.

A highly-qualified instructress in weaving, Miss Nan Scott, will conduct a three week, five-days-a-week course, hours 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Between 8-12 persons will be required to make up the quota.

According to Mr. Dane, the course has proven unsually popular in several other Ontario centres and he expects that there will be no difficulty in making up a class in Peterborough.

It is hoped that those who take the weaving course will be willing to take their knowledge back with them and teach the craft to others in their particular community.

Looms, materials and the instructress will be provided by the home weaving service for a small fee. According to the agreement the pupils, space and facilities will be provided by the Recreation Commission.

At the same time another weaving class presided over by Miss Scott will be held two nights a week. Priority will be given to those persons who qualified as weaving teachers after taking a course last year.

Arthur Ellis Dairy Worker Drowns In Canal

The body of 34-year-old Arhtur Ellis, 88 McDonnel St., was found floating in the Trent Canal Wednesday afternoon. Married, and the father of three children, Ellis had been missing from his home since Oct. 6. Police had been on the alert for him for the past six days.

The discovery was made by PC Claire McGillen of the City Police Department. One of a party of fishermen, the officer saw a body floating face up in the canal near the Peterborough Golf Club in what is known as the "Golf Links Bay." It is about a mile north-east of the city.

Ellis was wearing the uniform of the Campbell Dairy where he was employed as a driver. He was completely dressed, including boots.

Father of two sons, Robert and Donald, and one daughter, Sandra, he was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ellis, 654 St. Mary's St., and brother of Gordon and Stanley, and Mrs. William Dorriss, all of Peterborough. His wife, formerly Irene Emil Ebdon, also survives.

Police were unable to give a theory to to the death until an autopsy has been held. Although foul play is not suspected, it was reported that there were bruises over the left eye. Dr. H. G. Carleton, coroner, said the autopsy results would be known today.

Private funeral service will be held at the Kaye Funreal Home where the body will rest from Friday morning until time of service on Friday at 2 p.m. The Rev. Dr. James Semple of George Street United Church will officiate and burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

Game And Fish Program To Be Reviewed

The controversial question of whether or not the Peterborough County Crown Game Preserve should be thrown open for an organized hunt this year will get a thorough rehashing at a special invitation meeting called for Monday night.

Representatives from the City Council, the County Council, Peterborough Fish and Game Association, the Kawartha Conservation Association, Chamber of Commerce, resort owners and other interested bodies will meet at the Chamber of Commerce committee room at 7.30 p.m. on Monday. Dr. W. J. K. Harkness and Dr. J. Clarke of the fish and wild life division, Department of Lands and Forests, will be present to give the Department's views.

The meeting has ben called to discuss the problem of conservation and wild life generally as it applies to Peterborough county, but it is expected that the game sanctuary problem will be the major topic on the agenda.

Both the County Council and the Peterborough Fish and Game Association have gone on record as being strongly opposed to the opening of the sanctuary under any condition, and it is expected that this view will be put forward by these two bodies.

A. H. Lawrie, a Department official, and V. O. Windsor, game warden of the preserve, stated in a report issued last May that at least 40 deer were known to have died of starvation last winter—a figure which they estimated was 30 per cent higher than usual.

As a result of this report some authorities were of the opinion that an organized hunt to kill off some of the deer was the best solution.

The sanctuary covers about 88 square miles and is 35 miles north of Peterborough.
